The following table shows the gross earnings for the latest period of all STREET railways from which we are able to obtain weekly or monthly returns. The arrangement of the table is the same as that for the steam roads—that is, the first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the calendar year from January 1 to and including such latest week or month.

‡ Trolley cars commenced running on Brooklyn Bridge February 16, 1898, which accounts for decrease in company's earnings.

Street Railway Net Earnings.—In the following we show both the gross and the net earnings to latest dates of all STREET railways from which we have been able to procure monthly returns. As in the case of the steam roads, the returns of the different roads are published by us each week as soon as received, and once a month (on the third or the fourth Saturday of the month) we bring all the roads reporting together, as is done to-day.

Armour & Co.—New Packing House.—The company has completed its new packing house at Omaha. The buildings cover 22 acres, and are said to have cost in the neighborhood of $1,000,000. Their daily capacity, limited only by cold storage, is reported as 10,000 hogs, 2,000 cattle and 5,000 sheep. The force of employes will exceed 2,000 trained men.

Bell Telephone Co. of Philadelphia.—Action Deferred Till Sept. 20.—The stockholders will meet on Sept. 20 to vote on the proposed increase of the capital stock from $2,000,000 to $4,000,000.—V. 66, p. 899.

Brooklyn Elevated RR.—Long Island RR.—New Route to Rockaway Beach.—The trial trip over the new through route from the Broadway Ferry in Brooklyn to Rockaway Beach was made on Saturday last, and on the following day the line was opened to the public. Over 10,000 people, it is stated, were carried that day. Passengers crossing the Brooklyn Bridge reach the Rockaway train by taking the East New York line to Gates Ave., where free transfers are given. The trains run hourly from 6:01 A. M. to 1 P. M., and half-hourly thereafter until midnight.—V. 67, p. 124.

Central Traction Co. of St. Louis.—To Increase Stock to $5,000,000.—A meeting of the stockholders will be held July 30 to increase the capital stock of the company from $100,000 to $5,000,000. John H. Blessing, Secretary of the company, says: "This step is necessary in order to provide the large amount needed to build the road. The franchise has been accepted and all the details have been practically arranged, but of course the action must be ratified by the stockholders."

The officers of the company are R. M. Snyder of New York, President; John H. Blessing, Secretary. The board of directors consists of these officers and Finis E. Marshall, Cashier of the Continental Bank of St. Louis; H. S. Potter of Boston, and J. S. Bache, New York.

Central Transportation Co.—Liquidation.—$28 Per Share to be Distributed.—The stockholders at a meeting on Monday voted: (1) To ratify the action of the board of directors in the long litigation with the Pullman Co., and the collection of the money awarded by the Supreme Court; (2) to instruct the officers of the company to file a petition for the dissolution of the corporation, and (3) to instruct the directors to distribute to each shareholder of $28 per share on account of the sum which will be distributable upon the final audit in the dissolution. William E. Lockwood, who said he represented a trust of over 700 shareholders, holding about 4,500 shares of the stock, protested against this action, insisting that exceptions be filed to the ruling of the Supreme Court.

F. Weckerly, Treasurer of the company, stated that the assets of the company were $1,351,622, divided as follows: Cash on hand and in bank, $1,260,437; bonds and mortgages, $91,185. This is in excess of the $100,000 paid John S. Johnson for counsel fees.—V. 67, p. 75.

Chicago & Eastern Illinois RR.—New Stock Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed the $1,000,000 new preferred stock, making total amount listed $5,830,700. The following statement is made to the Exchange:

$1,000,000 of said stock has been sold and proceeds expended in general improvement of the property, including substitution of steel for wooden bridges, the improvement of the Chicago Paducah & Memphis RR., recently acquired, the application of air-brakes and other standard appliances, required by the Inter-State Commerce Commission, and payment of car trust notes assumed in the purchase of the C. P. & M. RR. The mileage at this time is 564 main track and 106 second track. The amount of preferred stock remaining in the treasury after listing this $1,000,000 will be $828,900.—V. 66, p. 1236.

Chicago Peoria & St. Louis RR.—Receivers.—At Springfield, Ill., on Tuesday, Judge Allan, in the United States Circuit Court, appointed Samuel P. Wheeler of Springfield, and Charles E. Kimball of New York, receivers of the company on application of the Mercantile Trust Co., trustee of the first mortgage. The coupons of January, 1898, and since remain unpaid. This action is in line with the proposed reorganization referred to in a recent issue. It is understood that the plan shortly to be announced will give the C. P. & St. L. one-half of their principal in a new first mortgage 4 per cent bond and the balance in an income bond.

Sale of Collateral.—The collateral sold at auction on Monday brought the following prices: The $2,100,000 first 4s, 32; the 10,750 shares preferred stock, 1 per cent; the 2,979 shares common brought, $500; the $201,000 Jacksonville & St. Louis incomes, $2,000; 1,000 shares of stock of the J. & St. L., $250.—V. 66, p. 1237.

Cincinnati & Muskingum Valley RR.—New Company in Possession.—The Cincinnati & Muskingum Valley Railway, recently bought for the Pennsylvania RR., has been turned over to the Cincinnati & Muskingum Valley Railroad Co. It is said the plan for the re-capitalization of the property has not been completed, but may be announced within a month. The new bonds probably will be 4 per cent but may be 4½ per cent.—V. 67, p. 27.

Columbus Sandusky & Hocking RR.—Opposition Plan.—W. L. Trenholm, President of the North American Trust Co., invites security holders who are opposed to the Fitzgerald plan to address his trust company, saying:

A large proportion of the holders of the general mortgage bonds and other securities being dissatisfied with the plan of reorganization which has been promulgated, have signed an agreement to deposit their bonds with the North American Trust Co., 100 Broadway, New York, with a view to reorganization upon the following terms agreed on among themselves:

"First mortgage bonds, 4 per cent, to be authorized by the reorganized company shall not exceed $4,000,000—second mortgage income 4 per cent bonds not to exceed $4,500,000—assessment on bonds deposited.

Present first mortgage bonds	None
Present general mortgage bonds	10%
Present income bonds	1%
Present stock	5%

"All assessments to be repaid in new first mortgage bonds at 80."

In the event a reorganization shall not be effected on this basis or on terms equally advantageous, then the securities to be re-delivered to the subscribers on the payment of one dollar per bond. Whatever plan of reorganization said trust company may effect to be underwritten by responsible parties and to be made effective at the earliest practicable date.—V. 67, p. 28.

Combination Bridge Co.—Sioux City Bridge.—Subsidy Tax Upheld.—A press dispatch from Sioux City, Iowa, says that the District Court has upheld the tax of about $300,000 which the city voted several years ago as a subsidy to aid in the construction of the bridge. An attempt has been made to have it set aside as unconstitutional. The tax which to May, 1893, had about half been paid, is applicable by the mortgage trustee (the Union Trust Co. of Indianapolis) to the payment of interest on the bonds (authorized issue $700,000 of 5s due 1915, outstanding $313,500), or to the payment of their principal.—V. 62, p. 186.

Coshocton & Southern—Cleveland Canton & Southern Ry.—Receiver—Operation Discontinued.—Judge Taft, in the United States Circuit Court, has appointed John W. Wardwell, the present Receiver of the entire system of the Cleveland Canton & Southern Ry., Receiver of the Coshocton & Southern RR in the foreclosure case pending against the allied roads. The operation of the road was ordered to be discontinued on July 16, 1898, on account of its present unsafe condition, and not to be reopened without an order from the Court. Permission is given to ask authority of the Court to issue certificates to improve the property. The Receiver may, within thirty days, take a decree of sale, $100,000 being the price required.—V. 66, p. 1139.

Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Co.—Bonds, Earnings, etc.—Parkinson & Burr of this city and Boston are offering at 102 and interest a block of this company's first mortgage sinking fund 5 per cent gold bonds, dated Jan. 1, 1898, and due Jan. 1, 1918, principal and semi-annual interest payable in gold at the Washington Trust Co., New York. The circular describing the loan says:

The company, whose authorized capital stock is $3,000,000, outstanding $2,875,000, and whose bonded indebtedness is $1,000,000, operates under a direct license from the American Bell Telephone Co. through the southern portions of Indiana and Illinois, the Western portions of Kentucky and Tennessee, and the entire States of Mississippi and Louisiana. At the present time it operates over 16,000 exchange stations. Since its organization in 1885 the Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Co. has paid regular dividends of never less than 4 per cent per annum, its present rate being 5 per cent. From its surplus earnings during the last few years it has charged off its entire franchise account, amounting originally to $492,200.

Following is a comparative statement of earnings:

	1896	1897.	First 5 mos. 1898.
Operating expenses	208,774	268,767	178,543
Net earnings	$202,860	$220,849	$123,177

In March, 1898, the company absorbed the Great Southern Telephone Co., which operated in the States of Mississippi and Louisiana. The earnings since then, while steadily increasing, have been made at a rate to show for the year: Gross earnings, $835,335; operating expenses, $501,876; net earnings, $333,458; interest on bonds, $50,000. The sinking fund provision calls for the annual reservation of $30,000, to be invested in the company's bonds, if they can be bought at 105 or less. The bonds cannot be drawn, and, if none are offered, the fund is to be invested in other securities. The American Bell Telephone interest represents 45 per cent of the capital stock of this company.—V. 66, p. 616.

Dallas Consolidated Electric Street Ry.—Mortgage for $300,000.—The company has filed a mortgage to the Union Trust Co. of St. Louis, as trustee, to secure $300,000 in bonds for the payment of outstanding debts and to make improvements. The company was formed in February last by the consolidation of the Dallas City Street Ry. and the Queen City Ry., sold in foreclosure. The property mortgaged constitutes about two thirds of the street railway systems of Dallas. C. H. Alexander, of Dallas, is President.—V. 66, p. 185.

Denver & Rio Grande Ry.—Refunding Plan.—Offer to Holders of 7 Per Cents Due Nov. 1, 1900.—Holders of the $3,382,500 first mortgage 7s due Nov. 1, 1900, are offered by Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and Speyer & Co., in accordance with the agreement made by them with the company in January, 1898, the privilege to refund their bonds into first consolidated mortgage gold bonds due 1936, bearing 4½ per cent interest per annum, at the price of 103 per cent, the 7 per cent bonds to be taken in payment on a 3½ per cent interest basis to maturity. The computation will be made as of July 1st, viz.:

For every $1,000 7 per cent bond with Nov. 1st, 1898, coupon attached, the holder will receive:

$1,000 of the 4½ per cent bonds with interest, running from July 1st, 1898, together with a cash payment of $59 33, made up as follows:

$1,000 7 per cent bond, on a 3½ per cent basis	$1,089 33
$1,000 4½ per cent bond, at 103 per cent	1,030 00
Cash payment, as above	$59 33

This offer will remain open for a reasonable time, but may be modified or withdrawn without further notice. Holders of the first mortgage 7 per cent bonds desiring to avail themselves of the conversion should surrender their bonds to the United States Trust Co. and receive the 4½ per cent bonds and cash payment in exchange therefor.

Geo. Coppell, Chairman of the board of directors, says: "After the first mortgage bonds shall have been retired under the present arrangement, the first consolidated mortgage will be the first lien on the entire system of the company, consisting of 1,620 miles, as well as upon all its equipment, valuable terminals, shops, etc. The net income of the company for the year ending June 30, 1898, after deducting taxes and insurance, is estimated at $2,995,000 [contrasting with $2,509,469 in 1896-97], whereas upon the completion of the refunding contemplated, the fixed charges on the consolidated mortgage bonds, will be $1,433,212." The annual interest charge, including the $3,103,500 of improvement 5s will then be $1,838,387, as against $1,997,950 at present, a reduction of about $160,000 a year.—V. 66, p. 1183.

East Broad Top RR.—Not Sold.—The Berwind White Coal Mining Co., in reply to our inquiry, says: "We have no knowledge of this road being sold. The reported sale to us in 1897 is incorrect."—V. 66, p. 81.

Edison Electric Illuminating of Brooklyn—Kings County Electric Light & Power—Sale Arranged—6 Per Cent Bonds in Exchange for Stock.—President Ethan Allen Doty on Saturday last issued a circular letter to the shareholders of the Edison Electric Illuminating Co. of Brooklyn, announcing as follows the terms of the proposed sale of the stock of that company to the Kings County Electric Light & Power Co.:

"Mr. George Foster Peabody, of the board of directors of the Edison Electric Illuminating Co. of Brooklyn, acting in consultation with the officers, has to-day closed, in behalf of stockholding interests represented by his firm [Spencer Trask & Co., Pine St., N. Y.,] and equally for all others, a proposed sale of the stock of this company to the Kings County Electric Light & Power Co., upon terms which the members of the board of directors unite in thinking for the permanent advantage of the stockholders. Counsel are preparing the papers in detail to carry out the agreement, provided it shall be accepted by two-thirds of the stockholders.

"As soon as these details are in proper shape, the matter will be fully submitted to each stockholder of record. The result to the stockholders will be in substance that the right to subscribe to 25 per cent additional stock, at par, will be secured to them, and that for the whole amount of stock they will then be offered par in ninety-nine year 6 per cent purchase money mortgage bonds, to be secured by the deposit of the Edison stock so sold, and additionally by a junior mortgage of the Kings County Company upon its property, and further by the deposit of a guaranty fund of $1,000,000."

The Edison Company has cash in the treasury from which it is proposed to pay an extra dividend, stated as likely to be between 3 and 5 per cent. The Municipal Electric Co. will be paid for in cash, on the basis of $200 per $100 share, and not in consolidated mortgage bonds, which was the alternative proposed. The $1,500,000 first mortgage 5s of the Edison Company are subject to call at 110 Oct. 1, 1900, and it is thought the Kings County Company will replace its own and the indebtedness of the Edison Company with a new loan, which after the date named will cover the entire property as a first lien. The amount of the new loan and its rate of interest have not yet been fixed.—V. 67, p. 125, 73.

Flint & Pere Marquette RR.—Made Standard Gauge.—The track from Port Huron to Grindstone City, 92 miles, was changed to standard gauge, Sunday, July 17, but without interruption of passenger service. This change, it is believed, will hasten the development of the grindstone quarries at the Northern terminus, as well as the fertile and already prosperous farming territory north of Port Huron.—V. 66, p. 1140.

General Electric Co.—Circular as to Reduction of Capital Stock.—The directors in a circular letter explain as follows the proposition to reduce the capital stock:

At the last annual meeting your directors stated that while other values were in their opinion conservatively fixed, a re-valuation of patents, franchises and good will (which have been kept on its books at substantially $8,000,000 since the organization of the company) should be considered at the proper time. Your directors are advised by counsel that in consequence of the impairment of its capital, the company is forbidden by the laws of New York to pay any dividend whatever until the amount of such impairment shall have been regained, or until the nominal or share capital stock shall have been reduced to the amount of the actual capital. Under existing New York law, the nominal or share capital of the company may be reduced at any time by a vote of a majority in interest of all the stockholders, and counsel advise that if any reduction be made the common and preferred shares must be reduced alike. In view of all the foregoing, your directors regard it their duty to urge the stockholders to make at once such reduction of the nominal or share capital as shall permit the payment of dividends upon both classes of stock with the least practicable delay.

Your directors, being of the opinion that the valuation at which patents, franchises and good will were carried in the balance sheet of Jan. 31, 1898—namely, $8,000,000—was excessive, and that the fair and reasonable value of this item is the sum of $4,000,000, have by resolution directed this item to be reduced to that amount upon the books of the company as of June 30, 1898. Taking into account the estimated earnings of the company to Aug. 10, 1898, your directors belive that a reduction of the share capital of the company as of Aug. 10, 1898, to 60 per cent of its present amount, would make the share capital of the company substantially equal to the amount of the net assets which will then be on hand over and above the debts and liabilities of the company. Any surplus net earnings from and after that date will then be applicable to the payment of accrued dividends on the prefrred stock and future dividends on both classes of stock. After such reduction each stockholder will hold, for each five shares of stock which he now holds, three shares of the reduced stock of the same class. Your directors recommend that such reduction of the share capital of the company to sixty per cent of its present amount be made.

The meeting to vote on the reduction will be held on Aug. 10 at Schenectady.—V. 67, p. 125.

Glucose Sugar Refining Co.—A Rubber Substitute from Corn.—The "Scientific American" says: "We have received a sample of a rubber substitute manufactured from corn by the Glucose Sugar Refining Co. of Chicago. It is made from the oil derived from corn, and by vulcanizing it in connection with an equal quantity of crude India rubber a substitute is produced which for certain purposes is equal to the best gum rubber at a greatly lessened cost. The new corn rubber is claimed to possess all the essential qualities of Para rubber, including resiliency, and the discovery has been hailed with delight in the corn-growing States of the West. The manufacturers claim that the fact that corn oil does not oxidize readily makes this product of great value, since it is not affected by oxidation, so that products manufactured from it will always remain pliable and not crack as those made from other substitutes. This interesting substitute for rubber is very dark brown or black and it easily rubs off in light brown rolls. It is at present sold as low as six cents a pound."—V. 65, p. 924.

Harriman & Northeastern RR.—Receivers Discharged.—A press dispatch from Harriman, Tenn., says that Chancellor Lindsay has taken this 20-mile road out of receivers' hands and placed it in the charge of James E. Rodes as General Manager.—V. 64, p. 1041.

Houston & Texas Central Ry.—Waco & North-Western Ry.—Payment on Bonds.—Master Commissioner Alfred Abeel advertised that at Waco, on July 21, he would pay on account of the Waco & North-Western Division bonds of 1873 and the coupons due Jan. 1 and July 1 of each year from Jan. 1, 1886, to July 1, 1898, the sum of $1,768 44, the distributive share of such bonds and coupons as per order of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Eastern District of Texas, at Galveston, by an order made on Nov. 12, 1897.—V. 67, p. 76.

Illinois Central RR.—Earnings for Betterments.—President Stuyvesant Fish, in a letter to parties largely interested in the company's securities, says: "You will be glad to know that the year just closed has been by far the most prosperous the Illinois Central has ever experienced. As yet we have only the figures for gross receipts, and those for June are based on estimates. They show that we have operated throughout the year an average of 3,775 miles, as against 3,130 miles for the year ended June 30, 1897; increase in miles operated, 645, or 20·61 per cent, while the gross receipts have been $27,245,539, as against $22,110,937 in the preceding year, an increase of $5,134,602, or 23·22 per cent.

"The Yazoo & Mississippi Valley RR Company makes a still better showing. The number of miles operated has in both years been the same, 807. This year the gross receipts have been $4,762,488, while in the preceding year they were $3,936,513, an increase of $825,975, or 20·98 per cent.

"It is too early to guess at the net applicable to dividend, but it will largely exceed the usual 5 per cent. It is not my intention to recommend to the directors any increase in the dividend, but rather to urge upon them to use the year's surplus in paying for improvements properly chargeable to capital, which policy will, I trust, be acceptable to you and your clients and correspondents."—V. 67, p. 28.

Illinois Steel—Minnesota Iron—Pennsylvania Steel—Cambria Iron.—Status of Negotiations.—As to the rumors that a consolidation of these companies is pending, D. Ogden Mills on Monday said.

"As I understand it, there has been but one preliminary conference looking to the consolidation of Northwestern steel and iron companies. In the form of consolidation I am inclined to oppose it. If, however, proper terms can be arranged, it will be a benefit to all concerned. It is quite natural that in such a combination certain interests would desire to be especially favored. Should such interests agree to accept equitable terms, I would gladly favor the consummation of such an agreement. It would tend to make permanent trade relations which would be of inestimable benefit. Should this matter be brought to a successful issue there would not necessarily be any conflict with the present Rockefeller-Carnegie arrangement, as supplies would only be furnished for the company's own use upon a minimum basis."—V. 66, p. 1089, 053.

Indiana Illinois & Iowa RR.—Consolidation.—New $3,000,000 Mortgage.—The stockholders will vote Sept. 15 on a proposition to consolidate with the Indiana Illinois & Iowa Ry. Co. of Indiana (which owns the 35 miles of the road from Knox to South Bend) and for the consolidated company to authorize a consolidated mortgage to secure $3,000,000 of 5 per cent gold bonds, to be dated Oct. 1, 1898, and to be payable Oct. 1, 1948, in gold coin of the United States of America of the present standard of weight and fineness, with interest payable semi annually in like gold coin.—V. 66, p. 571.

International Paper.—Status.—The following is from a circular issued by Hatch & Foote. All the facts presented, we are informed, were obtained from the company's officials:

The International Paper Company of New York was incorporated Jan. 1, 1898. It at once took over by purchase twenty-five of the principal pulp and paper mills of the country which produce from 75 to 90 per cent of all the newspaper manufactured east of Chicago. The average daily output of these mills is: Ground wood pulp, 1,050 tons per day; sulphite pulp, 256 tons per day; finished paper (nearly), 1,500 tons per day. The leading manufacturers retain their interest in the industry, and many of them are giving their time and energy to the promotion of the business of the new company.

The company has issued the following securities, the large majority of which has been used in payment for the mills, water power and woodlands acquired by the new corporation: first consolidated mortgage 6 per cent gold bonds, dated Feb. 1, running twenty years, interest payable half-yearly (Feb. 1 and Aug. 1), $10,000,000; preferred stock, cumulative 6 per cent, payable quarterly, $25,000,000; common stock, $20,000,000. The appraised value of the property securing the above-named bonds is $40,000,000. Net earnings are now more than sufficient to pay the interest on the bonds at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, dividends on the preferred stock at the rate of 6 per cent per annum and 10 per cent dividends on the common stock, while the indications fully sustain the belief that they will be even higher in the future. Regarding competition, it can hardly be expected to prove successful, if attempted, for the valuable water power and timber lands—400,000 acres of the latter being held by the company—could not be easily duplicated or acquired.

The officers and directors of the company are as follows: President, W. A. Russell; First Vice-President, H. J. Chisholm, Second Vice-President, A. N. Burbank; Treasurer, W. E. Spier; Accountant, Warner Miller; Directors—W. A. Russell, H. J. Chisholm, W. E. Spier, A. N. Burbank, A. Pagenstecher, H. M. Knowles, D. O. Mills, I. S. Coolidge, Warren Curtis, H. G. Burleigh, R. P. Flower, Garret Schenck.—V. 66, p. 1237.

Kansas City Pittsburg & Gulf RR.—$750,000 Bonds Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed $750,000 additional first mortgage bonds, making total amount listed $32,578,000. The road has completed the following mileage: 763 miles main line, 41·38 miles branches, 94·96 miles yard and terminal; total, 900·34 miles, at $25,000 per mile, is $22,508,500, and 4 63 miles second track, at $15,000, $69,500, or a total of $22,578,000, the amount of bonds now listed. The balance sheet of April 30 is given under heading "Annual Reports."—V. 66, p. 336.

Metropolitan Street Ry.—Disposition of New Stock.—A director makes the following explanation regarding the new stock issue to be voted upon Aug. 9, as stated last week:

"The public does not seem to have the correct idea about that $15,000,000 of additional stock, apparently believing that $5,000,000 more stock than was at first supposed is to come on the market. Such is not the case. The board thought as an increase in capital was to be asked for, it might as well be $15,000,000 as $10,000,000. $5,000,000 of this, however, will be held in the treasury, in reserve, as announced, and to the best of my knowledge there is no immediate prospect of its being issued therefrom to acquire property, make betterments, or for any purpose whatsoever. The $4,000,000 balance of the $10,000,000 to be issued, over the amount required to retire the scrip, should be sufficient to complete the Sixth and Eighth avenue lines and make the change in motive power."

Electrical Construction on the Sixth and Eighth Avenue Lines.—Work began on Wednesday upon the rebuilding for underground trolley of the Sixth and Eighth avenue lines south of 59th Street. President Vreeland had previously made the following announcement to the traveling public:

On Wednesday, July 20, and until the electrical construction thereon is completed, the horse-car lines of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company on Sixth and Eighth Avenues, south of Fifty-ninth Street, will be discontinued. Meanwhile Upper West Side patrons via Eighth, Columbus and Amsterdam avenues will be carried over the electric line through Fifty-ninth Street to and from transfer points at Seventh Avenue, Madison Avenue, Lexington Avenue, and Second Avenue. Until the Sixth and Eighth Avenue lines are again in operation, extra facilities for the accommodation of the public, including East and West transfers, will be furnished on the Seventh and Ninth avenue horse car lines.

In an interview President Vreeland is quoted further.

The company is anxious to do the work on Sixth and Eighth avenues in the most expeditious manner. The increase of business on the railroads already completed has been such as to carry the interest for construction accounts, but the company has a great many millions locked up upon which it pays interest out of the operating returns of its now incomplete system. All these millions will earn their own interest when the plans are completed.

The capital expended upon the building of the Amsterdam and Eighth avenue lines north of Fifty-ninth Street has been virtually locked up since the work on the lines south of that point was suspended. While of course these lines above Fifty-ninth Street are now doing 50 per cent more business than they did while under horse car operation, and doing it much more economically, they have not yet developed, on account of being shut off at Fifty-ninth Street, anything like their possibilities. I have no doubt that when the Sixth and Eighth avenue lines are opened through to Canal Street and the Astor House, they will repeat the experience we have had upon the Madison avenue line, which has largely surpassed our most sanguine expectations.

We are proposing to issue only ten millions of stock, and, notwithstanding the interruption which will occur in our traffic this summer, if our experience of last year is any criterion, we ought to be able to earn sufficient to pay all of our interest, the present rate of dividends and dividends on the proposed increase of stock, without any returns from the new construction. The improvement of Fourth Av. allowed us to increase the car mileage from 7,500 to 15,000 miles per day.

Barring unexpected delays, it is expected the two lines will be ready for business in September.

Compressed Air Cars.—Twenty compressed-air cars of the improved Hoadley Knight design are being built for the Metropolitan Company. The intention is that they shall run between the Twenty-third and Thirty fourth street ferries; also between the Pennsylvania Railroad ferry at Twenty-third Street and the Grand Central Station as follows:

From Twenty-third Street ferry up Thirteenth Avenue to Twenty-eighth Street, crossing over to Fourth Avenue, up Fourth Avenue to New York & New Haven depot, west over Forty-second Street to Vanderbilt Avenue, up Vanderbilt Avenue to New York Central Depot, across Forty-fourth Street to Madison Avenue, down Madison Avenue to Forty-second Street, and so return to Twenty-ninth Street, running east over Twenty ninth Street and south to Twenty-third Street ferry. —V. 67, p. 126.

Nassau Electric RR. of Brooklyn.—Increase of Stock Authorized.—At Albany on Thursday the State Board of Railroad Commissioners granted the application of the company for permission to increase its capital from $6,000,000 to $15,000,000. The new stock is to be divided into $3,500,000 of 4 per cent preferred stock and $3,500,000 of common stock. This action will leave the way clear for carrying out the plan referred to in our issue of July 2.—V. 67, p. 125.

Newark Gas.—Purchase of Control.—A syndicate represented by Thomas A. Nevins, Jr., has purchased about 15,000 of the 20,000 $50 shares of the Newark Gas Co. at $155 per share, and has agreed to take the remaining shares at the same rate. About $25,000 was paid as earnest money, and the entire amount, $3,100,000, is to be paid when the stock is delivered, Nov. 1. The purchasers will assume the bonded debt of $4,000,000. Coult & Howell acted for Mr. Nevins.—V. 65, p, 1115.

New England Brewing Co.—New Mortgage for $1,000,000. This Hartford Company has made a first mortgage to the Philadelphia Mortgage & Trust Co., as trustee, to secure $1,000,000 of 6 per cent bonds.

New England Gas & Coke.—Underwriting Syndicate.—The managers of the bond syndicate announce that the underwriting matures and is payable at the Central Trust Co., 54 Wall Street, August 1, 1898. The underwriting provides, however, that the loan may be extended for a period of six months from and after August 1. Agreements for such extension are being sent to the underwriters for signature.—V. 66, p. 759.

New Orleans & Northwestern Ry.—Coupons and New Bonds.—The coupons due July 1 on the new collateral trust 5 per cent ten-year gold bonds were promptly paid at the Central Trust Co. There are $500,000 of these bonds and they were sold at par and accrued interest to take up receiver's certificates and to pay all floating debt. The receiver was discharged in March last. The coupons due July 1, 1898, on the $2,000,000 of first mortgage 5s are overdue, but all other coupons on this loan have been discharged. For the year ending June 30, 1898, the gross earnings are reported to us as approximately $167,500; net (taxes not deducted), $51,000.—V. 57, p. 467.

New York & Harlem RR.—Explanation as to Dividend.—An official of the company, answering an inquiry from us in regard to its dividends, says: "The company is now paying, in addition to the 8 per cent guaranteed by the New York Central Company, 4 per cent per annum. Of this 4 per cent 3½ per cent is derived from the income of lease of its City Line, and the balance (½ per cent) from the income on investments, which are included in the item "Open Accounts" ($1,200,006) shown in the balance sheet of June 30, 1897. Such investments are a tangible asset of the New York & Harlem RR. Co., and income should accrue even after the time when the Metropolitan Street Railway begins to pay $400,000 rental instead of $350,000 as now. It would seem quite probable when the increase in rental from that company comes about (in 1901) it will mean an increase in the rate of dividend to the stockholders."—V. 65, p. 27, 46.

Northern Pacific Ry.—$1,928,000 General First Mortgage Bonds Called.—Notice is given that $1,928,000 of the general first mortgage bonds of the Northern Pacific RR. Co. have been drawn for the sinking fund, in accordance with the requirements of the trust mortgage, and will be paid at 110 and accrued interest on presentation at the office of the Central Trust Co., No. 54 Wall Street, New York. The interest on the above bonds will cease on and after Jan. 1, 1899. Any holder may receive payment at any time prior to Jan. 1, 1899, at the rate of 110 and interest accrued to date of presentation. This payment will reduce the amount of old general first mortgage 6 per cent bonds outstanding to $7,261,000, as against $11,879,000 in March, 1896.

The numbers of the bonds called will be found in our advertising columns.—V. 67, p. 127.

Omaha & Republican Valley Ry.—Union Pacific RR.—Foreclosure Sale Aug. 18.—The sale of the property of the Omaha & Republican Valley Ry. Co. under foreclosure of the consolidated mortgage is advertised for Aug. 18 at Lincoln, Neb. The upset price is $750,000. The road, it is expected, will be bid in for the Union Pacific RR. Co., which holds nearly all, if not all, the bonds.—V. 61, p, 473; V. 67, p. 30.

Pacific Cable of New York.—Twenty-Year Concession.—On July 2 a contract was signed by the Executive Council of the Hawaiian Government granting the company the right to lay a cable between Hawaii, the United States, Japan and China. The contract grants exclusive cable rights between Hawaii, Japan, and the necessary islands in the Pacific Ocean for twenty years. This contract is binding if not disapproved within six months by the Secretary of State of the United States.

The bill to authorize the Postmaster General of the United States to contract with the company for the transmission in perpetuity of official messages of the United States for a sum of not more than $100,000 a year for a term of twenty years was favorably reported by the Commerce Committee of the House at the last session of Congress, but was not brought to a vote.—V. 66, p. 184.

Petersburg RR.—Richmond & Petersburg RR.—Consolidation Not Yet Effected.—The stockholders of these companies were to vote on Wednesday on a proposition to consolidate. The question of consolidation, however, was not taken up by the Richmond & Petersburg stockholders, and their meeting adjourned without date, after the transaction of routine business.—V. 66, p. 1190.

Southern Ry.—Description of Memphis Division Bonds.—The statement to the New York Stock Exchange gives the following facts touching this $3,000,000 loan:

Said bonds mature July 1, 1996, and bear interest at 4 per cent per annum until July 1, 1901; 4½ per cent per annum from July 1, 1901, until July 1, 1906, and 5 per cent per annum thereafter; payable semi-annually until the payment of said principal sum. Both principal and interest are payable in the city of New York in gold coin of the United States of the present standard of weight and fineness. Provision is made for the registration of the coupon bonds either as to principal only or as to principal and interest.

Out of the $3,000,000 authorized there have been issued for the reorganization of the Memphis & Charleston the aggregate principal sum of $5,033,000. Of the balance $1,417,000 are to be issued in such amounts, not exceeding $100,000 in any one year, as the railway company may call for by resolution of the Board of Directors authorizing such call, together with the certificate of the proper officers of the railway company, showing that an amount of money being the fair equivalent of the bonds so called for has been expended in the improvements or betterments of, or in additions to, the property, including equipment, air brakes and automatic couplers, subject to the lien of the indenture. The remaining bonds, $1,500,000, are to be issued only on resolution of the board of directors of the railway company for the construction or the acquisition, free from any prior lien or incumbrance, of a complete line of railway from Stevenson, Ala., to Chattanooga, Tenn., and for proper terminals at Stevenson and at Chattanooga.

The mortgage constitutes a purchase money first lien upon the right, title and interest of the Southern Railway Company in and to the railroad formerly of the Memphis & Charleston RR Co., about 292 miles, between Memphis, Tenn., and Stevenson, Ala., with the right of trackage from the last-named place over the railroad of the Nashville Chattanooga & St. Louis Railroad Company to Chattanooga, in the State of Tennessee. Of the 292 miles, about 35 miles situated within the State of Mississippi have been vested, owing to the laws of that State, in the Memphis & Charleston Ry. Co. of Mississippi, which has issued its capital stock of $100,000 and its mortgage bond for $900,000, payable April 1, 1998. This bond and the entire capital stock (except six shares of stock held by directors) have been pledged to the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, as mortgage trustee, as additional security for all the bonds issued and to be issued thereunder.

Gross earnings	$1,360,601	$1,530,454
Operating expenses, including taxes and trackage Chattanooga to Stevenson	1,025,505	1,122,669
Net earnings	$335,096	$407,785
Present interest charges—
On $3,033,000 Memphis Division 1st mort. bonds, 4 p. c.		$203,320
On $1,500,000 Memphis Division 2d mort. bonds, 5 p. c.		75,000
Total		$278,320

From July 1, 1901, to July 1, 1906, the Memphis Division first mortgage bonds bear interest at 4½ per cent, and after July 1, 1906, at 5 per cent.—V. 66, p. 1238.

Spokane Falls & Northern Ry.—Great Northern Ry.—Securities Purchased.—President Jas. J. Hill, of the Great Northern, writes us as follows: "Answering your inquiry of the 17th inst., in regard to the Spokane Falls & Northern Railway Co., I beg to say that the Great Northern Company owns a very large majority of the stock and bonds. I do not know at present whether it will be found best to consolidate the whole or any part of it with the Great Northern, or to maintain the Spokane Falls & Northern as a separate company; probably the latter course will be pursued for some time to come."—V. 67, p. 30.

Staten Island Rapid Transit RR.—Receiver Appointed.—Joshua Van Smith (now in charge of the property) has been made receiver.—See V. 67, p. 30.

Summit Branch RR.—Summit Branch Coal.—Status.—In reply to our inquiries as to the status of reorganization matters, we are officially informed that there are no new developments concerning the property. The reorganization committee has completed its work as laid out in the plan, and the securities are ready to be issued, but have been held back pending the outcome of an effort of a special bondholders' committee, whose object is, if possible, to find a purchaser for the outstanding bonds at a price acceptable to the present bondholders. The present state of the coal trade, in the opinion of the committee, will not warrant payment of 5 per cent interest on the bonds.—V. 66, p. 575.

Tennessee Central RR.—Construction.—President Jere Baxter writes: "We will begin the construction of the entire line within sixty or ninety days, nearly fifty miles of which has already been graded, cross-tied and trestled."—V. 67, p. 30.

Union Pacific RR.—Securities Purchased.—The following securities, advertised to be sold at auction, under a decree of United States Circuit Court, for the American Loan & Trust Co., trustee, under the Kansas Pacific further security trust, were bought by Kuhn, Loeb & Co. for $409,975.

	Par value.
Omaha & Republican Valley Ry. 5% consol. mortgage bonds, dated Feb. 15, 1887	$636,000
Junction City & Fort Kearney Ry. Co. 5% first mortgage bonds, dated Dec. 1, 1881	171,000
Colorado Central Ry. 7% first mortgage bonds, dated July 1, 1879	197,000
Union Pacific Lincoln & Colorado Ry. 5% first mortgage bonds, dated Aug. 1, 1888	74,000
Union Pacific Denver & Gulf Ry. Co. 5% consol. first mortgage bonds dated April 1, 1890	119,000
Kansas Pacific Ry. 6 p. c. consol. gold bonds, dated May 1, 1879, due May 1, 1919 ($717 33 has been paid on each bond out of the proceeds of mortgage foreclosure)	118,000

—V. 67, p. 80.

Union Pacific Lincoln & Colorado Ry.—Union Pacific RR.—Foreclosure Sale Aug. 20.—The foreclosure sale of the Union Pacific Lincoln & Colorado Ry. is advertised for Aug. 20 at Lincoln, Neb., the upset price to be $1,300,000. The new Union Pacific RR. Co. will acquire the property, the greater part of the bonds having been exchanged last March for 40 per cent in new Union Pacific preferred and 60 per cent in new U. P. common.—V. 67, p. 75, 30.

United States Envelope Co.—Securities Offered.—There are offered for subscription at par, by advertisement in another column, $1,700,000 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock and $500,000 first mortgage 6 per cent gold bonds of this company, being the part not already subscribed of the authorized issue of $2,000,000 bonds, $3,750,000 preferred stock and $750,000 common stock. The company is a New Jersey corporation, and was formed recently by the union of ten well known companies, a list of which, together with the names of the officers of the new company and other data, were given in the CHRONICLE of May 2, 1898, page 1003.

The prospectus contains the following:

Business.—The companies absorbed control about 90 per cent of the entire production of commercial envelopes in the United States. Output, 17,000,000 per day; capacity over 20,000,000 per day. All of the properties are very extensive and valuable. The machinery and equipment is modern and of a high degree of efficiency. The properties are free of all debts and incumbrances, and in addition to its quick assets the new corporation starts with an extra cash capital of $200,000.

Barrow, Wade, Guthrie & Co., New York and London, report that the concerns, operated separately and under a useless competition, have made an average net profit of $428,847 per annum, which net amount is alone sufficient to pay the interest on the bonds, dividends on the preferred stock and 6 per cent on the common stock of the new corporation. According to their report the ten companies operated under one head will show by a conservative and careful estimate, an increase in net earnings above that now made of over $400,000 per annum. This increase will be made through the savings in buying, manufacturing, selling and shipping, and not by raising the prices on the standard goods.

Stock.—The preferred stock of $100 per share is cumulative, and dividends of 7 per cent per annum are payable September and March. It has full voting power, and, together with the common stock, is registered, and is issued full paid and unassessable, carrying no personal liability. The common stock has been entirely subscribed for at par by those directly interested in the management.

Bonds.—The gold bonds of $1,000 each are a first mortgage on the land, buildings and machinery of the corporation. Interest 6 per cent per annum, payable January and July. Dated Aug 1st 1st and run for 20 years, with privilege of being redeemed after 10 years at 101. A sinking fund of $75,000 per annum begins three years from date of organization to be set aside before payment of dividends on common stock. Bonds may be registered. The Old Colony Trust Co. is Mortgage Trustee.

Registrars—Produce Exchange Trust Co. for New York, and American Loan & Trust Co. for Boston.

Transfer Agents—State Trust Co. for New York, and Old Colony Trust Co. for Boston.

Application will be made to list the bonds and preferred shares on the New York and Boston Stock Exchanges.—V. 66, p. 1003.

United States Mortgage & Trust.—$1,000,000 Bonds Offered.—The company offers for subscription by advertisement in another column $1,000,000 first mortgage trust gold bonds 4 per cent 5-20 year, series G, due Aug. 1, 1918, redeemable Aug. 1, 1903; interest Feb. 1 and Aug. 1. Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, Trustee.—V. 67, p. 30.

Universal Gas Company of Chicago—Construction.—"It is stated on trustworthy though not official authority that the company has let the contracts for the construction of a 5-million foot gasholder on the North Side site near the plant of the Ogden Gas Co. This site was bought by the Universal Co. last May. It is said that the Universal Co. has a good cash surplus in its treasury and is in position to go ahead with the building of this holder without issuing any new securities."—"Chicago Economist."—V. 65, p. 925.

Wabash Ry.—Extension.—At the annual meeting, Sept. 13 the stockholders will vote on the following propositions: First, whether the Wabash will build a railroad from East Hannibal, Ill., north to Quincy, 15 miles, or buy or lease a railroad wholly or partially built between these points; second, whether the company will build or aid in building a railroad from Moulton, Ia., north about 27 miles to Albia, or whether the company will buy or lease a railroad wholly or partially built between these points. The details with respect to the obligations to be assumed by the Wabash in the construction of said lines, or the terms on which it will purchase or lease the same, will be more fully set forth at the meeting.—V. 66, p. 1142.

Wheeling & Lake Erie Ry.—Time Limit Expires July 25.—The Fitzgerald Committee gives notice that the time for the presentation of certificates of deposit for preferred and common stock at the Central Trust Company and the payment of the instalment of $2 and $1 per share will expire on Monday, July 25.—V. 67, p. 123.

Wilmington Columbia & Augusta RR.—Northeastern RR.—Florence RR.—Manchester & Augusta RR.—Cheraw & Darlington RR.—Atlantic Coast Line RR. of South Carolina.—Voted to Consolidate.—The stockholders of each of the five companies first named this week voted to consolidate their properties under the title of the Atlantic Coast Line RR. Co. of South Carolina, a company incorporated for that purpose early in 1897—see V. 64, p. 663 837. The directors of the new company are C. O. Witte, B. F. Newcomer, H. Walters, M. Jenkins, J. T. Barron and A. Hamilton. G. G. Gadsden of Charleston, S. C., was elected President.

In order that the consolidation might take place the stockholders of the Wilmington & Weldon Co., lessee of the Wilmington Columbia & Augusta, on Tuesday voted to release the W. C. & A. from its contract of lease. In consideration of this action the Wilmington & Weldon will receive $500,000 of the capital stock of the consolidated company.—V. 67, p. 81.

York Southern RR.—Pennsylvania RR.—Purchased.—The Baltimore "Sun" says: "The final transfer of the York Southern RR. to the Pennsylvania RR., which recently purchased the property, has been completed. A large majority of the stock, as well as bonds, of the railroad was bought by the Pennsylvania RR. The deal was negotiated br Mr. Samuel Rea, assistant to the President of the Pennsylania RR., and Mr. John S. Bull, of Baltimore, represented the York Southern interests. It is understood that Mr. W. F. Walworth, President of the York Southern, who was one of the principal owners of the road, will retire.

"The road, which was at one time part of the old Maryland Central RR., extends from York, Pa., through a rich farming country, to South Delta, Pa., and has 41 miles of track. It reaches the celebrated Peach Bottom slate quarries. When separated from the old Maryland Central it was reconstructed as a standard-gauge railroad and a close traffic contract made with the Pennsylvania RR. The capital stock of the York Southern is $600,000 and the bonds amount to $309,950."—V. 62, p. 987; V. 66, p. 1089.

—Attention is called to a list of municipal securities advertised in our Municipal Department by Duke M. Farson, Chicago.

—Messrs. Mason, Lewis & Co., Chicago and Boston, offer for sale $185,000 County of Bayfield, Wis., five per cent gold bonds. The county has an assessed valuation of $5,229,111.

—Messrs. Trowbridge, MacDonald & Niver Co. of Chicago advertise in our Municipal Department a list of school and other bonds, to which the attention of investors is invited.

—Attention is called to the list of investment bonds advertised in another column by Messrs. Blodget, Merritt & Co., Boston, the list including some choice railroad issues of 4s, 5s and 7s.

—Messrs. N. W. Harris & Co. are offering investors a selected list of high-grade first mortgage railroad bonds, an especial feature of the offering being several issues of Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul bonds. Prices and descriptive circulars of the various issues can be had from them on request. The list is advertised in this issue on page ix.

—The Standard Trust Company, which has been formed to transact a general banking and trust company business, opened its offices this week at 43 Wall Street (ground floor). The company has a capital stock of $500,000 and numbers among its officers and board of directors many of the most prominent bankers and business men in this city. The officers are: President, William C. Lane; Vice-President, F. K. Sturgis; Treasurer, E. M. F. Miller, and Secretary, W. C. Cox. The board of directors is as follows: William C. Lane, Chauncey M. Depew, William D. Guthrie, H. Osborne O'Hagan, Henry Sanford, Samuel Spencer, Pliny Fisk, Nathaniel Thayer, Levi C. Weir, William E. Strong, Frank K. Sturgis, J. T. Atterbury, Gardiner M. Lane, Henry W. Putnam, Jr., John A. Spoor, Charles Steele, Frederick S. Winston, Alexander H. DeHaven, Samuel M. Felton, Charles F. Smillie, Louis L. Stanton, Paul D. Cravath and Henry L. Sprague.

—The United States Mortgage & Trust Co. offers at par $1,000,000 of its 4 per cent first mortgage trust gold bonds, series G, due Aug. 1, 1918, redeemable Aug. 1, 1903, Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, trustee. These bonds are the direct obligation of the company and are secured by deposit with the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York as trustee of $1,024,660 of first mortgages on improved income-producing real estate in selected cities of the United States, the properties covered being appraised to be $2,410,195, and showing, after deduction of fire insurance and taxes, and all other expenses, a net income of $131,328, while the interest on the bonds amounts to only $40,000. The United States Mortgage & Trust Co. having in addition to its trust and banking powers authority by its charter to loan money on bonds and mortgage, and issue its own bond against such security, has previously issued $3,000,000 of these bonds, series A to series F, listed on the New York Stock Exchange, of which Series A has already been called for redemption. Subscriptions for the above bonds, Series G, will be received at the office of the company. Lists will be open on Thursday, July 28, at 10 A. M., and close at 3 P. M. on the same day. A circular to the company calls attention to the great success similar bonds have for a number of years met with in Europe, where they have become a favorite investment. The last statement of the Credit Foncier of France shows $940,000,000 of mortgage bonds outstanding, bearing interest from 2·60 per cent to 3 per cent. German mortgage banks have issued upwards of $1,200,000 and other large financial institutions on the Continent in equal proportion. Some facts regarding this class of investment will be found in an article in another column, under "Banking and Financial."

COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

FRIDAY NIGHT, July 22, 1898.

Mid-summer dulness is now being experienced in most lines of trade, there being many absentees from business now that the vacation season is at hand. Merchants as a rule have continued hopeful over the outlook for the fall trade, and as a rule have been making preparations for a good season's business. The prospects for peace have been much discussed, and with the continuance of the aggressive policy latterly shown by the United States Government, it is generally believed that it will be only a comparatively short time before Spain will be forced to sue for peace. With the re opening of the port of Santiago, Cuba, and in anticipation of a more general removal by the United States of the blockade over the eastern end of the island, there has been a partial revival of trade with Cuban shippers, particularly in foodstuffs. Crop prospects have been generally favorable, particularly for cotton, for which prices have declined rather sharply.

Lard on the spot had only a limited sale, as neither refiners nor exporters were buyers, but as there was no pressure to sell values held fairly steady, closing at 5·80c. for prime Western and 5¼c. for prime City. Refined lard has been quiet but steady, closing at 6·05c. for refined for the Continent. Speculation in lard for future delivery has been quiet and prices have weakened slightly, as buyers have been held in check, largely the result of talk of yellow fever. Larger receipts of swine have also had their influence against values, closing quiet.

The demand for pork has been limited to peddling orders and prices have favored buyers, closing at $10@$10 50 for mess, $11 50@$13 00 for family and $11 50@$13 50 for short clear. Cut meats have sold slowly, but prices have held steady, closing at 6@6½c. for pickled bellies, 14@10 lbs. average, 7¼@7¾c. for pickled hams and 4@4¼c. for pickled shoulders. Beef has been quiet but steady at $10@$10 50 for packet, $11@$12 for family and $16@$17 for extra India mess. Beef hams have been without change at $22. Tallow has been firm but quiet at 3⅜@3½c. Oleo stearine has had a moderate sale at slightly higher prices, closing at 5c. Lard stearine has been quiet and unchanged at 6⅝@6¾c. for prime City. Cotton-seed oil has had only a limited sale, but values have held steady at 23½@24c. for prime yellow. Butter has continued in fair demand and firmer for desirable grades, closing at 14@17½c. for creamery. Cheese has been in moderate demand and firmer for choice stock, closing at 5½@8c. for State factory, full cream. Fresh eggs have been firmly maintained for choice, closing at 13½@14c. for choice Western.

Brazil grades of coffee have been in moderate demand from the consuming trade, and there has been considerable activity to the trading in invoices both for spot delivery and on a cost and freight basis; prices, however, were slightly lower, closing at 6c. for Rio No. 7. Mild grades have been in fairly active demand and firmer for desirable grades, closing at 9c. for good Cucuta. There has been only a limited speculation in the market for contracts, but prices have weakened slightly under selling against firm offers from Brazil. The close was firmer. Following are the final asking prices:

July	5·40c.	Oct	5·50c.	Jan	5·70c.
Aug	5·45c.	Nov	5·55c.	Mar	5·80c.
Sept	5·50c.	Dec	5·65c.	May	5·90c.

Kentucky tobacco has sold slowly. Offerings of desirable grades have been small, owing to scarcity, and values have been well maintained. Seed leaf tobacco has been in more active demand and steady. Sales for the week were 2,625 cases: also 225 bales Havana at 75c. to $1 75, in bond, and 200 bales Sumatra at 70c. to $1 05, in bond.

Raw sugars have had a fairly large sale at steady prices, closing at 4⅛c. for centrifugals 96 deg. test and 3⅛c. for muscovado 89 deg. test. Refined sugar has been less active but steady, prices have been without changes and the guarantee of prices for 30 days from date was continued. Spices have been in fair demand and firm. Other groceries have been steady.

Straits tin has had a fairly large sale to the consuming trade, but prices have weakened slightly in response to foreign advices, closing at 15·65@15 75c. Ingot copper has been moving freely on contracts, and there has been some new business. Owing, however, to sharp competition between sellers, prices have weakened to 11½c. for Lake. Lead has again weakened slightly, but at the lower prices business has been fairly active, closing at 3·95@4c. for domestic. Spelter has been quiet at 4·50@4 05c. for domestic. Pig iron has been quiet and barely steady at $9 75@11 50 for domestic.

Refined petroleum has been easier, closing at 6·10c. in bbls., 3 60c. in bulk and 6·75c. in cases; naphtha unchanged at 6c. Crude certificates have been weaker, closing at 88½c; credit balances have declined to 90c. Spirits turpentine has been firmer but quiet at 27½@28c. Rosins have been quiet but steady at $1 35@1 37½ for common and good strained. Wool has been firm but quiet; buyers and sellers have been apart in their views. Hops have had a limited sale at steady prices.

COTTON.

FRIDAY NIGHT, July 22, 1898.

THE MOVEMENT OF THE CROP, as indicated by our telegrams from the South to-night, is given below. For the week ending this evening the total receipts have reached 7,862 bales, against 9,434 bales last week and 9,989 bales the previous week, making the total receipts since the 1st of Sept., 1897, 8,589,432 bales, against 6,673,279 bales for the same period of 1896-7, showing an increase since Sep. 1, 1897, of 1,916,153 bales.

Speculation in cotton for future delivery has been only moderately active, but there has been a fairly sharp decline in prices, resulting from liquidation by tired longs, particularly in the near-by deliveries. This has been prompted by the continued favorable crop prospects, both public and private advices from the South reporting conditions almost perfect for the growing crop. Saturday prices declined 5 to 7 points under selling by tired longs, prompted by the favorable crop prospects as shown by the CHRONICLE'S report. Monday prices lost an additional 3 to 4 points under continued liquidation by tired holders, resulting from dull and easier foreign advices and favorable prospects for a large yield from the growing crop. Tuesday there was a steadier market early in the day, on a demand from shorts to cover contracts, stimulated by stronger foreign advices than expected. Subsequently, however, favorable crop accounts induced renewed selling and most of the improvement was lost, prices closing unchanged to 2 points higher for the day. Wednesday prices declined 4 to 6 points under selling by longs and the absence of buyers. Thursday there was a weaker market during early 'change, as there was considerable pressure to sell by tired holders, and August declined 11 points to 5·79c. Towards the close, however, the knowledge that prices had reached a basis at which the Continent would resume buying actual cotton had a steadying influence and the loss was partially recovered, closing 3 to 8 points lower for the day. Spinners also showed more interest in actual cotton despite the fact that a movement was under way among the Fall River mills to curtail their production. To-day there was a steadier market early in the day on a few crop reports from the South of a less favorable nature. Subsequently, however, continued liquidation by longs weakened prices and the close was barely steady at 1 to 2 points decline for the day. The spot market has been more active at lower prices, declining 1-16c. on Wednesday and to-day, closing at 6 1 16c. for middling uplands.

On the basis of the rates on and off middling as established by the Revision Committee, the prices for a few of the grades would be as follows:

WEATHER REPORTS BY TELEGRAPH.—According to our telegraphic advices from the South this evening the meteorological conditions during the week have on the whole been quite satisfactory. In Texas the plant is doing very well as a rule, and the weevils and worms which have appeared in the Southern and Southwestern districts of the State have done but very slight damage. In portions of the Atlantic States some improvement in the crop is indicated and from other sections reports are generally favorable.

Galveston, Texas.—In general Texas farmers have taken a ntage of the clear weather, and work is well advanced Bolls are reported as maturing over the Southwestern portion of the State. Weevils and worms are making their appearance in the same section, as well as in South Texas, but the damage done so far has been very slight. The plant is doing well, as a rule, and looks very promising. Rain has fallen on three days of the week, the rainfall being one inch and thirty-one hundredths. Average thermometer 81, highest 89, lowest 72.

Brenham, Texas.—Cotton is doing finely. It has been dry all the week. The thermometer has averaged 83, the highest being 99 and the lowest 67.

Columbia, Texas.—Dry weather has prevailed all the week. The thermometer has averaged 81, and has ranged from 69 to 93.

Corpus Christi, Texas.—We have had no rain during the week. The thermometer has ranged from 74 to 88, averaging 81.

Cuero, Texas.—Rain has fallen on one day of the week, the rainfall reaching two hundredths of an inch. Average thermometer 84, highest 98, lowest 69.

Dallas, Texas.—Farming operations are well advanced. The plant is claimed to have been slightly damaged by cool nights. There has been rain on two days of the week, the rainfall reaching sixteen hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 79, the highest being 99 and the lowest 62.

Palestine, Texas.—Farmers are well up with their work. There has been one shower during the week, the precipitation being one hundredth of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 81, ranging from 68 to 94.

Huntsville, Texas.—There has been rain on one day of the week, the rainfall being ten hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has ranged from 71 to 95, averaging 83.

San Antonio, Texas.—Rain would benefit the plant. We have had dry weather all the week. Minimum temperature, 68.

Weatherford, Texas.—We have had rain during the week to the extent of seventeen hundredths of an inch, on one day. The thermometer has averaged 79, the highest being 97 and the lowest 62.

Luling, Texas.—The present condition of the crop practically insures a fine yield. Dry weather has prevailed all the week. The thermometer has averaged 87, ranging from 69 to 104.

New Orleans, Louisiana.—It has rained on four days of the week, the precipitation being one inch and ninety-four hundredths. Average thermometer 81.

NEW YORK COTTON EXCHANGE—NEW ORLEANS COTTON EXCHANGE—REPORTS OF SALES OF FUTURES DISCONTINUED.—The members of the New York Cotton Exchange on Wednesday by a vote of 67 to 11 passed an amendment to the by-laws of the Exchange "to discontinue reporting the quantity of futures sold." The rule went into effect on Thursday and hereafter only a record of the fluctuations of the prices with the time of the same will be kept.

A similar amendment was adopted by the New Orleans Cotton Exchange on Thursday and put into effect at once.

FIRST BALE OF COTTON SOLD.—The first bale of new cotton of the crop of 1897-98, which was shipped to New York to be sold for the benefit of the United States Hospital Fund, was disposed of by auction in front of the Cotton Exchange for $500. Members of the Cotton Exchange had raised this amount through subscriptions and President King was instructed to bid the bale in at that price if no higher offer was made. It is stated that the intention of the New York Cotton Exchange is to send the bale to other Exchanges for re-sale, and it is expected that $1,000 or over will thus be realized for the Hospital Fund.

JUTE BUTTS, BAGGING, ETC.—The market for jute bagging has been fairly active the past week at unchanged prices, viz.: 5¼c. for 1¾ lbs., 5⅝c. for 2 lbs. and 5⅞c. for standard grades. The market for jute butts continues very dull. Quotations are nominally ·80c. for paper quality and 1¼c. for mixing.

SEA ISLAND COTTON MOVEMENT.—We have received this (Friday) evening by telegraph from the various ports the details of the Sea Island cotton movement for the week. The receipts for the week ending to-night (July 23) and since Sept. 1, 1897, the stocks to-night, and the same items for the corresponding periods of 1896-97, are as follows.

GOVERNMENT WEEKLY COTTON REPORT.—Mr. W. L. Moore, Chief of the Weather Bureau of the Agricultural Department, made public on Tuesday the following telegraphic reports on the crop in the Southern States for the week ending July 18:

VIRGINIA.—Plenty of rain in southern counties, elsewhere too dry; cotton grassy.

NORTH CAROLINA.—Too cool and rainy first of week, latter part warmer and favorable; lowland crops injured by standing water; cotton making weed too fast, very little shedding, crop grassy.

SOUTH CAROLINA.—Too much rain for sandy soil; cotton growing fast and well fruited, but many fields grassy and increased shedding and rust noted.

GEORGIA.—General rains have revived all crops; cotton growing rapidly, but shedding in some counties, and many reports of rust received.

FLORIDA.—Week generally favorable to crop growth, though excessive rains damaged cotton on lowlands; some complaint of rust and lice in cotton.

ALABAMA.—Cool, wet week, with excessive local rains; cotton well fruited but getting grassy and needs dry weather to prevent spread of rust and shedding, which has increased slightly.

MISSISSIPPI.—Continued improvement of all crops generally; cotton damaged somewhat by heavy rainfall, hail, grass, shedding and rust, but majority of reports favorable for average crop.

LOUISIANA.—Cool nights checked rapid growth of vegetation; increased rust in cotton, but crop fruiting somewhat better and laying by progressing.

TEXAS.—Week of generally favorable weather for cleaning crops of grass and weeds; cotton doing well and very promising except in few localities, Mexican boll weevil, rust and shedding reported, and growth slightly checked by cool nights; fruiting general, laying by progressing, some early cotton maturing in southwest portion, where picking will soon commence.

ARKANSAS.—Deficient rainfall and lower temperature trying on crops; cotton still presents a fine prospect.

TENNESSEE.—Abnormally cool weather first of week, succeeded by warm rains later, promoting vigorous growth; cotton generally well cultivated and clean, but fruiting as well as desired.

OKLAHOMA.—Cotton has made vigorous growth.

MISSOURI.—Cotton continues promising.

These reports are summarized by the department as follows:

Cotton has made rapid growth generally throughout the cotton region. North Carolina reporting too rapid growth of stalk, but reports of rust and shedding are greatly increased, especially over the central and eastern districts. In South Carolina, Florida, Alabama and Mississippi the crop needs cultivation and sunshine. In Texas it is very promising except in a few localities, where boll weevil, rust and shedding are reported, and growth has been slightly checked by cool nights. Some early cotton is maturing in Southwest Texas, where picking will soon begin. Over the north central portion of the cotton belt the crop is well cultivated in a generally promising condition.

NEW ENGLAND COTTON MILL SITUATION.—A movement is on foot in Fall River to bring about a curtailment of production of print cloths by shutting down the mills for a period of four weeks, between August 1 and October 1. An agreement to that effect has already been acquiesced in by some thirty corporations, and as soon as the representatives of about 1,500,000 spindles have agreed, efforts will be made to get mills in other portions of New England to join in the movement.

DOMESTIC EXPORTS OF COTTON MANUFACTURES.—We give below a statement showing the exports of domestic cotton manufactures for May and for the eleven months ended May 31, 1898, and for purposes of comparison like figures for the corresponding periods of the previous year are also presented:

BREADSTUFFS.

FRIDAY, July 22, 1898.

Only a very moderate volume of business has been transacted in the market for wheat flour, as buyers generally have been decidedly conservative in their operations, and their purchases as a rule have been confined to actual requirements. Here and there slightly increased interest has been shown in new crop winter-wheat flour and values have been well maintained. Spring-wheat flour has moved slowly and prices in the main have favored buyers slightly. Rye flour has had only a small sale but values have held about steady. Corn meal has had only a limited sale but prices have advanced slightly, closing steady.

Speculation in wheat for future delivery has been quiet and the course of prices has been somewhat irregular, the near-by deliveries having advanced slightly on buying by shorts to cover contracts while the distant months have been easier under the favorable prospects for a large yield from the growing crops. Saturday there was a dull market and prices weakened slightly under dull foreign advices and a falling off in the export trade. Monday the market was quiet. July advanced 1c. on buying by shorts to cover contracts, while the distant deliveries were fractionally lower. Tuesday prices advanced ¼c. for July and 1⅛@1⅜c. for other months, on less favorable crop accounts from the Northwest. Wednesday there was a firmer market on talk of cold weather in the Spring-wheat belt, but at the close realizing sales weakened values and final prices showed a slight loss for the day. Thursday July advanced slightly on shorts covering, but other months were easier in response to dull and weaker foreign advices and the failure of predicted frosts in the Northwest to materialize. To-day there was a quiet but steady market, neither buyers nor sellers showing an aggressive spirit. The spot market was quiet but steady. The sales for export here and at outports were 96,000 bushels.

There has been a fair amount of speculative interest shown in the market for Indian corn futures, and early in the week there was a stronger undertone to the situation and prices made fractional advances on limited buying stimulated by unfavorable crop prospects dne to the lack of moisture. Subseqnently, however, general rainfalls were reported in the corn belt, and what improvement there was in prices was lost. There has been some talk of cold weather, bnt these reports had little lasting effect upon values. Exporters have been moderate buyers in the spot market, particularly at ontports. To-day the market was steadier on a renewal of dry weather talk in the corn belt. The spot market was quiet. The sales for export were 70,000 bushels.

Oats for future delivery have been dull. Early in the week prices improved slightly in sympathy with the firmer market for corn, bnt owing to the large yield of the present crop and prospective full receipts, together with a quiet cash trade, there was an easier turn to values, the improvement being more than lost. To-day the market was quiet but steady. The spot market was quiet. The sales for export were 30,000 bushels, closing at 27½c. for No. 2 mixed in elevator and No. 2 white at 31½c. in elevator.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, P. M., July 22, 1898.

The market is improving so far as volume of business in progress goes, but hardly to the extent sellers have been looking for. In both the cotton and woolen goods divisions there is still much conservatism on the part of buyers and only rare instances of a disposition to anticipate positive requirements. Reports from the out-of-town markets do not show any modification of previous hopeful views regarding the outcome of fall trade, but both the spot demand and mail orders indicate a determination not to make provision except in a gradual way. The weakness in the market for raw cotton is exercising an influence over buyers of cotton goods by encouraging hopes of lower prices later on, and in woolen goods the unsettled conditions of the new lines of serges are a restrictive factor. Meanwhile sellers are still awaiting further developments in staple cottons and refrain from pressing their stocks upon the market at the expense of prices. A strong effort to bring about a concerted curtailment of production at Fall River is attracting attention. The proposal is to shut down for four weeks in August and September, and although this might not fully relieve the situation, if carried into effect, it would at least be a step in that direction.

WOOLEN GOODS.—The total business in woolen and worsted goods for men's wear this week has been disappointing to early openers of spring lines, and few additions to the display of the latter have been made, and those only in the lowest grade cotton mixed varieties. Serges have again had more attention paid to them than other new lightweights, but buyers are not taking hold of them with any avidity. There has been no change from previous prices, but the market does not look over-strong in some quarters. The reorders for heavy-weights for quick delivery have been moderate in the aggregate. Stocks of the latter are now in fairly good shape. Orders for overcoatings have proved moderate only and business in cloakings light. The dress goods situation shows no improvement and a quiet demand is very readily met on all hands. Flannels are steady, but sales of indifferent volume. Blankets quiet but firm.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton goods from this port for the week ending July 18 were 1,585 packages, valued at $89,353, their destination being to the points specified in the tables below:

* From New England mill points direct.

The value of the New York exports for the year to date has been $6,535,897 in 1898 against $6,238,071 in 1897.

The demand from jobbers and converters for brown cotton goods has improved slightly, but is still short of an average for this time of year. The heavy makes in sheetings and drills are still generally firm, but light-weights irregular. Duck scarce and firm. Brown osnaburgs dull and easy. Denims quiet throughout at unchanged prices. Ticks slow and irregular. Checks and stripes and cheviots dull, and demand readily met. Plaids steady with moderate sales. Business in bleached cottons still restricted to small orders, but prices without change. Wide sheetings inactive. Cotton flannels quietly steady. Cotton blankets firm, with light unsold supplies. Kid-finished cambrics irregular. New business and re-orders for dark fancy calicoes fair at previous prices. Other regular prints quiet and featureless. Staple ginghams firm. Dress-style ginghams in moderate request and generally steady. Napped fabrics well sold, as a rule, and in quiet current request. Print cloths have sold to a fair extent at previous prices, closing very firm in view of probable short-time.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—The fall demand for imported goods has again been indifferent in all leading lines and irregularities in prices more noticeable. Importers so far are showing little in the way of new goods for next spring and the situation generally is backward.

Importations and Warehouse Withdrawals of Dry Goods

Abilene, Kan.—Bonds Illegal.—Local papers state that the Court of Appeals has affirmed the decision of District Judge Moore that the $5,000 gas bonds of the city of Abilene are illegal and cannot be collected.

Cincinnati, Ohio.—Refunding Agreement.—The Sinking Fund Trustees have entered into an agreement with Roberts & Co., New York City, whereby all the outstanding bonds of the city bearing 6%, 7% and 7·3% interest are to be refunded by 3½% 30-50-year bonds. According to local reports the New York firm are to purchase the old bonds at market prices and turn them over to the Sinking Fund Trustees at a price the basis of which will be 3½%. The new bonds are to be issued to Roberts & Co. at par and sold by them to the holders of the original bonds at 101. The contract is a conditional one, the New York firm being compelled to turn over to the Trustees a sufficient number of bonds within a certain prescribed time before the contract becomes binding.

There are now outstanding of the issues to be refunded the following bonds:

Cincinnati Southern Ry. 7% bonds, maturing in 1902	$194,000
Cincinnati Southern Ry. 7 3 10% bonds, maturing in 1903	7,644,000
Cincinnati Southern Ry. 6% bonds, maturing in 1906	2,290,000
Cincinnati Southern Ry. 7 3-10% bonds, maturing in 1906	1,845,000
Cincinnati Southern Ry. 7% bonds, maturing in 1908	835,000
Cincinnati Southern Ry. 6% bonds, maturing in 1909	895,000
Funding floating debt 7% bonds, maturing in 1914	902,000
Total	$15,615,000

An attempt was made to have Corporation Counsel Kinkead bring suit against the Board of Sinking Fund Trustees to restrain them from carrying out the provisions of the contract, but Mr. Kinkead has decided that the contract is a legal one. A suit has since been filed by George Guckenberger, a local banker, asking for an order to restrain the trustees from proceeding under the contract.

Bond Calls and Redemptions.

Carthage (Mo.) School District.—Bond Call.—The district has called for payment October 1, 1898, at the First National Bank, St. Louis, four $500 5% bonds, dated April 1, 1889.

CITY OF ST. LOUIS

3½% 20-Year Gold Renewal Bonds.

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
ST. LOUIS, July 8th, 1898.

By virtue of Ordinance No. 19,409, authorizing the issue and sale of renewal bonds of the City of St. Louis, sealed proposals for the purchase of five hundred and ninety-three thousand dollars $593,000 in said bonds, hereinafter described, or any portion thereof, will be received at the Mayor's Office, in the City of St. Louis, until 12 o'clock noon, of the 27th day of July, 1898, and publicly opened by the undersigned at said place and hour.

Said bonds will be dated July 1st, 1898, and will each be of the denomination of $1,000 United States Gold Coin, payable twenty (20) years after their date, and will bear interest from their date at the rate of three 50-100 (3·50) per cent per annum. Semi-annual interest coupons, payable on the first day of January and July respectively, will be attached to each bond, and both bonds and coupons will be payable to bearer, as he may elect, either at the National Bank of Commerce, in New York, in United States Gold Coin, or at the National Bank of Scotland, Limited, 37 Nicholas Lane, London, England, in pounds Sterling, at the rate of four dollars, eighty six cents, six and one-half mills (4·8665) per pound Sterling. The bonds will contain the condition that in payments of principal and interest the United States Gold Dollar and the Pound Sterling will be calculated at the present standard of weight and fineness. The bonds may be exchanged for registered bonds at any time.

Bidders are requested to state in their proposals the price offered per bond, the par and premium to be stated as one amount.

Proposals must be accompanied by a deposit of cash, or cashier's or certified check, payable to the order of the Comptroller (and subject to his approval), equal to five (5) per cent of the nominal amount of the bonds bid for; said deposit to be returned immediately if the proposal is not accepted, otherwise to be held subject to forfeiture to the city in event of failure on the part of the bidder to comply with his proposal, or in case of compliance to be retained as part of the purchase money. A deposit in the required amount, to the credit of the City of St. Louis, in the National Bank of Commerce, in New York, or in the National Bank of Scotland, Limited, London, will be accepted as full compliance with the requirements relating to deposits. No interest will be allowed on earnest money deposited.

Proposals will be subject to all the conditions and reservations of this advertisement, and must refer to same as a portion of the agreement on the part of the bidder.

Proposals should be enclosed and addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Proposals for Purchase of St. Louis City Bonds."

The awards will be subject to the approval of the Committee on Ways and Means of both branches of Municipal Assembly.

The Bonds will be delivered against payment therefore in current funds, at the office of the Comptroller in the City of St. Louis, on the 30th day of July, 1898, or, if the bidder so elects in his proposal, at the National Bank of Commerce, in New York, on the 2d day of August, 1898.

A sample bond can be seen and further information obtained at the office of the Comptroller.

No bid will be considered that is not made on blank furnished by Comptroller.

HY. ZIEGENHEIN, Mayor.
ISAAC H. STURGEON, Comptroller.

Sacramento, Cal.—A. L. Frost Treasurer. This city is the county seat of Sacramento County.

The original debt was a little less than $1.600,000, being four series of 6% bonds, issued in 1858, and falling due in 1888, 1893, 1898 and 1903. The flood of 1861-1862 destroyed half of the property valnes, and the coupons have remained unpaid about eight years as a rule. In 1872 a Funded Debt Commission was created. It buys bonds and coupons, and collects from the city as other creditors do, and re-inveats in more bonds and coupons.

The full details of clearings for the week covered by the above statement will be given next Saturday. We cannot, of course, furnish them to-day, bank clearings being made up by the various clearing houses at noon on Saturday, and hence in the above the last twenty-four hours of the week have to be in all cases estimated, as we go to press Friday night.

We present below our usual detailed figures for the previous week, covering the returns for the period ending with Saturday noon, July 23, and the results for the corresponding week in 1897, 1896 and 1895 are also given. Contrasted with the preceding week, there is a decrease in the aggregate exchanges of about one-hundred and twenty-two and a-half million dollars, and at New York alone the decline is ninety and a-half millions. In comparison with the week of 1897 the total for the whole country shows an addition of 1·2 per cent. Compared with the week of 1896 the current returns record a gain of 19·6 per cent, and the excess over 1895 is 18·2 per cent. Outside of New York the gain over 1897 is 6·3 per cent. The excess over 1896 reaches 15·8 per cent, and making comparison with 1895 the gain is seen to be 10·3 per cent.

REPORTS OF TRUST COMPANIES IN NEW YORK AND BROOKLYN.

On pages 228 to 232 will be found complete reports of the condition of all the trust companies in New York City and Brooklyn on June 30 1898, as compared with December 31 1897 and June 30 1897.

OUR INVESTORS' SUPPLEMENT.

With this number of the CHRONICLE we send out our usual quarterly number of the INVESTORS' SUPPLEMENT. The SUPPLEMENT contains the following editorial articles:

PUNCTUALITY OF PASSENGER TRAINS.
ECONOMY OF LARGE FREIGHT CARS.
A NEW MOTIVE POWER.
MECHANICAL OFFICERS' ASSOCIATIONS.
THE COUPLER QUESTION.
TONNAGE RATING OF LOCOMOTIVES.
NATIONALIZATION OF SWISS RAILROADS.
RAILROAD ARBITRATION.
RAILROAD MEN'S CLUBS.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

The week has been rendered noteworthy by events and movements suggesting that the end of the war is drawing nearer. Spain—though in a somewhat indefinite way—has made proposals for peace; that is, they are indefinite because without specifying the conditions her proposals contemplated. Such action of itself is of course not evidence of the end; but it is evidence of a growing conviction in Spain that the destruction of her fleets has left her no other hope of saving any of her colonies.

Besides it so happens that our military forces have during the week secured further important advantages likely to emphasize the lesson our previous victories taught. Monday evening a landing was effected at Guanica on the island of Porto Rico by the men and ships under the command of General Miles. Since then other troops have reached the same destination, and such steps have been taken and advantages gained as to give promise that before very many days have passed not only San Juan but virtually the whole island will be under the control of the United States. A story has also come from Madrid that Manila has surrendered. That statement, if not true to-day, is prophetic of a consummation very shortly to be achieved. In addition to these events, localities in Cuba have during the last ten days been occupied by our forces, and movements have been carried forward which appear to indicate that the lines are being drawn steadily closer about Havana, and that its day is not far off. It is thus obvious that our army and navy are busily engaged in the only way that can serve to develop the sentiment for peace which her proposal of this week proves has begun to grow in Spain. No doubt it will develop rapidly as long as we continue to harvest the fruits of our former successes by gaining new ones. We may add, too, that unless a settlement is reached pretty soon it is not unlikely that what in a military way is now occupied or in process of being taken will give in outline the only terms of peace which will be granted by the public.

The situation disclosed above indicates that it is time the United States began to think of something besides war. Peace is now in the air and the works of peace demand attention. We are happy to see that Mr. H. H. Hanna has chosen the occasion to issue an address to the business men who had a part in the Indianapolis Convention calling their attention to the more favorable sentiment prevailing now than when that convention was held with reference to currency reform. The change is evidenced by the progress in public opinion which has resulted in a measure of decided merit reported by the Banking and Currency Committee to the House at its recent session. To prepare such a bill adapted to the conditions ruling is by no means an easy task. Any tyro can put together a dissected puzzle or a patch-work measure, which includes a good suggestion or two, the whole being pilfered from other plans afloat. But to make a workable machine, fitted to deal with and unify the complex monetary conditions past legislation has produced, is quite another affair. Still more of a task would it have been to secure from a majority of a committee of fifteen, selected at the time the convention was held, out of any organized body of men, an agreement upon a currency bill; and especially would this be so if nearly every man on it, as was the case with the Banking and Currency Committee, came into the place of its first meeting bringing with him a long-cherished device of his own, some of the plans sound and some thoroughly unsound. One member was actually so enamored with the conception he had evolved that he openly asserted he would never vote for reporting any other but the measure he had prepared, and if any other were reported he would do his utmost to defeat it.

With a committee made up of such material and starting with such varied opinions and prejudices the change is a remarkable one that has brought the majority to an agreement and to a plan that has so much to recommend it. And yet we believe that even this report comes short of being as explicit and direct in its remedial features as the state of public opinion would warrant. The outlook is that the elections the approaching fall will pronounce so decidedly in favor of sound money that a much shorter and simpler bill than the one now before Congress will be finally passed. That result was assured by the election in Oregon on the 6th of June. The gold standard question was fought out and settled on that occasion. It is a foregone conclusion that the next Congress will be by a decided majority in both Houses for sound money. President McKinley and his excellent Secretary will then have the power, as they have always had the will, to confirm the country's gold standard and relieve it from all misgivings and uncertainties. We could hardly over-estimate the stimulus that gift will prove to be to the country's industries; and no one knows better than the President and his Secretary what a rare privilege the Administration thus has in prospect in the opportunity of being instrumental in conferring it.

There are evidences of some improvement in the railroad rate situation. The war on passenger business to the Pacific Coast, in which the Canadian Pacific is an interested party, has not yet been settled, and the Southern Pacific, to meet the cut of the Panama Line and the clipper vessels, has just announced still another reduced schedule of rates on specified commodities from California terminals to points on the Atlantic Coast. The latter war is just now going on at a lively rate. But as against this there have been much more important steps in the other direction. Thus on the 26th freight rates west of Chicago were, in accordance with previous agreement, advanced to the former tariff basis by all Western roads. One of the Chicago papers in commenting on this action says the average increase amounts to about 25 per cent, and on certain commodities the advance is much greater. As an illustration of the latter kind, the case of packing-house products is cited; the rate in this instance has been as low as 10 cents per 100 lbs. from Kansas City to Chicago; the new rate is 23 cents. Then also the action of the Trunk Line Executive Committee at the close of last week, in declining to be parties to a proposed reduction in flour rates from Minneapolis to New York, from 20 cents to 17½ cents, is suggestive. It shows that the trunk line managers are beginning to recognize that rate cutting has proceeded far enough, and that an effort must now be made to apply a corrective.

The anthracite coal situation, which has been the cause of much uneasiness in recent weeks, appears also to have taken a turn for the better. On Monday a dispatch came from Chicago saying that the Delaware Lackawanna & Western had instructed its Western selling agents to advance the price of coal $1 per ton. It is in the West, it will be remembered, that the most recent trouble has occurred, and the advance here noted is a restoration to the prices ruling before the trouble began. There was also a meeting of the presidents of the anthracite companies at the office of President Maxwell, of the Jersey Central, on Tuesday, the 26th. The meeting was called on the invitation of Mr. Maxwell and President Olyphant of the Delaware & Hudson. The gathering appears to have been wholly informal, and it is not clear that anything definite was accomplished beyond the reaching of an understanding that an advance in prices here in the East just at this time would be unwise, but that the policy of restricting the output as far as possible should be continued. The moral effect, however, of these two events—the restoration of prices in the West and the conference of the presidents—has been very considerable. Previously the coal people talked in a very disheartened way, and it really did seem as if there was danger of a complete collapse. Now there is again a more hopeful feeling. The problem which the anthracite managers have to meet is not one easy of solution. On account of the cheapness of bituminous coal, this grade of coal is making constant inroads on the market for anthracite. The statement of the coal shipments over the Pennsylvania Railroad furnishes an excellent illustration of the tendency referred to. For the current year, from January 1 to July 16, these shipments amounted to 12,570,994 tons, against only 10,408,980 tons in the corresponding period of the year preceding. The increase, it will be observed, has been 2,162,014 tons. Of this increase only 48,998 tons was in anthracite, the rest in bituminous coal and coke.

The latest advices from Washington indicating the kind of money received for duties at the New York Custom House show 59·8 per cent of gold coin during the first twenty days of July, against 67·7 per cent for the entire month of June and 73·5 per cent for May. The falling off in gold is attributed in part to the payments of this metal for the new bonds and also to the smaller receipts of domestic bullion at the assay offices. The Klondike gold received at the San Francisco Sub-Treasury and at the assay offices on the Pacific Coast has not yet found its way Eastward in any form to an appreciable extent, but it is thought likely that later on assay office checks for some of this gold will make their appearance in this city. The bank statement last Saturday showed important changes. Specie, consequent upon settlements for the new bonds, was decreased $9,124,900, making $18,428,700 since July 2; legal tenders fell off $1,343,300, or $2,759,300 since the above-named date. Loans showed a loss of $4,907,600 for the week and deposits decreased $16,457,500. The surplus reserve now stands at $43,012,000, against $62,206,250 June 25.

These somewhat violent changes in bank conditions had no influence upon the money market this week. Money on call, representing bankers' balances, loaned generally at 1¼ per cent, with moderately large, though infrequent, transactions at 1½, and very few at 1, and the average for the week was about 1¼. Banks and trust companies quote 1½ per cent as the minimum. Though some time loans have been made at 3 and at 3¼ per cent for six months on exceptionally good collateral, these are not regarded as reflecting the condition of this branch of the market, and quotations are 2½ per cent for sixty to ninety days, 3 for four to five, 3@3½ for six months, and 3½ for longer periods. The demand is small and the supply is ample for all requirements, though lenders are not pressing their offerings. The business in commercial paper is moderate and chiefly confined to choice names, while the supply is good for the season. Rates are 3½ @3¾ per cent for sixty to ninety day endorsed bills receivable, 3¾@4¼ for prime and 4½@5½ for good four to six months' single names.

About the only important feature in the European situation this week has been an advance in London discount rates, due to a movement of gold to the Continent and also to the fall in our exchange rates to figures close to the gold-importing point, accompanied by a small withdrawal (£10,000) of the metal for shipment hither. The presentation by Spain, through the French Ambassador, on Tuesday, of overtures for peace had a decided influence upon the European markets on Wednesday, causing a sharp rise in Spanish 4 per cents. The Bank of England minimum rate of discount remains unchanged at 2½ per cent. The cable reports discounts of sixty to ninety-day bank bills in London 1½@1⅝ per cent. The open market rate at Paris is 1⅜@1½ and at Berlin and Frankfort it is 3⅛@3¼ per cent. According to our special cable from London the Bank of England lost £961,807 bullion during the week and held £35,283,046 at the close of the week. Our correspondent further advises us that the loss was due to shipments of £125,000 net to the interior of Great Britain and to exports of £537,000, of which £395,000 were to Holland, £127,000 to Russia, £10,000 to the United States and £5,000 to Peru.

The foreign exchange market has been more active this week with a downward tendency until Wednesday, when the tone grew firmer. Bankers have apparently become accustomed to the operation of the new revenue tax and they are more disposed to make rates than they were during the early part of the month. This will account for some of the activity. The market is also influenced by comparatively large offerings of grain futures and of spot grain bills, as well as by the customary supply of provisions drafts; doubtless there is also more or less speculation in commercial bills in anticipation of lower rates which will result from the movement of cotton. This movement is expected to be earlier than usual this season. The engagemen of £10,000 gold in London on Wednesday for shipment to New York was a feature of the week. The Bank of British North America, which ordered the consignment, made the engagement when discounts in London were about 1 per cent and before there was any attempt to advance the price of gold in that market. The fact that this bank, as well as some other Canadian banks, have been operating in bills drawn in the Dominion on London, which bills are not subject to the new revenue tax, gives these institutions the advantage over other exchange drawers in covering gold importations.

The range for nominal rates for exchange opened on Monday at from 4 84½ to 4 85½ for sixty day and from 4 86 to 4 87 for sight, and the market was easy, with a decline of one-quarter of a cent in rates for actual business compared with those at the close on Friday of last week, to 4 83½@4 83¾ for long, 4·85@4 85¼ for short and 4 85¼@4 85½ for cable transfers. On Tuesday free offerings of commercial futures and of some spot bills against grain made the market weak, and the range for nominal rates was from 4 84½ to 4 85 for sixty day, and from 4 86 to 4 86½ for sight. During the day bills were sold at a reduction of one-quarter of a cent compared with the rates for actual business on the previous day, but towards the close a demand to remit for sugar settlements made the market steadier, and it closed at Monday's rates. The tone was irregular on Wednesday, long sterling being easier in consequence of higher discounts in London, and cable transfers firmer because of the pending settlement on the London Exchange. Though nominal rates were reduced by some of the bankers without, however, altering the range, no change was made in rates for actual business; neither was any alteration made on Thursday, the market then closing easy for long and steady for short and for cable transfers. On Friday rates for actual business in long were reduced one-quarter of a cent. The following shows daily posted rates for exchange by some of the leading drawers.

MILITARY LESSONS OF THE WAR.

It has been freely admitted by foreign observers that the United States rarely lays its hand in earnest to a given task without developing some new and useful principles in the undertaking. It was their consciousness of this fact which lent in the eyes of foreigners so particular an interest to the pending land and sea contest. The war has now been carried to a stage where it is possible to present with assurance some of these new conclusions.

The contest between Japan and China, in 1894 and 1895, was not regarded by experts as establishing many important principles of modern naval warfare, chiefly because of the utterly incompetent management of the Chinese fleet. The annihilation of the Chinese fleet at the Yalu River, in September 1894, did indeed show the value of rapid change of position by warships about an antagonist in line of battle: but this demonstration added nothing to what had been demonstrated long before at Trafalgar, or, for that matter, at Actium. Moreover, the Japanese fleet, though it destroyed the opposing vessels, was itself so badly damaged in the action as to be placed virtually out of commission. If the Yalu battle proved anything, it seemed to be that a sea fight between two fairly matched and equally well manœuvred fleets of modern ironclads would result in the destruction of both. This conclusion was the more readily drawn from the Chinese war, because of the very successful use of torpedoes by the Japanese in attacking the hostile fleet. That particular experiment with the sea power, it will be remembered, was instantly followed by the wholesale construction of new torpedo craft for the navies of the strong maritime States. Even at the opening of the present year, Great Britain had under construction no less than fifty-two of the so-called torpedo-boat destroyers.

But the two serious naval battles of the Spanish-American war have in the first place apparently upset the theory of the torpedo boat's peculiar value. Nothing has been accomplished on either side by these vessels. They were sunk with little difficulty by Admiral Dewey's fire at Manila; at the Santiago battle of July 3 two of the best torpedo-boat destroyers of the Spanish navy were annihilated in twenty minutes by the little unprotected auxiliary yacht Gloucester, and they inflicted no injury whatever in return. Between these two engagements the St. Paul, acting merely as ocean scout, disabled and defeated off San Juan, with no injury to herself, the Spanish torpedo craft which had undertaken to attack her. The record of failure in the use of these vessels by the Spaniards is therefore quite unbroken. On our own side no serious effort seems to have been made to use this class of vessels.

But what the war has demonstrated in the matter of naval tactics, even in these very contests with the torpedo craft, is the supreme value of prompt, continuous and very heavy fire by the attacking ships. On its face the usefulness of this policy would seem to be self-evident; but it has certainly never been employed with such efficiency in any previous naval combat. The testimony of the Spanish commanders, both at Manila and at Santiago, is that their men were simply blinded and overwhelmed by the violence of the fire from the hostile ships. The achievement of the Iowa, which fired upwards of 1,500 shots in fifty minutes during the Santiago engagement—an average of thirty shots a minute—gives some opportunity to judge the nature of the combat. It is true, as the official reports have pointed out, that the Spanish fire, as usual, was not well directed; yet the Iowa was struck twice and the Brooklyn a much larger number of times, showing that the Spanish gunners had at least been able to obtain the range. But the concensus of testimony is that the continuous violence of the American fire simply drove the Spanish gunners from their posts. In other words, to use an expression ordinarily applied to army manœuvres, the position of the hostile battery was rendered untenable. The obvious conclusion from this feature in the American naval tactics is that the battleship, which combines in itself, beyond any other class of vessels, facilities for a heavy floating armament, is the warship of the future.

Aside from the power of heavy and rapid fire, for which the battleship is primarily constructed, the question of swiftness in navigating these formidable vessels is now seen to be a strategic point of the first importance. But for the development of speed beyond what had been anticipated by the Government in its newer battle-ships, some at least of Cervera's fleet would have escaped destruction. Our own Navy Department has quickly recognized the need of this quality by raising its speed requirement in the case of new war-ships now being built. It is rather interesting to observe that as these questions of speed and fire have risen in importance, the question of coal supplies, which a few months ago were thought to be the strategic discovery of the war, has dwindled. The absolute necessity for an ample coal supply at home has of course continued to be recognized. But the Oregon's exploit in rounding Cape Horn on its journey to the West Indian fleet, and the general understanding that if the mooted attack on the Spanish squadron in Spanish waters had been carried out, the question of a "coal base" would not have been at all embarrassing, have combined to reduce this fuel problem to a place of minor importance.

In short, it may be said that the essential naval lessons of the war are, first, that the most thorough drill and training of the gunners is indispensable, and, second, that the key to naval victory is a floating armament of the largest possible firing capacity combined with the greatest speed attainable. From the naval constructer's point of view, these conclusions point no doubt to continuously enlarged expense in the annual outlay for a first-class navy. What is involved in such deductions may be judged from the prompt declaration of the British Admiralty that it must have a supplementary fund to duplicate all additions to the most formidable Continental fleets; the theory being frankly proclaimed that England's fleet must equal in numbers and in power any two other fleets which might conceivably be brought against it. In the present mood of militant governments, and with the experience of the Spanish war before the naval boards, it is not easy to guess what the end of this will be. Certainly the theory held not long ago that the development of the torpedo might be expected to check the wholesale construction of expensive vessels, is not confirmed by this war's experiences.

The lessons taught by our army manœuvres thus far are naturally of a different kind. We have hitherto discussed the conclusions to be drawn regarding the efficiency of a volunteer army, and it is noteworthy that during the past week some competent European critics have expressed similar views—going so far, in the case of the English writers, as to declare that an American volunteer army could be drilled into such effectiveness, before any invading force could reach our shores, as to cope with any force which could be brought against us It will not be forgotten that the test of Santiago was most exacting, from the very fact that tactics planned with the foresight and precision of the Prussian campaign of 1870, for example, were impracticable. It has been obvious enough that our army in South Cuba lacked the elements of a military machine, such as the German army styles itself. But the weakness of a machine made up of human beings is that the individual dash and spirit is checked, if not suppressed. The magnificent charge of July 2 up to the heights commanding Santiago was not such work as a military machine could have readily undertaken; it was not even an outcome of protracted discipline; it was, as the participants have quite generally described it, a "fight of squads." Under certain conditions it will be admitted that the thorough training of a standing army would be difficult to resist by a relatively untrained force, even with such individual spirit. Yet it must not be forgotten that the brilliant assault at Santiago was made in the face of trained regulars in intrenchments and protected by artillery, and that the defenses were carried simply by the violence of the assault.

That our troops were well commanded and that the strategy at Santiago was sound is, we believe, quite generally admitted. Whether the mistake was made of under-estimating the enemy's resisting power will probably always remain a matter of military controversy; but from a purely strategic point of view it is now unanimously admitted that Santiago was doomed from the time that General Shafter's artillery was established along the rear communications of the city. There are, however, some very serious lessons in the Santiago campaign which we sincerely hope will be applied in the movement on Porto Rico. It is nothing unusual for the commissary department to break down in some degree in any campaign undertaken after a prolonged period of peace. Towards the close of the Santiago campaign there was certainly much improvement in this regard—arising, doubtless, both from better work by the quartermasters and from a clearer apprehension of their rights by the volunteer officers.

But in its medical and surgical department the same melancholy lesson has been taught at Santiago as was taught forty-four years ago in the Crimea. We base our judgment of this matter, as we believe the general public does, first on the very disheartening reports of the army correspondents; second, on personal letters from army officers—who are unanimous in condemning the hospital arrangements—and third, on the statement made this week by Surgeon-General Sternberg himself, purporting to defend the medical service of the army. We certainly gather from this last-mentioned official statement that the supply of enlisted surgeons was deficient, and that the additional help engaged might have been and in some cases probably was incompetent. As a matter of fact the surgeons at the front were physically unable, with their limited force, to deal properly with the wounded, and a most shocking situation resulted from the consequent delay. To say in extenuation of such conditions that not enough surgeons were at hand is merely, it seems to us, to confess judgment in the whole matter. It was the business of the medical department of the army to see that the most extreme emergency was provided for; and but for a sentiment against volunteer surgeons, familiar in every war, we are convinced that such provision would have been easy. To subject an army in the field to hunger or hardship may sometimes be unavoidable; but to deny them prompt and efficient surgical attendance after battle, when the base of supplies is near at hand, admits of no excuse.

We are inclined to take the same view regarding the controversy of the army surgeon staff with the Red Cross Association. This organization long ago earned its right to recognition; its founders were in fact the organizers of the entire system of army nursing as it now exists. Its work has been the one humane spot in the barbarities of modern war. This being true, we have found it difficult to understand the hostile attitude assumed towards this organization from the first by the medical staff of the regular army. That the nurses and doctors must be under the strictest orders of the commanding army officers will be of course assumed. That women are not fitted for personal service as nurses on the battle-field is very likely true. But to discourage the organization's offer of hospital work behind the army, when heavy fighting and yellow fever were threatened from the start, is a policy not easy to defend. We do not doubt that the weaknesses disclosed in the army's regular hospital service will be repaired as a result of the lessons of Santiago; but it may be an equally valuable lesson if our military authorities learn not to ignore, in so vital a matter as care of the wounded, any competent volunteer service which does not interfere with the movements of the army.

GROWING MAGNITUDE OF IRON PRODUCTION.

The marvelous industrial development which has been going on in the United States in recent years is in no department so strikingly illustrated as in that of the production of pig iron. Not so very long ago this country ranked behind Great Britain as a maker of iron, though this simply means that in our onward march we had not yet passed the country which had long held the place as the largest iron producing nation in the world. In 1890 we for the first time excelled the United Kingdom in this particular, and since then there has been but one year when our make of iron has been less than the out-put of that country. The year referred to was 1894, when the conditions were wholly abnormal on account of the intense depression which the country experienced following the panic of 1893. The set-back then encountered was quickly overcome, and now our production is at such a rate that it seems safe to say that we have permanently distanced Great Britain.

We are led to these reflections by the appearance this week of the compilations of the American Iron & Steel Association showing the production of iron for the first half of the current year. To say that all past records are broken in the magnitude of the total shown for these six months is to make a statement for which every one, we are sure, was fully prepared. In truth, the monthly reports of the "Iron Age," to which we have referred from time to time, had left no room for doubt on that point. Still the statistics of the Iron & Steel Association give one a new idea of the extent to which we are now turning out iron. According to these statistics (compiled, of course, under the direction of Mr. James M. Swank, who has so long been an authority in the trade), the United States produced nearly six million tons of iron in the half-year ending on June 30 last—in exact figures 5,909,703 tons. This compares with 5,249,204 tons in the half-year immediately preceding, with 4,403,476 tons in the first half of last year, and with 3,646,891 tons in the last half of 1896. In other words, there has been steady and large growth through every half-year since the Presidential election of 1896.

We present below the record of the pig iron production by half-year periods since the beginning of 1886. It will be observed that prior to the present year it only happened twice in any period of six months that we made as much as five million tons, while now at 5,909,703 tons we are not far from the six-million mark. It will also be noted that in the initial year of the period, namely 1886, the output for the whole twelve months was less than for the six months of this year.

PRODUCTION OF PIG IRON IN HALF-YEARLY PERIODS.

2d half	4,642,190	2d half	5,249,204
1891—1st half	3,368,107	1898—1st half	5,909,703
2d half	4,911,703

At 5,909,703 tons for the six months, the output is at the rate of twelve million tons a year. There was towards the close of the half-year some slight falling off in the rate of production, judging from the monthly records of the "Age," so that just now the country is not up to the full maximum figures. But the fact should not be overlooked that we actually produced over 11 million tons in the twelve months ending June 30 1898, this result being obtained by combining the production for the first six months of this year with that for the last six months of last year, in which way we get a total of 11,158,907 tons. The United Kingdom has at no time made quite 9,000,000 tons of iron a year, from which the extent of our present production becomes apparent.

There seems to be some difference of opinion as to the actual total capacity of the furnaces in the United States—that is, as to the aggregate amount of iron the country could turn out. Some parties hold that we have nearly attained the maximum, and that no material addition can be looked for under any reasonable probabilities. Of course it is admitted that much depends on price. The fact that the exceptional production now recorded has been reached in face of very low prices rather encourages the inference that an advance in price would act as an inducement for many furnaces now idle to start up. The "Iron Age" is not inclined to accept this view. In his Directory to the Iron and Steel Works of the United States, Mr. Swank makes the aggregate furnace capacity 19,081,587 tons per annum. He says that if he were to use his own judgment he would promptly class some of these furnaces as abandoned, but he is obliged to keep them in his list because their owners insist that they are in good condition and not abandoned. But he has made a careful calculation of the capacity of the furnaces that were either in blast in April last, or which could then have been readily put in blast, and in this way he gets a total of 17,239,100 tons per annum. The "Age," as already said, insists that no such output could be reached under any conceivable set of conditions likely to arise. On the other hand, the margin between 12,000,000 tons, the current rate of production, and the 17¼ million tons which Mr. Swank thinks the furnaces might turn out under favorable conditions, is a wide one, and there seems little reason to doubt that the existing furnaces can meet all possible demands.

It is worth noting that with the largest make of iron ever reached in any six-months period in our history, unsold stocks, according to Mr. Swank, really fell off. He reports them, including the amounts held in the warrant yards of the American Pig Iron Storage Warrant Company, at only 756,336 tons June 30 1898, against 874,978 tons December 31 1897, a decrease of 118,642 tons. Adding this to the production for the six months, we find that the amount of iron actually consumed during the half-year was evidently in excess of six million tons, being 6,028,345 tons. In the following we compare production and consumption for the first half of 1898 with the same items for the first half of other years.

We also append a statement to show the make of iron according to the kind of fuel used in its production. It will be seen that practically growth is entirely in iron made with bituminous coal and coke.

NOTE.—In above stocks are included amounts reported held by the American Pig Iron Storage Warrant Company.

One striking fact attending the development of iron production in the United States should not escape notice. Mr. Swank points out that only 19 States made pig iron in 1897 and in the first half of 1898, the smallest number recorded in the history of the American Iron and Steel Association and the smallest number since about 1830. Not many years ago there were twenty-five States and Territories that were making pig iron. Six of these have dropped out completely, and notwithstanding the growth in aggregate output nine of the nineteen States remaining in the list made less iron in the first half of 1898 than in the last half of 1897. These States are Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Virginia, Georgia, Texas and Tennessee. Mr. Swank truly says that the tendency of the pig iron industry toward consolidation and centralization in the most favored localities explains the complete abandonment of the industry in many States.

CHICAGO & NORTH WESTERN IN A YEAR OF PROSPERITY.

The annual report of the Chicago & North Western Railway indicates in a striking and rather impressive way what a record the great railroad systems west of Chicago are able to make in a year of prosperity. The showing is a gratifying one from every standpoint, and the results disclosed afford added evidence of the strength of the properties in that part of the country. Of course there is nothing new or surprising in the exceedingly favorable outcome for the twelve months which the report reveals. Indeed, just such an outcome was foreshadowed when in the review of the business for the previous fiscal year we saw what a satisfactory exhibit the company had been able to make in a year of depression.

It would be a slight exaggeration to say that the year had been one of unalloyed prosperity. There was certainly one adverse element of considerable prominence—namely, the unsatisfactory rate situation. But barring that, the conditions were practically all favorable. The large crops and the excellent prices for them which the agricultural classes were able to obtain were of course a prime factor in this conjunction of auspicious events. And when we speak of the effects of large crops we have in mind not merely the increased grain traffic which accompanies such a development. There is an attendant condition which frequently is of even greater importance. We refer to the improvement in the position of the farmers which abundant crops work—where the producer is able to find a market for them. Such a situation means that large numbers of the population are netting a good return as the result of their toil, this in turn means considerable trade activity in the West where the agriculturalists constitute the bulk of the population, and that means very liberal purchases of goods and supplies by these people, leading to a growing interchange of commodities with the rest of the country, and giving to the railroad transportation lines a large traffic in merchandise and in general and miscellaneous freight. On the present occasion the benefits accruing in this way were emphasized by the fact that the farmer in the late year found not only an active but a very unusual demand for his products, and as a consequence was able to realize the best prices he has been able to obtain for years. This applies more particularly to wheat, but even in the case of the other cereals the prices received were good, though not exceptional. In brief, then, the farming classes enjoyed such a period of prosperity as falls to their lot only on very rare occasions.

There remains to be considered the influence of general trade activity all over the United States in its relation to the traffic of the Western roads. This, it may be thought, is an element of little consequence to the lines west of Chicago, since there are no considerable manufacturing districts in that part of the country. As concerns the general effects accompanying manufacturing activity, it may be admitted that west of Chicago the influence referred to plays a less important part in the affairs of the roads than it does east of Chicago. And yet the different sections of the country are so closely connected that a benefit of this kind operating in one section is sure to be felt in the other sections, even if not to the same degree. In the Chicago & North Western case, as it happens, there is one large item of traffic which fluctuates directly with the growth or contraction of activity in the general range of industries. We have in mind the large traffic in iron ores carried from the mines in Northern Michigan and Wisconsin to the head of the Great Lakes. We showed twelve months ago how business depression had operated to reduce the volume of this traffic during the previous fiscal year. Vice versa, in the late year it is reasonable to suppose that the same traffic again underwent great expansion.

Speaking in a broad way, industrial affairs in the late year did not progress to the extent expected. The development was not even or uniform, and some lines of trade hardly shared at all in the improvement or expansion. Still the volume of business was greatly in excess of the previous twelve months. In the iron trade the expansion proved to be of unusual dimensions, the output of pig iron rising to figures never before attained. To make the iron, ore of course was necessary, besides coal and limestone. The last two constituents are not supplied from along the line of the Chicago & North Western; the iron ore is.

We cite these facts to show that there was not merely one favoring circumstance, but many favoring circumstances. We are not able to indicate the changes from the previous year in each class of traffic. The company's report does not, as a rule, contain this item of information, and the present time the report is issued earlier than usual, and as yet we have had only that part of it containing President Marvin Hughitt's remarks. That the improvement has been large and general, however, is shown by the notable growth in the volume of the total tonnage. This total tonnage is reported at 19,603,634 tons for 1897-8, against only 15,225,138 tons for 1896-7. In other words, there was an increase of nearly 4½ million tons, or almost 30 per cent (29·35 per cent), in this period of twelve months. In the tonnage movement one mile he addition was yet more striking, the gain here being 34·45 per cent, the tons carried one mile rising from 2,254 millions to 3,030 millions.

Of course this increase follows a falling off the previous year, but in actual tons moved the loss then was only 1,857,251 tons, against the present gain of 4,468,496 tons, and in tons one mile the loss was but 118 millions, against the present increase of 776 millions. As the traffic in 1895-6 (with which we compared in the previous year) had been the largest recorded up to that time, it follows that in the late year the company carried over 2½ million tons more freight and over 658 million tons more one mile than ever before in its history. But while the freight business has been of unprecedented magnitude, the passenger traffic has shown only very slight recovery, and this confirms what was said above, that general business prosperity did not attain the degree of development reached at times in the past; otherwise the result would have been reflected in a fuller and freer passenger movement. In the number of passengers carried the increase over the previous year (when the total was the smallest since 1890-1) was only 1·56 per cent, in the number one mile 5·70 per cent.

The expansion in tonnage, it is needless to say, has been attended by marked addition to the revenues of the system. Notwithstanding a very decided decline in the freight rates, to which we shall presently advert, and also a decline in the passenger rates, gross earnings increased over five million dollars ($5,073,317) as compared with the year preceding, making them decidedly the largest in the history of the company. The loss the previous year had been only about 2½ million dollars. A feature in that year was the great reduction in the expenses, offsetting 1½ millions of the loss in the gross, and leaving a falling off of only about a million dollars in the net. We made a careful analysis of the expenses at that time and showed that the outlays for repairs and renewals, though less than for some other years, had been apparently adequate and up to the average. We suggested however that it would not be surprising to see these outlays again very materially increased with an expansion in the revenues of the company. This is precisely what happened in the late year. With $5,073,317 augmentation in gross receipts, expenses were added to in the sum of $3,807,664.

Necessarily, with a larger volume of traffic to move, an increase in the total of operating expenses was inevitable in any event. But we find that out of the $3,807,664 augmentation in expenses, only $1,676,579 was under the head of Conducting Transportation, with $115,264 more increase under Taxes and General Expenses. In other words, $2,015,821 of the $3,807,664 augmentation in expenses represents enlarged outlays for Maintenance of Way and Structures and for Maintenance of Equipment. The company spent on the equipment in the late year $4,245,533, against only $3,033,188 in 1896-7, the addition thus being almost 40 per cent, and for Maintenance of Way and Structures $4,946,494, against $4,143,017. Commenting on this, President Hughitt says that these expenditures have greatly improved the physical condition of the property, increased its facilities for doing business and permanently added to the safety and economy of operation.

The figures given, large though they are, do not reflect in full the additions and renewals made. In a number of cases the expenditure of a given amount of money really represented a greatly increased amount of work done on account of a drop in the price of the materials entering into the work. Take the item of new rails purchased and laid in the track. This item actually counted for $130,552 less than in the previous year, being reported at $429,010 for 1897-8, against $559,562 for 1896-7. Yet as a matter of fact the smaller outlay for 1897-8 covered 23,554 tons of new rails, while the larger outlay for 1896-7 covered only 19,222 tons—that is, with a diminished amount of money the company was able to put down an increased amount of rails. In 1896-7 the average cost of the rails to the company was a little over $29·00 per ton, in 1897-8 it was not quite $18·25 per ton.

Bearing in mind the lower prices not only in this case but in the case of some other articles, the $2,015,821 augmentation in the outlays for repairs and renewals assumes still greater significance. The company paid $849,083 for new ties, against only $508,684 in the previous year; yet the ties were purchased at a lower price, costing 32·24 cents per tie, against 33·64 cents. But altogether 2,635,816 new ties were put in the track in 1897–8, against only 1,511,942 ties in 1896. In the equipment the additions were of really noteworthy extent. Thirty-one new locomotives were added, costing $316,889, against none in the previous year, and $1,085,881 was spent for general repairs of engines, against only $874,172 in 1896-7. The company purchased and built 2,540 cars of various kinds at an outlay of $1,262,988, against only 1,180 cars in 1896-97, at an outlay of $596,150. In 1895-6 the additions to equipment had also been exceptional, but only 1,986 new cars were provided then against 2,540 now; we may say, furthermore, that in 1894-5 the additions comprised but 839 cars, in 1893-4 283 cars and in 1892-3 871 cars. It is well enough to add that this refers simply to new cars charged to expense account; in the late years 650 cars were also purchased and charged to capital account.

We dwell thus at length on the exceptional nature of the maintenance outlays in the late year, because knowledge of that feature is essential to a proper understanding of the favorable nature of the late year's income results. The report shows a surplus on the operations of the twelve months of no less than $2,235,322, after providing for all expenses and charges and the usual dividends of 7 per cent on the preferred stock and of 5 per cent on the common stock. What has been said above makes it clear that this surplus would have been still larger except for the very liberal policy adopted in the making of renewals and improvements. But that is not all. Examination of the income account reveals that before arriving at the $2,235,322 surplus, $320,000 was deducted for interest paid in advance of maturity on bonds taken up and funded into the new 3½ per cent general mortgage bonds. Furthermore, the surplus is independent of the receipts from the land department, which would have added $289,699, and it is also independent of the surplus resulting from the operation of the trans-Missouri lines. Not having the complete report, we cannot tell what this surplus was, but in view of the favorable agricultural conditions prevailing, there can be no doubt that these lines netted a surplus.

Still another fact remains to be brought out. The showing here outlined was obtained in face of a great decline in freight rates. Prior to the late year it happened only three times that the average was below a cent per ton per mile, and then only very slightly. But for the late year this average was but 89 hundredths of a cent, the decline in this single period of twelve months having been over 10 per cent. The decline cannot altogether be ascribed to the demoralization in rates which prevailed. In part it was undoubtedly due to the increase in the proportion of bulky and low-class freight resulting from the expansion in the ore and grain tonnage. But whatever the cause, the fact that on such an important system, where we have been accustomed to a rate of one cent per ton mile and higher, the average should have dropped so materially is both significant and suggestive—significant as showing at what small compensation the transportation service even in the sparsely-settled portions of the country is now being rendered, and suggestive as indicating that with the growth of tonnage and the practice of increased economy in operation, the stronger lines are able to earn a profit for their shareholders even at such extremely diminutive rates.

The reduction in cost per unit of work is an important element in the problem. Except for this, disaster must have resulted from the continuous decline in rates, even in the case of such a strong system as the Chicago & North Western. But the management has been wide awake and alive to the needs of the situation. We will refer to only one direction where the saving has been very noteworthy. It was stated above that tonnage movement one mile had increased in the late year 34·45 per cent. Looking at the train mileage we find that this extra work was done with an increase in freight-train mileage of only 4·92 per cent. In other words, the company has been adding to its train-load—carrying more in each train so as to diminish the average expense. For the late year this train-load was almost 194 tons—a high figure for a road in that part of the country. In a period of three years the lading of the trains has been almost doubled; for we noted in our review a year ago that in 1896-7 the average load was only 151½ tons, in 1895-6 only 141 tons and in 1894-5 but 117 tons. The development here shows the purpose and utility of the heavy expenditures out of earnings to provide larger cars, heavier engines and to improve road-bed and track.

Mr. Hughitt, in his remarks, discusses the company's refunding operations at length, and shows the progress made thus far in the work of refunding. But we have not the space to-day to go into this feature of the company's affairs, and would refer the reader to the report itself, on another page, for information on that point.

Monetary and Commercial English News

LONDON, Saturday, July 16, 1898.

Business in the city is as slack as ever and is likely to remain so until peace is actually declared. Everybody feels that the struggle is already decided. The resignation of the Sagasta Cabinet and its subsequent re-assumption of power, the surrender of Santiago, and the proclamation of military-law in Spain, all seem to indicate that the destruction of the Spanish fleet has done its work, and that the Spanish Government is now likely to accept the terms that may be imposed by the United States.

The reason put forward for suspending the Constitutional guaranties, namely, that the American fleet will soon appear off the Spanish coast, is evidently meant to cloak the intention of the Government to settle with the States and to with draw its army from Cuba. At least this is the general interpretation of the act in London, and the actual conclusion of peace within the next few weeks is regarded as assured.

The action of the German cruiser in Subig Bay is not considered serious. Apparently it is interpreted to mean that the commander of the war vessel was merely desirous of preventing the Spanish troops falling into any other hands than those of the Americans, by whom their lives would be respected, and hence the belief is that the United States will experience no serious difficulty in disposing of the Philippines as it may think best.

Consequent upon the confident hopes of peace there has been a sharp rise in Spanish 4 per cent bonds. As a matter of fact there is no justification for the rise, for it is certain that Spain must make some compromise with her creditors unless French bankers are willing to advance to her a sum large enough to enable her to fund her floating debt and to stave off bankruptcy for some time longer; and unless, moreover, the United States refrains from exacting an indemnity.

In the meantime the outlook in France is growing more serious every day. There is a widespread feeling of apprehension, especially among the wealthier classes, though nobody is able to explain what it is exactly he fears. The Dreyfus case is being again eagerly canvassed. The new Government appears to be as much under the influence of the military staff at the War Office as was its predecessor, while the more intelligent classes are getting impatient of the clerical military dictatorship. Fortunately for the Republic there is no general of commanding personality.

There is very little prospect yet of any cessation in Austria-Hungary of the struggle of the nationalities. Chili has just plunged into a financial crisis and the people are beginning to fear that specie payments will have to be suspended. About three years ago the Government adopted the gold standard and raised a loan to carry out its programme. Perhaps it would have succeeded if at the same time it had been strictly economical, but it had a long standing dispute with Argentina about the boundary between the two Republics, and both governments engaged in lavish naval and military expenditure. The outlay amounted on an average for the past six years to a million sterling per annum, which, for a country like Chili, whose population is only about 2½ millions and whose total revenue is rather less than 5¾ millions sterling per annum, was altogether too great. A treaty was entered into appointing a Commission to mark out the boundary, and in case of necessity referring the question to the arbitration of Queen Victoria. But the treaty has not been acted upon so far, and popular passion has sprung up again in both countries, so that the war preparations are going on. The result is that London has refused to lend to either country.

The Messrs. Rothschilds, who have hitherto been the European bankers of Chili, point blank refused to make any further advances. Then the Chilian Government induced another London house to offer half a million sterling of Treasury bills. The bills had to be hawked about the city for days and were at last placed at a discount of about 6 per cent. It is said that since then the Chilian Government has been unable to raise money in London to pay for 60,000 uniforms ordered, and at home it is paying its contractors by the issue of Treasury bills. When Europe refused to lend any more a rumor sprang up that the Government intended to suspend specie payments. There was a run upon the Bank of Chili. The Government to stop it closed all the banks from Thursday of last week to Tuesday of this week, granting in the meantime a moratorium for 30 days. It is clear that Chili cannot afford the armaments longer, and it is to be hoped that the Argentine Republic will recognize this and will settle the boundary question in some way, for Chili evidently has made up its mind that it must be settled in one way or other without delay. Meantime business is very quiet; even in the American department there is exceedingly little doing.

Money continues exceedingly abundant and cheap as a consequence of the action of the Japanese Government. It is a striking evidence of the extreme cheapness of money just now that this week the Indian Government offered for tender six millions sterling at 2½ per cent, fixing the minimum price at 86. The applications exceeded 22¼ millions sterling, and the average price obtained was as high as £88 10s. 3d. But though money is so abundant and so cheap there may be a very sudden change at any moment. For in the first place the demand for gold for Germany still continues, and in the second place it is quite probable that there may be other very large demands. For example, a good deal of gold may go in the autumn to New York.

The crops here at home, and indeed all over Europe, are looking exceedingly well. The wheat crop is late, but it is in an admirable condition, and if the weather is favorable it is to be hoped that cutting will begin about the end of the month. Upon the Continent there is prospect of an abundant harvest, and generally the agricultural outlook is favorable all over Europe.

In India the money market is now very much easier. The Bank of Bengal has reduced its official rate of discount to 6 per cent and the Bank of Bombay is expected to follow immediately. I hear also from private sources that rates in the interior have correspondingly fallen. The India Council still continues to sell its drafts very well. It offered for tender on Wednesday 40 lacs and sold the whole amount, receiving for the bills an average price of somewhat over 1s. 3¾d. per rupee, and for the transfers something over 1s. 3 13-16d. per rupee.

The following return shows the position of the Bank of England, the Bank rate of discount, the price of consols, &c., compared with the last three years:

Messrs. Pixley & Abell write as follows under date of July 14:

Gold.—The demand for Japan continues firm, and Holland is also a good buyer. £430,000 has been withdrawn from the Bank, chiefly in German coin for Germany. Shipments: Bombay, £10,000; Japan, £170,000. Total, £180,000. Arrivals: Cape, £269,000; Australia, £116,000; India, £2,000. Total, £387,000. For month of June—Shipments: Germany, £760,000; Japan, £1,560,000; Holland, £30,000; Mexico, £66,000; Brazil, £70,000; India, £413,000. Total, £2,899,000. Arrivals: France, £170,000; Portugal, £98,000; Egypt, £31,000; China, £493,000; South Africa, £1,160,000; Australasia, £951,000. Total, £2,903,000

Silver.—The demand for Spain has ceased for the present, and although the market is firm on some forced buying, the tendency is not a good one. Shipments to Bombay, £52,000 Arrivals from New York, £69,000. For month of June—Shipments: Russia, £177,000; France, £504,000; China, £47,000; India, £102,000. Total, £830,000. Arrivals: United States, £630,000; Mexico and South America, £147,000. Total, £827,000.

Mexican Dollars.—These coin are only being dealt in at their melting value. The new issue is quoted at a slight discount. Shipments to Straits, £12,000.

NEW YORK CITY BONDS.—The twelve million dollars of New York City bonds advertised by Comptroller Coler are the first that have been offered to the public since the taking effect of the Greater New York charter. These bonds are issued under even more favorable provisions of law than were those of the former city of New York. The latter could be exempted from local taxation in the county of New York, but the new bonds are by law exempt in all parts of the State from all kinds of taxation except for State purposes, and the last-named form of taxation does not, under existing laws, fall directly on the individual citizen.

A peculiarly strong feature of New York City's finances is that the improvements for which its bonds are most largely issued—i. e., for docks and water supply—are, essentially, revenue producing. From these two sources alone the city of New York derives an income of between nine and ten millions of dollars annually. These revenues are pledged to sinking fund purposes; and as the returns on moneys invested are largely in excess of the interest paid on the bonds, it is manifest that, from a business point of view, every bond sold by the city for these purposes adds to rather than detracts from its financial strength. Under the terms of the charter, registered bonds may be issued in any small sum that is a multiple of ten dollars, it being the evident intention of the framers of that instrument that inducements should be offered to small bidders to make the city bond sales, in the true sense, popular loans.

Auction Sales.—Among other securities the following, not regularly dealt in at the Board, were recently sold at auction.

WALL STREET, FRIDAY, JULY 29, 1898.—5 P. M.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—News of the landing of United States troops at Porto Rico and the announcement that Spain had officially asked for terms of peace have increased to some extent the volume of business and stimulated higher quotations in the security markets this week. It would seem that these overtures of peace had been anticipated and largely discounted in Stock Exchange circles, as the immediate results are comparatively insignificant. There is a better tone to the markets, however, and no doubt the importance of peace negotiations will be more fully appreciated later on. This probability is foreshadowed in the higher quotations referred to above. The wheat prospect continues excellent, and the period of uncertainty in regard to it is rapidly passing. With the war closed, the wheat crop secured and the surplus in demand for export, it would seem that the approaching autumn must be one of activity and general prosperity. The present weak condition of the foreign exchange market suggests the probability of gold imports in the near future, if, indeed, the movement has not already begun.

The open market rates for call loans on the Stock Exchange during the week on stock and bond collaterals have ranged from 1 to 1½ per cent. To-day's rates on call were 1¼ to 1½ per cent. Prime commercial paper is quoted at 3½ to 4¼ per cent.

The Bank of England weekly statement on Thursday showed a decrease in bullion of £961,807, and the percentage of reserve to liabilities was 45·34, against 45·88 last week; the discount rate remains unchanged at 2½ per cent. The Bank of France shows an increase of 2,550,000 francs in gold and 3,350,000 francs in silver.

The New York City Clearing-House banks in their statement of July 23 showed a decrease in the reserve held of $10,468,200 and a surplus over the required reserve of $43,012,000, against $49,365,825 the previous week.

The Clearing-House, on Oct. 30, 1897, also began issuing weekly returns showing the condition of the non-member banks which clear through the Clearing-House institutions. The statement in full for the lateat week will be found on a preceding page.

Foreign Exchange.—The foreign exchange market has continued weak, and rates have further declined on liberal offerings and the probability of a large supply of bills for some time to come.

To-day's actual rates of exchange were as follows: Bankers' sixty days' sterling, 4 83¼@4 83½; demand, 4 85@4 85¼; cables, 4 85¼@4 85½; prime commercial, sixty days, 4 82¾@4 83; documentary commercial, sixty days, 4 82¼@4 82½; grain for payment, 4 82¼@4 82½; cotton for payment, 4 82¼@4 82½; cotton for acceptance, 4 82¾@4 83.

State & Railroad Bonds.—Sales of State bonds at the Board include $20,000 Virginia fund. debt 2-3s of 1991 at 72 to 72½, $6,000 Tennessee settlement 3s at 91½ and $2,000 Louisiana con. 4s at 104.

The railway bond market has been moderately active and generally steady to strong, with a few special features. Daily transactions averaged nearly $3,000,000, par value, per day, an increase of about $600,000 over last week. Both the investment and speculative demand have recently increased, and the tendency is to higher prices, especially for medium and low-priced issues. Most conspicuous for advance were San Antonio & Aransas Pass 4s, which sold up to 70½, a gain of nearly 5 points within the week and of 15 points since April 30. The list of other bonds which advanced a point or more includes Central Georgia Railway con. 5s, Fort Worth & Rio Grande 1st 3-4s, Norfolk & Western con. 4s, Northern Pacific gen. 3s, Reading, and New York Central & Hudson Mich. Cent. 3½s.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The stock market has been somewhat irregular this week, both in volume of business and the movement of prices. Daily transactions have ranged from less than 220,000 shares to over 350,000, and averaged about 280,000, against 130,000 shares last week. Owing to progress in military operations and evidence of Spain's desire for peace, the tendency of prices has been upward, and in several cases quotations advanced between 3 and 4 points; but generally this advance has not been sustained. The grangers declined on the announcement of St. Paul's net earnings for June, which were less than for the corresponding period last year, and the bear element took advantage of the situation to depress the entire railway list. The coal stocks advanced sharply early in the week on reports of higher prices for coal at some Western points. This news suggested that measures were under consideration for improving the anthracite trade. Speculation was active in the miscellaneous list, and wide fluctuations are noted in American Sugar Refining, New York Air Brake, National Linseed Oil and the United States Rubber issues. Our readers are referred to the following pages for the daily highest and lowest prices of all shares dealt in on the New York Stock Exchange.

Investment AND Railroad Intelligence.

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

The following table shows the gross earnings of every STEAM railroad from which regular weekly or monthly returns can be obtained. The first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the period from January 1 to and including such latest week or month.

The returns of the street railways are brought together separately on a subsequent page.

Net Earnings Monthly to Latest Dates.—The table following shows the gross and net earnings of STEAM railroads reported this week. A full detailed statement, including all roads from which monthly returns can be obtained, is given once a month in these columns, and the latest statement of this kind will be found in the CHRONICLE of July 23, 1898. The next will appear in the issue of August 20, 1898.

STREET RAILWAYS AND TRACTION COMPANIES

The following table shows the gross earnings for the latest period of all STREET railways from which we are able to obtain weekly or monthly returns. The arrangement of the table is the same as that for the steam roads—that is, the first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the calendar year from January 1 to and including such latest week or month.

Street Railway Net Earnings.—The following table gives the returns of STREET railway gross and net earnings received this week. In reporting these net earnings for the street railways, we adopt the same plan as that for the steam roads—that is, we print each week all the returns received that week, but once a month (on the third or the fourth Saturday) we bring together all the roads furnishing returns, and the latest statement of this kind will be found in the CHRONICLE of July 23, 1898. The next will appear in the issue of August 20, 1898.

Chicago Great Western Railway.

(Statement for the year ending June 30, 1898.)

President A. B. Stickney has sent out the following statement for the late fiscal year:

Gross earnings.....	$5,386,044
Operating expenses.....	3,777,373
Net earnings.....	$1,608,671
Taxes, fixed charges and full dividends on the 4 per cent debenture stock.....	1,366,236
Excess.....	$242,435

"This excess is equal to a little more than 2 per cent on the preferred A stock. The operating expenses include, besides other extraordinary expenses, the entire cost of 225 freight cars which were purchased during the year to make good all the cars which have been destroyed and gone out of service from any cause since the organization of the company. The largest local crop in the history of the company is about ready for the harvest."

The gross earnings for the two years 1896-7 and 1895-6 were $4,680,859 and $1,709,820, respectively.—V. 66, p. 1088.

Pacific Mail Steamship Co.

(Report for the year ending April 30, 1898.)

President C. P. Huntington says in substance:

General Results.—Comparing the results with those of the previous year, gross earnings decreased $75,938, operating and other expenses increased $17,786, leaving earnings over expenses $620,543, or $93,715 less than the previous year. The earnings of the Panama line decreased $114,052, owing to the quarantine regulations established during the prevalence of coast fever, the depreciation in the value of silver, and the exceptionally low prices of coffee, the principal article of export. The operating expenses of the Panama line decreased $192,486, mainly in fuel, labor, handling cargo, and other items affected by the diminished traffic. The earnings of the Trans-Pacific line increased $323,197, and operating expenses increased $122,848, mainly from the additional trips made. Agency expenses increased $42,451, principally from the establishment of agencies at Kobe, Nagasaki and Shanghai. There is an offset, however, against this increase, in the increase of $24,806 in receipts from miscellaneous collections at agencies.

Repairs.—The expenditures for repairs while the steamers are in service, and included in "steamer expenses," have amounted to $116,313. The fund for "general and extraordinary repairs of steamers" has been charged with renewals and additions amounting to $246,029. The expenditures upon the Newport amounted to $256,304.

General Remarks.—The condition of the company's fleet has greatly improved during the year as shown by the detailed statement [submitted in the printed report]. During the five years just ended the company expended in the maintenance of its fleet, consisting of seventeen steamers, $315,682 in repairs of the steamers while in service and $978,456 in renewals and betterments, a total of $1,794,038. The other property of the company has been maintained in its excellent condition. Although since the close of the year the following steamers have been chartered to or taken by the Government of the United States of America for the transportation of troops—City of Para, City of Peking, City of Sydney, China, Colon, Newport, Peru and the City of Rio de Janeiro—we have been able to keep all our lines in operation. Two dividends of 1 per cent each on the capital stock have been paid.

Steamers.—A table shows that the company owns five steel steamers, ranging from 1,659 to 4,939 gross tonnage, and twelve iron steamers, of which one has a gross tonnage of 1,490, seven of from 2,000 to 3,000, three from 3,000 to 4,000 and one of 5,079 tons.

Profit and Loss, Etc.—The detailed statement of receipts and expenses was given in the preliminary report published on page 1042 of the CHRONICLE for May 28. The profit and loss statements and balance sheets are as follows:

Calumet & Hecla Mining.

(Report for the year ending April 30, 1898.)

President Alexander Agassiz's report says in part as follows:

"The gradual increase of our surplus since 1890, and the larger dividends paid during the past two years, while due in part to the higher price of copper, have been due mainly to the gradual increase of our working force. This is now about twice what it was in 1890. We are increasing the product of the mine, and obtaining about the same profit per pound of copper as with a small output. Our reserves have materially increased during the past year.

"The amount of dead work carried on in unproductive parts of the mine is large and must of necessity remain so. The shafts Nos. 13, 14 and 15 sinking on the Osceola amygdaloid have reached a depth of over 400 feet, and Nos. 13 and 15 have developed some promising ground. At the south end of the mine the sinking of No. 12 has been continued, but there has been no improvement in the character of the conglomerate lode. At the north end the quality of the rock in some of the openings is not up to the general average. The delays incident to the completion of the larger hoisting engines has greatly interfered with our openings in the vicinity of Red Jacket shaft.

"We have laid the foundation of another large coal dock of a capacity of 100,000 tons, with a depth of water of over 21 feet along the face of the dock at Torch Lake. We hope during the coming season to finish the dredging of our canal from Bootjack Bay to Torch Lake. We shall then have a depth of 20 feet and a base of 90 feet along its whole length, enabling us to bring the largest vessels navigating the lakes to our docks. At Buffalo we have purchased an additional frontage on Niagara River of about 200 feet; otherwise there have been no changes of importances at the Lake Linden or the Buffalo Smelting Works. At Torch Lake we have begun to smelt the mineral of the Quincy Mining Co. for the temporary accommodation of that company."

Welsbach Light Company.

(Report for the year ending April 30, 1898.)

No printed report is issued but the following statement given out at the annual meeting recently held was published by the Philadelphia papers:

Anthracite Coal Roads—Delaware & Hudson Canal—Delaware Lackawanna & Western RR.—Central RR. of New Jersey—Erie RR.—Meeting.—"In response to an invitation from President Maxwell, of the Jersey Central, and President Olyphant, of the Delaware & Hudson, there was a full meeting of officials of the anthracite coal roads Tuesday at the Jersey Central office to discuss the coal situation. The Pennsylvania RR. Co. was the only large company not represented. The meeting was harmonious. A President who attended said last evening: 'I may summarize fully what was done in a few words. It was found that the Western prices, recently cut severely, were restored to a basis of $5 25 per ton, stove, at Chicago. It was the sense of the meeting that in this restoration a great threatening cloud had been removed from over the Eastern markets. Prices will be better sustained. There will, I believe, be less coal on the market in August, 1898, than in that month of 1897.'

"As far as could be learned the meeting was entirely informal, and no binding votes or similar actions were taken. The need for some conference on the trade situation is well illustrated by the fact that the Ontario & Western stove coal sold here yesterday at $3 60 per ton. f. o. b., which is 45 cents below the 'official circular.'"—"Journal of Commerce & Commercial Bulletin," July 27.—V. 66, p. 810, 516, 953, 423; V. 67, p. 74.

Appleton (Wis.) Water Co.—Receiver Appointed.—Upon application of the Central Trust Co., mortgage trustee, Judge Seaman, at Milwaukee, on Tuesday appointed Herman Erb receiver of the company. The mortgage is for $200,000.

Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe Ry.—$3,801,000 General 4s Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed $3,801,000 additional general mortgage 4 per cent bonds, making total amount listed $120,636,500. These $3,801,000 bonds are in addition to bonds enumerated in former applications of the company. They were issued for the following purposes:

$271,739 issued to cover payments made on account of $250,000 equipment bonds drawn for payment Jan. 1, 1898. $1,000,000 of equipment trust bonds now remain out.

818,810 issued to cover amounts paid to April 30, 1898, in connection with the acquisition of all the bonds and stock of the Santa Fe Pacific RR. Co. which company owns the railroad and property formerly constituting the Western Division of the Atlantic & Pacific RR. All of said bonds and stock have been deposited with the Trustee under the general mortgage.

848,865 issued for improvements and betterments of the Santa Fe Pacific RR. from July 1, 1897, to April 30, 1898.

1,362,103 issued for improvements made during the calendar year 1897, in accordance with the provisions of Section 5 of Article 1. of the general mortgage. A certificate of such expenditures was furnished to the trustee.

500,000 issued in accordance with the provisions of the same section as an advance for improvements made during the period commencing Jan. 1, 1898. The total amount authorized for such improvements is $30,000,000, of which not more than $3,000,000 shall be certified in any one year, but any lesser amount issued in any year may be added to the amount issuable in any subsequent year.

$3,801,517 Total.

Pacific Steamship Line.—It is announced that a company has been formed to run a line of steamships on the Pacific in connection with the Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe Ry. It is expected to have steamers leaving San Diego for points in the Orient by Oct. 1.—V. 67, p. 123.

Baltimore & Ohio RR.—Baltimore Belt Bonds.—Brown, Shipley & Co. of London announce that under the terms of their agreement of Nov. 1, 1897, more than three-fourths of the total issue of Baltimore Belt RR. bonds have been deposited as assenting to the proposed plan of reorganization. If the plan is declared operative with reference to this loan it will benefit only those holders who assent prior to Aug. 16. Until that date the firm will continue to accept deposits. Brown Brothers & Co. of New York, Philadelphia and Boston, and Alexander Brown & Sons of Baltimore will accept deposits of bonds from holders in this country.—67, p. 124.

Assents Received.—Holders of more than 60 per cent of the bonds deposited with J. P. Morgan & Co. and J. S. Morgan & Co. of each of the following loans have given their written assent to the plan:

Chicago Division 5 per cent bonds of 1877, due 1927.
Deposited under agreement of July 17, 1897.
Six per cent sterling mortgage bonds loan of 1874.
Deposited under agreement of May 3, 1898.
Pittsburg & Connellsville 6 per cent consols due 1926.
Deposited under agreement of July 15, 1897.

Non-assenting certificate holders must give notice of their dissent to one of the firms named on or before July 28, or their bonds will be deposited under the plan.—V. 67, p. 124.

Guaranteed Securities.—Inquiries having been made as to the future relations of the B. & O. and the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern Ry., the following authoritative statement was made on Thursday:

"The Reorganization Managers and the Advisory Committee are taking up the question of dealing with the leased and operated lines. They are working assiduously on those matters, and when they are finished attention will be turned at once to the question of future relations with the present guaranteed lines. In the meantime nothing is likely to transpire in connection with the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern matters."

Terminal Bondholders Protest.—A protest has been addressed to Speyer Brothers of London against the terms offered the holders of the 4½ per cent Terminal gold bonds of 1894. The point made is: "These terms involve a reduction of ½ of 1 per cent in the interest, without the smallest compensation. In the case of all other issues an equivalent has been given for any reduction of interest, which has satisfied the holders." The protest is signed by the following firms:

James Capel & Co., Leon Bros., Lloyd & Ward, Clayton & Aston, Marten & Christopherson, Wm. Morris & Sons, L. B. Erskine & Co., Sidney Cooper & Co., A. L. Reynolds, John M. Douglas & Co., Hichens, Harrison & Co., G. S. Herbert & Sons, Laurance, Sons & Gardner, Chinnery Bros., Haes & Sons, Twycross & Langton, Wm. Brander & Co., Ransford & Co., Medwin & Lowry.

Action of Preferred Shareholders.—At Baltimore, on Thursday, at a meeting of holders of about 24,000 out of a total of 30,000 shares of preferred stock, it was decided to apply for an injunction to restrain the reorganization committee from carrying out its plan of readjustment until after the Supreme Court of the United States shall have passed upon the rights of the preferred shareholders in their case now on appeal.—V. 67, p. 124.

Bay State Gas Co.—Income Bonds Not Redeemed.—The plan for the redemption of the income bonds on Jan. 1, 1898, was not carried out for the reason, as understood, that the required amount of bonds was not deposited.—V. 66, p. 184.

Boston Elevated Ry.—First Dividend.—The company has declared a dividend of 2¼ per cent, payable Aug. 15 to stockholders of record Aug. 1. The par value of the shares is $100 and the total issue is $10,000,000. The "Boston Evening Transcript" says: "Strictly speaking, this should be called interest on the $50 per share paid in, as no certificates for stock are issued, receipts representing the money paid in. The company has earned the interest or dividend from securities, savings in operation and other miscellaneous sources."—V. 66, p. 80.

Brooklyn Ferry Co.—Brooklyn & New York Ferry.—New Company Incorporated.—The Brooklyn Ferry Co. was incorporated at Albany on Thursday with capital stock of $7,500,000, as successor of the Brooklyn & New York Ferry Co., whose stock was purchased recently by H. B. Hollins & Co. The new company will make a consolidated mortgage to secure $7,500,000 of fifty-year 5 per cent gold bonds, of which $1,000,000 will be reserved to retire the old firsts at or before maturity.

Of the capital stock $3,500,000 will remain in the treasury. The directors are: Samuel B. Lawrence, John B. Summerfield, C. E. Williams, Henry C. Everdell and Armitage Mathews.—V. 67, p. 221.

Chicago & Alton RR.—Bonds Called.—Mississippi River Bridge bonds numbered 13, 33, 46, 56, 63, 165, 338, 444, 531, 649 and 694, drawn for the sinking fund payment, will be redeemed Oct. 1, 1898, at the office of Messrs. Cuyler, Morgan & Co., No. 44 Pine Street, New York City.—V. 66, p. 423.

Chicago City Ry.—North Chicago Street RR.—West Chicago Street RR.—Consolidation—Plans for the bringing of these companies by lease, consolidation or otherwise, under a single management have been revived with much better prospects than heretofore for a satisfactory result. The Leiters, as holders of about 8,000 shares of the Chicago City Ry., are said to be favorable to the transaction. The three companies have a total share capital of over 33 millions, representing a market value of about $61,000,000.

The "Chicago Tribune" on Tuesday said:

A prominent authority close to the affairs of the Chicago City Ry. Co. yesterday explained the consolidation situation as follows:

"As 'The Tribune' has stated in its recent issues, the City Railway recently secured control of the General Electric Ry. Co. by purchase from J. Pierpont Morgan of the stocks and bonds held by him as collateral on money advanced. This cost about $500,000, and as numerous extensions in the City Railway system were also contemplated and would cost money, it was decided to ask the stockholders at the coming annual meeting to authorize an increase of $2,000,000 in the capital stock, to be subscribed for at par by stockholders. Lately this plan has been held in abeyance by far more important considerations which have come up.

"As has been generally known Mr. Yerkes has for years been desirous of effecting a consolidation of his companies with the City Railway, but strong interests in the latter—the Leiters chief among them—have objected. Now, however, the Leiters seem convinced that it would be for the best interests of all to come to an understanding with Mr. Yerkes. There seems enough City Railway stock pledged to carry the scheme through if it can be found practicable in its legal details.

"If the directors become convinced that the legal status of the new company would be sound, the stockholders—probably at their annual meeting in January, 1899—will be invited to conclude either a lease or a sale of the assets of the company to a new corporation which shall also lease the Yerkes lines or purchase his assets. Whatever will be the capitalization of the new company, it is intended to include the $2,000,000 increase which the directors had already resolved on.—V. 66, p. 1236, 1090, 472.

Chicago Fort Madison & Des Moines RR.—Receiver Appointed.—A press despatch from Mount Pleasant, Ia., on Wednesday announced that Judge Woolson had appointed Vice-President E. F. Potter receiver of this property. The line extends from Fort Madison to Ottumwa, Ia., 71 miles, and has long been bankrupt, its net earnings for the year 1896 97 being only $8,500, against fixed charges of $69,173.

Chicago Indianapolis & Louisville Ry.—$1,116,200 Preferred Stock Sold.—The company has applied to the New York Stock Exchange for permission to list $1,116,250 of treasury preferred stock which has been sold to improve the property and build a coal branch. This issue raises the amount of preferred shares outstanding to $5,000,000, the total amount authorized under the plan of reorganization.—V. 67, p. 26, 27.

Cincinnati & Muskingum Valley RR.—Formal Possession—Official notice is given that this company, a corporation of Ohio, having bought the railroad and appurtenances lately belonging to the Cincinnati & Muskingum Valley Railway Company, takes possession of and begins to operate the same as of Aug. 1. The officers of the company are as follows:

President, James McCrea, Pittsburg, Pa.; Secretary, S. B. Liggett, Pittsburg, Pa.; Auditor, John W. Renner, Pittsburg, Pa.; Treasurer, T. H. B. McKnight, Pittsburg, Pa.—V. 67, p. 176.

Columbus Sandusky & Hocking RR.—Fitzgerald Committee to Receive Deposits till August 15.—The Fitzgerald Committee gives notice that a majority of the outstanding first mortgage (prior lien) bonds and a majority of the general mortgage bonds have been deposited with the committee under the plan and agreement of reorganization dated May 12, 1898, and that further deposits may be made without penalty to and including August 15, 1898.—V. 67, p. 176.

Eagle & Phenix Mills.—New Mortgage.—This reorganized company of Columbus, Ga., has made a mortgage to the Trust Co. of Georgia, as trustee, to secure $500,000 first mortgage 6 p. c. gold bonds. The deed of trust is signed by President G. Gunby Jordan and Secretary E. N. Clements. The reorganization plan was in V. 66, p. 1140.

East Tennessee Telephone Co.—Mortgage for $150,000.—This company, whose $300,000 of capital stock is quoted in Nashville, has made a mortgage for $150,000 to the Nashville Trust Co. as trustee.

Electrozone Commercial Co. of Philadelphia.—Prospectus.—The $600,000 capital stock of this New Jersey corporation was recently placed on the unlisted department of the Philadelphia Stock Exchange. As a matter of record we give the following from the prospectus issued in December last, when a limited amount of the stock was offered for sale at par, viz., $50 per share, to extend the business:

This company has acquired the sole right under contract with and by license under patents from the Electrozone Co. of New York, and Prof. Albert E. Woolf, the discoverer of electrozone, to promote commercially the sales of "Electrozone" and "Meditrina" and also to erect municipal plants for the manufacture of crude electrozone throughout the United States. Electrozone is sea water specially treated by electrolysis, decomposing the chlorides and other elements under the process of the inventor, thereby creating one of the most powerful germicides and antiseptics known to medical science. The medicinal electrozone for internal use is called Meditrina.

After exhaustive investigation and tests by the city of Philadelphia, a plant has been erected for the manufacture of electrozone to be used in purifying the overground drainage in the thickly populated parts of the city, and for placing a regular supply at the disposal of the Board of Health for use in case of epidemics. The company is now in communication with several large cities regarding the erection of municipal plants, and this branch of the company's business in itself will be a source of large revenue. President, R. Evans Peterson; Secretary, William H. Hibbard; Treasurer, Clarence B. Kugler.

Fraser & Chalmers, Limited.—Option to Refund.—The directors of this English concern, organized in 1890 to acquire the capital stock of an Illinois corporation, manufacturer of mining machinery, &c., are now prepared to issue, in exchange for the £350,000 debenture 6s maturing Feb. 1, 1900, new registered 5 per cent debentures maturing Feb. 1, 1913, but repayable at the company's option at any time after Feb. 1, 1908, on six months' notice at 103 per cent, and to pay in cash £2 (less income tax) per £100 on such exchange, being 30s. difference in interest for the unexpired eighteen months and 10s. bonus. The company's office is 43 Threadneedle Street, London, E. C.

General Electric.—Circular.—A circular issued on Thursday by the preferred stockholders' committee and signed by Thomas L. Livermore and Edwin F. Atkins is substantially as follows:

"The committee named in the agreement dated June 1, 1898, between the committee, the American Loan & Trust Co. and the depositors of preferred shares, are divided upon the question whether it is for the best interests of the preferred shareholders to acquiesce in the reduction of their shares by 40 per cent, Mr. Carr being in favor of accepting the proposition and a majority of the committee opposed to it. The majority have determined to vote against it, and if possible to defeat it by legal proceedings.

"Mr. Carr has accordingly resigned from the committee, and shares represented by him and other trustees or executors will not be deposited. Owing to this change of circumstances, the committee think it proper to assent to the withdrawal by any one desiring to do so of his shares deposited with the American Loan & Trust Co., upon signifying to said trust company in writing his desire so to do on or before August 6, 1898, and remitting to said company 12 cents per share, which is the proportionate part of the expenses which have already been incurred.

"The committee invite the continuance of the deposits of shares already made, as well as further deposits of preferred shares under said agreement. The liability to expense is limited to $1 per share, plus stamp for transfer as required under the revenue law."—V. 67, p. 177.

Hudson Tunnel Ry.—Foreclosure.—The Farmers' Loan & Trust Company of this city and John Henry Kendall Broughton, of London, England, mortgage trustees, have made application to Chancellor McGill in Jersey City for an order for the foreclosure sale of the company's property, consisting of the unfinished Hudson River tunnel. After foreclosure it is proposed to reorganize and push the tunnel to completion. The new scheme, it is said, includes a trolley line which will carry passengers through the tunnel from Jersey City to New York at a high speed. The reorganization plan, presented in June, 1896, was published fully in the CHRONICLE, V. 63, p. 154.—V. 65, p. 412.

Kansas City Pittsburg & Gulf R. R.—Missouri Kansas & Texas Ry.—Opening Up of Indian Territory.—The benefit to come to the Kansas City Pittsburg & Gulf RR. from the opening up of the Indian Territory is stated as follows in a circular sent out by the Missouri Kansas & Texas Trust Co.:

The development of the Indian Territory has received its first great impetus through the enactment by Congress of the Curtis Bill. As the Kansas City Pittsburg & Gulf Railroad has about 150 miles of track in the Indian Territory, and also reaches the important city of Ft. Smith, the jobbing and general supply depot for the greater part of the Indian Territory, very beneficial results will be derived by the railroad. The Curtis Bill provides for the allotment of Indian Territory lands, selections of town sites, sales of timber and the lease of oil, coal and mineral lands in a fair and reasonable way.

Some idea of the difficulties heretofore experienced by manufacturers and traders in the Indian Territory may be understood when it is realized that in the Cherokee Nation a white man could not do business in his own name, and the royalty demanded by the Indians on timber has been about 50 per cent greater than is paid in the States. It is not expected that such a rush as characterized the opening of the Cherokee Strip and Oklahoma will be repeated, but a more healthful development of agricultural and industrial enterprises will surely result.

The section of the Indian Territory through which the K. C. P. & G. runs, including the famous Arkansas Valley, is decidedly the best as a producer of coal, timber, mineral and agricultural products.

The Missouri Kansas & Texas Ry. also has much to gain from the development of the Indian Territory.—V. 66, p. 1189.

Kingfield & Dead River RR.—Sale Aug. 2.—This property is advertised to be sold by the Sheriff at Strong, Me., Aug. 2, on a judgment for $3,295 and costs in favor of J. S. Maxcy of Gardiner, Me. The road is of two foot gauge and is 10 miles long, extending from Kingfield to Carrabasset, Me. Its funded debt June 30, 1896, was $30,000; floating debt $10,917.

Kearney & Black Hills Ry.—Foreclosure Sale Aug. 17.—The foreclosure sale, it is stated, will be held at Kearney, Neb., on Aug. 17. The line extends from Kearney to Callaway, a distance of 65 miles.

Los Angeles City Water.—Consolidated City Water.—New Company.—A press dispatch from Los Angeles, Cal., July 21, said: "The thirty year contract between this city and the Los Angeles City Water Co. expires to-morrow night. To-morrow the city will formally tender the company $1,300,000 for the property held by it. The offer will doubtless be refused.

"To-day papers of incorporation of the Consolidated City Water Co. were filed. The capitalization is $2,480,000, and it is doubtless contemplated that this company shall augment or supersede the former company, consolidating all its various interests."

Louisville & Nashville Terminal Co.—Louisville & Nashville RR.—Nashville Chattanooga & St. Louis RR.—Tennessee Central RR.—New Union Station at Nashville.—The contract for the construction of the new depot at Nashville, Tenn., was awarded on July 20 to Charles A. Moses, of Chicago. The amount of the bid is not announced, but it is believed in Nashville that the structure itself, exclusive of the land, will cost in the neighborhood of $1,000,000. If indeed it does not exceed this sum. The station, which is to be the handsomest in the South, will be located on South Walnut Street and New Kayne Avenue, south of Broad Street. The plans include a depot building and baggage room, with a train shed of 200 feet clear space, a total width of 240 feet and a length of 500 feet. It will have three through tracks and six stub end tracks. The property will be owned by the Louisville & Nashville Terminal Co., of which Maj. E. C. Lewis of Nashville is President. The Louisville & Nashville and the Nashville Chattanooga & St. Louis will use the station.—V. 67, p. 122, 29, 179.

Manhattan Ry.—Findings of Referee in Tax Case.—The Report of Hamilton Odell, referee in the tax case, was made public yesterday. The referee concludes that the re-assessment of the capital stock and surplus of the company for 1895 at $15,5 3,800 is illegal, and should be stricken from the assessment roll. Following are some of his findings:

(1) Under the law the value of the foundation, road-bed, sub-structures, etc., of the company on the second Monday of January, 1894, for the purposes of assessment, was the cost of replacing the same on said date;

(2) The company is entitled to a deduction in any assessment of its capital stock and surplus as of the second Monday of January, 1894, to the amount of $21,907,590, being the amount of indebtedness for which it was upon that day directly liable, and which had not been contracted or incurred in the purchase of non-taxable property or security.

(3) The use of bonds of the New York Elevated RR. on the Manhattan Elevated RR. for the purpose of paying or settling the claims of abutting property owners does not constitute the contracting of indebtedness for the purchase of non-taxable property.

(4) On the second Monday of January, 1894, the Manhattan Company owed no debt or claim against the Metropolitan Elevated that was assessable as an asset of the Manhattan Company for the purpose of local taxation, in excess of $2,023,487.

(5) In conclusion, the re-assessment of the capital stock and surplus of the company for 1895 at the sum of $15,526,800 is erroneous and illegal, and should be wholly vacated and set aside and stricken from the assessment roll.

Assistant Corporation Counsel Ward is quoted as saying that the decision of the referee is a complete and sweeping victory for the Manhattan as far as it goes. It vacates the assessment in its entirety. The case, however, will be appealed and taken finally to the Court of Appeals.—V. 67, p. 29.

National Linseed Oil.—Status.—Regarding the company's condition, President Euston on Thursday said:

"There is nothing at this time in the affairs or the financial condition of the company to warrant the rumors which have been circulated that the company is going into the hands of a receiver. The company has no past-due paper, and its losses on the seed market have been largely exaggerated. At this date and at present market prices its quick assets are sufficient to pay its liabilities."

It appears that the company has been carrying a large amount of flaxseed, at one time it is said over 1,000,000 bushels, purchased at prices averaging, it is believed, over $1 10. The fall in the price to 83 cents caused difficulty in meeting margins, and the commission houses on the Chicago Board of Trade were notified to transfer to Albert Dickinson, at 83 cents, all the company's open flaxseed trades. The President of the company thereupon made the statement quoted above regarding the company's solvency.—V. 66, p. 617.

Newark Gas.—Purchase of Control.—The Newark "Advertiser" is authority for the statement that the purchase referred to last week applied only to the 15,000 shares held by the syndicate (out of the total issue of 20,000 shares.) The "Advertiser" says: "There is no arrangement as to the 5,000 minority shares of the company and the purchasers are under no obligation to acquire this stock."

The "Philadelphia Financial News" on Thursday said:

The United Gas Improvement Co. has not purchased the Newark Gas Works, and negotiations were stopped, owing to the fact that the U. G. I. Co. was not permitted yesterday, as per arrangement, to inspect the books of the company. The company was invited to join with some New Jersey parties, representing some of the strongest people in the State, in the purchase of the Newark Gas Works from other persons who held an option on the property. The option expires Aug. 1. Yesterday, according to an arrangement, U. G. I. representatives went over to inspect the Newark Gas Company's books before making decision about purchasing, but at the last moment this was refused. The U. G. I. Co. had not satisfied itself that the property was worth the price asked, viz: $3,100,000 stock, and subject to a $4,000,000 mortgage, and the negotiations are reported off so far as they are concerned.

The above statement that the terms offered do not apply to the minority stock is so at variance to the reports accepted last week that we applied to the Fidelity Trust Co. of Newark for the facts of the case. The company's reply is as follows: "Our knowledge in regard to the terms of the contract between the Newark Gas Co. and its prospective purchasers is somewhat vague, though our belief is that the minority stock will be purchased by the purchasing syndicate at the same terms at which the 15,000 shares referred to by you were purchased, viz., $310 [per $100—ED.] There has been no circular issued in regard to this matter, and any information other than inference is difficult to obtain."—V. 67, p. 178.

New York Central & Hudson River RR. Co.—Price of New 3½s in Exchange to be 105 After Aug. 4.—J. P. Morgan & Co. announce that their offer to exchange various bonds of this company for the new 3½ per cent gold bonds of 1997 at 104 and interest will be withdrawn on Aug. 4, after which date the rate will be 105 and interest.

The outstanding securities will be received at their present value, calculated to maturity on a 3½ per cent basis, as follows:

Issue.	Due.	Value.	On.
First mortgage 7s	Jan., 1903	114·46 p. c	July 1, 1898
First mortgage sterling 6s	Jan., 1903	107·87 p. c.	" "
[Figured on basis of $973·33 per for each bond of £200.]
Extended debt certificates, 4s	May, 1905	103·08 p. c.	May 1, 1898
Debenture 5s	Sept., 1904	108·65 p. c.	Mar. 1, 1898
Debenture 4s	June, 1905	103·08 p. c.	June 1, 1898

Note.—Interest at the rate of 3½ per cent on money value calculated from these dates to time of delivery will be paid in addition. The bonds must bear the current coupon.

When the option to make the exchange was first announced in January last, the new 3½ per cent gold bonds were tendered in payment at 103 per cent and accrued interest to date of delivery. Subsequently the price for the new bonds was raised to 103½ per cent, later to 104 per cent and now to 105 per cent.—V. 67, p. 20.

New York & Harlem RR.—Dividend.—Referring to the item concerning this company in last week's CHRONICLE, a reader has called attention to the fact, since officially confirmed for us, that the Harlem Company still owns the two pieces of property located at Thirty-second and Thirty-third Streets, Fourth and Lexington Avenues, and on Madison Avenue, between Eighty-fifth and Eighty-sixth Streets, and that under the lease to the Metropolitan Railway Co. such properties revert to the Harlem Company on the first day of July, 1899, with the covenant, however, that the lessee may purchase the same, prior to that date, at a valuation to be agreed upon or fixed by arbitration. The Metropolitan Co. has not as yet officially notified the company as to its decision in the matter, and no action has been taken looking to the sale of the property.

These two pieces of real estate when sold would certainly yield a very large sum, which, if invested for the benefit of the stockholders would doubtless, in the opinion of the reader above referred to, give a further increased dividend of ½ per cent upon the share capital stock. After Jan. 1, 1900, he believes the stock will be upon, at least, a permanent 14 per cent basis.—V. 67, p. 178.

New York Pennsylvania & Ohio First Mortgage Trust.—Dividend Payment.—An interim dividend at the rate of 2 per cent per annum for the half-year ended 3d instant is payable, less income tax, on 2d August.—V. 64, p. 470.

Northern Pacific Ry.—$673,000 Prior Lien Bonds Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed $673,000 additional prior lien railway and land grant 4 per cent bonds, making total amount listed $86,104,000. The additional bonds were issued as follows: $571,600, at 130 per cent, to reimburse the company for the amount deposited to redeem at 110 per cent $432,000 of general 1st mortgage 6s, drawn for the sinking fund; $111,400 for general first mortgage bonds exchanged and deposited with the trustee of the prior lien mortgage, as additional security for the bonds issued thereunder. There are $9,189,000 of general first mortgage bonds now held by the public. Of this amount $1,928,000 were drawn for the sinking fund on July 14, 1898, and interest thereon will cease on and after Jan. 1, 1899.—V. 67, p. 178.

Ohio Southern RR.—Deposits of First 6s to be Received Till Aug. 10 on Payment of Penalty.—The Read Committee calls the attention of holders of the first mortgage 6s to the foreclosure sale which will take place under order of the Court of Common Pleas for Allen County, Ohio, on Aug. 20, 1898. Bonds will be received by the committee to and including Aug. 10, 1898, upon the payment of a penalty of $10 per bond, after which date no bonds will be received except upon terms to be fixed by the committee.—V. 67, p. 74.

People's Gas Light & Coke.—Suit Dismissed.—Judge Gibbons at Chicago, on Thursday, in the suit of Steernbach and Herrman, as bondholders of the Equitable Gas Light & Coke Co., rendered a decision holding that the complainants had no standing in Court, refusing the motion to appoint a receiver and dismissing the bill for want of equity. The attorneys representing the bondholders then filed an amendment to the bill of complaint, asking that the officers of the constituent companies be required to account for $230,000 alleged by the plaintiffs to have been spent for the purpose of securing the passage of the Consolidation Act by the Illinois Legislature.—V. 67, p. 30.

People's Light & Power Co. of Newark.—Consolidation.—This new corporation is reported to have absorbed the following companies:

Richmond Nicholasville Irvine & Beattyville RR.—Sale Sept. 6.—The sale, it is stated, is set for Sept. 6, the upset price to be $160,000, as before.—V. 67, p. 127.

Silver-Plated-Ware Manufacturers.—Consolidation Under Consideration.—Preliminary negotiations are in progress looking to the consolidation of the leading manufacturers of silver-plated ware, except several that also do a considerable business in solid silver articles, into a single corporation with a capitalization of perhaps $15,000,000. The firm of Holmes & Edwards and the Manhattan Silver-Plate Co. are understood to be prominently identified with the consolidation movement. A report from Connecticut, where a majority of the principal works are located, has it that manufacturers controlling 85 per cent of the output have intimated their willingness to join in the consolidation, if terms can be agreed upon. The following are some of the prominent Connecticut companies: Meriden Silver Plate Co., the Meriden Britannia Co., the Middletown Plate Co., the Webster, Derby, and Wilcox companies, Rogers Bros., the Wm. Rogers Manufacturing Co., the Barbour Silver Co. and Holmes & Edwards.

Sioux City Bridge.—Combination Bridge Co.—Sioux City Terminal RR. & Warehouse.—Sioux City Stock Yards.—Suits Filed.—The Credits Commutation Co., an organization formed by the creditors of various Sioux City companies which failed several years ago, to recover as much as possible from the wrecks, has commenced suit on the following notes: Sioux City Dressed Beef & Canning Co., $273,500; John Hornick, $634,000; Sioux City Stock Yards, $891,- 000; Sioux City Terminal RR. & Warehouse, $436,500, and Edward Hawkinson, $131,500.—V. 67, p. 176; V. 61, p. 431.

Springfield (Ill.) Consolidated Ry.—Half-Yearly Statement.—The following comparative statement of earnings for the six months ending July 1 is reported from Louisville:

6 Months.	Gross.	Op. Exp.	Net
1898	$57,402	$34,229	$23,173

"It is hoped the company will now be able to meet the interest on its $750,000 of bonds." See V. 65, p. 730.

Union Traction Co. of Anderson, Ind.—Anderson Street Ry.—Purchase.—New Mortgage.—The formal transfer of the property of the Anderson Street Ry. Co. to the Union Traction Co. took place on July 21. The consideration, it is said, was $150,000 cash and the assumption of the $150,000 six per cent bonds issued by the Street Railway Co. in 1892. The Union Traction Company has made a mortgage for $600,000 to the Farmers' Loan & Trust Co. as trustee, covering the property acquired, and no doubt the property previously owned, which, it is understood, had not theretofore been bonded. It is claimed the Union Traction Co., including the line from Alexandria to Elmwood, has 32 miles of track. Phillip Matter is President.

Wichita Valley RR.—Interest Scaled.—The interest on this company's $769,000 of 5 per cent bonds has been scaled to 3 per cent for five years, and at this rate, the company states, the coupons will be regularly paid. The coupons of Jan. 1 and July 1 were paid at the reduced rate.

Wisconsin Central Co.—Rentals of Lessor Companies.—At Milwaukee, July 23, Judge Seaman instructed the receivers to pay the Central Car Co., the Milwaukee & Lake Winnebago and the Chicago Wisconsin & Minnesota railroads, rentals on the same basis as under the temporary agreement which terminated June 1 of this year. Under this order the two railroads will receive the net earnings each of its own property, after deducting their proportion of all terminal, equipment and other expenses, in place of the amounts provided under the original leases. (V. 64, p. 903.) The Central Car Co. until 1897 was receiving a rental for its equipment figured upon a basis of a valuation of $3,814,255, and the yearly rental was $293,283, or $24,857 monthly. From the date named the receivers were ordered to pay rental on a basis of a valuation of $1,803,696, or something over $14,000 monthly. This latter rental is continued under the present order. As is well known, the importance of the Central Car Co. lies in the fact that its capital stock, or the greater part of it, is the chief asset back of the $3,642,000 of joint improvement bonds.—V. 67, p. 31.

York Southern RR.—Negotiations Still Pending.—As to the item credited by us last week to the "Baltimore Sun," President Walworth writes us as follows: "In reply to your favor asking if there is any truth in the report that the York Southern RR. has been sold to the Pennsylvania people, beg to say that negotiations are pending, but nothing has been consummated. I will advise you when the road goes out of my hands."—V. 67, p. 180.

—A prominent New York bond house is making this week a very interesting offer of first mortgage bonds paying five to six per cent, which rather proves that careful investors who look around can still get over five per cent on their money with safety. The list of bonds and their chief features as stated in the offer are well worth repeating. One issue, the Milwaukee & Lake Winnebago firsts, are a lien on all of the divisions of the Wisconsin Central system, which shows remarkable earning capacity. Another bond, the Houston East & West Texas five per cents are the outcome of a reorganization in which the fixed charges were cut down to within the net earnings of the worst year, while the property was practically rebuilt with new money. Still another issue is the Atlantic & Danville first 5s which were given about five years ago to the original first mortgage bondholders in payment of a twenty-five per cent assessment. The road has for years earned more than double its interest charges. The offerings of receivers' certificates of the New Orleans & Western on a 6 per cent basis is also very interesting, as the property has cost fully five times the amount of the issue. These issues are referred to more in detail on page ix of this issue.

—Dean & Shibley announce that the reports from the various trust companies who were receiving subscriptions for the bonds and preferred stock of the United States Envelope Co. show a large over-subscription for the bonds on the first day and a very heavy subscription for the preferred stock. The common stock had been subscribed in full before the bonds and preferred stock were offered.

—On page vii will be found a list of selected investment bonds offered for sale by Messrs. Spencer Trask & Co. Detailed information regarding each issue can be had on application at their office, 27 and 29 Pine Street, New York.

—The United States Mortgage & Trust Co. closed the subscription list for the $1,000,000 of 4 per cent first mortgage trust gold bonds, Series G, on Thursday. The amount subscribed was nearly $2,000,000.

—Winslow, Lanier & Co. will pay dividends on a number of securities, list of which will be found in another column.

—N. W. Harris & Co. will pay dividends on a number of securities, list of which will be found in another column.

—Farson Leach & Co. will pay dividends on a number of securities, a list of which will be found in another column.

CHICAGO & NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY COMPANY.

ANNUAL REPORT FOR THE THIRTY-NINTH FISCAL YEAR ENDING MAY 31ST, 1898.

The revival of business during the past fiscal year resulted in an increase in the gross receipts of the company of $5,073,317 57. After paying the current expenses and taxes, the fixed charges and usual dividends on Preferred and Common Stock, there was a surplus of $2,235,322 59.

This surplus is accounted for as follows:

Expended for Construction		$821,454 63
Maple River Ill. First Mortgage Bonds due July 1st, 1897, paid and canceled, no new bonds being issued to take their place		402,500 00

Less Balance—Increase in Current Liabilities, etc.	968,392 02
Total surplus		$2,235,322 59

In addition to the construction expenditures made from the surplus, as above stated, the Company also expended for construction, as contemplated by the issuance and sale of the 3½ per cent General Mortgage Gold Bonds, explained elsewhere herein, $2,000,000.

The particulars of this expenditure, together with other expenditures for construction made from surplus earnings, land grant receipts and Wisconsin Northern Railway Bonds, will be found described in detail further on in this report.

In addition to the substantial and permanent improvements covered by the construction expenditure referred to above, there has been disbursed for Maintenance and Improvements, embraced in the charges to Operating Expenses, the following sums, viz.:

		Increase over last year.
Maintenance of Roadway and Track	$3,496,497 07	$470,337 86

The charges to operating expenses for Maintenance of Way, Structure sand Equipment, as shown in the foregoing table, amounted to 40 6-10 per cent of the total operating expenses for the year, being an increase of $2,015,821 70 over the previous year's outlay for similar purposes. These expenditures have greatly improved the physical condition of the property, increased its facilities for doing business and permanently added to the safety and economy of operation.

The principal items of expenditure for these purposes, with some comparisons with the preceding year, may be stated as follows:

MAINTENANCE OF WAY AND STRUCTURES.

RENEWALS AND REPAIRS OF ROADWAY AND TRACK.

Rails Laid in Renewals.	1896-7.	1897-8.	Increase.
New steel rails laid.....	19,222 tons	23,554 tons	4,332 tons

Net charge	$447,225 06	$258,065 44	$189,159 62

(Thus it appears from the foregoing that while there was an increase of 4,332 tons of new steel rails laid over the previous year, there was a decrease in cost in this item of $130,552 03, arising from the reduction in the price of steel rails.)

Among the extraordinary additions and improvements embraced in the foregoing table in connection with Maintenance of Way and Structures, the following may be mentioned apart:

Rebuilding and straightening main line from Honey Creek, Iowa, west for a distance of 1 8-10 miles, $28,254 59.

NOTE.—The line in question crosses the location of the old track at four different points and eliminates 108 degrees of curvature.

New riveted steel lattice truss, double-track drawbridge of heavy modern design, 200 feet in length, operated by electricity, erected over the north branch of the Chicago river at Wells Street terminal, Chicago, replacing a double track steel truss bridge, 170 feet in length, $51,238 20.

Four new single track steel truss spans, aggregating 735 feet in length, erected in the bridge over the Mississippi River at Clinton, Iowa, replacing iron spans, $50,194 25.

New steel draw span, 300 feet in length, erected in bridge over the Mississippi River at Winona, Minn., replacing a wrought iron structure; also the old shore span on the Minnesota side of the river replaced with a new steel deck riveted plate girder, 80 feet in length, $41,451 45.

MAINTENANCE OF EQUIPMENT.

New locomotives were purchased during the year to replace others, as follows:

TOT'L CHARGES ACCOUNT OF MAINTENANCE OF EQUIPMENT	$3,033,187 90	$4,245,532 56	$1,212,344 66

In addition to the new locomotives and cars purchased and built for replacements and charged to Operating Expenses, as shown in the foregoing table, the equipment of the company was increased during the year by the purchase of 500 Gondola cars and 150 Furniture cars, the cost of which, $289,699 49, was charged to Construction.

Twenty-four cars in the passenger service which in last year's report were embraced under head of "First Class Passenger Cars," are this year transferred as follows: Twenty-three to "Combination Cars" and one to "Mail Cars"—this because of their having been converted into cars of these respective classes.

The total equipment of the company on May 31st, 1898, was as follows:

Cars—
In Passenger service	848
" Freight service	35,633
" Company's service (work and other road cars)	80
Total number of cars	36,561

Of the total number of cars in Freight service 24,202, or 67 92-100 per cent, are equipped with air brakes, and 34,763, or 97 56-100 per cent, with automatic couplers.

LOCOMOTIVE SERVICE.

The service performed by locomotives, together with comparisons with the preceding year's results, are shown in detail in the table "Performance of Locomotives" included in the statistics accompanying this report. The results may be summarized as follows:

	1896-7.	1897-8.	Increase.	Percentage.
Total Miles run by locomotives	33,091,522	38,018,039	4,926,517	$14^{89}/_{100}$

To a pound of waste	$177^{24}/_{100}$	$193^{93}/_{100}$	Inc. $16^{69}/_{100}$	$9^{42}/_{100}$

The relatively greater increase over the previous year for cost of service, renewals, repairs and supplies, compared with the increase in the mileage made by locomotives, is largely occasioned by the extraordinary charge this year for new engines for replacements, described in detail elsewhere herein. The increased price of coal was occasioned by the strike of coal miners during the summer of 1897.

CONSTRUCTION.

Brief reference has been made to the disbursements during the year for Construction. The charges amount in all to $3,771,154·12. The expenditures have been made to provide for the growing business of the Company. They may be summarized as follows:

Second Main Track—
On account of the construction of 121·47 miles of second track, viz.:
Beverly to Watkins, Iowa	14·09	$205,179 54
Belle Plaine to Tama, Iowa	16·12	149,313 77

From land grant receipts	289,699 49
From Wisconsin Northern Ry. bonds	660,000 00

TRACK ELEVATION.

The work of elevating the tracks of the Company at street crossings within the city limits of Chicago, as required by certain ordinances, and to which reference was made in the last annual report to the shareholders, has been vigorously prosecuted during the last fiscal year. This work was inaugurated by the Company in May, 1895, and the results accomplished to this date are as follows:

The main line has been elevated on the Milwaukee Division from Wrightwood Avenue to Rose Hill, a distance of 3 75-100 miles, including the construction of 21 subways at street crossings; on the Wisconsin Division from Clybourn Junction to Mayfair, 4 60-100 miles, with 25 subways and 1 footway; on the Galena Division from California Avenue to Forty-second Avenue, 1 85-100 miles, with 7 subways, and the Rockwell Street line, 1 66-100 miles, with 19 subways; or a total of 11 86-100 miles of main line within the city elevated above the street level, and a total of 72 subways and 1 footway, replacing what would otherwise have been grade crossings.

Portions of the elevated lines include three, four and five tracks, with side tracks and tracks to industries, and the whole amount of elevated track now constructed within the city is equivalent to a total of 19 09-100 miles of elevated double-track railway, with 10,655 lineal feet of double-track steel bridging, resting on stone piers and abutments.

A city ordinance has been passed and accepted by the Company, requiring the elevation of the Company's tracks on the Wisconsin Division from Chicago Avenue to Wrightwood Avenue, a distance of 2 70-100 miles. Some preparatory work on this section will be done during the present season with the expectation of completing the elevation of the tracks early in the year 1899.

WISCONSIN NORTHERN RAILWAY.

The Wisconsin Northern Railway, described in the annual report of May 31st, 1896, as a projected line of about 115 miles, in the State of Wisconsin, to be constructed in the interest of the Chicago & North Western Railway Company, by progressive steps, as the convenience of the Company should require, to open up and develop its land grant lands, was completed to the extent of 46 11-100 miles on July 15th, 1897, and opened for traffic.

The cost of the work finished and in progress amounted to $670,363 23, and $660,000 Wisconsin Northern First Mortgage 4% 35-Year Bonds were issued on account of its construction.

In anticipation of the completion and execution of the new "General Gold Bond Mortgage of 1987," this railway was, on September 10th, 1897, purchased and merged by the Chicago & North Western Railway Company, and the Wisconsin Northern bonded debt of $660,000 was assumed and added to the schedule of bonds and obligations of the Chicago & North Western Railway Company, to be provided for in the new "General Gold Bond Mortgage of 1987."

The acquisition of this branch line was the only increase of railroad mileage during the year, and its further extension of 1644-100 miles, of which 14 93-100 miles are already graded, will be made as found desirable and convenient by the Chicago & North Western Railway Company.

MILES OF RAILROAD.

The total miles of railroad in operation at the close of the fiscal year ending May 31st, 1898, were 5,076·89 miles, being an increase of 46·11 miles over the mileage in operation at the close of the previous year. The increase of 46·11 miles is occasioned by the incorporation of the line from Northern Junction, Wis., to Wabeno, Wis., constructed by the Wisconsin Northern Ry. and acquired by this company.

The classification of the mileage on May 31st, 1898, was as follows, viz.:

Chicago & North Western Railway		3,828·40 miles
Proprietary Lines owned.
Winona & St. Peter Railroad	448·48
Dakota Central Railway	723·93
Princeton & Western Railway	16·06
Held by Lease.
St. Paul Eastern Grand Trunk Railway	60·02	"
Total miles in the system	5,076·89	"

Of the foregoing, 4,812·86 miles, equal to 94·80 per cent of the total, are laid with steel rails.

The company also had in operation on May 31st, 1898, in addition to the above, 446·92 miles of second main track, all of which is laid with steel rails, and 1,694·10 miles of sidings and yard tracks, making a total mileage of all tracks at the close of the fiscal year of 7.217·91 miles.

The usual table showing the mileage of road in the various States will be found further on in this report.

The report of the Land Commissioner for the year ending May 31st, 1898, gives the transactions of the land department for the year. From this it appears that the total quantity of land sold amounted to 17,847 42-100 acres and 661 town lots, the consideration received payable in cash and in time instalments being $225,596·47. The acreage sold from the respective grants was as follows:

	Acres.	Consideration.	Average per Acre.
Minnesota Grant	11,615$^{25}_{100}$	$121,478 86	$10 45
Michigan Grant	2,598$^{97}_{100}$	15,435 84	5 95
Wisconsin Grant	2,381$^{24}_{100}$	15,293 89	6 43
Ashland Division Lands	1,252$^{06}_{100}$	2,081 54	1 66
Total acres sold	17,847$^{42}_{100}$	$154,289 63
Town Lots sold, number 661		60,339 65
Miscellaneous Lands		10,967 19
		$225,596 47

The gross receipts from cash sales, deferred payments, interest on deferred payments, trespass and stumpage, were $455,357 22, inclusive of sales of miscellaneous lands. The collections account of land grants and town lot companies are credited to Land Income. The net amount of such receipts for the year was $310,245 19.

The total acres remaining in the several grants May 31st, 1898, amounted to 832,178 79-100, of which 153,979 33-100 acres were under contract for sale, leaving 678,199 46-100 acres unsold

CAPITAL STOCK.

Capital Stock was increased $7,000 during the year; this increase being $3,500 of preferred stock and $3,500 of common stock issued for the conversion of $7,000 of first mortgage 7 per cent bonds of the Peninsula Railroad of Michigan.

FUNDED DEBT.

Changes of importance have taken place during the fiscal year in the Funded Debt of the Company. The amount out standing as shown in the Annual Report of May 31st, 1897, was $131,387,500, including $2,712,500 live bonds in the sinking funds and including also the funded indebtedness of the proprietary lines—the Winona & St. Peter and Dakota Central railways—whose operations and mileage are embraced in the system of the Chicago & North Western Railway Company.

This aggregate indebtedness consisted of forty-one different descriptions of bonds and debenture obligations issued from time to time during the past thirty-three years of the growth, enlargement and extension of the property, and matured and will mature in various amounts at different periods, ranging from July 1st, 1897, to May 1st, 1933.

Measures were set on foot early in the year 1897 to prepare a comprehensive and feasible plan for refunding the indebtedness of the Company at or before maturity, and the plan was fully perfected and put in operation by the creation of the new "General Gold Bond Mortgage of 1987," which took effect on November 1st, 1897.

Prior to the execution of the mortgage, the above-mentioned aggregate indebtedness was changed by the payment of $402,500 Maple River Railroad Co. bonds, which were canceled, and the addition of $660,000 Wisconsin Northern Railway bonds, assumed by the Chicago & North Western Railway Co. (of which $440,000 were sold for sinking fund purposes and $220,000 were held in the Company's treasury), making the aggregate funded indebtedness $131,645,000, to be provided for in the new "General Gold Bond Mortgage of 1987."

"GENERAL MORTGAGE GOLD BONDS OF 1987."

The Board of Directors of the Company by resolutions duly adopted at its meetings held July 8th and October 6th, 1897, and the Stockholders by the concurring vote of more than two-thirds of the capital stock at a special meeting held September 22, 1897, authorized the issue of $165,000,000 bonds, to be called "General Mortgage Gold Bonds of 1987," to be secured by mortgage or deed of trust upon all the lines of the Company's railroad in the States of Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin and Michigan, with the equipment, franchises and appurtenances thereof, and also upon the lines of railroad of the Winona & St. Peter Railroad Company and the Dakota Central Railway Company upon their consolidation with the Chicago & North Western Railway Company.

Of the $165,000,000 bonds authorized, $114,302,000 are reserved and issuable from time to time for the purpose of paying, retiring or refunding at or before maturity the outstanding existing bonds and funded obligations of the Chicago & North Western Railway Company, upon 3,828·40 milss of its completed railroad; and $17,343,000 are also reserved and issuable for the like purpose of retiring the existing bonded indebtedness of its allied proprietary lines, the Winona & St. Peter Railroad Company and the Dakota Central Railway Company, covering 1,172·41 miles of additional railroad, upon the consolidation of the same with the Chicago & North Western Railway Company, making together an aggregate of $131,645,000 of the bonds to be used and applied expressly for these purposes upon 5,000·81 miles of consolidated railroad.

Reserving out of the $165,000,000 the said aggregate of $131,645,000 bonds issuable for such purposes, and there remains a balance of $33,355,000 bonds, which may be issued in manner following: $4,000,000 thereof may be issued in such amounts and at such times as they shall be called for by resolution of the Board of Directors or Executive Committee of the Railway Company requesting their certification and delivery by the Trustee, and the residue of the authorized issue of $165,000,000, amounting to $29,355,000 bonds, may be certified by the Trustee and delivered to the Railway Company from time to time in such amounts, not exceeding $1,000,000 in any one year, as the Railway Company may call for by resolution of its Board or Executive Committee, with the certificate of its President and Chief Engineer, showing that a sum equal to or greater than the amount of bonds called for, has been expended in permanent improvements and additions, including equipment.

The mortgage is dated November 1st, 1897; is executed to the United States Trust Company of New York and John A. Stewart, as Trustees, and provides for the certification of the bonds by the Trust Company; and it also provides that the outstanding existing bonds and obligations shall be paid, retired or refunded at or before maturity, and in no event be extended, so that thereafter the new mortgage may be a first mortgage upon the railroad and franchises and other property specified in the mortgage, including equipment and income.

The bonds are in coupon and registered form, and will mature on November 1st, 1987, and will bear interest at such rate, not exceeding five per cent per annum, as from time to time the Board of Directors may determine and as shall be designated in the bonds when issued. The coupon bonds are $1,000 each, numbered from 1 upwards, dated November 1st, 1897, with interest payable semi-annually on May 1st and November 1st, and may be registered as to the principal; and the registered bonds, without coupons, are in denominations of $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000, numbered, respectively, from 1 upwards, and are dated as of the day of their issue, with interest payable quarterly, on February 1st, May 1st, August 1st and November 1st. The coupon bonds may be converted into registered bonds, and registered bonds upon transfer on the books of the Company and surrender may be exchanged for other registered bonds of like amount and rate of interest to be issued therefor.

Both principal and interest of the bonds are payable in gold coin of the United States of the present standard of weight and fineness, without deduction for any tax which the Railway Company may be required to pay or retain therefrom under any laws of the United States, or of any State, County or Municipality therein.

The rate of interest on the first $20,000,000 of the bonds issued and to be issued is 3½ per cent per annum, and this amount was sold by the Company under contract, on July 9th, 1897, for future delivery for the purpose of paying, retiring or refunding various descriptions of its outstanding bonds maturing during the next five years, approximating in amount $18,000,000; and the balance of the sale is for or on account of the betterment or increase of the Company's property by construction of second main tracks, addition to equipment and other permanent works and improvements.

In this sale privilege was given the purchasers to refund any of the following "existing bonds," in anticipation of their maturity, which fall due within that period, to wit:

Chic. & Milw. Ry. 1st mort. 7 p. c. bonds, due July 1, 1898.	$1,700,000
Peninsula RR. of Michigan 7% bonds, due Sept. 1, 1898...	68,000
Iowa Midland 1st mortgage 8% bonds, due Oct. 1, 1900....	1,350,000
Escanaba & Lake Sup. 1st mort. 6% b'ds, due July 1, 1901	720,000
C. & N. W. Iowa Div. 1st mort., 4½% bonds, due Apr. 1, 1902	1,411,000
C. & N. W. Gen. Consol. Gold 7% bonds, due Dec. 1, 1902..	12,336,000

The saving of interest to the Company when the payment, retirement or refunding of the above $17,585,000 "existing bonds" shall have been accomplished by the issue and substitution of the new 3½ per cent bonds will amount to $586,500 annually, and proportionately from year to year as parts of the same are refunded.

During the year $4,960,000 of the new 3½ per cent bonds were issued and delivered on account of the $20,000,000 bonds sold; $2,000,000 of the issue were a part of $4,000,000 specially reserved in the mortgage to be called for by resolution of the board of directors, the proceeds whereof to be expended for the betterment or increase of the company's properties, and $2,960,000 were issued against a corresponding amount of old bonds as shown in the subjoined table, taken up, retired and deposited with the Trustee and by it stamped "Not Negotiable. Held in trust for the purposes declared in the mortgage" and as additional security therefor, until the old issues of which they are a part shall be fully retired and canceled as the mortgage provides. Thus the aggregate of bonds funded to May 31st, 1898, and the aggregate of 3½ per cent bonds issued therefor are equal in amount, to-wit: $2,960,000.

The changes in funded debt during the year may be summarized as follows, viz.:

BONDS RETIRED.
Maple River RR. 1st Mortgage bonds		$402,500 00
Bonds Surrendered in Exchange for C. & N. W. Ry. 3½ per cent General Mortgage Gold Bonds of 1987.
Chicago & Milwaukee Ry. 1st Mort.....	$59,000 00
Iowa Midland Ry. 1st Mortgage.....	222,000 00
Escanaba & Lake Superior Ry. 1st Mort.	265,000 00
C. & N. W. Ry. 1st Mort. (Iowa Div.)....	550,000 00
C. & N. W. Ry. Gen. Consolidated Gold..	1,544,000 00
C. & N. W. Ry. 25 yrs. Debentures of 1909	100,000 00
Wisconsin Northern Ry. 1st Mortgage..	220,000 00
		2,960,000 00
BONDS ISSUED AND ASSUMED.
Chicago & North Western Railway 3½ per cent General Mortgage Gold Bonds of 1987 issued as follows:
In lieu of sundry bonds surrendered and retired as shown above	$2,900,000 00
For Construction purposes as described elsewhere	2,000,000 00
		$4,900,000 00
Wisconsin Northern Ry. First Mortgage Bonds (issued for construction of that road) assumed by the C. & N. W. Ry. Co. in the purchase of the property		660,000 00
Total Bonds issued and assumed		$5,620,000 00
Net increase in Funded Debt		$2,257,500 00
Total Funded Debt May 31st, 1897		131,387,500 00
Total Funded Debt May 31st, 1898		$133,645,000 00
The aggregate of "existing bonds" and obligations shown in the schedules of indebtedness of the new General Gold Bond Mortgage of 1987, at the date of its execution on Nov. 1st, 1897, was		$131,645,000 00
The amount of new 3½ per cent Gold Bonds of 1987, issued out of the $4,000,000 bonds specially reserved in the mortgage, to be issued as called for by the Board of Directors, is		2,000,000 00
Total Funded Debt May 31st, 1898		$133,645,000 00
Of this amount the Company holds in its treasury		233,000 00
Leaving outstanding, incl. $3,152,500 in sinking fund.		$133,412,000 00

Of the $233,000 of bonds held in the treasury, $136,000 are bonds drawn on account of sinking fund and bonds surrendered for conversion, and are on hand fundable for new 3½ per cent General Mortgage Gold Bonds; the balance, $97,000, is purchased bonds.

Among the assets of the Company in their last year's annual report were the entire issue of $8,000,000 of Milwaukee Lake Shore & Western Ry. Co. 5 per cent General Mortgage bonds, $200,000 M. L. S. & W. Marshfield Extension bonds and $207,000 M. L. S. & W. Extension and Improvement bonds, together making $8,407,000 bonds, all of which were acquired in the purchase of the property and assets of that Company's railroad in 1893.

These bonds, however, were not included in the Funded Debt of the Company, and upon the creation of the "General Gold Bond Mortgage of 1987" were omitted from the schedule of "existing bonds," to be provided for, and were disposed of as follows: The $8,000,000 of M. L. S. & W. General Mortgage bonds and the $200,000 Marshfield Extension bonds were canceled and eliminated from the accounts and assets, and the $207,000 of M. L. S. & W. Extension and Improvement bonds were paid over to the Trustee of the same issue of bonds, as advance payments to the annual sinking fund thereof, and were also canceled.

Appended hereto [in pamphlet report] will be found the usual statements, accounts and statistics relating to the business of the year and the condition of the Company's affairs on May 31st, 1898, including those of the Fremont Elkhorn & Missouri Valley Railroad Company.

—The North American Trust Co. announces that as the United States military authority is now established at Santigo de Cuba, insuring local peace with full security of person and property, it has made arrangements to establish a branch there, and is prepared to buy and sell drafts on Santiago, and to make payments on that city, under instructions from its customers. The company is also prepared to receive the deposits of the soldiers and sailors now in Cuba, and under their directions to make remittances to their families in the United States. The company has already established relations at Manila, Philippine Islands, with the Chartered Bank of India, Australia and China, sufficient for the present needs of our manufacturers, merchants, travelers, soldiers and sailors. The North American Trust Co., in a circular to the public, says: "With the conclusion of a treaty of peace between the United States and Spain, it is generally expected that new fields for investment will be opened in all lines of trade and manufacturing, as well as in city properties, winter homes, electric plants, railroads, industrials, sugar and tobacco plantations. Many investments of this character will be presented to the public and it will require the close discrimination of experts in each particular line to decide whether or not they are meritorious and desirable investments. The North American Trust Co. is prepared to investigate and report in an advisory capacity in behalf of its customers and to further facilitate their business in Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines, by holding in trust properties, contracts, mortgages and bonds, either pending the closing of negotiations or for a more extended or definite period." The company's bankers in London are Roberts, Lubbock & Co., and the City Bank, Limited. It has also an office of its own in that city, No. 95 Gresham Street, and house correspondents in all the capitals and principal commercial centers and seaports of the world.

—Reports of the condition at the close of business July 14 of the following national banks will be found in our advertising columns: Chase, Continental, City, Mercantile, American Exchange, Gallatin, Second, Market & Fulton, of New York; Fourth Street, of Philadelphia, and Commercial, of Chicago; also the quarterly report of condition on July 23 of the Bank of America. The report of the Chemical National Bank will be found on the last page of the Quotation Supplement for August, to be published next week.

—The semi-annual statement of the Union Discount Co. of London is published at length in our advertising columns. The gross profits for the first six months of 1898 with the balance brought forward from the last half-year were $695,772. The paid-up capital is £650,000, equivalent to $3,185,000. The Union Discount Co. has a standing card on our third advertising page in which is kept revised by cable the rates allowed for money on deposit.

The Commercial Times.

Friday Night, July 29, 1898.

Existing business conditions have undergone few changes of a radical nature. The volume of merchandise passing from the producer to the consumed seems to be up to an average for the season of the year and values in the main have held to a steady basis, the principal exception being in the wheat market, where the increased pressure of supplies resulting from the free marketing of the crop has depressed values. The possibilities of peace have been the principal topic of the week, and the outcome of the action of Spain in asking President McKinley for terms of peace is being anxiously awaited. In the meantime the taking of Porto Rico is the objective point of the American forces in the Atlantic.

Lard on the spot has had only a limited sale, and as there have been moderately free offerings, there has been a decline in prices, although at the close the tone was steadier and prices showed a partial recovery from bottom values, closing at 5 65c. for prime Western and 5c. for prime City. Refined lard has been in limited demand and lower, closing at 5·90c. for the Continent. Speculation in lard for future delivery has been moderately active, but it has been at lower prices under fairly free offerings, prompted by a large movement of swine.

The demand for pork has continued quiet and prices have declined to $9 75@$10 for mess, $11 50@12 for family and $11 50@$13 50 for short clear. Cut meats have had only a limited sale, but values have held steady at 4c.@4¼c. for pickled shoulders, 7¼c.@7¾c. for pickled hams and 6¼c.@6¾c. for pickled bellies, 10@12 lbs. average. Beef has been quiet but steady at $9@$10 for packet, $10@$11 for family and $15 50@$16 for extra India mess. Tallow dull and prices quoted have been largely nominal at 3⅜c. Oleostearine has been quiet but steady at 4¾@5c. for City. Lard stearine has been dull and easier at 6½c. Cotton seed oil has sold slowly, but prices have held steady at 23¾@24c. for prime yellow. Butter has been firmer for desirable grades, closing at 14@18c. for creamery. Cheese has been firm for choice stock and prices have advanced to 6@8¼c. for State factory, full cream. Fresh eggs have held firm for choice, closing at 14c. for choice Western.

Brazil grades of coffee have continued to have a moderate call from the consuming trade, and there has been a fairly large business transacted in invoices on a cost and freight basis. The spot market has been steadier and the close was quoted at 6@6¼c. for Rio No. 7; speculation in the market for contracts has been more active, but the changes in prices have been of an unimportant nature, closing steady, following are the final asking prices.

Raw sugars have had only a small sale as refiners have been indifferent buyers; offerings, however, have been limited, and prices have held steady at 4⅛c. for centrifugals, 96-deg. test, and 3½c. for muscovado, 89-deg. test. Refined sugar has been quiet and unchanged at 5⅝c. for granulated. Spices have been fairly active and firmer. Teas have been quiet.

Kentucky tobacco has been firm but quiet; offerings of desirable grades have been small. Seed leaf tobacco has been in fairly active demand and steady. Sales for the week were 2,760 cases, as follows: 1,000 cases 1897 crop, Wisconsin Havana, 5 to 10c.; 100 cases 1893 crop, Wisconsin Havana, 10 to 11c.; 520 cases 1897 crop, Pennsylvania seed leaf, 10c.; 150 cases 1894-5 crops, Pennsylvania seed leaf, 13 to 13½c; 250 cases 1897 crop, Dutch, p. t.; 250 cases 1896 crop, New England Havana, 16 to 40c.; 150 cases 1896 crop, New England seed leaf, 25 to 40c.; 50 cases 1895 crop, Zimmers, 18c., and 200 cases 1897 crop, New England Havana, 7½ to 10c.; also 850 bales Havana at 65c. to $1 05 in bond and 240 bales Sumatra at 75c. to $1 75 in bond.

Straits tin has had a fairly good sale and as foreign advices have been stronger the market closed with a firm tone, with prices at 15 70c.@15·75c. Ingot copper has been in fairly active demand from exporters, but the home trade has been a small buyer, closing at 11½c. for Lake. Lead has been quiet but prices have held about steady at 3·95c. for domestic. Spelter has been quiet at 4·50 for domestic. Pig iron has been quiet and without changes at $9 75@$11 50 for domestic.

Refined petroleum has been higher, closing at 6·40c. in bbls., 3·00c. in bulk and 7·05c. in cases; naphtha unchanged at 6c. Crude certificates have been firmer, closing at 95c.; credit balances have advanced to 90c. Spirits turpentine has sold slowly and prices have weakened slightly to 27@27½c. Rosins have been dull and unchanged at $1 35@1 37½ for common and good strained. Wool has been quiet and without changes. Hops have been quiet but steady.

Speculation in cotton for future delivery has been moderately active, but the course of prices has been somewhat irregular. Early in the week the tendency was downward under continued selling by tired longs to liquidate accounts. Subsequently, however, reports of too much rain in sections of the cotton belt east of the Mississippi and talk that the crop was in need of cultivation served to stimulate a demand from shorts to cover contracts and there was also some buying by outsiders for investment account, induced by the low prices ruling. The demand for actual cotton has been quiet, as exporters have been only limited buyers and the sales to spinners have been small. Saturday the market was quiet but prices advanced about two points on buying by a few shorts to cover contracts. Monday prices declined 3 to 6 points under selling by longs, particularly of August contracts, prompted by favorable crop prospects. Tuesday there was an easier market during early 'Change under continued selling by longs and good crop accounts. At the close, however, buying by local shorts to cover contracts advanced prices and the close was 1 to 3 points higher for the day. Wednesday speculation was moderately active and prices gradually advanced throughout the day. Foreign advices came unexpectedly stronger, the result of the negotiations for peace and less favorable crop accounts from the South, which also started buying by local shorts to cover contracts, and induced limited buying by outsiders, closing 8 to 10 points higher for the day. Thursday prices scored an additional advance of 6 to 7 points, on continued buying by local shorts to cover contracts, and a limited investment demand for outside account, based on the reports received the past few days of excessive rainfall and the crop needing cultivation in some sections east of the Mississippi. To-day the market was moderately active, but it was at lower prices, due to general selling prompted by disappointing foreign advices and more favorable crop prospects, closing 7 to 8 points lower for the day. Cotton on the spot has been steady at unchanged prices, closing at 6 1-16c. for middling uplands.

On the basis of the rates on and off middling as established by the Revision Committee, the prices for a few of the grades would be as follows:

WEATHER REPORTS BY TELEGRAPH.—Telegraphic advices to us this evening from the South are in the main of a favorable character. Rain has been quite general, but in some dirtricts of Texas and Arkansas moisture is claimed to be needed, while from portions of Tennessee and Alabama there are complaints of too much rain. Our reports indicate, however, that the crop is in good condition as a rule and there are but few reports of rust, shedding, &c.

Galveston, Texas.—The weather has been favorable for field work and cleaning of crops has advanced finely. Rain would be of benefit. We have had showers on three days the past week, the rainfall reaching fifty-five hundredths of an inch, but more rain is badly needed. The thermometer has averaged 84, the highest being 91 and the lowest 76.

Palestine, Texas.—It has rained on four days of the week, the precipitation being one inch and thirty-four hundredths. Beneficial to cotton. The thermometer has averaged 86, ranging from 72 to 100.

Huntsville, Texas.—Beneficial rain has fallen on two days of the week, to the extent of seventy-six hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has ranged from 74 to 99, averaging 87.

San Antonio, Texas.—The week's rainfall has been one inch and twenty hundredths, on two days. Minimum temperature, 74.

Luling, Texas.—It has rained on three days of the week, the precipitation reaching forty-five hundredths of an inch; more rain is much needed. The thermometer has averaged 88, ranging from 74 to 102.

Columbia, Texas.—There has been rain on one day during the week, to the extent of fifteen hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has ranged from 72 to 101, averaging 87.

Cuero, Texas.—There has been beneficial rain on three days of the week, the precipitation reaching ninety-seven hundredths of an inch. Average thermometer 87, highest 100 and lowest 74.

Brenham, Texas.—Rain has fallen on four days of the week, the rainfall being one inch and twelve hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 89, the highest being 104 and the lowest 73.

Dallas, Texas.—The week's rainfall has been seventy-seven hundredths of an inch, on two days. The thermometer has averaged 87, ranging from 73 to 101.

Corpus Christi, Texas.—The crop is beginning to need rain. Rain has fallen lightly on one day of the past week, to the extent of six hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has ranged from 73 to 97, averaging 85.

Weatherford, Texas.—There has been no rain during the week. Average thermometer 87, highest 103 and lowest 71.

New Orleans, Louisiana.—There has been rain on three days of the week, the precipitation reaching twenty-six hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 83.

Shreveport, Louisiana.—It has rained on three days of the week, the rainfall reaching fifty hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 85, ranging from 73 to 93.

Columbus, Mississippi.—There has been rain on five days during the week, to the extent of three inches and fifteen hundredths. The thermometer has ranged from 76 to 100, averaging 88.

Leland, Mississippi.—Rain has fallen during the week, to the extent of thirty-three hundredths of an inch. Average thermometer 79, highest 92, lowest 69.

Little Rock, Arkansas.—We have had rain on two days during the week, the precipitation reaching eighty-two hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 82, ranging from 69 to 94.

Helena, Arkansas.—Beneficial rains have fallen in this vicinity and crops are in good condition. Locally there has been light rain on four days of the week, the rainfall being forty-three hundredths of an inch. Rain, however, is needed at some points. The thermometer has ranged from 69 to 88, averaging 78.

Nashville, Tennessee.—The week's rainfall has been two and one-half inches. The thermometer has averaged 81, the highest being 92 and the lowest 70.

Memphis, Tennessee.—We have had rain on four days during the week, to the extent of one inch and ninety hundredths, and it is raining now. We have had more moisture than needed, but generally crops are in good condition. Average thermometer 80·8, highest 92 and lowest 69·2.

Mobile, Alabama.—Crop reports are less favorable. Complaints are made of too much rain, succulent growth and rust. Rain has fallen on four days of the week, the rainfall being one inch and fourteen hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 83, ranging from 75 to 96.

Montgomery, Alabama.—The crop is in splendid condition. Rain has fallen on four days of the week, the rainfall being twenty-seven hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has ranged from 72 to 94, averaging 82.

Selma, Alabama.—Crop conditions continue good, but a little more sunshine would be beneficial. There has been rain on six days during the week, the rainfall reaching one inch and twenty-five hundredths. Average thermometer 85, highest 93 and lowest 71.

Madison, Florida.—There has been rain on three days of the week, the rainfall reaching one inch and seventy-five hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 85, the highest being 96 and the lowest 76.

Leesburg, Georgia.—Cotton is shedding. Rain has fallen during the week, the rainfall reaching one inch and fifty hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 80 and has ranged from 70 to 90.

Augusta, Georgia.—We have had rain on five days of the week, to the extent of one inch and forty-one hundredths. The thermometer has ranged from 72 to 94, averaging 83.

Savannah, Georgia.—We have had rain on five days of the week, the precipitation being thirty-six hundredths of an inch. Average thermometer 82, highest 94 and lowest 74.

Charleston, South Carolina.—Rain has fallen on seven days of the week to the extent of three inches and seventy-five hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 81, the highest being 89 and the lowest 74.

Stateburg, South Carolina.—Crops are progressing finely. Rain has fallen on five days of the week, the rainfall reaching two inches and thirteen hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 81, ranging from 70 to 94.

Wilson, North Carolina.—We have had rain on two days of the week, the precipitation being one inch and eight hundredths. Average thermometer 84, highest 90, lowest 76.

A considerable portion of the Sea Island cotton shipped to foreign ports goes via New York, and some small amounts via Boston and Baltimore. Instead of including this cotton for the week in which it leaves the Southern outports, we follow the same plan as in our regular table of including it when actually exported from New York, &c. The details of the shipments of Sea Island cotton for the week will be found under the head "Shipping News," on a subsequent page.

New England Cotton Mill Situation.—The Farnumsville (Mass.) cotton mills have shut down, owing to the low prices for print cloths. The Cocheco Mnfg. Co., Dover, N. H., have suspended operations for the current week. The Namquit cotton mills at Bristol, R. I., will remain idle during the month of August. It is currently reported that with but two exceptions all the mills at Fall River have signed the agreement to curtail production for four weeks or longer.

Louisiana's First Bale.—The first arrival (two bales) of new cotton raised in Louisiana was received at New Orleans on Monday, July 25, from Hard Times Landing, Tensas Parish. They classed good middling, weighed 435 and 374 pounds, respectively, and sold by auction at 8c. per pound. Last year the earliest was on July 31, in 1896 on July 23 and in 1895 on August 12.

New Georgia Cotton.—The first bale of new cotton raised in Georgia was received at Savannah to day, Friday, July 29, from Albany, Ga. Last year the first Georgia bale reached Savannah on August 2, in 1896 on July 28, in 1895 on August 12, in 1894 on August 11 and in 1893 on July 29.

Egyptian Crop.—Mr. Fr. Jac. Andres, of Boston, has furnished us the report of the Alexandria General Produce Association for the month of June as follows:

The weather has on the whole been very hot during June—the hottest for some years past. The young cotton plants have therefore largely benefited by it; they are strong and look splendid, having as a rule regained, except in some parts of the Charkieh and Gallioubieh, the backwardness referred to in past resumes. Here and there eggs and small caterpillers have been observed, but the great heat quickly destroyed them and no damage has been done. Notwithstanding the low state of the Nile, the rotation system has been strictly carried out, and the water, therefore, with but few exceptions, has been just sufficient. The question is, will it be so in July? There is necessarily some anxiety on the subject, July being the most difficult month for irrigation; and the rise of the Nile so far is rather late. The crop information from Upper Egypt and Fayoum is good—there is not the same anxiety about water.

Government Weekly Cotton Report.—Mr. W. L. Moore, Chief of the Weather Bureau of the Agricultural Department, made public on Tuesday the following telegraphic reports on the crop in the Southern States for the week ending July 25:

Virginia.—Warm, showery weather has occasioned excellent crop growth, but interfered somewhat with out door work; cotton grassy.

North Carolina.—Moderate rains, sufficient sunshine and high temperature, very favorable; all crops making vigorous growth but many very grassy; cotton improving, though fruiting slowly, being laid by.

South Carolina.—High temperature with numerous showers kept crops growing rapidly; cotton looks promising generally, some rust and shedding, many grassy fields cleaned during the week.

Georgia.—Cotton growing and fruiting fast, but rust is spreading and black rot is reported in several counties; cotton being laid by.

Florida.—Warm, with frequent showers and heavy rains over western and portions of northern district, rain needed in sections of central and southern counties; as a rule, week favorable for crop growth, though cotton has been damaged by rust and is shedding fruit.

Alabama.—Considerable decrease in rainfall was favorable to crops, nearly all of which are laid by; cotton shedding and rusting some, but is generally in splendid condition, fruiting heavily and beginning to open.

Mississippi.—Too much rain for cotton, which is grassy and is shedding, some abandoned in places on lowlands; many reports, however, show favorable conditions for cultivation.

Louisiana.—Too much rain in localities of southern parishes; cotton growing and fruiting well where least rainfall, but growing too fast to fruit well where rains were generous; fewer complaints of rust in cotton, but some shedding on this lands.

Texas.—Week of generally dry weather and high temperature, unfavorable for most crops; cotton in good state of cultivation, laying by progressing and crop generally promising, but Mexican boll weevil spreading, rust and shedding reported, crop needing rain in localities, fruiting fairly well, picking commenced in south portion, but not general.

Arkansas.—Weather too dry and hot, except in northern portion, where showers revived crops; cotton prospects still good, though some shedding and turning yellow on uplands.

Tennessee.—Warm, with generally light and unevenly distributed rainfall; cotton in average condition but not fruiting well.

Oklahoma.—Cotton everywhere bolling and growing fast.

Missouri.—Cotton doing well.

These reports on cotton are summarized by the Department as follows:

Reports of rust and shedding, though probably somewhat less numerous than in the previous week, continue from the central and Eastern portions of the cotton belt, where excessive rains in some sections have caused too rapid growth of stalk. The crop is in need of cultivation in portions of South Carolina, Mississippi and Louisiana, some fields on lowlands of Mississippi having been abandoned. In Texas the crop is generally promising, but boll weevil are increasing, and it needs rain in localities. Picking has commenced in Southern Texas, and cotton is beginning to open in Southern Alabama.

Memphis District First Open Boll.—The first open cotton boll of the season 1898-99 was received by the Memphis Cotton Exchange July 26 from C. W. Hussey, Crews, Tunica County, Miss. This is two days earlier than last year and four days earlier than in an average year.

Jute Butts, Bagging, &c.—Bagging has been in fairly good demand during the week under review, at revised quotations, viz.: 6c. for 1¾ lbs. and 6¼c. for 2 lbs of standard grade. The market for jute butts has been dull. Quotations are nominally 5¾c. for paper quality and 1½c. for mixing.

Shipping News.—As shown on a previous page, the exports of cotton from the United States the past week have reached 24,852 bales. The shipments in detail, as made up from mail and telegraphic returns, are as follows:

BREADSTUFFS.

FRIDAY, July 29, 1898.

Reflecting a decline in the prices for the grain there has been an easier market for wheat flour. Although the offerings of new crop winter-wheat flour have been by no means large, they have been increasing steadily latterly, and as there has been nothing in the situation other than a lower range of values to induce buyers to take hold, the volume of business transacted has been of only very moderate proportions, the purchases made having been, as a rule, confined to small lots to meet actual requirements. The export business has also been quiet. Rye flour has had only a small sale, and prices have ruled in favor of buyers. Corn meal has been in moderate demand and has brought steady prices.

Speculation in wheat for future delivery has been fairly active, but it has been at steadily declining prices, due to general selling, prompted by a free movement of the winter-wheat crop, dull and easier foreign advices, and favorable prospects for the growing spring-wheat crop. There has been considerable pressure to sell in the cash markets under the free arrivals of new crop wheat, and prices have declined. At the lower prices exporters have been free buyers, particularly at outports. Saturday the market was quiet, but prices made fractional advances on some buying by shorts to cover contracts. Monday prices declined 3 1/4c. for July and 1/4@3/4c. for other months. There was moderate selling by longs to liquidate accounts, and a free movement of the crop prompted considerable selling for short account. Weaker foreign advices also had their influence against values. Tuesday prices declined 4c. for July and 1 1/8@1 5/8c. for other months, under general selling induced by the increasing pressure of actual supplies upon the market due to a free movement of the new crop, the receipts running considerably in excess of last year's. Wednesday the market was again weaker, prices declining 7/8@1 1/8c. in response to weaker foreign advices, the markets abroad breaking badly under the free offerings from America of new wheat. There was also some selling for foreign account. Thursday prices advanced 1/2@5/8c. for the distant deliveries as there was some buying by shorts to cover contracts based on less favorable weather in the United Kingdom and France for harvesting. To-day the market was weaker, prices for the distant deliveries showing a decline of 1 1/8c. under general selling, prompted by weaker foreign advices and a continued free movement of the crop. The spot market was fairly active; the sales for export here and at outports were 368,000 bushels.

There has been a fair amount of activity to the speculative dealings in the market for Indian corn futures. The course of prices has been irregular. Early in the week the tendency was upward, as bull traders were fairly active in their operations and there was a demand from shorts to cover contracts stimulated by the reports that the growing crop was suffering from lack of moisture. Tuesday and Wednesday under reports of some rainfall through the corn belt, prices weakened, as there was some pressure to sell by longs to realize profit. Thursday the market again turned stronger, prices advancing 3/4c.@7/8c. on general buying, based on crop-damage talk. To-day prices broke badly under reports of rains in the corn belt, closing 1 1/8c.@1 1/4c. lower for the day. The spot market was active, the sales for export here and at outports being 400,000 bushels.

Oats for future delivery have been quiet. Early in the week the tendency of prices was upward in sympathy with the advance in corn and a disappointing movement of the crop. A reaction followed in sympathy with the weakness of other grains, but on Thursday prices advanced slightly, the continued limited movement of the new crop being the strengthening feature. Business on the spot market has been only moderately active. To-day there was an easier market, prices declining 1/4c. in sympathy with the weakness in other grains.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, P. M., July 29, 1898.

The general market conditions during the past week have not undergone any change of importance. Conservatism on the part of buyers has again prevented a material expansion of demand, but the pressure of absolute requirements has been sufficient to secure fully as good results as the previous week showed. Business in this market, however, can hardly be taken just now as a fair indication of future prospects. It has several times been stated in these reports that the outlook for fall trade was unusually good, and there is no reason to modify this view. Visiting buyers are, without exception, expressing the utmost confidence in a large fall trade, and reports from all parts of the country made this week to our contemporary the "Journal of Commerce and Commercial Bulletin" are singularly unanimous in their hopeful tenor. It seems quite reasonable, therefore, to regard the prevailing quietude here as of temporary character, as even without the development of any spirit of speculation buying must shortly expand to a material extent. Sellers so regard the situation, and to this can be attributed a steady undertone in nearly all directions and the absence of any material break in prices.

WOOLEN GOODS.—There has been a quiet market for woolen and worsted goods during the past week. Buyers have had few new openings to attract them, the additional lines shown being confined to unimportant makes of low quality. There has been no material change in the serge situation. Clay worsteds have been to a considerable extent neglected. Reorders for heavy-weight trouserings and suitings of moderate extent at previous prices. A large auction sale of overcoatings and cloakings has been announced for next week and the regular demand is checked thereby to some extent. Satinets are quiet and doeskin jeans dull. In fall dress goods a moderate business has been done, but the situation in these is still unsatisfactory. Flannels and blankets generally firm, with light supplies offsetting a quiet demand.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton goods from this port for the week ending July 25 were 15,401 packages, valued at $947,066, their destination being to the points specified in the tables below:

* From New England mill points direct.

The value of the New York exports for the year to date has been $7,082,963 in 1898 against $6,722,985 in 1897.

With the leading mills still in good condition, heavy brown sheetings and drills, in face of a quiet business, show no loss of strength, prices being well maintained. In the lighter weights sellers are easier to deal with and quotations occasionally 1-16c. lower. Ducks strong with limited supplies. Brown osnaburgs slow and easy. Bleached cottons dull and prices unchanged. Wide sheetings inactive. Cotton flannels and blankets scarce and firm. Denims dull but steady. Ticks irregular. Other coarse, colored cottons in indifferent request at previous prices. Kid-finished cambrics inactive and easy. Dark fancy calicoes in moderate reorder demand at steady prices. Indigo blues are quiet and other staple lines without special feature. Ginghams steady throughout, with moderate sales. Print cloths have sold more freely, sellers accepting bids previously declined, such as 2c. for September deliveries of regulars. Prospects of short-time at Fall River are favorable.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—A dull market in the foreign goods departments has been reported this week. Buyers maintain their indifferent attitude towards supplies for fall in all lines but sellers, looking for later developments, make no material change in prices.

Gadsden, Ala.—Bond Litigation.—According to the Montgomery "Advertiser," W. J. Brockway, Receiver of the Gadsden Water-Works Company, has filed a bill in the United States Court in Birmingham seeking to restrain the city of Gadsden from issuing $60,000 bonds with which to erect a water plant. A month or so ago the city of Gadsden, claiming that the water company was not fulfilling a contract it then had with the city, declared the contract void, and ordered the company to remove its mains within a year. At the same time the City Council passed a resolution authorizing the issuance of $60,000 of bonds with which to build its own plant. The company claims a contract with the city and alleges that the city, in the light of this contract, has no right to construct another water plant. The fight, it is stated, has been on for a year and more, and bids fair to be a very interesting one.

Highland Park, Mich.—Village Officials Ordered to Sign Bonds.—We take the following from the Detroit "Journal" of July 19, 1898: "The President and Clerk of the village of Highland Park will have to sign the $60,000 of bonds voted by the electors for money with which to construct sewers, the Supreme Court having affirmed the judgment of the Lower Court requiring the issue to be made. The bonds were voted under Act No. 352 of the Local Acts of 1893, and one of the two questions raised by those opposed to the bonding was that such Act was repealed by the General Village Act of 1895. The Court finds that there is nothing incompatible between the two Acts, and nothing in the latter to indicate an intention to repeal the former. The other question raised was whether requisite notice of the election to vote the bonds was given the electors. The Council gave the notice required by the general election law, and the courts hold that was sufficient. The bonds will therefore be issued at once, and a much discussed matter be disposed of."

See CHRONICLE April 30, 1898, and May 21, 1898.

Lake County, Col.—Bond Litigation.—The Denver "Republican" on July 21, 1898, contained the following: "Lake County is the defendant in a suit on trial in the Federal Court. H. Dudley, an Eastern man, is seeking to obtain interest on bonds issued by the county during 1882. The bonds were issued for the purpose of building the county court house. Dudley bought some of them on speculation, but when he sought to collect the interest the county repudiated the bonds on the ground that they were issued in excess of the amount allowed by the Constitution."

On July 21, 1898, Henry Dudley of Concord, N. H., obtained judgment for $39,133 33 for bonds and interest to date.

Newark, N. J.—Bonds Refused by Sinking Fund Commissioners.—The Sinking Fund Commissioners have refused to take the issue of $100,000 school bonds on account of their doubtful constitutionality, according to the Newark "Advertiser." We quote the following from the "Advertiser:"

"The refusal of the Sinking Fund Commissioners to purchase the $100,000 of bonds authorized by the Common Council to be issued for public school construction purposes, under an Act of the last Legislature authorizing a total issue of $300,000 for that object, has been caused by the decision of a branch of the Supreme Court of this State, consisting of Justices Dixon and Collins, upon the question of the constitutionality of an Act authorizing the city of Trenton to issue bonds for the construction of a High School.

"This decision is so sweeping in its character as to affect similar Acts under which Jersey City and Newark are issuing bonds for public school construction purposes."

New York City.—Litigation Relative to Outlying Bonds.—On July 26, 1898, argument was heard before Judge Bookstaver, in the Supreme Court, on an application of several persons for a writ of mandamus requiring Comptroller Coler to pay the interest on bonds issued last year in the towns of Westfield, Northfield and Southfield, S. I., the villages of Whitestone and Rockaway Beach and the town of Jamaica, in Queens County. The bonds were issued by the towns and villages named in 1897, prior to annexation to New York City, and bear 4% interest. Some of the interest has been due since January, the Comptroller withholding payment pending investigation into the legality of the issues. Judge Bookstaver has reserved his decision.

Philadelphia, Pa.—The City's Reply in the Litigation Over New Loan.—On July 28, 1898, the city filed its reply in the equity proceedings recently brought in the Common Pleas Court No. 4 by Robert J. Barr and Howard Yocum to enjoin the issuance of the $11,230,000 bonds recently authorized by the City Councils. The city denies that the ordinance calling for the election last fall expressed the desire of the corporate authorities to increase the indebtedness of the city for 17 distinct purposes and in 17 distinct amounts, but claims that the ordinance provided for the increase of indebtedness to the amount of $12,200,000 as one distinct item. The city officials also aver that by the election held November 2, 1897, the city of Philadelphia, as a corporation, was authorized to increase the indebtedness of the said city in the sum of $12,200,000, and that the power so given by the electors was not to any particular officers as individuals, but to the corporation itself, to be exercised by the proper corporate and municipal authorities through the legislative branch, whenever in their judgment it became advisable to increase the indebtedness of the city. It was claimed also that the election was held in strict compliance with the law. See CHRONICLE July 16, 1898.

Bond Proposals and Negotiations this week have been as follows:

Alliance, Ohio.—Bond Sale.—The city sold at public auction on July 18, 1898, to the City Savings Bank of Alliance, $9,600 5% East Broadway street-improvement bonds at 102 875. Interest will be payable semi-annually, and the principal will mature $1,800 yearly to 1902, and $2,400 in 1903. Bonds are dated August 1, 1898.

Anoka County School District No. 64, Forest Lake, Minn.—Bonds Authorized.—The issuance of $500 bonds has been authorized by this district. S. S. Jepson is the Clerk.

Arkansas City, Kan.—Bond Election.—An election will be held August 12, 1898, to vote on the question of issuing $95,000 bonds for the purchase of the plant of the Arkansas City Water Co.

Averyville, Ill.—Bond Sale.—The village has sold $3,000 6% 10-year bonds to the Merchants' National Bank of Peoria at par.

Baltimore, Md.—Bond Sale.—On July 22, 1898, the city awarded to H. A. Orrick and Gustavus Ober, Baltimore, $300 000 of the 3½% public improvement loan of 1940 at 106·125. A bid of 105·77 was received from Hambleton & Co. The total amount of the above loan authorized to be issued for various purposes is $6,000,000, of which $5,751,000 has been issued to date, leaving $246,000 yet to be issued.

On July 27, 1898, the Baltimore Trust & Guarantee Co. purchased $200,000 of the court-house and water extension loan of 1945 at 107.

Beaumont, Texas.—Bonds Authorized.—The City Council on July 22, 1898, passed an ordinance providing for the issuance of $13,000 6% street-improvement and water-works bonds.

Belleville, Ill.—Bonds Voted.—At the election held July 23, 1898, the issuance of $17,500 4% funding bonds was authorized. $12,000 bonds will be dated August 31, 1898, and $5,500 February 1, 1899, and will mature in 20 years. Date of sale has not yet been determined, but will probably be some time in August.

Belleville (Kan.) School District.—Bond News.—The $7,500 bonds, which we stated last week were sold to the State School Fund Commissioners, bear 5% interest, and run from five to twelve years. Bonds were sold on July 2, 1898.

Bellevue, Pa.—Bonds Authorized.—The $48,000 sewer bonds recently authorized will bear 4% interest. Securities will be dated October 1, 1898, and will be in denomination of $1,000. Principal will mature on October 1 as follows: $2,000 yearly from 1914 to 1920, inclusive, $3,000 in 1921, 1922, 1923, and $10,000 in 1924.

Beresford, S. Dak.—Bond Sale.—On July 1, 1898, the $4,400 5% water-works bonds were awarded to S. A. Kean, Chicago, at par. A bid of par, less $30, for printing and attorney's fees, was received from Duke M. Farson of Chicago. Bonds mature 15 years from date of issue, subject to call after five years. For further description of bonds see CHRONICLE June 18, 1898, p. 1205.

Bermidji (Minn.) School District No. 7.—Bonds Not Yet Sold.—In the CHRONICLE last week we stated that the $8,000 5% bonds were awarded to Jefferson & Kasson, St. Paul, at 101·325. We are now advised, however, that the bonds have not yet been sold, the bids not being satisfactory.

Beverly, Mass.—Note Issue.—We are advised by L. S. Herrick, Town Clerk, that the $50,000 5% school notes authorized by the last Legislature will be taken by the Sinking Fund Commissioners.

Blakely (Borough), Pa.—Bond Offering.—Proposals will be received until 7 P. M. August 1, 1898, by T. E. Williams, Borough Clerk, Box 134, Olyphant, Pa., for $15,000 5% coupon bonds. Securities are in denomination of $500, dated August 15, 1898. Interest will be payable semi-annually at the office of the Borough Treasurer. Bonds will be redeemable in their numerical order at the option of the Council. Securities are exempt from all taxes. A certified check for $200, payable to the Borough Treasurer, must accompany proposals. The bonded debt of the borough is $16,000. The assessed valuation, $404,110, and the population between 4,000 and 5,000.

Boyertown, Pa.—Bond Sale.—On July 16, 1898, $10,000 4% school bonds were sold at par to local investors. Securities are to mature in "22 years or less."

Bridgeton, N. J.—Bond Sale.—On July 25, 1898, the $20,000 4% public building bonds were awarded to Benwell & Everitt, New York, at 101·079. Following are the bids:

Trowbridge, MacDonald & Niver Co., Chicago	6,286 00	Bank of Calmar	6,115 25

Securities are in denomination of $500 and $600, dated July 1, 1898. Interest will be payable January 1 and July 1, and the principal will mature $1,000 yearly from July 1, 1903, to 1907, and $1,100 July 1, 1908.

Cambridge, Mass.—Bonds Not Sold.—In reply to our inquiries relative to the report that the city had sold at private sale, $500,000 worth of bonds, Mr. Wm. W. Dallinger, City Treasurer, makes this statement: "It is not true that I have sold $500,000 worth of bonds at private sale."

Caney, Kan.—Bonds Voted.—At an election held recently the issuance of $10,000 bonds for the construction of the Kansas Oklahoma Central & Southwestern Railroad was authorized.

Chautauqua County, Kan.—Proposed Refunding of Bonds.—The County Commissioners have entered into an agreement with James T. Bradley of Sedan and L. V. Humphrey of Independence, looking to the refunding of $140,000 6% railroad-aid bonds now outstanding. Under the agreement the county will take up these bonds and issue new ones at a lower rate of interest. According to the contract Bradley and Humphrey receive for their services 20% of the saving to the county upon a reduction of 1% in the interest rate; upon a reduction of an additional ½%, 10% of the additional saving; and upon the reduction of another ½%, 5% of the additional saving. The new bonds will run 20 years.

Cherryvale, Kan.—Bonds Voted.—On July 19, 1898, the city voted in favor of issuing $20,000 5% 20-year bonds in aid of the Kansas Oklahoma Central & Southwestern Railway. These bonds will be turned over to the railway company when conditions are complied with.

Coffey County (Kan.) School District No. 39.—Bond News.—The $600 bonds reported last week as sold to the State School Fund bear 5% interest and mature in from one to four years. Date of sale was July 2, 1898.

Columbus, Ohio.—Bond Offering.—Proposals will be received until 3 P. M. (standard time) August 1, 1898, by Martin A. Gemundu, Clerk of the Trustees of the Sinking Fund, for the following bonds, now the property of the sinking fund:

$20,000 4% 5-year sewer farm bonds of $1,000 each, maturing Deb. 1, 1902.
10,000 4% 20-year main trunk sewer bonds of $1,000 each, maturing June 1, 1918.
12,000 4% 10-year street-improvement bonds of $1,000 each, maturing Sept. 1, 1907.
6,000 4% 10-year street-improvement bonds of $500 each, maturing Sept. 1, 1907.
7,000 4% 10-year street-improvement bonds of $1,000 each, maturing Sept. 1, 1901.
1,500 4% 10-year street-improvement bonds of $500 each, maturing Sept. 1, 1907.
5,500 4% 5-year street-improvement bonds of $500 each, maturing Sept. 1, 1902

Interest on the above bonds will be payable semi-annually at the office of the City Treasurer.

Council Bluffs, Iowa.—Bonds Proposed.—On October 1, 1898, $70,000 7% bonds of this city mature. The fund on hand for the retirement of these bonds amounts to about $40,000, and the Finance Committee of the City Council has under consideration the issuance of $30,000 refunding bonds to make up the difference. The new bonds will mature in 20 years subject to call after 4 years.

Cuyler (Town), N. Y.—Bond Sale.—Local papers state that the town has called for payment $58,000 railroad-aid bonds now outstanding. The town has issued $20,000 3½% refunding bonds, which were sold to the State Comptroller for investment in the Common School Fund.

Deadwood (S. Dak.) School District—Bond Offering.—The district is advertising for sale $8,000 school bonds.

Defiance (Ohio) School District.—Bond Sale.—On July 23, 1898, the $1,000 6% school bonds were awarded to the Croghan Bank, Fremont, at 104·20. Other bids were received, but not considered, as they did not comply with the conditions of the advertisement. Bonds mature part yearly on July 23, $200 in 1900, $600 in 1901 and $200 in 1902. For further description of bonds see CHRONICLE July 16, 1898, p. 137.

Delphos, Ohio.—Bonds Refused.—It is stated that Denison, Prior & Co., Cleveland, who, on June 21, 1898, were awarded the $5,000 5% water-works bonds, have refused to take the securities. The Cleveland firm refused the bonds because all the steps toward the election authorizing the issue had not been legally complied with.

De Witt County, Ill.—Proposed Bond Election.—We are advised that the County Board will meet September 13, 1898, to provide for the submission to a vote of the people on November 8, 1898, of the proposition to issue $33,000 refunding court-house bonds.

Duluth, Minn.—Bond Sale.—On July 20, 1898, the $955,000 4% gold water bonds, bids for which were received until June 27, 1898, were awarded to E. H. Gay & Co., Boston, at par. Bonds mature April 1, 1928. For further description of bonds see CHRONICLE June 11, 1898, p. 1153. The Council has voted to sell to the same firm $70,000 refunding West Duluth and Oneonta bonds.

Bonds Proposed.—A resolution has been introduced in the City Council providing for an election August 30, 1898, to vote on the question of issuing $100,000 electric-light plant bonds.

Emsworth, Pa.—Description of Bonds.—The $4,000 street-improvement bonds, the sale of which we reported last week, were sold to Wm. M. Bell, Pittsburg, on a 5% basis. The bonds mature $500 yearly from 1899 to 1906, inclusive.

Flensburg (Minn.) School District.—Bonds Voted.—On July 18, 1898, the district voted to issue $450 bonds for the erection of a new school house.

Fort Madison (Iowa) School District.—Bond Sale.—The district has awarded to N. W. Harris & Co., Chicago, the $35,000 4% refunding bonds, at par.

Fostoria, Ohio.—Bond Offering.—Proposals, accompanied by a certified check for $500, will be received until 1 P. M. August 8, 1898, by J. M. Schatzel, City Clerk, for the following refunding bonds amounting to $9,867:

$1,000 Sewer District No. 1, in denomination of $1,000.
500 Sewer District No. 1, in denomination of $500.
3,000 Sewer District No. 2, in denomination of $1,000.
500 Sewer District No. 2, Section 1, in denomination of $500.
500 Sewer District No. 4, in denomination of $500.
500 sewer and garbage disposal bond, in denomination of $500.
867 Main Street refunding bond, in denomination of $867.

Bonds will be dated August 8, 1898, and mature September 1, 1918. Interest will be at 4½%, payable March 1 and September 1 at the Chase National Bank, New York City. Securities are issued under Title 12, Chapter 2, Section 1701 Revised Statutes of Ohio.

Fremont, Ohio.—Bond Offering.—Proposals will be received until 12 M. August 15, 1898, by Charles F. Bell, City Clerk, for not more than $16,000 4% Hayes Avenue improvement bonds. Securities are issued pursuant with Section 2,701 and 2,705 Revised Statutes of Ohio, and authorized by ordinance passed May 24, 1898. Bonds are in denomination of $500, dated August 1, 1898. Interest will be payable April 1 and October 1, and the principal will mature April 1, 1909, subject to call one bond each six months after April 1, 1899. A deposit of $250 or a certified check for that amount payable to the City Clerk must accompany proposals. Proposals will be received at the same time and place for $3,000 (or less) 4% Napoleon Street improvement bonds. Securities are issued pursuant with the same laws as the Hayes Avenue bonds. They will be in denomination of not less than $100, nor more than $500 each, bearing date August 1, 1898. Interest will be payable April 1 and October 1, and the principal will mature $250 every six months from April 1, 1899, to October 1, 1904. A deposit of $100 or certified check for this amount, payable to the City Clerk, must accompany proposals.

Fresno County (Cal.) School Districts.—Bonds Approved.—On July 19, 1898, the County Commissioners approved the following school district bonds: Bowles, $1,500; Hermingham, $1,500, and Fresno Colony, $5,000.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

The work of establishing a basis for a treaty of peace has been in progress between Spain and the United States during the week. As we write, it is reported that Spain (though no agreement has been actually reached) has substantially accepted the conditions offered. An official statement was issued at Washington Tuesday giving the substance of the settlement proposed by our Government. These terms do not include an indemnity, but they call for—(1) The relinquishment of sovereignty over, and the immediate evacuation of, Cuba by Spain. (2) The cession to the United States of Porto Rico, together with all other islands under Spanish sovereignty in the West Indies, and one island in the Ladrones. (3) The occupation by the United States of the city, bay and harbor of Manila, pending the conclusion of a treaty of peace, which treaty is to determine the control, disposition and government of the Philippines. As to the character of the changes since made in the proposals, the opinion prevails that the requirement with reference to one of the Ladrone Islands has not been insisted upon; but other than that it is believed that the conditions of peace as finally accepted by our Government will differ in no essential particular from those outlined above.

A speedy arrangement of the differences at issue with Spain will be a most welcome event, and if effected along the lines stated will, no doubt, prove an achievement that will receive the hearty support of the country. These peace negotiations are not the only indication that the end of the war is in sight. Others are cropping out in several directions. Porto Rico seems remarkably ripe for a transfer of ownership. The inhabitants are apparently showing as much eagerness for the presence of our army as the army is evincing to occupy the island. The most of the leading cities, excepting San Juan, have already come under our control; commerce likewise, as was the case after we got possession of Santiago, is following in the tracks of the army. The steamer Silvia chartered for the New York and Porto Rico Steamship Company will sail to-day for Ponce. It is stated that she carries a miscellaneous cargo and some passengers, among the latter being an agent for a New England mill with samples of the goods made at the mill. The Postmaster-General has also resumed full mail service to those portions of Porto Rico occupied by our troops. A further incident of the week in strong contrast with the course of events only a short time ago is the initial steps taken by the Government to disband its Auxiliary Navy. The charters of two of the American liners now in use as cruisers, the St. Paul and St. Louis, are it is said about to be canceled. Thus from every point of view the evidence appears to indicate that peace and peaceful pursuits are coming to the front, and that war and its accessories have had their day.

Of a somewhat different character is a report which has been current with regard to Manila that is claimed to have occasioned some anxiety at Washington. This feeling, if it exists, which is doubtful, is not due to any danger to our army or uncertainty about taking Manila. It is due to the attitude of Aguinaldo's army of insurgents; to the fear that the American troops are not in sufficient numbers for the exercise of the required moral force to keep them, after Manila is taken, from acts of savagery. That is to say, General Merritt is confronted with the difficult task, while fighting the Spaniards, of suppressing the insurgents, and of doing it in a way so as to avoid, if possible, using force against them. For accomplishing this double purpose it is obvious that a much larger body of men might be needed than for the simple work of obtaining possession of Manila. The facts evidently warrant the conclusion that the Filipinos do not relish the idea of annexation to the United States; that they wish to rule; and they are proving a delicate and troublesome factor to deal with. Indeed, as a body they are not very different in kind from General Garcia's Cuban followers at Santiago. At the same time there is no reason to suppose that the natives under Aguinaldo, though more numerous, are any better able to resist the United States army and navy at Manila than Garcia and his adherents were at Santiago. It is no doubt simply because the Administration feels that the Filipinos have been harshly used by the Spanish during past years, and hopes to change their defiant attitude by showing them consideration and kindness now, that the problem presents any difficulties at all.

There seem to be evidences developing of trade revival. One is apt to look to Wall Street transactions for the first indication. We have them there plainly presented in the large bond sales which have been the feature, especially during the past week. From Monday to yesterday, both days inclusive, the total par value (not including governments) reached $22,349,000, the biggest total recorded during a similar period for a very long time. These sales increased from $2,017,000 on Monday to $7,168,000 on Thursday and $4,635,000 Friday. We are told likewise that the transactions over the counters of our bankers have been correspondingly large. How, it may be asked, does that movement indicate trade revival? The connection is direct and obvious. Such large sales of miscellaneous bonds are evidence of a revival of confidence, and of a new spirit of enterprise. When capital begins to move freely away from its hiding places and from temporary loans into securities of a miscellaneous kind, it is virtually a declaration that the vast resources of this extensive country are about to receive a new impulse and a fresh development. The people have been waiting years for such a revival of its dormant energies as these facts and the general financial condition of the Government and country suggest. Besides, Wall Street is not the sole indicator of the business expansion in prospect. We have room to mention only one other, but that is a manufacturing industry of wide connections often looked to as a sign of coming trade events. We refer to the iron trade, the markets for which are beginning to show an enlarged inquiry and movement. To understand the significance of this revival, it must be remembered that we are already producing much more iron than ever before in our history; the reader should go over the article we wrote last week (page 202) showing the iron production for the first half of 1898. With those wonderful figures in mind add to the condition an improved inquiry for the product. That is to say, this very large production is being taken, passing into consumption, entering into many different forms and industries, and that, too, without even the ordinary demand from railroads for renewals.

The Government figures for July of receipts and disbursements and net debt are interesting for two reasons. They represent the first month's action of the war tax law and they also show the early payments into the Treasury for the new bond issue. The latter fact is chiefly useful to explain the debt statement. It will be observed that there was a decrease in the item of net debt of $49,004,485, notwithstanding there were $200,000,000 of 3 per cent bonds at the same time in process of being sold. To understand this apparent discrepancy and to aid in making future comparisons intelligible, it is necessary to have in mind the fact that payments to the amount of probably $100,000,000 were made in July on subscriptions for those bonds, whereas the bonds for such subscriptions were not issued until after the first of August. The receipts from that source are of course counted in the debt statement, and hence nominally reduce the debt less cash in the Treasury (or net debt) to the extent mentioned, because the bonds which are to stand against those payments do not and cannot appear in the record until the August statement is made up. As a matter of fact, there was no decrease whatever in the debt in July, but a material increase.

With reference to the revenue figures, a first month of trial for any revenue law is, for well known reasons, always a poor test. This year, too, July business has been restricted. For illustration, merchants have bought goods only from hand to mouth; there has been no stocking-up in anticipation of a good fall trade. Consequently among other results we should anticipate that imports would be less than normal. The Customs revenue receipts confirm that forecast. In July, notwithstanding that the new impost of 10 cents a pound duty on tea was in force, the total receipts from duties were only $15,169,000, whereas last March, without that additional charge, they were $15,551,000. We are consequently authorized to assume that when business starts up Customs receipts will show a considerably larger aggregate. No comparison can be made with the same month of last year, because in July 1897 the revenue from both Customs and internal taxes were abnormally large, being made so not by a legitimate productiveness of tax laws, but by forced payments of duties and internal revenues by reason of the then approaching end to tariff and tax revision. The internal revenue receipts for last month (July) were quite satisfactory, reaching $26,171,000. There is no former month's total we can take as a standard for a correct comparison. We have given above the reason why July 1897 cannot be so used. June 1898, for a similar irregularity, must also be thrown out. An average of internal revenue receipts under the old law for the other previous months, beginning with September 1897 (nine months), is about 13½ million dollars. Comparing that average with the July 1898 receipts ($26,171,000) would make the increase in July under the new law about 12½ million dollars. If we are authorized to accept that difference as an approximate test of the productiveness of the new internal revenue taxes, the amount they would add this year to the revenue of last year from the same branch of the service would be 150 millions of dollars. Of course that favorable balance will be further increased by enlarged Customs duties.

Crop accounts are again becoming very favorable. There seems to be no question that during the latter part of July corn prospects were impaired by drought in the leading corn-raising States. But fortunately during the past week the afflicted districts have had copious rains, the visitation extending even to Kansas. There is no reason to doubt that these rains have come in time to prove highly beneficial. From some points the accounts state that the precipitation has been heavy enough to carry the crop to maturity, thus ensuring a fine yield. The outlook for the country as a whole may be judged from Thoman's report for the 1st of August. This was before the relief from drought was experienced. According to this authority the general average of condition for corn the 1st of the month was 84·2, against 92·2 in July and 87·7 in August of last year. Even on these indications he estimated a crop of 1,825 million bushels, which though by no means a full crop could hardly be called a small one. But the report adds that under "a continuance of the prevailing high temperatures and sufficient moisture during August," part of the loss sustained could be regained. Taking this observation in connection with the fact that thus far in August the desired moisture has been obtained, and it is evident that, barring future unfavorable developments, the outlook is decidedly encouraging.

As far as wheat is concerned, the crop, both winter and spring, may almost be said to be made. The possibility of some small damage to spring wheat still exists, but thus far the conditions have been almost ideal, and it seems likely that in the leading spring-wheat sections all past records will be surpassed in amount of yield. Thoman makes the general average of condition of spring wheat 95·8, against 95·3 a month ago and 86·8 in August last year. He thinks the harvest for Minnesota and the two Dakotas will reach 210 million bushels, against 143 million bushels last year. The entire spring-wheat crop he estimates at 300 million bushels, against 201 million bushels in 1897. As he places the winter-wheat yield at 400 million bushels, it is evident that, according to his ideas, the country's aggregate wheat production (spring and winter combined) will reach 700 million bushels. We may say, too, that the generally satisfactory nature of the crop situation is confirmed by other observers. For instance, we see President Stuyvesant Fish of the Illinois Central quoted in an interview at Louisville as saying (after a tour of inspection extending through Nebraska, the Dakotas, Iowa and the South) that he scarcely ever knew the crops to look more promising in the Northwestern States. He thinks the corn yield in these States will be better than for some years past—that the hay crop is also larger, and that the prospect for a good fall pasturage was never better.

Two more railroads have this week enlarged their dividend distributions. We refer to the St. Paul & Duluth and the Norfolk & Western. The St. Paul & Duluth has during the last four years been paying 5 per cent per annum on its preferred shares in semi-annual instalments of 2½ per cent. Now 4½ per cent has been declared, making, with the previous 2½ per cent, 7 per cent out of the revenues of the twelve months—the full amount of preference to which the preferred shares are entitled. The Norfolk & Western, as is known, is a reorganized company. It made its first dividend on the adjustment preferred stock last November, one per cent being then paid out of the period closing on June 30 1897. Another dividend of 1 per cent was paid in February last out of the revenues for the twelve months ending June 30 1898. Now 2 per cent more has been declared out of the revenues for the same twelve months, making 3 per cent for the year. The company's income statement shows that after allowing for this 3 per cent a surplus of $448,937 remains on the operations for the twelve months.

The Pennsylvania Railroad statement of earnings for the month of June was issued last Saturday. The unsatisfactory rate situation is reflected in the indifferent exhibit made by the lines east of Pittsburg, where the increase in the gross reaches only $63,100, with $93,200 decrease in the net, and the same adverse influence, together with a diminished grain movement, is reflected in a loss of $37,400 in gross on the lines west of Pittsburg. In this last case the company at the same time enlarged its expenses in the sum of $318,300, giving a loss of $355,700 in the net. Last year in this month the Eastern lines recorded $79,736 increase in gross and $333,494 increase in net, and the Western lines $74,075 increase in gross and $262,226 increase in net. In the returns for the half-year the feature is the liberal way in which the company has been adding to its expense accounts under the expansion in its revenues. On the Eastern lines, with $1,774,000 gain in gross the gain in net because of the heavier outlays is only $57,600, and on the Western lines with $2,083,800 increase in gross, the increase in net is but $11,500. The following furnishes a comparison of the Eastern lines for a series of years.

It is probable that the settlements for the 3 per cent bonds have had about all the effect that they will have upon bank conditions. While the receipts for the bonds are large, disbursements by the Treasury are also heavy, and any excess of receipts over expenditures will most likely be placed with the depository banks. These institutions are understood to be provided with new bonds as security for deposits, and therefore they are, or at least soon will be, in a position to receive larger amounts of money from the Treasury. When settlements for the bonds began, the New York associated banks had an average of $610,336,500 of loans, this being the amount reported June 18, and their deposits were $730,976,400. The total cash was $242,016,900 and the surplus reserve was $59,272,800. The transfer of money from the Treasury to the depository banks after June 18 was reflected in an increase of $29,517,000 in loans by July 16, to $639,853,500, and in deposits by July 9 of $27,091,600, to $758,068,000; while the cash was decreased by July 30 $14,692,400, to $227,324,500. The most notable movement of the cash item was specie. This fell $19,565,100 from the highest point of $186,070,200 July 2 to $166,505,100 July 30, while in the interval between June 11 and July 30 the legal tenders gained $7,750,500 and lost $2,642,600, a net increase of $5,107,900. Assuming that the bond settlements thus far have been wholly responsible for the changes here noted, it appears that somewhat less than $30,000,000 has been transferred from the Treasury to the depository banks and that a net amount of $14,457,200 cash has been turned over by the banks to the Treasury, this being the difference between the loss of specie and the net gain in legal tenders. Though during the bond settlements the surplus reserve has been reduced by $17,368,325, to $41,904,475, the money market has not shown any material change either in tone or in rates. When these settlements began some bankers were apprehensive of disturbance because of the inability at that time of the depository banks to obtain sufficient bonds to qualify for the reception of large deposits, and it was felt that there must be some derangement resulting from the withdrawal from actual circulation of money required to meet payments for the bonds taken in amounts of $500 and under. It appears, however, that though the subscriptions for small amounts have aggregated about $109,000,000, the money required for payment has been restored to circulation almost as fast as it was absorbed by the Treasury. Though payments for subscriptions in excess of $500 will, in the majority of cases, probably be made in full soon after allotment, it is unlikely that such payments will have any disturbing effect upon the market for money, and hereafter the depository banks will be able to obtain new bonds in sufficient amounts to enable them to qualify for the custody of Government money to any extent that may be necessary.

Money on call representing bankers' balances has loaned during the week generally at 1¼ per cent, with some few loans at 1½ per cent. Though 1 per cent has been quoted at infrequent intervals, no transactions have been reported at this rate, and there is an indisposition among lenders to loan below 1¼ per cent. The average for the week has been about 1¼ per cent. Banks and trust companies quote 1½ per cent as the minimum. Time contracts are in fair demand, while the offerings are abundant, and rates are 2½ per cent for sixty to ninety days, 3 per cent for four to five and 3@3½ per cent for six months or for longer periods on good mixed Stock Exchange collateral. The local demand for commercial paper is good with no urgency in the inquiry, and the supply is fair. The business is chiefly in choice names. Rates are 3½@3¾ per cent for sixty to ninety-day endorsed bills receivable, 3¾@4¼ per cent for prime and 4½@5½ per cent for good four to six months single names. About the only notable feature during the week has been the large transfers of balances between a few of the down-town banks incident to settlements for $25,000,000 of Great Northern Railway new preferred stock which stockholders had the privilege of taking at 60 per cent. It is announced that prominent directors of the Park Bank have acquired a controlling interest in the Plaza Bank, capital $100,000 and net profits $107,000. This is a State institution organized in 1891.

The feature in the European political situation this week has been the report that Spain had accepted the terms of peace offered by President McKinley. This report, although unconfirmed as we write, had a very decidedly favorable influence upon the price of Spanish 4 per cents in London on Wednesday, causing them to advance to 41⅞. The highest price before the disaster to the Maine in February was 61½ and the lowest 29¾ after the destruction of Admiral Montojo's fleet by Admiral Dewey at Manila on May 1.

The Bank of England minimum rate of discount remains unchanged at 2½ per cent. The cable reports discounts of sixty to ninety day bank bills in London at 1½ per cent. The open market rate at Paris is 1⅞@1⅞ per cent and at Berlin and Frankfort it is 3¼@3¼ per cent. According to our special cable from London the Bank of England lost £803,948 bullion during the week, and held £34,479,098 at the close of the week. Our correspondent further advises us that the loss was due to the export of £40,000 (of which £30,000 were to Holland and £10,000 to South America), to shipments to the interior of Great Britain of £934,000 net, and to the import of £170,000, of which £145,000 were from South America, £20,000 from Australia and £5,000 from China.

The foreign exchange market has been quiet and firm this week. There has been some demand for mercantile remittance and lighter offerings of spot grain bills, which will account in great part for the firmness. The small supply of spot grain bills is said to be mainly due to the light movement of winter wheat to the seaboard, the grain being in good demand from millers, and there being small stocks of old wheat in farmers' hands. There are some grain futures offering, but these are chiefly for delivery in September, and as yet there are not many cotton futures in the market. At the moment the supply of commercial bills seems to be principally confined to those drawn against provisions. The most important feature this week has been the engagement of $1,950,000 gold in London by Lazard Freres, announced on Tuesday, and of $125,000 by the Bank of British North America. It was also announced that $1,650,000 gold had been shipped from Sydney, N. S. W., for San Francisco, and on Wednesday news came that there had been an arrival of $280,444 gold at San Francisco from Hong Kong for local banks in that city. This movement of gold from China is so unusual as to attract attention. The shipment from Sydney is simply the resumption of the movement which was temporarily suspended in May. There was some surprise expressed at the large consignment for Lazard Freres for the reason that it was not clear how the importation could be made at a profit while sight exchange rates were firmly held at figures which were supposed to be above the gold-importing point. There was no question, however, about the movement being strictly an exchange operation and profitable.

The range for nominal rates for exchange has remained unaltered during the week at from 4 84½ to 4 85 for sixty day and at from 4 86 to 4 86½ for sight, with nearly all the drawers quoting the lower figures. The tone of the market was firm on Monday, but rates for actual business were unchanged. On the following day they were advanced one quarter of a cent, compared with those at the close of Friday of last week, to 4 83½@4 83¾ for long, 4 85¼@4 85½ for short and 4 85½@4 85¾ for cable transfers. On Wednesday there was an inquiry for cables, which caused an advance of one-quarter of a cent, to 4 85¾@4 86, while long and short sterling were unchanged. The market was firm, so continuing on the following day, without alteration in rates. On Friday there was an advance of one-quarter of a cent in long and short.

The market closed firm on that day with rates for actual business 4 83¾@4 84 for long, 4 85½@4 85¾ for short and 4 85¾@4 86 for cable transfers. Prime commercial 4 83¼@4 83½ and documentary 4 82¾@4 83. Cotton for payment 4 82¾@4 83, cotton for acceptance 4 83¼@4 83½ and grain for payment 4 82¾@4 83. The following shows daily posted rates for exchange by some of the leading drawers.

PRINCE BISMARCK.

Had Bismarck's death occurred in 1886 instead of in 1898, the news would have been received with a shiver of misgiving throughout the European capitals. It was then believed, and not wholly without reason, that the German Chancellor alone had control of the checks and balances which prevented disturbance of European international peace. Even when, in 1890, the young German Emperor made up his mind that if he was to rule at all, he must rule without Bismarck, apprehension was freely expressed that the armed collision of Continental States could not now be long delayed. Yet Bismarck lived in retirement for eight years, and the impulsive young man who displaced him has had free hand in the management of German diplomacy; and the crisis is apparently no nearer in 1898 than it was in 1886. It may indeed be said, so far as surface indications go, to be more remote; for such threatening demonstrations (chiefly naval) as have occurred this year have been designed to prevent the consummation of suspected plans of wholesale and unconditional land grabbing, while the more or less menacing army movements of a dozen years ago were thought at the time to be inspired by the mere wish to provoke a quarrel.

The death of Bismarck, then, after a long retirement in which his services seemed to be no more missed than were those, say, of Mr. Gladstone, suggests the queries how far Bismarck was the creator of the existing European diplomatic situation; and if creator, how far his work had been finished before his withdrawal from public life.

In so far as the present maintenance of European peace results from the maintenance of standing armies so formidable in numbers, and so capable from training, that attack is too dangerous to tempt an antagonist, the present situation will be regarded generally as Bismarck's work. He was not, of course, the originator of the theory. Frederick the Great had proved, a century before, that peace may be secured by the maintenance of an army so powerful that war by any hostile government would be dangerous. Napoleon, Louis XIV. and Cromwell had each in turn built up national power through the support of a trained and active army. But with the exception of Cromwell, these other modern rulers had made the mistake, perhaps inevitable in their case, of keeping the army forever engaged in hostile enterprises. The result of this policy was, first, national exhaustion, and, second, the gradual alienation of all other governments through jealousy or suspicion. Frederick himself, who undoubtedly wished for peace after his fundamental purposes had been achieved, was forced into a similar policy, which perhaps led the way to Prussia's weakness in the face of Napoleon's later assault.

Bismarck avoided this pitfall through his union of the consistent policy of an established standing army with a diplomacy which undertook to keep all other possibly hostile States divided from one another. Both lines of action were based on the frank assumption that the Powers of Europe would attack one another if they dared, and if the inducement were obvious enough. Bismarck undertook to construct a system under which the risk of such attack would be greatest and the inducement least. With this fundamental principle in mind, the statesman who had torn Schleswig-Holstein from Denmark, Venice from Austria and Alsace-Lorraine from France, each as a prize of war for Prussia or its ally, became the most formidable opponent of ambitious schemes of territorial acquisition. Austria's designs in the Balkans were blocked by the persistent erection, under Bismarck's dictation, of petty independent governments, and if Bismarck did not in 1878 check Russia's movement towards the Dardanelles, it was only because he saw that Great Britain could interpose a sufficient veto without committing Germany to an unfriendly attitude towards its Western neighbor. The Treaty of 1897 between Greece and Turkey, by which the victorious power obtained hardly more of what it wished than did its defeated antagonist, was not, to be sure, the personal work of Bismarck, but it was a distinct sequence to his policy.

It may be said, then, by way of explaining the lack of any apparent ill results from Bismarck's retirement from office, that his theory and system of European diplomacy had already been completed and fastened on the governments, not only of Germany, but of every first-class European State. Long before his surrender of diplomatic power Continental Europe had become a group of military Powers, none of which could be certainly defeated unless by a combination of two or more among the others; such combinations likewise were not only rendered doubtful by a network of secret treaties, but were discouraged by the formally approved tradition that a large concession to any single State was a menace to all its neighbors which must at any hazard be prevented. The outcome of this peculiar situation is the cumbrous but not ineffective machine known as the "Concert of Europe," which, in a constant atmosphere of mutual suspicion, works in apparent harmony. Another result is the constant affirmation, by the European sovereigns and ministers, of their desire and purpose to maintain the peace of nations; declarations whose striking character cannot be fairly judged except by comparing them with the habitual attitude of sovereigns such as Napoleon III., or of ministers such as Bismarck himself, a generation ago.

But although this system, except for the two short-lived Turkish wars of 1877 and 1897, has maintained unbroken peace in Europe during twenty-seven years, after a period, almost equally long, of unremitting warfare, even its advocates have been forced to admit that there are elements in it which threatened to develop later points of weakness. Not least among these visible defects is the enormous costliness of the policy. The system is threatened on the one hand, remotely or immediately, by the resentment of citizens and legislatures over the heavy taxes and the removal of so large a part of a population from productive industry; on the other hand it is menaced in all except the strongest financial States by the possibility that the strain on public resources will result in government insolvency. Each of these troubles develops slowly, but the progress of each is distinctly marked in the recent history of Europe; and it is the Nemesis of Bismarck's system that retrenchment, or even maintenance of the military status quo, is impossible. Bismarck himself led the way with a heavy increase in the German armament at each septennial grant by the Reichstag, and the very basic principle of his system made it inevitable that all rival States should instantly meet such increase. Now that the navy has become an essential factor in modern warfare, the contest of exchequers has been extended to the building of enormously expensive iron fleets; there, too, the future assigns no limit to the multiplying of annual expenditure. It would seem to be evident that such a process of steadily accumulating public burdens cannot go on forever, and yet in its nature the process cannot stop.

It must be left, therefore, to the history of the coming generation to prove how far Bismarck's statesmanship possessed the element of permanence. Metternich, a statesman vastly inferior in ability and judgment to the German Chancellor, built up a Continental system by which the several sovereigns were to control one another and the general destiny of Europe; but his diplomatic structure collapsed completely, leaving hardly a trace behind, because he had wholly ignored the sentiment and power of the people. Bismarck endeavored to avoid this blunder; but his concessions to legislative and popular prerogative were not the concessions of a friend. The strangely mediæval penalties for "majestäts-beleidigung," which to the outsider seem grotesquely out of place in the philosophic German society, are as distinct a fruit of Bismarck's policy as his measures against free speech and the free press, in the Socialist controversy, or his arbitrary extension of the military appropriations in the sixties, against the express vote of the legislature. Usually he knew how far he could defend such moves by the needs of the sitnation, but his policy, on the whole, was one of dictation and repression. In this fact lies the danger to his system, both in Germany and elsewhere, for the future. The permanently successful statecraft of this century has been that which allied a strong central administration and a conservative public policy with the utmost possible freedom of popular voice and vote. It may perhaps be doubted whether any political theory or system which antagonizes the intelligent popular instinct of a nation can in these days be enduring.

Thus far, however, Bismarck's system of government and diplomacy has held its place because of the general shrinking from what seemed to be the only alternative. This may be said especially of the submission of the majority of the European people to the heavy tax budgets and the compulsory army service. But it is also true, in Germany especially, that the conservative classes, who in the long run control popular sentiment, have acceded to Bismark's policy of imperial autocracy because the alternative in this direction seemed to be either hopeless war of factions, such as has actually come to pass in France and Austria, or the still more formidable possibility of an experiment in Socialism.

GROWTH AND EXPANSION OF TRUST COMPANIES.

One of the most interesting phenomena of the times—in a period when expansion is visible everywhere—is the wonderful growth in the business and resources of the trust companies. To the theorist, unacquainted with the true state of things, nothing would have seemed more natural than to see a decline in the magnitude and business of these institutions in recent years. Every one of them allows interest on deposits varying from 1 per cent to 5 per cent. It is easy enough to see that such an operation may be made profitable when money in the market is in urgent demand and interest rates rule high. As a matter of fact, however, of late years it has been almost impossible to find profitable remuneration for idle funds. In the case of call loans (a favorite form of investment with the trust companies, since it leaves the money within reach, readily available in case of emergency,) the rate has ruled for long periods at not above 1@1½ per cent, and at times funds have been practically unlendable. Even for time money frequently not more than 2@3 per cent has been obtainable. Thus the operation of turning deposits over by the trust companies with profit has been an increasingly difficult one for the institutions. In truth, some of the larger companies have at times been at pains to discourage deposits.

Under such circumstances what has been the course of the deposits of these concerns. Has the aggregate of the same been declining? Far from it. There has been continuous expansion, and at a rate more rapid than before. We gave last week the detailed statements of all the trust companies in New York City and Brooklyn at the last three semi-annual dates —that is, on June 30 1898, December 31 1897 and June 30 1897. The most noteworthy feature disclosed by these returns is the really striking growth which has taken place in the deposits and in the resources of the companies during the last twelve months. Take for illustration only the larger companies. In this period of a year the deposit line of the Union Trust Company has increased from $29,323,850 to $37,728,856, that of the Mercantile Trust from $25,339,667 to $32,305,865, that of the Guaranty Trust from $13,909,712 to $20,385,589, that of the Farmers' Loan & Trust Company from $31,697,325 to $37,506,878, and that of the Central Trust Company from $29,338,520 to $40,258,803. The United States Trust is the largest of all the companies, but here the increase has been only from $43,561,138 to $44,839,868.

In addition, new companies are constantly being formed. Indeed, that is as significant a feature as the growth and expansion of the old institutions. Taking the period of the last five years—that is, since the beginning of 1893—we find the following additions to the list in New York State.

Fifth Avenue Trust Co., capital $500,000, surplus $500,000.
Produce Exchange Trust Co., cap. $500,000, sur. $500,000.
Standard Trust Co., capital $500,000.
American Deposit & Loan, capital $500,000.
Chautauqua County Trust (Jamestown), $300,000.
Colonial Trust Co., capital $1,000,000, surplus $500,000.
Columbus Trust Co. (Newburg), cap. $100,000, surp. $30,000
Delaware Loan & Trust (Walton), cap. $100,000, surp. $10,000.
Fidelity Tr. & Guar. Co. (Buff.), cap. $500,000, sur. $173,991.
Glens Falls Trust Co. (Glens Falls), cap. $100,000, sur. $50,000.
Manufacturers' Trust (Brooklyn), cap. $500,000, sur $500,000.
North American Trust, capital $1,000,000.
Union Trust Co. (Jamestown), capital $100,000.
Union Trust Co. (Rochester), cap. $200,000, sur. $20,000.

This represents a very considerable body of new financial institutions. It may help the reader to understand the reasons for the formation of these new companies at a time when interest rates have dropped to such a low level to say that money-lending is by no means the only or the chief function of these institutions. They act in various capacities which yield them an income, and the freedom from restrictions which they possess enables them to engage in and finance undertakings where command of large sums of money is not only a positive advantage, but an absolute necessity. This will explain why these new companies find it possible to pay interest to their depositors when money is so cheap and yet make a profit on their business year by year. For the fact that they are doing a remunerative business is evidenced by their increasing strength, the large dividends they are able to maintain, and the high figures ruling in the market for their shares.

It was not our purpose to-day to refer to the case of any particular company or companies, but to show the growth and power of these institutions as a whole. The results for June 30 1898 have been tabulated by the Banking Department for the entire State, and the figures have this week come from Albany. And a wonderful record they disclose. The combined resources of the trust companies of the State now amount to considerably over five hundred million dollars—in fact the total reaches $527,084,533. During the last six months the addition has been over 43 million dollars, during the last twelve months it has been over 83 million dollars. While the aggregate is now 527 millions, we would have to go back only to 1892 to find it but 300 millions. The 226 millions accretion since then represents an addition of over 75 per cent, from which one gains an idea of the extent and rapidity of the expansion that has been in progress. At some of the semi-annual dates there has been a slight recession in the totals, but practically the growth may be said to have been uninterrupted in recent years. Here is the record for January 1 of each year back to 1891, with the figures for July 1 1898 added.

AGGREGATE RESOURCES OF THE TRUST COMPANIES OF NEW YORK STATE.

Jan. 1, 1898	483,739,026	Jan. 1, 1893	335,707,780
Jan. 1, 1897	396,742,948	Jan. 1, 1892	300,765,575
Jan. 1, 1895	365,419,729

Of course in the case of the deposits the course of the totals has been much the same—that is, the additions in the immediate past have been very decided, while the course of the movement has been almost uninterruptedly upward for all recent years. On June 30 these deposits stood at $419,795,776, on January 1 1898 at $383,328,725, on July 1 1897 at $348,569,217 and on January 1 1897 at $305,354,637. Thus in the brief space of eighteen months there has been an increase of 114 million dollars, or over one third. Nor must it be supposed that the increase is due to any important extent to the increase in the number of companies, for with two or three exceptions the newer concerns have not yet acquired any considerable line of deposits. In the following we trace the deposits back to 1891.

AGGREGATE DEPOSITS OF THE NEW YORK TRUST COMPANIES.

Jan. 1, 1898	383,328,725	Jan. 1, 1893	264,295,048
Jan. 1, 1897	305,351,637	Jan. 1, 1892	234,466,697
Jan. 1, 1896	307,351,893	Jan. 1, 1891	211,320,275
Jan. 1, 1895	285,741,794

The changes in the investments of the companies naturally possess a good deal of interest in view of this great increase in the amounts at their disposal. Collateral loans, as already stated, are the favorite form of investment with the companies. Between January 1 1893 and January 1 1894 there was a marked contraction in that item, due to the occurrence of the panic of 1893 and the peculiar monetary and industrial conditions following that event, as explained on previous occasions. But since then this class of investments has been expanding again—slowly at first, but more rapidly of late. During the six months to June 30 1898, as it happens, there was a contraction, which attracts attention by reason of the great addition to the resources and deposits of the companies in the interval. This is a significant feature which, while it reflects the difficulty that exists in putting out money in that way at profitable rates, may also be taken to reflect the liquidation of loans on sterling exchange as collateral, so plentiful last January. A comparison of the totals for a series of years is furnished in the following.

LOANED ON COLLATERAL BY TRUST COMPANIES.

Jan. 1, 1898	280,581,708	Jan. 1, 1893	196,321,422
Jan. 1, 1897	160,894,938	Jan. 1, 1892	178,552,829
Jan. 1, 1895	148,953,820

Naturally, the so-called stock investments of the companies (comprising their holdings of stocks and bonds) have also been exhibiting a steadily rising tendency. These investments are apt to fluctuate more widely than the other items. If money rates are low, making collateral loans unprofitable or hard to get, the companies naturally turn to this other method for finding remuneration for their money, and on that point it is rather noteworthy that during the last six months when the aggregate of the collateral loans fell nearly eight million dollars, the stock investments were increased over eleven million dollars. The course of security values is also an important factor in the problem. The trust companies are managed by shrewd men, and naturally they buy more freely when prices are low than when prices are high; indeed, they are sure to sell when the latter condition prevails. Altogether, however, the stock investments have shown marked expansion—in accord with the growth in the aggregate resources of the companies. Here is the comparison.

STOCK INVESTMENTS OF TRUST COMPANIES.

Jan. 1, 1898	113,525,798	Jan. 1, 1893	57,185,649
Jan. 1, 1897	101,983,600	Jan 1. 1892	51,132,239
Jan. 1, 1895	97,555,798

We noted a few years ago a tendency on the part of the trust companies to increase their loans on personal security, including bills purchased. This tendency is again manifest, the companies having added eight million dollars to their investments in that way during the last six months. The purchase of bills was a new feature in the business of the trust companies, and while the aggregate so held is still small with relation to the magnitude of the other items, yet this class of investments is growing larger by degrees. The amount of such loans June 30 1898 was $39,150,212. The bulk of these loans is found among three or four of the leading companies, including some old and very conservative institutions.

LOANS ON PERSONAL SECURITY BY TRUST COMPANIES.

Jan. 1, 1898	31,183,294	Jan. 1, 1893	19,698,925
Jan. 1, 1897	25,788,188	Jan. 1, 1892	17,210,145
Jan. 1, 1896	29,369,703	Jan. 1, 1891	9,755,643
Jan. 1, 1895	22,791,215

With reference to the holdings of bonds and mortgages, there is little to say, beyond noting that the trust companies do not keep a very large part of their assets invested in this way. Below are the figures.

HOLDINGS OF BONDS AND MORTGAGES.

Jan. 1, 1898	32,624,995	Jan. 1, 1893	15,062,290
Jan. 1, 1897	28,692,428	Jan. 1, 1892	13,374,463
Jan. 1, 1895	21,569,504

We now come to the most interesting feature of the returns—namely, the cash holdings of the institutions. During the last six months these cash holdings increased 32½ million dollars, raising the total to 87½ million dollars. These cash holdings represent the uninvested portion of the assets of the institutions, and it is a striking commentary on the monetary situation prevailing, and the inability of financial institutions to find employment for their money, that while deposits during the six months were added to 36½ million dollars all but 4 million dollars of the amount went to swell cash on hand or in bank, so that in effect the trust companies received the money without being able to put it to any use. Of the 87½ millions of cash, $8,923,078 was held in their own vaults, the other $78,621,441 was on deposit in the banks, all but a few millions of it, doubtless, here in New York City. We close with the following comparison of the cash holdings.

CASH ON HAND AND ON DEPOSIT.

Jan. 1, 1898	55,034,451	Jan. 1, 1893	35,033,016
Jan. 1, 1897	54,642,344	Jan. 1, 1892	33,932,847

DOES A RAILROAD LOSE ITS RIGHT OF WAY THROUGH ADVERSE POSSESSION?

An interesting case came up recently before the New Jersey Supreme Court in which this question was raised. The case was that of Spottiswoode vs. Morris & Essex RR., and the ruling of the Court was that the right of way of a railroad company may be lost by adverse possession by the owner of the fee. It appeared that a deed to the railroad company of a right of way authorized it to enter, take possession and construct its road on a strip not to exceed four rods in width. The Court holds that the company acquired no title under the deed except by entry.

The decision of the Court is fortified by citations of authorities which make it evident that the weight of judicial opinion is clearly in favor of the contention that a railroad may lose its right of way through the failure to take possession of it. The doctrine of adverse possession as applied to ordinary cases is presumed to be well settled. But it was insisted by the company in the present instance that this doctrine was not applicable with reference to the property in suit. The argument apparently was that the property had been granted to the company for use for the purpose of its franchises. Hence that although the plaintiff may have been in possession of the property for the period of twenty years, under circumstances that would otherwise amount to an adverse possession, the company still had the right to enter and take possession whenever the exercise of its franchises required the use of the premises.

But the Court shows that the legal precedents are all the other way. Besides numerous American cases, it refers to two English cases. In Norton vs. Railway Co. the plaintiff, among other things, had contended that a certain strip of land in controversy had been abandoned by the railroad company and he was entitled to it either as superfluous land or, under the statute of limitations, by reason of adverse possession. This contention was sustained by Vice-Chancellor Malins in the Chancery Court, and his decision was affirmed by the Court of Appeals. It was expressly held by the latter court that the owner of the rest of the field (in which the strip was enclosed) had had such a possession of the strip as was sufficient to extinguish the title of the company under the statute of limitations. In a later case in the Queen's Bench the rule was laid down that the mere fact that land of a railway company is required for the purpose of its undertakings and is not superfluous land, does not prevent an occupier who has exclusive possession for the period prescribed by the statute of limitations becoming thereby entitled to the land by virtue of the statute.

Here in the United States there have been numerous decisions to the same effect. In Massachusetts (in Littlefield vs. Railroad Company) it was held that title was gained by adverse possession to land adjoining a railroad which had been occupied openly, adversely and exclusively from 1852 to 1880, although the railroad company claimed an equitable right to it but did not take actual possession until the latter year. In Railway Co. vs. Kindred, the Supreme Court of Kansas did indeed hold that possession by adjoining land-owners of part of a right of way granted by Congress as an easement to a railroad company must be regarded as permissive only, and not hostile or adverse so as to confer title. But the Court points out that the decision in that case rested on the principle that the fee of the land belonged to the United States, and that as against the Federal Government land-owners could acquire no title by possession or limitation.

Of like tenor are the rulings of the Illinois judiciary. In Railroad Co. vs. O'Connor, the Supreme Court of that State held that the exclusive adverse possession for twenty years by a farmer as part of his farm of a strip of land adjoining a railroad track was a complete bar to the assertion by the railroad company of an easement in such strip. The doctrine laid down in that case was that while mere non use of all or part of a railroad location, or right of way, will not defeat or impair the right, yet the adjoining land-owner, or the owner of the fee, may obtain title or regain title by an adverse use or occupancy for the requisite statutory period, where the conduct of a company has been such as to indicate its intention to abandon the whole or part of the location or right of way.

In the action in New Jersey, where the present ruling was obtained, the defendant railroad had cited cases holding that no length of time will justify an encroachment upon streets or public highways. But the Court says these cases do not touch the question in dispute in the present instance. Streets and highways are vested in the public authorities for purposes that are exclusively public—a purely public right with no semblance of private ownership—and lands so appropriated to public use are absolutely inalienable. On the other hand the possession by a railroad company of its roadbed is the possession by a corporation as its private property to enable it to perfrom a public duty.

*EARLY EFFECTS OF THE SPANISH WAR UPON THE FOREIGN TRADE OF JAPAN.

TOKIO, July 1, 1898.

The news regarding the outbreak of war between the United States and Spain was received here with some surprise. As we could not foresee the possible effects of the conflict on the Pacific Ocean and of the subsequent derangement in international communication, that part of our foreign trade which includes the dealing of this country with the United States has been subjected for the time being to considerable disturbance.

Even earlier than this—that is, immediately after the blowing up of the Maine—the demand for our raw silk and other articles of luxury by the United States was much diminished and our export trade suffered accordingly, as indicated in the following table.

JAPANESE EXPORTS OF RAW SILK TO THE U. S.

	—Monthly account.—		—Total at end of each succeeding month.—
	1898.	1897.	1898.	1897.
January	1,882,938	1,115,411	1,882,938	1,115,411
February	2,484,297	1,557,641	4,367,236	2,673,052
March	1,295,720	3,227,555	5,662,956	5,900,607
April	1,202,149	1,642,750	6,865,105	7,543,357

In studying the above table it becomes apparent that our export trade in raw silk for the United States, which had made a promising advance in January and February, abruptly declined in the following months. It is altogether needless to say that such was an inevitable outcome of the general agitation in the United States arising from the explosion of the Maine; for silk being an article of luxury the demand for it would naturally fall off as soon as a war cloud arose. Unfortunately our export commodities consist mainly of things of luxury, such as silk, tea, camphor, porcelain and various curios. Therefore if the present war continues long, it might give a severe blow to our trade, especially because silk and tea constitute most important elements of all our export goods, and one-half of these materials is annually consumed in the United States.

Such being the peculiarity of our foreign commerce, one can readily understand why our market prices of tea and silk are so unsteady under the influence of the present war. It is to be remembered that the new season for tea and silk begins as early as April, and the markets for these new commodities are generally opened with good prices. The present spring the opening prices of new tea and silk were quoted in Yokohama at forty yen and eighty-six yen respectively. But as soon as the war broke out between the United States and Spain the regular course of business in the treaty port of Yokohama was nearly suspended for a time, and the quotations for tea and silk were only thirty and seventy-seven yen respectively.

On the other hand, imported goods, such as raw cotton and kerosene oil, have spontaneously risen in value. With the higher price of raw cotton has come a higher price for cotton yarn. It rose from eighty-five yen to eighty-nine yen. For a time the prices of these commodities fluctuated very violently, and our foreign trade was almost in a state of chaos. Not until the news concerning the victory of the American fleet at Manila reached here did our foreign trade resume its regular routine. Thus silk has nearly regained its original price, while raw cotton and cotton yarn have resumed their former quotations. Tea, though not back to its previous figure, has sold quite freely under the new circumstances.

These are some aspects of the business confusion which took place in this country at the outset of the Hispano-American War. And the reason for these violent disturbances in prices can be readily ascertained.

Before the American victory at Manila the danger on the Pacific Ocean was universally regarded to be paramount; merchants refrained from shipping their merchandise in American vessels, and insurance companies declined to run the great risk of insuring any cargo in American vessels. But when the battle of Manila decided the fate of the Spanish fleet in the East and gave the American navy complete control of the Pacific, our business relations with the United States again became safe; hence our shipments for your country are now freely made in American vessels, and insurance companies are willing to do their business with our shippers, only charging some small amount extra.

Therefore the great victory of the American fleet was a very encouraging event to Japan as well as the United States. Moreover we think the American navy deserves high credit for its brilliant strategy in so quickly securing free control of the vast ocean.

Turning to the increasing cost of business under the present trouble, let us first quote the following list of extra charges made by the famous China Insurance Company, whose example is almost universally adopted by other minor firms in Kobe and Yokohama.

EXTRA CHARGE OF INSURANCE FEE FOR THE WAR.

By neutral ship for a fighting country	2½ per cent
By neutral ship for a neutral country	1¼ per cent
By American ship for America	5 per cent
By American ship for a neutral country	2½ per cent

In addition, the freight over the Pacific has generally risen about thirty per cent. Those steamship companies which used to charge six dollars per ton of Japanese curio for freight from Japanese port to the Western coast of the United States now charge eight dollars. Necessarily every one of these conditions tends to keep the price of various export goods in this country at a lower level than usual, while at a higher level in the United States. Moreover, the new import duty on tea adopted by the American Government as a part of the war finance, has much aggravated the unfavorable situation of the tea trade in this country by bringing down the price for this important product as low as twenty-five sen per pound. While on the other hand the rate of interest is excessively high here at present, and wages are increasing almost every day. Thus the Japanese tea planters are rapidly losing their money.

These unfavorable circumstances are the causes of general regret here, though we Japanese are in deep sympathy with the American people in the present trouble. We wish, therefore, to see a speedy end to the war in favor of the United States.

So far as the trouble in the Philippines is concerned, the case is entirely different. Our trade with these islands is very insignificant, and the prevailing state of belligerency at Manila is not so intolerable to us as the disturbances in our trade with the United States. But the question whether the islands should remain under the rule of the United States or under any European power is a matter of great importance for us. Certainly France, Russia and Germany would not allow England to purchase them from the United States. England, on the contrary, would not allow her rivals to satisfy their ambition. If the United States should return the islands to Spain at the end of the war, the latter might turn them over to some Continental Power. Under any of these circumstances, disturbing international complications might ensue about which Japan can not remain absolutely unconcerned.

Hence it is very important that the United States should retain the islands. Their resources might be best cultivated by the first industrial power in the world, and the prosperity of these, our neighboring islands would either directly or indirectly improve our foreign trade. Therefore we are very glad to extend our hands and welcome the United States to this quarter of the world. We believe her presence in this hemisphere would eventually make the principle of peace a more active force than at present in the sphere of the Eastern diplomacy.

FAILURES BY BRANCHES OF TRADE.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS OF GOLD AND SILVER AT SAN FRANCISCO.

We have received this week from the Collector of Customs at San Francisco the details of imports and exports of gold and silver through that port for the month of June, and give them below, together with the figures for the preceding months, thus completing the results for the fiscal year 1897-98. The imports of gold continue of large volume, the amount received reaching $2,885,485, of which $2,437,761 was in coin. Of silver there came in $106,130, of which $98,768 was bullion. There has been received during the twelve months a total of $25,334,423 gold and $3,033,303 silver, which compares with $9,572,572 gold and $2,138,053 silver in 1896-97. The shipments of gold during June were only $37,205 coin and the exports of silver have been $165,946 coin. For the twelve months the exports of gold have been $1,217,490, against $1,083,945 in 1896-97, and $9,514,481 silver has been sent out, against $9,459,133 in 1896-97. The exhibit for June and the twelve months is as follows:

Clearings by Telegraph.—Sales of Stocks, Bonds, &c.—Transactions of the Stock Exchange Clearing House.—The subjoined table, covering clearings for the current week, usually appears on the first page of the CHRONICLE, but on account of the length of the other tables is crowded out once a month. The figures are received by telegraph from the leading cities. It will be observed that as compared with the corresponding week of 1897 there is an increase in the aggregate of 2·4 per cent. So far as the individual cities are concerned, New York exhibits an increase of 0·9 per cent, and the gains at other points are: Philadelphia 9·4 per cent, and New Orleans 0·2 per cent. Boston records a loss of 1·5 per cent, Chicago 4·4 per cent, Baltimore 14·5 per cent, and St. Louis 3·1 per cent.

Monetary and Commercial English News

LONDON, Saturday, July 23, 1898.

The confident hope, almost amounting to a fixed belief that the fall of Santiago was not only the beginning of the end, but that it meant almost an immediate termination of your war with Spain, which prevailed here at the end of last week, waned somewhat at times this week. The result has been naturally to check the buoyant spirits of the Stock Exchange, which looked for an early boom on the termination of hostilities. It is generally believed in London as well as in the other great capitals of Europe that the Queen Regent of Spain and the Spanish Ministers, and indeed all those responsible for the administration of affairs in Spain, realize as fully as their advisers the utter hopelessness of carrying on the struggle against a country so much wealthier, more populous, and possessing such infinitely greater resources as the United States.

It is already notorious at every financial centre in Europe that the Spanish Government is utterly bankrupt, and being unable to raise loans in any direction it is rapidly driving, if it has not already driven, the Bank of Spain into bankruptcy That institution, relying for its credit not upon the sound state of its finances, but merely upon a law promulgated by the Spanish Government, I need not add that notes of the Bank of Spain are at a ruinous discount, and that the peseta for purposes of foreign exchange is worth only about a quarter of its nominal value. For purposes of their own the Carlists in the north and the Republicans in the South are threatening the Spanish Government with destruction unless it maintains the integrity of the Spanish colonial empire, in spite of the fact that your navy has driven two Spanish fleets to the bottom of the ocean, that your troops already occupy nearly half of Cuba, that United States ships dominate the other half, and that your Government has despatched a naval and military expedition to Porto Rico, and is about ready to send a fleet to Spain itself. Both in the interest of humanity and for the good of the Spanish people themselves, a vigorous policy on the part of your Government, which if necessary would menace the ports of Spain, would be the best in the long run, as that at any rate must convince even the malcontents that it is impossible for Spain to continue the war much longer.

The Dreyfus case remains the subject of special interest in France. M. Zola was this week condemned to a heavy fine and a term of imprisonment. The sentence, however, was not put into execution, and it was generally thought that an appeal to the Court of Cassation would be lodged. M. Zola's legal advisers, however, decided upon a different course, and it is now announced that the famous novelist has left Paris for Switzerland.

It is semi-officially announced this week from Berlin that the German Government intends to ask the Imperial Reichstag for a further increase to the already immense army of the German Empire. One of the most serious difficulties which the great Powers on the Continent have to face at the present moment, and one of the causes of the discontent reported from time to time from the great centres of industry upon the Continent, is the heavy taxation under which the different countries groan, owing to the necessity of keeping up the bloated armaments which have come into fashion since the Franco German war of 1870. This increase, if it is authorized by the German Parliament, as it probably will be, will further increase the heavy taxation which is already, as I have said, so grievous a burden to the German population. In addition, it will almost certainly be followed by an increase in the standing armies of both France and Russia, and how long this insane practice of expanding the size of their military establishments by one government after anothher can go on remains to be seen No empire, however rich, can stand for any prolonged period an indefinite expansion of its military establishments. Besides making the taxation almost unbearable, it removes from the ranks of the industrial population the very people who are best fitted to pay the taxes.

I need hardly add that the renewal of apprehension regarding the probable duration of your war with Spain has had the effect of completely checking the upward movement of American securities upon the Stock Exchange. Business in every department, I may say roughly, has been reduced to the very smallest dimensions. In the great investment markets prices are so extravagantly high that buyers see very little to "go for," and, after the market for American railway securities, our greatest speculative section here in London is the South African mining section. Business in that market is also depressed. A big election contest is now impending in Cape Colony, and many well-informed people confidently predict that the result of the Cape elections will be to bring Mr. Cecil Rhodes once more to power, and if that proves to be the case it is doubted whether South Africa, big as it is, will prove roomy enough for President Kruger and Mr. Cecil Rhodes. The "Colossus," by latest advices, is credited with the intention to remain in the background a while longer.

With the announcement of the dull season the Indian m ney markets have become quite easy and rates for money have become light. The official figures of the two great Presidency banks, viz., the Bank of Bengal and the Bank of Bombay, have been reduced this week to 5 per cent, and the cash balances of both these institutions show further gains during the week. In addition rates in the interior, which a few months ago ranged from anything between 20 and 40 per cent and in some remote districts even higher, are now only 2 or 3 per cent above the official rate at Calcutta.

The India Council again this week was remarkably successful in the disposal of its drafts. It announced for the present a further reduction in the amount offered each week for tender to 25 lacs of rupees, which is the same amount as it offered all through July last year. Applications this week were received for 235 lacs, and the prices obtained ranged from 1s. 3 29-32d. per rupee to 1s. 3 15-16d., and special allotments were afterwards made at 1s. 3 31-32d. The total sales for the year have already realized £6,200,000, as against a trifle over 3 millions at the corresponding date last year, showing how rapidly India has recovered from the series of crises through which she had to pass during 1897.

The following return shows the position of the Bank of England, the Bank rate of discount, the price of consols, &c., compared with the last three years:

Messrs. Pixley & Abell write as follows under date o July 21:

Gold.—The Bank has received £117,000 from South America, an d £264,000 has been withdrawn, chiefly in German gold coin. The demand for Russia continues firm, and a large amount has been bought by the Indian Bazaar. Shipments to India, £20,000. Arrivals: Chili £9,000; South Africa; £198,000; Brazil, £142,000; India, £54,000 Australia, £152,000. Total, £555,000.

Silver.—The market is firm on covering purchases against July sales, and owing to the recent large buying of Spain, it is difficult to obtain more silver from New York for near delivery. India Bazaar price 70 Rs. Shipments to Bombay, £70,000. Arrivals: Chili, £38,000; New York, £30,000.

Mexican Dollars.—A large business has taken place in these coin, partly on account of improved Eastern Exchange, and also for melting them in London into bar silver. Shipments; Penang, £4,800; Hongkong, £17,000.

WALL STREET, FRIDAY, AUG. 5, 1898.—5 P. M.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—The security markets have steadily improved this week, both in volume of business and prices. It is now understood that the war has virtually ended and the revival which might naturally be expected to follow the five months or more of depression since the destruction of the Maine has now commenced. There are, moreover, other conditions which favor the buoyancy now existing in Wall Street.

The most prominent of these favorable conditions are not new, they have recently been referred to in this column, but are becoming more forcible as the season advances. Abundant rains in the corn belt have improved the prospective corn crop since our last issue, and a large wheat yield may now be considered practically assured. The enormous traffic between the East and the West that will result from these harvests is not likely to be over-estimated. The foreign exchange market was early in the week on a gold-importing basis and a little over $2,000,000 of the yellow metal is now in transit or engaged for shipment from Europe. The money market is abundantly supplied with funds and unusually low rates prevail. These facts and the confidence which they inspire account in part for the active demand for investment securities noted above.

The open market rates for call loans on the Stock Exchange during the week on stock and bond collaterals have ranged from 1¼ to 1½ per cent. To-day's rates on call were 1¼ to 1½ per cent. Prime commercial paper is quoted at 3½ to 4¼ per cent.

The Bank of England weekly statement on Thursday showed a decrease in bullion of £803,948, and the percentage of reserve to liabilities was 44·59, against 45·34 last week; the discount rate remains unchanged at 2½ per cent. The Bank of France shows an increase of 1,725,000 francs in gold and 700,000 francs in silver.

The New York City Clearing-House banks in their statement of July 30 showed a decrease in the reserve held of $1,019,700 and a surplus over the required reserve of $41,904,475, against $43,012,000 the previous week.

The Clearing-House, on Oct. 30, 1897, also began issuing weekly returns showing the condition of the non-member banks which clear through the Clearing-House institutions. The statement in full for the latest week will be found on a preceding page.

Foreign Exchange.—The market for foreign exchange has been generally steady and without special feature. Gold importing houses were moderate purchasers of bills, the demand from other sources being limited.

To-day's actual rates of exchange were as follows: Bankers' sixty days' sterling, 4 83¾@4 84; demand, 4 85⅛@4 85¼; cables, 4 85¼@4 86; prime commercial, sixty days, 4 83¼@4 83½; documentary commercial, sixty days, 4 82¾@4 83; grain for payment, 4 82¾@4 83; cotton for payment, 4 82¾@4 83; cotton for acceptance, 4 83¼@4 83½.

Posted rates of leading bankers follow:

State & Railroad Bonds.—Sales of State bonds at the Board are limited to $2,000 Virginia fund. debt 2-3s of 1991 at 72¾ and $1,000 Alabama Class C at 98.

Business in the market for railway bonds steadily increased from about $2,000,000 par value on Monday to over $7,000,000 on Thursday, when the transactions were heavier than for any day in many months. Offerings were confined largely to medium and low-grade bonds, many of which have been conspicuous of late. Prominent among these are Union Pacific Denver & Gulf trust receipts, which, continuing their upward movement, gained 4⅝ points within the week and 2 points since January. Missouri Pacific trust 5s advanced 4 points, and Atchison adjustment 4s, St. Louis Southwestern firsts and Wisconsin Central trust receipts 2 or more points. The list of active bonds which advanced a point or more includes Chesapeake & Ohio general 4½s, Chicago Terminal, Fort Worth & Rio Grande 1st 3 4s, Norfolk & Western con. 4s, Northern Pacific, Erie, Oregon Short Line and Wabash debenture Series B issues.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—Both investment and speculative interest in the stock market have increased this week. No developments of importance have been made public affecting any particular line of stocks. Dividend-paying shares are in demand, and liberal sales for foreign account of internationally-listed stocks were readily absorbed at advancing prices. Of the railway list the grangers and trunk line stocks were leaders in activity and strength. Quotations for Burlington & Quincy were the highest since 1892, for North West. the highest since 1883, and for Lake Shore the highest in its history. Special strength is noted in shares of the trans Continental lines the leading grain-carrying and other less prominent roads. The coal stocks were relatively weak, following the advance noted in our last issue, and local traction shares were irregular.

The miscellaneous list shows the effect of an increased demand. New York Air Brake advanced over 14 points, American Cotton Oil and United States Rubber preferred 5 and 4 points respectively, and American Tobacco 7 points.

Investment AND Railroad Intelligence.

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

The following table shows the gross earnings of every STEAM railroad from which regular weekly or monthly returns can be obtained. The first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the period from January 1 to and including such latest week or month.

The returns of the street railways are brought together separately on a subsequent page.

For the month of July 56 roads (all that have furnished statements for the full month as yet) show aggregate results as follows:

Month of July.	1898.	1897.	Increase.	Per Cent.
Gross earnings (56 roads)	24,423,483	23,773,205	650,278	2·74

It will be seen that there is a gain on the roads reporting in the amount of $650,278, or 2·74 per cent.

Net Earnings Monthly to Latest Dates.—The table following shows the gross and net earnings of STEAM railroads reported this week. A full detailed statement, including all roads from which monthly returns can be obtained, is given once a month in these columns, and the latest statement of this kind will be found in the CHRONICLE of July 23, 1898. The next will appear in the issue of August 20, 1898.

b Net earnings here given are before deducting taxes.

* After allowing for other income received, total net for June 1837 was $19,566 and from July 1 to June 30 was $455,557, against $559,163.

c Deducting other expenditures for repairs, replacements and general expenses, net income applicable to interest on bonds in June was $94,663, against $97,850 last year, and for January 1 to June 30 $553,939, against $765,521. This is the result in Mexican dollars treated (according to the company's method of keeping its accounts) as equivalent to 80 cents in United States money—that is, depreciation beyond 20 per cent has already been allowed for.

† For June, 1898, taxes and rentals amounted to $116,857, against $157,349, and from July 1 to June 30 $1,715,664, against $2,093,821, after deducting which, net for June, 1898, was $544,782, against $279,368. From July 1 to June 30, net, after deducting taxes and rentals, is $8,092,100, against $6,302,698.

; Net earnings here given include other income received.

STREET RAILWAYS AND TRACTION COMPANIES.

The following table shows the gross earnings for the latest period of all STREET railways from which we are able to obtain weekly or monthly returns. The arrangement of the table is the same as that for the steam roads—that is, the first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the calendar year from January 1 to and including such latest week or month.

Street Railway Net Earnings.—The following table gives the returns of STREET railway gross and net earnings received this week. In reporting these net earnings for the street railways, we adopt the same plan as that for the steam road—that is, we print each week all the returns received that week, but once a month (on the third or the fourth Saturday) we bring together all the roads furnishing returns, and the latest statement of this kind will be found in the CHRONICLE of July 23, 1898. The next will appear in the issue of August 20, 1898.

Boston Electric Light Company.

Pres. Gilbert says in substance: "The reduction of dividends from 8 per cent to 6 per cent, two years ago, has enabled the company to use the surplus profit for the reduction of the floating indebtedness, so that this debt has been reduced about $210,000. In the entire business section twice the capacity of underground conduits were laid as were necessary to take care of the present business, which ensures a sufficient number of ducts for a great many years to come. We have also during the past year been able to obtain dynamos to generate twice as many lights per dynamo as formerly, which gives us twice the capacity upon the present circuits already underground for the arc lighting business.

The Board of Gas and Electric Light Commissioners has granted authority for the issuing of additional stock to pay for the real estate which has been purchased in South Boston, and to build a large generating station on it. This work has been pushed and we look now for the completion of the new station in October of this year. This generating plant will be the finest and most complete plant of the kind in the world.

The earnings make the following showing:

Income	$809,943	$759,644	$860,973	$610,265

Glucose Sugar Refining Co.

(Report for 10½ months ending June 30, 1898.)

The annual meeting of stockholders was held at the corporate office of the company, No. 1 Exchange Place, in Jersey City, on Tuesday. The company began business on Aug. 2, 1897, but as several of its factories were not in operation till the latter part of August, the report presented at the meeting covers practically about 10½ months. The report, as quoted by the daily newspapers, showed the following:

Corn, ground	20,616,881 bushels
Products—
Glucose	542,100,000 pounds
Starch	120,372,000 "
Dextrine	2,600,000 "
Sugar	98,392,000 "
Residue	157,788 tons
Corn oil included in residue	2,600,000 pounds
Profits—
Profit for year after writing off $598,152 for betterments and repairs	$1,863,157
Four quarterly dividends of 1¾ per cent each on $12,619,300 preferred stock	883,351
Surplus	$979,806

Three dividends of 1¾ per cent on preferred were paid during the year and a fourth dividend of 1¾ per cent was declared on the preferred stock on Tuesday, payable Sept. 1. After the meeting, President Matthiessen is reported to have said that the managers expected to pay the first dividend on the common stock next November. Of the $14,000,000 preferred stock, $12,619,000 is outstanding, and of the $26,000,000 common stock $24,027,300 is outstanding, the remainder being held in the treasury. The old board of directors was re-elected, except that John P. Wilson and James P. Vredenburg took the place of Dr. Firminich and Edwin Meyer. The following officers were elected: C. H. Matthiessen, President; S. T. Butler, Vice President; William Dickinson, Secretary and Treasurer. The office of Second Vice President, which has been held by Dr. George Firminich was abolished. The board of directors includes:

For five years F. O. Matthiessen, E. A. Matthiessen, C. H. Matthiessen, Wm. Dickinson and A. Q. Garrettson; for four years—N. B. Ream; for three years—J. P. Wilson and Jas. B. Vredenberg; for one year—S. T. Butler.

The companies not merged in the Glucose Sugar Refining Co. are the National Starch Co. of Glen Cove, L. I.; Chas. Pope Manufacturing Co. and the U. S. Sugar Refining Co. of Waukegan.—V. 67, p. 177.

Atlantic Coast Line RR. of South Carolina—In Possession Aug. 1.—President C. S. Gadsden has issued the following circular:

Commencing Aug. 1, 1898, the Atlantic Coast Line RR. Co. of South Carolina will become the actual and legal successor by consolidation of the following railroad companies: Wilmington Columbia & Augusta, Northeastern of South Carolina, Cheraw & Darlington, Manchester & Augusta, Florence of South Carolina. The Atlantic Coast Line RR Co. of South Carolina will succeed to and assume all their liabilities and assets. The principal office of the company will be at Charleston, S. C. The following have been elected officers of the new company with their respective addresses: C. S. Gadsden, President, Charles on, S. C.; H. Walters, Vice-President, Wilmington, N.C.; C. C. Olney, Secretary and Treasurer, Charleston, S. C.; J. F. Post, Jr., Assistant Treasurer, Wilmington, N. C.; J. R. Kenly, General Manager, Wilmington, N. C.—V. 67, p. 179.

Baltimore & Ohio RR.—Plan Operative.—Penalty After Aug. 20.—The plan or reorganization has been declared operative. Over 93½ per cent of the bonds and 73 per cent of the stocks disturbed have been deposited. The time for further deposits has been extended to Aug. 20, after which date they will be accepted only on a cash payment of 2 per cent on the par value of bonds and $2 per share of stock deposited.

Suit of Preferred Shareholders Filed.—At Baltimore, July 20, the preferred stockholders filed their petition in the United States Court for an injunction to prevent the committee from carrying out the proposed reorganization until the petitioners' rights have been protected and until the Supreme Court of the United States has passed upon the question whether the preferred stock is a lien on the road. Judge Morris signed the order requiring the company to show cause on or before Sept. 20 why the restraining order should not be issued. The State of Maryland, Johns Hopkins University and Jons Hopkins Hospital, together with individual holders, filed the petition.—V. 67, p. 221.

Brooklyn & New York Ferry.—Brooklyn Ferry.—Meeting Aug. 18 to Authorize Sale.—The stockholders of the Brooklyn & New York Ferry Co. will vote Aug. 18 on the proposition to sell the property, rights, privileges and franchises of the company to the Brooklyn Ferry Co., organized last week. V. 67, p. 221.

Brunswick Dock & City Improvement Co. of Georgia.—Bonds Paid.—Treasurer Kraetzer says:

The directors having sold the 7,302 shares treasury stock to a syndicate, they are enabled to call in and pay $176,600 bonds of the company. This leaves but $3,700 bonds outstanding, the owner of which declines to come into the arrangement agreed to by all the other bondholders. This practically turns over to the stockholders this vast property free and clear, with the exception of above-mentioned $3,700 bonds and against which we have to the credit of sinking fund $826, also secured bills receivable for $5,000 and have cash on hand $57,000.—V. 60, p. 1043.

Carolina Central RR.—Raleigh & Gaston RR.—Seaboard & Roanoke RR.—Readjustment Plan—Guaranty.—A committee consisting of

has issued a plan for the readjustment of the securities of the Carolina Central RR. Under this plan a new 4 per cent mortgage for $3,000,000 will be issued to retire the existing indebtedness. This mortgage will be guaranteed jointly and severally as to both principal and interest by the Seaboard & Roanoke and Raleigh & Gaston, these companies being large owners of the stock and junior mortgage bonds of the Carolina Central. In return for their guaranty the companies will receive $300,000 of the new capital stock.

The new securities are to be as follows:

New fifty-year four per cent gold bonds, secured by a first consolidated mortgage upon the entire property, franchises and line of the Carolina Central RR., as it now exists, and upon all its future acquired property, said new bonds and mortgage to bear date of Jan 2, 1899, with first interest coupon payable July 1, 1899. The payment of said bonds and the interest becoming due thereon shall be jointly and severally guaranteed by the Seaboard & Roanoke R R. Co. and by the Raleigh & Gaston R R. Co. Total issue.....$3,000,000
All to retire the old 1st M., 2d M. and 3d M. bonds.

Preferred stock 5 per cent non-cumulative $300,000
All to be issued for old 2d M. and 3d M. bonds.

Common stock.....$1,500,000
Of which in exchange for old stock.... .... 1,230,000
To the guarantor companies for their guaranty..... 300,000

If a second mortgage is put upon the road, the $300,000 of preferred stock is to be made a part of same, and second mortgage bonds issued to replace it.

The exchange of old for new securities will be as follows:

Old securities in amounts of	New 1st 4s.	—Will receive— Pref. stk.	Com. stk

Common stock ($1,200,000) $100.....	.....	.....	$100

Security-holders are requested to deposit their holdings with the Farmers' Loan & Trust Co. of New York on or before Nov. 1, 1898. In case a minority of the holders of either of the series of bonds endeavors to interfere with the successful operation of the plan, the committee is authorized to apply for the appointment of a receiver and for foreclosure sale, whenever advised that proper grounds exist for such action. In case the bondholders fail to deposit two thirds of each series of said outstanding bonds within the time prescribed or any extension thereof, the depositing bondholders shall be entitled, at the option of the boudholders' committee, to withdraw the bonds and certificates so deposited.

Guaranty.—The agreement of guaranty includes not only the principal and interest of the new bonds, but all the company's fixed charges, as appears from the following:

Fourth.—The said Seaboard & Roanoke RR Co. and the said Raleigh & Gaston RR. Co., members of the Seaboard Air Line Association, and large owners of the stock and junior mortgage bonds of said Carolina Central RR., in consideration of the premises and of $300,000 in said new common stock to be issued to them, jointly and severally agree to guarantee, and do hereby jointly and severally guarantee, the payment of the principal and interest as and when the same shall become due and payable, of an aggregate of $3,000,000 of 50-year 4 per cent gold bonds, to be issued by the said Carolina Central RR. Co., and secured by a consolidated mortgage as aforesaid, and they also as a further consideration for said stock hereby guarantee the fixed charges of said Carolina Central RR. Co., including taxes and the amounts required to be paid by the Carolina Central RR. Co. under the Wilmington Bridge contract bearing date Nov. 8, 1866, whether or not said association known as the Seaboard Air Line is broken or in any way disrupted from any cause whatever prior to the payment in full of the principal and interest of the said new issue of 50-year 4 per cent bonds herein provided for, and their guaranty shall be duly endorsed upon each of the said bonds to an aggregate amount of $3,000,000.

In August, 1894, interest on the first mortgage bonds was guaranteed for five years by the Seaboard Air Line at the reduced rate of 4 per cent and income scrip was issued for the remaining 2 per cent per annum. As this guaranty will expire next year, a permanent readjustment is considered advisable.—V. 59, p. 600; V. 66, p. 83; V. 65, p. 1116.

Central Traction Co. of St. Louis.—Increase of Stock.—The stockholders on July 30 voted to increase the capital stock from $100,000 to $5,000 000. The intention is to push construction as rapidly as possible after necessary preliminaries are arranged, such as the issuance of bonds and the letting of contracts. An issue of $5,000,000, it is understood, will be authorized in the near future. An attempt is being made to annul the charter.—V. 67, p. 176.

Central Vermont RR.—Interest Payment.—Ezra H. Baker, Chairman of committee representing holders of consolidated Railroad of Vermont 5 per cent bonds, gave notice last week to holders of American Loan & Trust Company certificates of deposit for consolidated Railroad of Vermont 5 per cent bonds that, in accordance with the agreement with the Grand Trunk Railway Co., 1 per cent would be paid on and after Aug. 1 on the above certificates at the office of the American Loan & Trust Co., No. 53 State Street, Boston, or at the office of Messrs. R. L. Day & Co., No. 1 Broad Street, New York. This is the quarterly payment at the rate of 4 per cent per annum guaranteed for one year pending reorganization.—V. 66, p. 1043.

Chicago Edison Company.—$350,000 Bonds Sold.—The company has sold for improvements $350 000 of its 5 per cent gold bonds, making $3,325,000 of the loan outstanding.—V. 66, p. 1043.

Chicago Indianapolis & Louisville Ry.—Additional Stock Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed the $1,116,250 of preferred stock recently sold being the remainder of the $5,000,000 preferred stock authorized by the charter. "The said $1,116,250 of preferred stock has been sold for the purpose of providing capital for the construction and betterment of the property of said railway, and such work is already in process of construction."—V. 67, p. 223.

Consolidated Fireworks Co. of America—Central Fireworks Co.—To Reduce Capital Stock.—The stockholders of the Consolidated Fireworks Co. will meet at the office, Nos. 9 and 11 Park Place, on Aug. 9, 1898, to vote on a proposition to reduce the outstanding capital stock from $1,838,400, consisting of 5,490 shares of preferred stock, and 12,894 shares of common stock, all of $100 per share, to $1,464,400, to consist of 5,490 shares of preferred stock and 9,154 shares of common stock, the par value in each case to remain as now at $100 per share. A majority of the capital stock is held, with other shares, by the Central Fireworks Co., a company organized in New Jersey and controlling a large share of the fireworks business of the United States. The Central has outstanding $2,072,900 of capital stock, of which a portion is 7 per cent preferred. The preferred shares have received one dividend, 2 or 2½ per cent in September, 1897, and another is expected next month.—V. 63, p. 1150.

Delaware (O.), Electric Street Ry.—Sold.—This property was sold by Receiver Cone, July 30, at public auction to B. W. Brown and others of Delaware City for $13,525.

Detroit Plymouth & Northville Electric Ry.—New Mortgage.—The company has filed a mortgage for $150,000, to the Union Trust Company of Detroit as trustee.

Great Northern Ry.—Seattle & Montana RR.—New Stock Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed the $25,000,000 additional preferred capital stock recently issued by the Great Northern Ry. Co., making total amount listed $50,000,000.—V. 67, p. 179; V. 66, p. 1183.

Hudson Tunnel Ry.—Reorganization.—We are officially informed that the reorganization plan of 1896 (V. 63, p. 154) will be practically the basis of the new scheme, although it is possible that a small increase may be made in the income bonds and stock. The deposit of the bonds is now being called for under a reorganization agreement which appoints a committee to formulate a plan, which is to be lodged in London with Messrs. Roberts, Lubbock & Co., and in New York with the Farmers' Loan & Trust Co. The committee as yet has not taken up the details of this plan, but it will probably not differ greatly from the plan of 1896.

The foreclosure decree was presented to the Chancellor of New Jersey last week, and will be signed in a few days, and a similar decree will follow in the ancillary suit brought in New York. The committee has not hurried the formulation of a distinct plan, since not wishing to bring it out until arrangements had been finally completed to underwrite the new prior lien bonds which are to be issued for the completion of the tunnel.—V. 67, p. 222.

Hutchinson & Southern Ry.—Receiver Applied For.—At Hutchinson, Kan., on July 30, F. C. Smith, of Colorado Springs, Col., filed a petition in the United States Circuit Court at Wichita, asking for a receiver for the property. The case will be argued before Judge Williams at Colorado Springs next Monday.

In reply to our inquiry as to the ground for the receivership suit, Treasurer Roger N. Allen writes us as follows: "There has not been any default in payment of July coupons. The application for a receiver has been made by a man with whom our company never had any dealings. His claim was connected with the old railroad company and the old receiver. It would hardly seem possible that any United States Court could put us into the hands of a receiver under such circumstances."—V. 66, p. 233.

Illinois Central RR.—Bonds Called.—The twenty-fifth annual drawing of the sterling 5 per cent sinking fund bonds of this company was held at the office, 214 Broadway, New York, on Aug. 1. The numbers of the 50 bonds drawn to be redeemed at part at the office of Messrs. Morton, Chaplin & Co., London, on Oct. 1 next, will be furnished by Treasurer E. T. H. Gibson upon application.—V. 67, p. 177.

Indiana Illinois & Iowa RR.—New Officers.—On June 16, 1898, T. P. Shonts war elected President, vice F. M. Drake, resigned, and Joy Morton, Vice President, vice George H. Holt, resigned. Also R. P. Ahrens has been elected Secretary and Treasurer, vice S. A. Drake, resigned. The company's office is 919 The Rookery, Chicago.—V. 67, p. 177.

Indiana Natural Gas Co.—Dividend Passed.—The company failed to declare this week its regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent, owing in part, it is said, to existing difficulties with the People's Gas Co. of Chicago.

John Good & Jennings Patent Machine Cordage Co.—New Cordage Company.—John Good has organized this company to manufactnre cordage making machinery and also to make cordage. New and improved machinery invented within the past two years by Mr. Good, it is stated, will be employed in the new factory. The men interested include Abraham G. Jennings, of the Jennings Lace Works, and Albert G. Jennings. Mr. Good is President and Abraham G. Jennings Treasurer.

Kingston & Pembroke Ry.—Reorganization Plan.—We have been favored by Messrs. Folger Brothers, bankers, of Kingston, Ontario, with a copy of the bill passed at the late session of the Canadian Parliament providing for the reorganization of the Kingston & Pembroke Ry. The carrying out of the plan, which has already been referred to in this column, is contingent upon the payment by the company of all the interest due on the $572,000 of existing first mortgage 6 per cent bonds to Jan. 1, 1899, inclusive, and must be effected, if at all, prior to April 1, 1899, the powers conferred by the act ceasing on that date.

If, however, prior to the date named, the company shall pay the interest aforesaid, all further interest on the first preference bonds shall cease and the old bonds shall no longer be enforceable against the company, which is thereupon empowered to adjust its capitalization so as to consist of the following:

First mortgage 3 per cent gold "debentures" of $1,000 each, due Jan. 1, 1912, with interest payable J&J in New York. Said bonds shall be secured by first mortgage on the property, income, etc., which mortgage shall be foreclosable in case of one year's default, upon request of $50,000 of the bonds. Total loan..... $572,000
To be exchanged dollar for dollar for present debentures.
First preferred 5 per cent non-cumulative stock in $50 shares, issuable as full paid stock. Total issue not to exceed..... 1,000,000
To be sold to such an amount and at such price as will pay the interest due on the existing debentures to Jan. 1, 1899, inclusive.
Second preferred 3 per cent stock in $50 shares..... 150,000
To be issued pro rata to holders of the $572,000 existing bonds, but only as whole shares.
Ordinary shares.—The directors are authorized to call in the present stock certificates and to issue in lieu thereof stock certificates for one-half the present amount thereof, thus reducing the capital stock from $5,000,000 to..... 2,500,000

If the readjustment takes place, the holders of the present 6 per cent bonds will be entitled to interest at the old rate in cash to Jan. 1, 1899, inclusive, to par in new first mortgage 3 per cents and to about 26 per cent in new second preferred 3 per cent stock.—V. 66, p. 1045.

Lynchburg (Va.) Electric Railway & Light Co.—Reorganized Company.—This company, successor to the Lynchburg Electric Company, foreclosed, has been organized with the following directors: Randolph Harrison of Lynchburg; H. G. Runkle, H. D. McDana, W. S. Johnston, R. A. C. Smith, Thomas D. Kent and Isaac Rosenwald of New York. Over $50,000, it is said, will be spent in improving the road. The company has petitioned that its franchise be extended for thirty years from January 10.—V. 66, p. 472.

Macon Gas Light & Water—Macon & Indian Springs RR.—Reorganization.—Preparatory to reorganization and "especially to retire the 6 p. c. first consolidated and general mortgage bonds," the Macon Gas Light & Water Co. has applied to the Superior Court of Bibb, Ga., for an amendment to its charter to permit it to issue the following:

Consolidated Mortgage 5 per cent coupon bonds to be due Nov. 1, 1930, and to be redeemable at the option of the company, the interest to be payable semi-annually..... ...$750,000
Preferred Stock 5 per cent non-cumulative, to include—
"First preferred stock"..... 300,000
"Second preferred stock"..... 300,000

"The holders of the preferred stock are to be entitled to receive non-cumulative dividends, up to 5 per cent per annum, payable out of the net earnings of the company before any dividends shall be paid on the common stock.

"In case of the liquidation of the company or the sale of any portion of the property and distribution of the proceeds thereof, the holders of the different classes of stock shall be paid in the order of priority, namely: The first preferred stock shall be entitled to payment before any of the other classes, the second preferred stock shall take the next priority, and the common stock whatever shall then remain.

"The holders of preferred stock are to be entitled, during the period of five years after the reorganization, to elect five-sevenths of the whole board of directors of the company, by vote of the holders of a majority of the preferred stock upon which votes shall be cast at the respective elections."

The property of the Macon Gas Light & Water Co. was reported purchased at foreclosure sale last spring by the Macon & Indian Springs RR. The gross earnings under the receiver for the year ending May, 1897, were $131,721, against $118,612 in 1896.—V. 66, p. 1089.

Nassau Electric RR. of Brooklyn.—Consolidation.—Notice of the merging of the Nassau Electric RR. Co. with its subsidiary companies, the Coney Island, Fort Hamilton & Brooklyn RR. Co., the Kings County Electric Ry. Co. and the Union RR. Co., were filed Wednesday in the office of the County Clerk. The subsidiary lines are only partly built, but the companies possess valuable franchises for streets in Brooklyn Borough. They all joined in 1891 in making the $3,000,000 mortgage of the Nassau Electric RR. A certificate of an increase of the capital stock of the Nassau Company from $6,000,000 to $15,000,000 was filed at Albany on the 28th ult.—V. 67, p. 178.

National Biscuit Co.—Stock on Unlisted Department.—The New York Stock Exchange admitted to quotation in the unlisted department on Aug. 1 $23,000,000 of the company's preferred and $29,000,000 of its common stock. Its statement to the Exchange is as follows:

Organized under the laws of New Jersey, Feb. 3, 1898. Stock authorized—$25,000,000 cumulative 7 per cent preferred and $30,000,000 common; outstanding—$23,000,000 preferred, $29,000,000 common. Total amount of bonds on some of the constituent companies, $1,878,500, all subject to call under yearly sinking fund conditions. The money paid in under consolidation paid all obligations of constituent companies, and left in hands of National Biscuit Co. $3,389,511 in cash and quick assets.

The companies which were consolidated or purchased by National Biscuit Co. were: New York Biscuit Co., American Biscuit & Mf'g Co., National Cracker Co., Decatur Cracker Co., Hamilton Co. and United States Baking Co. Many of these companies were made up of several smaller companies, so that the National Biscuit Co. owns 110 different plants. Gross sales of companies for 1897 were $32,000,000.

Dividends on preferred stock are being paid quarterly at rate of 7 per cent per annum, June, September, December, March.

President, Benjamin F. Crawford; Vice President, H. V. Vories; Second Vice-President, Frank O. Lowden; Secretary and Treasurer, C. E. Rumsey.

Directors: Benjamin F. Crawford, H. V. Yories, Thomas S. Olliver, David F. Brenner, S. S. Marvin, Henry J. Evans, Lewis D. Dozier, Norman B. Ream, William T Baker, Joseph S. Loose, C. E. Rumsey, James W. Hazen, F. O. Lowden, A. I. Garretson, A. W. Green.
Transfer Agents, Guaranty Trust Company. Registrar, First National Bank.—V. 66, p. 901.

National Linseed Oil.—New Directors.—F. D. Locke, of Buffalo, and D. S. Holmes, of St. Louis, have been elected directors in place of A. C. Abbott and A. A. Hall, resigned. Mr. Holmes is Vice-President of the American Exchange Bank of St. Louis.—V. 67, p. 223.

Newark Gas.—Part Payment of Purchase Money.—Thomas Nevins, Jr., who contracted on behalf of a syndicate to purchase 14,589 of the company's 20,000 shares of capital stock at $155 per $50 share, has paid, in addition to the first instalment of $25,000, a further amount of $200,000. The balance, $2,036,295, is to be paid by the purchasers on or before Nov. 15 next.—V. 67, p. 223.

Newark (N. Y.) Water Works Co.—Forectosure Sale.—The property is advertised to be sold under foreclosure of a mortgage on which there is due $186,476 50.

New England Gas & Coke—Massachusetts Pipe Line Gas Co.—Pipe Line Company's Stock Authorized.—The Gas and Electric Light Commissioners of Massachusetts this week approved the original issue of $1,000,000 stock by the Massachusetts Pipe Line Gas Co., substantially as follows:

The petitioning company was chartered by Chapter 537 of the Act of 1898, "for the purpose of manufacturing, selling, dealing in, conveying, transporting and distributing gas for illuminating, heating, cooking, chemical and mechanical purposes." From the evidence submitted at the hearing, it appeared to be the present intention of the company not to manufacture, but to purchase gas from the New England Gas & Coke Co., and through an extensive system of pipes to distribute it for sale to other companies. A descriptive schedule and plan of the proposed lines and appliances appurtenant thereto was filed with the petition. The cost of the work thus described will probably exceed the amount of stock hereinafter approved. The following is therefore adopted:

Ordered, that the board hereby approves of the issue by the Massachusetts Pipe Line Gas Co. of 10,000 shares of capital stock at the par value of $100 each, the same being the capital stock voted to be issued by said corporation on July 15, 1896, and being the first stock voted to be issued by said corporation, the proceeds of said stock to be applied in payment of the necessary cost of construction of holders, mains, meters and other appurtenances constituting distributing system for the supply of artificial gas, and to the purchase of real estate reasonably requisite for the company's use, and for no other purposes

This $1,000,000 stock of the Massachusetts Pipe Line Co. is all to be deposited as part security for the $17,500,000 mortgage of the New England Gas & Coke Co.—See V. 65, p. 1115 and 1221.

Construction.—The "Boston News Bureau" says:

The delay in the approval of the issue of $1,000,000 stock of the Massachusetts Pipe Line Gas Co. by the Board of Gas & Electric Light Commissioners has in no way resulted adversely for the New England Gas & Coke Co., for the officials of this company have never doubted but that in time the Pipe Line stock issue would be approved. Hence, they have gone right along with the construction of the plant at Everett, and it is now anticipated that the company will be in position to begin the manufacture and distribution of gas and coke by Jan. 1. The foundations have all been laid for the coke works. The wharf is 90 per cent completed, grading 90 per cent, special brick work for the ovens 40 per cent, dredging 50 per cent, while the railroad is practically completed. The foundations for the 5,000,000-foot gas holder for the Massachusetts Pipe Line Co. are 75 per cent completed, and the condensing and boiler house 50 per cent. Work on the laying of pipes has not been started pending the Gas Commissioners' approval of the $1,000,000 stock issue, but now that approval has been given, this work will be pushed. Pending an adjustment of the Pipe Line matter, which caused the underwriters to hold off from taking bonds subscribed for, the Central Trust Company has renewed the $12,000,000 loan for six months from Aug. 1.—V. 67, p. 178.

New Orleans & Northwestern Ry.—Status.—Coupons.—The official who furnished the data contained in our recent item omitted to say that the company's $2,000,000 of first mortgage 5s had been deposited, as was the case, as security for the $500,000 of new collateral trust 5s. Consequently the information which he gave us, that the coupons due July 1 on the first mortgage bonds had not been paid, was misleading. The interest due July 1 on the collateral trust bonds was paid at maturity, and there was therefore no obligation to pay interest on the bonds deposited as collateral.—V. 67, p. 178.

New York Philadelphia & Norfolk RR.—Deposits Received Till Aug. 15.—The reorganization committee has extended the time for assenting to the plan until Aug. 15, after which date no assents will be received.—V. 66, p. 1189.

Norfolk & Western Ry.—Increased Dividend.—The directors this week declared a dividend of 2 per cent on the preferred stock, making a total distribution of 3 per cent for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1898. The previous dividends were 1 per cent each in February, 1898, and November, 1897, the first of these having been paid out of the surplus earnings for the nine months ending June 30, 1897. The income account for the late fiscal year is given under the heading annual reports.—V. 65, p. 1115.

Ohio River & Charleston Ry.—Sold.—At the foreclosure sale the property was purchased for the bondholders for $89,010 by a committee consisting of Samuel Hunt, Simon A. Stern and John G. Collier. President Hunt was the only bidder. It is generally believed the South Carolina & Georgia will presently take over the ownership or control of the property.—V. 67, p. 29.

Pennsylvania Manufacturing Light & Power.—Acquisitions.—The "Philadelphia Financial News" says:

The West End Electric Co., the latest electric-lighting company to be absorbed by the Pennsylvania Manufacturing Light & Power Co., is a small affair, and the one or two not yet within the fold are no more important. The complete ownership of the Southern Electric Co. by the Pennsylvania Manufacturing Co., we understand, has not yet become an accomplished fact, though this company is in hand. The Kensington Electric Co. is one of the better known small companies now outstanding. As to the West End Co. we are informed that the old Pennsylvania Heat Light & Power Co. held a block of this stock, but not a controlling interest, which was turned over to the Pennsylvania Manufacturing Co. In order to secure control it was necessary to buy the balance of the stock, which was held by one individual for several parties. This individual was known personally to Mr. Thomas Dolan, who recently purchased the desired holdings for the Pennsylvania Manufacturing Co. The price paid for the West End stock holdings just acquired, we are told, was about $18 per share. Its par value is $10, and the share capitalization was about $250,000.
Like the other companies which have been absorbed, we understand that the purchase price represented the earning capacity of the company on a 5 per cent basis, that is to say, on the price paid, the earnings had been at the rate of 5 per cent per annum. We also are given to understand that the West End stock was paid for in Pennsylvania Manfacturing 5 per cent bonds, as was the case with the other companies that have gone into the consolidation.—V. 66, p. 1046.

Peoria Decatur & Evansville RR.—Foreclosure.—At Springfield, Ill., on July 30, the Central Trust Co., as mortgage trustee, filed a bill in the Federal Court to foreclose the Peoria Division first mortgage of 1880 for $1,287,000, and also another bill to foreclose the second mortgage of 1886 for $2,088,000.—V. 67, p. 75.

Plaza Bank—National Park Bank, N. Y. City.—Control Purchased.—Men prominent in the management of the National Park Bank, of 214 Broadway, including Edward E. Poor, Richard Delafield, August Belmont, Hermann Oelrichs, Stuyvesant Fish, and others, have acquired a controlling interest in the Plaza Bank, Fifth Avenue and Fifty-eighth Street. Some of those named will enter the board of directors. No change in the management is contemplated.

Port Jervis Monticello & New York RR.—New President. Hon. Thomas N. Waller, President, resigned Aug. 1, and was succeeded by Hon. Addison B. Colvin.—V. 60, p. 712.

Redlands Electric Light & Power.—New Stock.—The company, it is stated, has issued $300,000 additional capital stock to pay indebtedness and to make improvements. The total issue thus becomes $500,000.—V. 66, p. 1047.

Sandusky & Interurban Electric Ry.—Incorporated.—This company has been incorporated with $500,000 authorized capital stock by H. A. Everett, E. W. Moore, B. Mahler, C. H. Stewart and William H. Price to build a line through Erie, Huron and Lorain counties, and eventually to Cleveland.

St. Louis & San Francisco RR.—Bonds Called.—First mortgage 6s of 1879, due Aug. 1, 1919, known as "First 6s, Peirce City to Oswego," for $5,000, viz.: Nos. 40, 68, 110, 486 and 647, have been drawn, and will be redeemed Nov. 1, 1898, at 105 and interest upon presentation at the Mercantile Trust Co., New York City.—V. 66, p. 1090.

St. Paul & Duluth RR.—Increased Dividend.—The company on Thursday declared a dividend of 4½ per cent on its preferred stock, payable Sept. 1. This, with the 2½ per cent paid last March, makes for the year the full 7 per cent to which the preferred is entitled.—V. 66, p. 761.

Staten Island Rapid Transit RR.—Majority of Seconds Deposited.—Penalty After Aug. 22.—Hallgarten & Co. give notice that a majority of the 5 per cent second mortgage bonds have been deposited under the agreement of July 5, and that further deposits will be accepted to Aug. 22, inclusive, after which date bonds will be accepted, if at all, upon such terms and conditions as may be imposed.—V. 67, p. 179.

Susquehanna & Tidewater Canal.—Mastic Water & Electric Power.—Lease.—The Baltimore "Sun" said recently: "The large dam of the Susquehanna & Tidewater Canal Company spanning the Susquehanna River at Wrightsville has been leased for ninety-nine years to the Mastic Water & Electric Power Company. The company paid $75,000 for the lease and has executed a mortgage for $400,000. The water wheels and motors will be located in a building along the canal. About $25 000 will be spent in repairing the dam. Power will be furnished to Lancaster, York, Columbia and neighboring towns.—V. 63, p. 31.

Tacoma Land Co.—Receiver Appointed.—At Tacoma on July 31 Henry Longstreth was appointed receiver of the company on the application of the Provident Life & Trust Co. of Phila. Trustee under the $1,000,000 mortgage of Oct. 2, 1895, on which it is said there is now due $542,000. The appointment, the press dispatches say, was made on the agreement that the Trust Company should pay back taxes on the mortgaged premises to the amount of $260,000. The company's capital stock is $2,000 000, and a considerable part of it is held by the estate of the late Charles B. Wright, of Philadelphia.—V. 65, p. 1072.

United States Envelope Co.—A Maine Corporation.—This company is incorporated under the laws of Maine and not of New Jersey, as was stated recently in this column upon the authority of an advance report.—V. 67, p. 179.

Union Traction Co. of New Jersey.—Second Plan of Reorganization.—A committee consisting of Eliot Norton, Chairman, William L. Trenholm, Daniel B. Halstead, Maximilian Calm, George G. Duy has issued a plan of reorganization providing that the $852,000 outstanding first mortgage bonds shall be deposited with the North American Trust Co., 100 Broadway, New York City, which will issue its receipts therefor. A new company shall be formed which shall acquire the property of the Union Traction Company of New Jersey, by foreclosure or otherwise as may be deemed most advisable, and shall issue new securities consisting of $500,000 first mortgage 50-year 5 per cent gold bonds and $500,000 common stock, which will be used and distributed as follows:

	Bonds.	Stocks.
To holders of the $852,000 of bonds issued pro rata according to the par value of their present holdings, bonds at 33⅓ per cent with a bonus of $750 stock for each $1,000 of new bonds...	$284,000	$213,000
To be offered for sale at 85 per cent of stock for purposes of extension, construction, equipment, repair, reorganization, receiver's fees and other expenses, and for working capital	216,000	287,000
Total	$500,000	$500,000

A competent contractor has offered to complete, construct and equip the 6 mile extension to the proposed terminus in Hackensack. The detailed cost of construction, amounting to $155,000, is on file with the North American Trust Co. The time for the deposit of bonds is extended to Aug. 25, 1898, after which date the committee reserve the right to impose such terms and conditions for the deposit of bonds as they may determine.—V. 67, p. 127.

United States Rubber Co.—Rumors—The shares of the company have been active this week owing to the death of Mr. Joseph Banigan, President of the Banigan Rubber Co., and to rumors that control of that company and of the Boston Rubber Shoe Co is likely to be secured in the interest of, if not by, the United States Rubber Co. The stock of the Boston Rubber Co. is $5,000,000, and the owners are said to ask $10,000,000 for it. A Boston paper says:

"The absorption of the above companies, which have a capacity of nearly 75,000 pairs of rubber boots and shoes per day, would leave but two formidable competitors in the field—the Hood Rubber Company, with $400,000 capital and a capacity of 8,000 pairs of rubber boots and shoes per day, and the Mishawaka Woolen Manufacturing Company of Mishawaka, Ind., with $700,000 capital and a capacity of 10,000 pairs per day. Other small competitors would be Gov. Bourne, of Rhode Island, 1,000 pairs per day, and George W. Watkinson & Co., Philadelphia, 2,000 pairs per day."—V. 66, p. 1003.

Virginia Fredericksburg & Western.—Status.—W. A. Little, Attorney, Fredericksburg, Va., writes that there are about three miles graded between Fredricksburg, Va., and Chesapeake Bay, but that no track has been laid. Work has been temporarily suspended, owing to the refusal of the English parties who purchased bonds to make payment until the war with Spain is finished.—"Railway Age."—V. 65, p. 1174.

West Troy Water Co.—Receiver.—William F. Ross of New York, a director, has been appointed receiver of this company, which operates in the city of Watervliet, N. Y. The value of the property, including sites, buildings, machinery and dam in the Mohawk River, is put at $322,027. The company in June, 1897, made a consolidated mortgage to the American Loan & Trust Co. of Boston, as trustee, to secure $400,000 of 5 per cent twenty-year bonds, of which $300,000 or more were reserved to retire underlying liens.

Wheeling & Lake Erie Ry.—Stock Deposited.—Of the capital stock there has been deposited with the Central Trust Co. 44,369 shares of preferred out of a total of 45,000, or 98·6 per cent, and 145,912 shares of common out of a total of 150,000, or 97·2 per cent.—V. 67, p. 179.

Wisconsin Central Co.-Wisconsin Central RR.—Receivership Proceedings Under Railroad Company's Mortgage of 1879.—At Milwaukee, July 30, receivership proceedings were instituted against the Wisconsin Central Railroad Co. under the mortgage of 1879, of which Edwin H. Abbott and John A. Stewart are Trustees. Mr. Abbott endeavored to have the suit made part of the original proceedings against the Wisconsin Central Company, but Judge Seaman allowed the bill to stand and required the parties to show cause before Judge Jenkins in September why receivers should not be appointed.

The bill states that of the bonds of 1879 there are now outstanding $3,675,000 first series and $5,314,500 second series. The latter are incomes on which no interest has ever been paid. The first series bonds, on the other hand, are entitled to 5 per cent interest, and this has been paid regularly on the $1,469,500 bonds held by the public, but there are $2,205,500 of them held by the Trustee of the Wisconsin Central Company mortgage of 1887, upon which default has existed since July 1, 1896. Of the $5,314,500 second series bonds only $12,000 are held by the public, the remaining $5,302,500 being all or nearly all held by the Trustee of the mortgage of 1887. The bill alleges that Mr Abbott was asked to join in the suit, but that he refused. The prayer asks that the present receivers of the Wisconsin Central Company, Howard Morris and Henry F. Whitcomb, be appointed receivers of the Wisconsin Central R.R.

Objection to Foreclosure—Deposits Called For.—Robert Winthrop & Co., of 40 Wall Street, New York, call the attention of the holders of Wisconsin Central RR. first series first mortgage bonds dated Jan. 1, 1879, to the fact that the trustee under the Wisconsin Central Co.'s first mortgage of 1887, as the holder of $2,205,500 of those bonds, has caused proceedings to be commenced to foreclose the Railroad mortgage, based upon the failure to pay interest thereon upon the last three interest days when interest was paid on all bonds not held by said trustee. In the event of foreclosure the first series bonds, amounting to $3,675,000, of which $1,469,500 are held by the public, and the second series income bonds amounting to $5,314,500 (of which only $12,000 are held by the public), would share alike in proceeds of sale. The firm therefore proposes to resist foreclosure. Bondholders desiring to participate may do so by depositing their bonds on or before Sept. 1, 1898.—V. 67, p. 224; V. 65, p. 1027.

The Commercial Times.

FRIDAY NIGHT, Aug. 5, 1898.

A general feeling of confidence has been apparent in the business world. The more assured prospects of an early settlement of the Spanish war, together with the continued favorable progress of the growing crops and the ease of the money market, all go to give merchants a favorable impression of the future prospects for trade. Furthermore business in most lines of merchandise has been reported as normal and appears to be gradually broadening as the season advances. There has been a decided shrinkage in the movement of the wheat crop, as farmers apparently have been slow to market their crops at the prices latterly ruling, and it is generally supposed that after last year's prosperity they are in a better position to hold for higher prices than for a number of years past.

Speculation in cotton for future delivery has been exceptionally dull. Regular operators have shown little disposition to make new ventures of importance, as they have been reluctant to sell the market despite the favorable prospects for a large yield from the growing crop, due to the belief that the low prices now ruling discount a fairly full yield, and there are possibilities of the crop suffering extensive damage before it is gathered; still there was nothing in the situation to induce buying for a rise, as advices received from both Liverpool and the Continent state that spinners are indifferent buyers of cotton. Home spinners also report an unsatisfactory condition of trade and are out of the market as buyers. Naturally with the regular trade failing to find anything in the situation to warrant new ventures, the outside interest shown in the market for contracts was practically nil. The daily fluctuations in prices were confined to a very narrow range, advancing or declining a few points as the case might be on either reports of too much moisture from some sections of the cotton belt east of the Mississippi, or reports of showers in the Southwest, where it was claimed that rainfall was needed. To day there was a dull market. At the opening limited selling by New Orleans depressed prices a few points. Subsequently, however, a few buying orders came to hand and the loss was recovered, closing with prices 1 point lower to 1 point higher for the day. The spot market has been quiet and unchanged at 6 1 6c. for middling uplands.

The rates on and off middling, as established Nov. 17, 1897, by the Revision Committee, at which grades other than middling may be delivered on contract, are as follows.

☞ The imports into Continental ports the past week have been 33,000 bales.

The above figures indicate an increase in the cotton in sight to-night of 712,971 bales as compared with the same date of 1897, a gain of 500,434 bales over the corresponding date of 1896 and a decrease of 713,588 bales from 1895.

AT THE INTERIOR TOWNS the movement—that is the receipts for the week and since September 1, the shipments for the week and the stocks to-night, and the same items for the corresponding period of 1896-97—is set out in detail below.

WEATHER REPORTS BY TELEGRAPH.—Advices to us by telegraph from the South this evening indicate that rain has fallen during the week at most points, and that along the Atlantic and in portions of Alabama there has been too much moisture. In Texas, however, the crop has been benefited by rain. There are complaints of rust and shedding from Alabama.

Galveston, Texas.—It has rained on one day of the week, the precipitation being one hundredth of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 82, ranging from 76 to 88. July rainfall three inches and sixty-two hundredths.

Palestine, Texas.—Rain has fallen on three days of the week, to the extent of ninety-six hundredths of an inch. The rain was beneficial to cotton. The thermometer has ranged from 68 to 92, averaging 80. July rainfall two inches and twenty-nine hundredths.

Columbia, Texas.—There has been no rain the past week. Average thermometer 84, highest 94 and lowest 73. July rainfall seventeen hundredths of an inch.

Cuero, Texas.—Rain has fallen on one day of the week, the rainfall being ninety hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 80, the highest being 98 and the lowest 74. July rainfall three inches and ninety-one hundredths.

Brenham, Texas.—The week's rainfall has been one inch and twenty-six hundredths, on two days. The thermometer has averaged 83, ranging from 73 to 92. July rainfall eighty-one hundredths of an inch.

Huntsville, Texas.—We have had rain on two days of the week, the rainfall being one inch and seven hundredths. Average thermometer 85, highest 97 and lowest 72. July rainfall eight inches and twenty hundredths.

Dallas, Texas.—There have been showers on two days of the week, the precipitation reaching forty-three hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 83, the highest being 97 and the lowest 69. July rainfall two inches and fifty-two hundredths.

San Antonio, Texas.—It has rained on one day of the week, the precipitation reaching one hundredth of an inch. Minimum temperature 74. July rainfall two inches and twenty-two hundredths.

Luling, Texas.—There has been rain on one day during the week, to the extent of fifteen hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has ranged from 70 to 98, averaging 84. July rainfall two inches and forty-three hundredths.

Corpus Christi, Texas.—Dry weather has prevailed all the week. The thermometer has ranged from 76 to 88, averaging 82. July rainfall forty-one hundredths of an inch.

Weatherford, Texas.—There has been beneficial rain on one day of the week, the precipitation reaching seventeen hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 81, the highest being 96 and the lowest 66. July rainfall one inch and three hundredths.

New Orleans, Louisiana.—It has rained on three days of the week, the rainfall reaching one inch and nineteen hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 83.

Shreveport, Louisiana.—July rainfall one inch and forty-eight hundredths.

Columbus, Mississippi.—There has been rain on two days during the week, the precipitation being ninety hundredths of an inch. Average thermometer 82, highest 93 and lowest 74. July rainfall, six inches and three hundredths.

Leland, Mississippi.—July rainfall, three inches and sixty-nine hundredths.

Little Rock, Arkansas.—Rain has fallen on four days of the week, the rainfall being two inches and twenty-four hundredths. The thermometer has ranged from 67 to 94, averaging 78.

Helena, Arkansas.—Crops are spotted. At some points there has been too much rain and at others not enough. We have had rain on two days during the week, to the extent of one inch and nineteen hundredths. Average thermometer 77·3, highest 88 and lowest 65. July rainfall one inch and sixty-eight hundredths.

Mobile, Alabama.—Crop prospects are unfavorable. There are complaints of excessive rains, shedding and rust. Rain has fallen on four days of the week, the rainfall being eighty-two hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has ranged from 71 to 93, averaging 82. July rainfall five inches and sixty hundredths.

Montgomery, Alabama.—We hear some complaints of slight damage by continuous rains; otherwise prospects for cotton and corn are excellent so far. There has been rain on six days during the week, the rainfall reaching two inches and twenty hundredths. Average thermometer 80, highest 91 and lowest 71. July rainfall five inches and twenty-six hundredths.

Selma, Alabama.—The rains of the past two weeks are causing shedding and rust and the outlook for cotton is less favorable. We have had rain on six days of the past week, the rainfall reaching four inches and sixty hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 83, the highest being 97 and the lowest 65.

Madison, Florida.—Crops in general are looking well. Rain has fallen on three days of the week, the rainfall reaching one inch and forty hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 82 and ranged from 70 to 92.

Leesburg, Georgia.—There has been too much rain for cotton. We have had rain the past week, to the extent of three inches. The thermometer has ranged from 70 to 90, averaging 79.

Savannah, Georgia.—We have had rain on five days of the week, the precipitation being one inch and eighty-one hundredths. Average thermometer 82, highest 92 and lowest 71. July rainfall eight inches and fifty-three hundredths.

Stateburg, South Carolina.—Dry weather for a while is hoped for now. It has rained on two days of the week, to the extent of fifty-six hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has ranged from 71 to 91, averaging 80·7. July rainfall six inches and seventy-three hundredths.

Charleston, South Carolina.—Rain has fallen on four days of the week to the extent of eleven hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 84, ranging from 76 to 91. July rainfall twelve inches and ninety-nine hundredths.

Greenwood, South Carolina.—Telegram not received.

Wilson, North Carolina.—Telegram not received.

The following statement we have also received by telegraph, showing the height of the rivers at the points named at 3 o'clock August 4, 1898, and August 5, 1897.

JUTE BUTTS, BAGGING, &C.—Bagging has been in a little brisker demand during the week under review, at unchanged quotations, viz.: 6c. for 1¾ lbs. and 6¼c. for 2 lbs. of standard grade. The market for jute butts continues dull. Quotations are nominally 80c. for paper quality and 1⅛c. for mixing. From Messrs. Ira A. Kip & Co.'s circular we ascertain that the deliveries of jute butts and rejections at New York and Boston during July were 23,462 bales, against 21,537 bales for the same month last year, and since January 1st the deliveries have reached 309,012 bales, against 238,605 bales in 1897. The aggregate stock in the hands of importers and speculators in New York and Boston on July 31st was nil bales, against 1,000 at the corresponding date in 1897, and the amount afloat reaches 64,740 bales, against 104,830 bales last year.

INDIA COTTON MOVEMENT FROM ALL PORTS.—The receipts of cotton at Bombay and the shipments from all India ports for the week ending Aug. 4, and for the season from Sept. 1 to Aug. 4 for three years have been as follows:

GOVERNMENT WEEKLY COTTON REPORT.—Mr. W L. Moore, Chief of the Weather Bureau of the Agricultural Department, made public on Tuesday the following telegraphic reports on the crop in the Southern States for the week ending Aug. 1:

VIRGINIA.—Growing crops have made excellent progress, but work has been interrupted by showers; cotton poor.

NORTH CAROLINA.—Excepting limited damage to lowland crops by too much rain, past week was favorable and crops continue promising; cotton growing rank, shedding increasing, but still capable of making excellent crops.

SOUTH CAROLINA.—Weather favorable for all crops, except too wet for cotton, which shows some rust, considerable shedding, and an excess of "weed," bolls beginning to open in southern counties.

GEORGIA.—Too much rain and lack of sunshine unfavorable for cotton, which is taking on too rapid growth, shedding and rusting badly; some cotton picked in Mitchell County.

FLORIDA.—Rainfall excessive in some counties, in others deficient; complaint almost general that cotton is not doing well, damaged by rust and shedding fruit.

ALABAMA.—Continued daily showers and some heavy local rains; cotton in generally healthy condition, but complaints of rust and shedding becoming numerous and a few complaints of vermin; it is opening slowly and needs dry weather.

MISSISSIPPI.—Heavy local rains seriously injuring cotton, causing shedding of bolls; grassy and weedy condition of plant.

LOUISIANA.—Too much rain for cotton over greater portion of State and reports of shedding and deteriorating are numerous; few worms, no damage; crops need dry weather.

TEXAS.—Warm week, with showers, but rain too light, except in scattered localities, to benefit crops; cotton looks well generally and crops are in good state of cultivation, but some damage is reported from insects and the plant needs rain in some localities; some picking over south portion, and early cotton nearly ready for picking over other portions.

ARKANSAS.—General rains, quite heavy except in southwest section; cotton continues to present fine prospect; few reports of rank growth and damage from shedding but injury not serious.

TENNESSEE.—Good rains, some excessive, fell throughout the State, inducing rapid growth in unmatured crops; cotton has excess of stalk growth and insufficient fruitage.

OKLAHOMA.—Cotton has done well.

MISSOURI.—Good rains in all sections; cotton in good condition.

These reports on cotton are summarized by the Department as follows:

Cotton has suffered from excessive rains and insufficient sunshine generally throughout the central and eastern portions of the cotton belt. Rust, shedding and too rank growth of stalk are general in the sections named. Some has been picked in southwest Georgia and picking continues in Southern Texas. In the last-named State the crop is in a good state of cultivation, and is generally looking well, but needs rain in some localities.

LOUISIANA'S FIRST BALE CORRECTION.—The two bales of cotton received at New Orleans on Monday, July 25, from Hard Times Landing, Tensas Parish, are now reported to have been old cotton freshly ginned, and not new cotton as stated in our issue of July 30.

NEW ENGLAND COTTON MILL SITUATION.—The Naumkeag cotton mills at Salem, Mass., shut down August 1, to remain closed two weeks. There have been no new developments in the matter of curtailment of production at Fall River.

EGYPTIAN CROP.—Mail advices to Mr. Fr. Jac Andres of Boston, dated Alexandria, July 16, state:

Planters are getting anxious about the low water, and in consequence our market is very firm. Complaints of lack of water are numerous, and fields distant from canals have suffered. If the irrigation proves insufficient, severe damage to the crop may result. As a whole, the crop is doing well, and some plants are in bloom.

SHIPPING NEWS.—As shown on a previous page, the exports of cotton from the United States the past week have reached 32,983 bales. The shipments in detail, as made up from mail and telegraphic returns, are as follows:

	Total bales.

BREADSTUFFS.

FRIDAY, Aug. 5, 1898.

A moderate volume of business has been transacted in the market for wheat flour and there has been more tone to the situation, reflecting a slightly better market for the grain. Supplies of old wheat flour have been light, as they have been bought up fairly close. Offerings of new wheat flour have been fairly free, but during the latter part of the week mills were not disposed to force the market, as the steadier market for wheat had a tendency to strengthen them somewhat in their ideas of values. Locally the export business has been slow, but fair sales have been reported made for direct shipment from the Northwest. Rye flour has been quiet but steady. Corn meal has had a fair sale at about steady prices.

The speculative interest shown in the market for wheat futures has been very moderate, but the tendency of prices has been towards a higher basis, they gradually hardening owing to a falling off in the crop movement, the receipts the past week having been light, indications being that farmers will be slow in marketing their supplies at the low figure ruling latterly, as after the prosperous year they have just passed through it is thought that they will be, as a rule, in a position to show less anxiety to realize on their crops. The export trade, however, has been less active, as the higher prices have had a tendency to check business. Saturday and Monday this market was dull and changes in prices were slight, showing an advance of 1/8@1/4c. for the two days. Tuesday there was more activity to the trading as there was limited buying stimulated by the smaller movement of the crop and the comparatively small supply of wheat in sight; prices advanced 1/8@1/4c. for the day. Wednesday the market was again higher, prices advancing 1/8@3/8c. on limited buying for investment account, induced by the continued small movement of the crop. A crop estimate of 700,000,000 bushels was made public during the day, but it apparently had no influence on the market. Thursday prices advanced 3/8c. for September on the smallness of the crop movement, but the distant deliveries were unchanged. To-day the market was fairly active and higher on general buying, stimulated by the small crop movement, closing 7/8@1 1/4c. up for the day. The export demand was moderately active at outports. Sales reported were 280,000 bushels, principally No. 2 red winter.

Speculation in the market for Indian corn futures has been moderately active, but the tendency of prices has been towards a lower basis under realizing sales by longs, prompted by the fall of needed rains in the corn belt. The downward tendency to prices started with the opening of the week and was not arrested until Thursday, when prices advanced 1/2c. on a report by a well-known authority that there would not be more than three-quarters of a crop, and this stimulated a demand from shorts to cover contracts. To-day the market was firm in sympathy with the advance in wheat. The spot market was firmer but quiet. The sales for export were 90,000 bushels.

Oats for future delivery have been quiet, but there has been an unsettled tone to the market. Early in the week values held to a steady basis on unfavorable crop accounts; then came a decline of 1/2c. in sympathy with the easier market for corn. Subsequently, however, on continued unfavorable crop accounts the market again turned steadier and the loss was recovered. To-day the market was firmer but quiet in sympathy with an advance in other grains. The spot market was quiet, closing at 29 1/2c. for No. 2 mixed in elevator and 32 1/2c. for No. 2 white in elevator.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, P. M., Aug. 5, 1898.

There has been an improvement in the general demand for cotton goods during the past week and results have come nearer to sellers' expectations than for some time past. They would have been still larger if all the bids put forward for quantities had been accepted, and the fact that the majority of the latter have been turned down because they were not up to current prices is fair evidence of the general steadiness of the cotton goods market. There is irregularity in prices of staple goods; there are some sellers anxious to realize on the stocks held by them, a condition from which the market is seldom entirely free, but these are not obtrusive features, and in the instance of the leading lines of merchandise sellers are, as a rule, so well situated as to be able to practically ignore them, even in an incidental case to the extent of quoting an advance on previous prices. The course of the market during the next week or two will have an important bearing on values. Sellers are counting upon a further and marked expansion in demand to support them and if disappointed are likely to find some difficulty in maintaining their present attitude. If their expectations are realized some lines are so well conditioned that higher prices should not be difficult to secure. In the woolen goods division the situation is not entirely satisfactory. Orders for light-weights do not come forward with freedom, and several mills have been reported recently closing down on account of poor business.

WOOLEN GOODS.—The demand for spring-weight woolens and worsteds has shown little spirit during the week. As the great majority of new lines are now open, lack of opportunity to make selections cannot be advanced by buyers as a reason for slow purchases. There has been a wide divergence in many instances from the fabrics of last season on the part of manufacturers, and comparisons of values are difficult to make, but it is generally considered that the market is from 7½ to 10 per cent higher than the opening prices of last season. The re-order demand for heavy-weights has been moderate and prices without material change. In overcoatings and cloakings the chief feature was the auction sale on Tuesday of some 8,200 pieces of the Bound Brook Woolen Mills' goods. The competition for these was indifferent and prices fully 20 per cent under the market. Flannels and blankets quiet but firm. Dress goods continue dull and disappointing; prices have an irregular tendency.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton goods from this port for the week ending August 1 were 8,034 packages, valued at $245,243, their destination being to the points specified in the tables below:

* From New England mill points direct.

The value of the New York exports for the year to date has been $7,338,205 in 1898 against $6,857,441 in 1897.

The demand for heavy-weight brown goods in sheetings and drills from standards up to 4-yard makes has been more general, and some large buyers have taken greater interest in the situation. Pepperell Rs advanced ½c. and prices on other leading makes are firm. Light-weight coarse yarn fabrics quiet and irregular. In bleached cottons sales are more numerous, but still confined to small individual quantities. Prices unchanged. Wide sheetings inactive. Cotton flannels quiet but steady. Cotton blankets scarce and firm. Quilts occasionally advanced 2½c. each. Grain bags strong. American advanced 1½c. each. Denims in better demand than last week at steady prices. Other coarse colored cottons quiet and unchanged. Kid-finished cambrics dull and irregular. Dark fancy calicoes in steady re-order demand and prices maintained. More staple lines in average request with ready sellers. The staple gingham situation is without change; moderate sales at steady prices. Dress style ginghams firm and well sold. Print cloths unchanged at 2c. for extras, but demand quiet. The short-time project at Fall River still hangs fire.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—This division of the market has again shown generally dull conditions. Stocks of fall goods in part are, however, quite moderate, and prices are fairly well upheld. Business for next spring is occasionally reported in men's-wear fabrics and in cotton and woolen dress goods, but not to an important extent nor sufficiently large to afford a fair test of prices.

MUNICIPAL BOND SALES IN JULY.

According to our records, the sales of municipal securities marketed during July aggregates $7,836,563, not including $2,072,200 of temporary loans reported. This total compares with $17,389,859 for July of last year and with $9,704,925 for the month of June of the present year.

The large decrease in the amount of sales reported for July, 1898, when compared with the corresponding month of last year, is explained by the fact that in July 1897 New York City sold over 10 million dollars of bonds and stocks.

While there has been a decrease in the number of municipalities issuing bonds in July as compared with June of the present year, there being but 174 (emitting 194 separate issues), as against 208 (emitting 238 issues), there has been a decided increase as compared with the number for July 1897, our records for that month showing 136 municipalities and 167 issues.

That the market was somewhat short of desirable securities was evidenced by the active bidding in many instances, and necessarily prices have continued high. This fact is the more clearly demonstrated in the recent sale of St. Louis, Mo., bonds on a 3·086 per cent basis, and that of the State of Rhode Island on a 2·906 per cent basis.

The principal sales of the month were as follows: Duluth, Minn., $955,000 4 per cent 30-year gold water bonds, to E. H. Gay & Co., Boston, at par; Rhode Island $800,000 3 per cent 40-year gold State House bonds, awarded to the Rhode Island Hospital Trust Co., Providence, at 102·22; St. Louis, Mo., $593,000 3½ per cent 20-year gold refunding bonds, awarded to Whann & Schlesinger, New York, at 106·147; $300,000 Baltimore 3½ per cent loan of 1940 to local investors at 106·125, and $200,000 Baltimore 3½ per cent loan of 1945, to the Baltimore Trust & Guarantee Co., at 107.

In the following table we give the prices which were paid for July loans to the amount of $6,986,430 issued by 139 municipalities. The aggregate of sales for which no price has been reported is $850,133, and the total bond sales for the month $7,836,563. In the case of each loan reference is made to the page of the CHRONICLE where a full account of the sale is given.

New York City.—Outlying Bonds Declared Legal.—We give below a list of bonds issued by the municipalities outside of New York County prior to consolidation which have been declared valid by Corporation Counsel Whalen. The list is supplementary to that published in the CHRONICLE on June 11, 1898.

COUNTY OF RICHMOND.—Three issues of 4% road bonds, to wit, Series F, $35,000, dated June 1, 1895; Series G, $100,000, dated August 1, 1895; Series J, $230,000, dated October 1, 1897.
VILLAGE OF FAR ROCKAWAY.—Two issues 5% street-improvement bonds, to wit (1) for $38,000, dated June 1, 1897; (2) for $14,000, dated June 30, 1897.
VILLAGE OF WHITESTONE.—$3,000 4½% bonds, dated July 1, 1896.
VILLAGE OF COLLEGE POINT.—$11,000 water bonds, Nos. 23 to 33, inclusive; $1,000 each.
TOWN OF FLUSHING.—Two issues, one known as Strong's Bridge, $12,500, interest 4%, and second, Strong's Causeway improvement bonds, $9,000.
JAMAICA UNION FREE SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 7.—Two issues, one of $20,000, dated September 1, 1895, and the other $25,000, dated August 1, 1895.
TOWNS OF CASTLETON AND MIDDLETOWN.—School District No. 1, $80,000 issue, dated December 23, 1897, payable $5,000 annually from 1898 to 1913.
TOWN OF FLUSHING.—School District No. 5, $93,500 issue, dated August 1, 1897. The resolutions authorized a total issue of $102,500 of bonds. Included in this authorization was $9,000 of bonds directed to be issued to satisfy mortgages on school house property. This was an unlawful purpose. It was found, however, that this $9,000 of bonds were not in fact issued, the total amount being $93,500, and that the $9,000 of bonds were numbered from 1 to 9, both inclusive, and that they were actually marked "canceled," and as so canceled are now in the possession of the city authorities.
VILLAGE OF FLUSHING.—$5,500 6% assessment bonds, Series No. 8, dated October 22, 1895.
VILLAGE OF NEW BRIGHTON.—$22,459 58 certificates of indebtedness, issued for sewers for Jewett Avenue District. These bonds were declared valid, but are to be paid from special assessments levied upon property improved.
VILLAGE OF WHITESTONE.—$2,854 60 bonds, issued June 18, 1897, and are payable by special assessments upon property improved.
TOWN OF SOUTHFIELD.—$140,000 gold road bonds, dated July 15, 1897.
FLUSHING UNION FREE SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 2.—$10,000 5% bonds, dated October 1, 1897.
JAMAICA UNION FREE SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 8.—$75,000 bonds, dated October 1, 1897.

MOBILE, ALABAMA,

Water-Works and Sewerage Bonds.

MOBILE, Ala., Aug. 5th, 1898.

Sealed proposals for the purchase of $750,000 Water-Works and Sewerage Bonds of the city of Mobile, or any portion of said issue, will be received by the undersigned until twelve o'clock, noon, on September 15th, 1898, at which time they will be publicly opened and read.

These coupon bonds will be in the sum of one thousand dollars each, to the amount of $700,000, and one hundred dollars each to the amount of $50,000, and will be dated November 1st, 1898, payable November 1st, 1938, with interest at four and one-half per cent, payable semi-annually on the first days of May and November in each year. Principal and interest will be paid in lawful currency of the United States of America at the Chase National Bank, in New York City, and at the First National Bank of Mobile, Alabama.

The issuance of these bonds is authorized by Section 21 of the Charter of the City of Mobile (Acts of Alabama, 1896-7, pages 511-80) by a vote of the people of Mobile at a special election held on August 2d, 1897, and by resolution of the General Council of the City of Mobile, approved May 17th, 1898.

All bids must be accompanied by certified checks for 2 per cent of the amounts bid for.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.

S. H. Smith, Homer, N. Y.	8,335
Farson, Leach & Co., Chicago	$8,335
T. B. Potter, Chicago	8,331

Tiffin, Ohio.—Bond Offering.—Proposals will be received until 12 M, August 20, 1898, by J. B. Ehrenfried, City Clerk, for $25,000 6% refunding bonds. Securities are issued pursuant with Section 2701 Revised Statutes of Ohio. They are in denomination of $1,000, dated September 1, 1898. Interest will be payable semi-annually at the office of the City Treasurer, and the principal will mature September 1, 1908. A certified check for $1,250 payable to the City Clerk must accompany proposals.

Toledo, Ohio.—Bond Sale.—The Trustees of the Sinking Fund have taken the $20,000 4% 10-year University bonds recently authorized.

Trenton, N. J.—Bond Offering.—Proposals were asked until 11 A. M., yesterday (August 5, 1898), by W. J. B. Stokes, City Treasurer, for $72,000 4% refunding bonds. Securities will be coupon bonds in denomination of $100, or multiples thereof, dated September 5, 1898; interest will be payable at office of City Treasurer March 5 and September 5. Principal will mature September 5, 1908. Bonds are issued under authority of Act of Legislature approved March 8, 1882, and supplement of March 23, 1886. At the time of going to press the result of this sale was not known.

Utah.—Bond Sale.—This State recently sold to Thomas Kearns of Park City, Utah, $150,000 3½% refunding bonds. The sale of these bonds was not advertised, and but one other bid was received, that of a New York syndicate. Both bids were at the same rate of interest, but that of the syndicate was for bonds payable in gold, while Mr. Kearns not only bid for bonds payable in currency, but offered to pay the expense of printing the bonds, amounting to about $290. Securities will be dated September 1, 1898.

Van Alstyne, Texas.—Bond Sale.—The town has awarded to the Noel-Young Bond & Stock Co., St. Louis, $9,500 6% water-works bonds at 104. Securities are dated July 20, 1898, and mature one bond every second year from 1900 to 1938, inclusive.

The full details of clearings for the week covered by the above statement will be given next Saturday. We cannot, of course, furnish them to-day, bank clearings being made up by the various clearing houses at noon on Saturday, and hence in the above the last twenty-four hours of the week have to be in all cases estimated, as we go to press Friday night.

We present below our usual detailed figures for the previous week, covering the returns for the period ending with Saturday noon, Aug. 6, and the results for the corresponding week in 1897, 1896 and 1895 are also given. Contrasted with the preceding week, there is an increase in the aggregate exchanges of about one-hundred and thirty seven and a-half million dollars, and at New York alone the gain is ninety seven millions. In comparison with the week of 1897 the total for the whole country shows an addition of 2·9 per cent. Compared with the week of 1896 the current returns record a gain of 35·9 per cent, and the excess over 1895 is 35.5 per cent. Outside of New York the gain over 1897 is 2·1 per cent. The excess over 1896 reaches 21·2 per cent, and making comparison with 1895 the gain is seen to be 16·8 per cent.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

Spain's answer to America's proposals was received Tuesday. It contained an acceptance of the conditions offered, but the acceptance also included several suggestions foreign to the arrangement in view and such an adroit management of the effect of the terms offered by the President as virtually to qualify or explain away in part their logical meaning. Of course such an acceptance was unsatisfactory. Consequently on Wednesday a protocol, stripped of all extraneous words and matter but embodying the terms proposed for the negotiation of a treaty, was agreed upon between Secretary Day and M. Cambon, the French Ambassador, and submitted to the Spanish Government for its approval and for execution. Thursday evening the approval of the Spanish Ministry was cabled to M. Cambon and also authority for him to sign the protocol in behalf of Spain. Yesterday (Friday) the protocol was executed by Secretary Day in behalf of the United States and by M. Cambon in behalf of Spain. We give its provisions on page 301.

How much of promise this settlement has in store for business interests in the United States it would be hard to express fully. We have not been in the possession of such a peace as we have now in prospect since the current decade began. Obviously actual hostilities have been in progress only for a few months; and yet so far as our industries are concerned have we not been during the whole of the period mentioned in very nearly the same position as if war had prevailed—that is, in a state of almost constant perturbation, attended with frequent alarms. To be sure, now and then there have been short intervals of relief. In 1890, it may be claimed, we had one such. That year Congress passed a silver bill which was used by the silver producers to stimulate an active speculation in that metal. The large, unthinking crowd, assuming that the higher values of silver secured were evidence of the efficacy of the law, joined in and added to the excitement. It took a little more than six months of skilful management in 1890 for the rise, and about three months, in spite of the same kind of management, for the fall—say about ten months in all sufficed to complete the cycle, including the catastrophe. The end disclosed what a mere bubble the speculation was, for after it burst the price of the metal dropped lower than ever before, leaving as its fruits a long trail of insolvencies and general collapse. The multitude has never regained confidence in the metal. If a statute that required the United States Government to buy and so take out of the market considerably more than all the net production of the United States could not force a permanent rise, or even stay the decline, what hope could any other device for a similar purpose afford? That was the short but conclusive argument which closed the debate in most men's minds.

From that date to this our industries have never been free to enjoy six continuous months of uninterrupted development. The silver advocates, by getting possession of the Senate, have kept the country, and particularly the enterprising and commercial classes, in a state of constant unrest, by doing everything they could to endanger our gold reserves and threaten the basis of values. All other means failing, war it was believed would force the Government to silver payments, the result sought, and this war about Cuba was the latest move in that line of effort. The silver advocates thought they had gained their end when they saw the conflict with Spain was inevitable, but were thwarted by a power higher than they It so happened that when hostilities became a necessity the Ruler of events brought about a condition of affairs throughout the world which turned the gold current so strongly in favor of the United States that the gold reserve became for the time being unassailable. And now that peace has come, the one call of the public is for sound money. The decision of the people is as undoubted as if already recorded, to wrest the Senate from the control of silver agitators; to put in their place a safe majority for gold money; and to have the declaration that coin means gold in all our obligations fixed in our statute books by words so plain as to be beyond future question. That is the platform the public intends to stand on this fall, and it will fight the battle to a finish.

Under these circumstances what does peace mean? It means a gold standard now and for all time. It means a greatly enlarged intercourse with the world of nations. It means foreign commerce way beyond all former records. It means a development of our industries never before realized. Those statements may seem extravagant. We cannot believe they are overdrawn in the least. Remember that this new opening for enterprise comes after a good many years of trial—a good many years of restricted operations. This restriction has pervaded all trades, enterprise and classes, because enforced by a lack of confidence in our standard of values—an uncertainty which endangered each man's dollar however invested and each laborer's wage however earned. Consequently every development that could wait has been made to wait during these long years. Then, too, peace comes after a marvelously successful war which has advertised our capabilities and resources to the ends of the earth. Out of this we shall in time gather in very many new customers. That war, too, has ended in giving us new and rich possessions which are to be open hereafter to our commerce and to the world's commerce, and to become through the liberty and freedom given to the people by our Government new centres of home activities and a decided help to our own trade development.

Nothing has occurred the present week to modify the favorable outlook for the growing crops previously noted. The Agricultural Bureau has issued its August report, and this fully confirms the encouraging indications shown in Thoman's review last week. Indeed—what is rather unusual—the Government makes the prospect more auspicious even than this private investigator. Take the corn crop for example. Thoman puts the average of this crop at 84·2, the Agricultural Bureau figures it out 87·0, making a reduction during the month of July of only 3·5 points. At this figure of 87·0 the condition of the crop is actually better than at the corresponding date in 1897, when the average was reported only 84·2. This is an important fact to bear in mind, for the 1897 crop, though not a full one, was of good size, reaching 1,902 million bushels. The influence which tended to impair the outlook during the late month was of course the drought experienced over large areas. This deteriorating agency has since the 1st of August been in great part removed, rains having fallen. Thus the prospect now is really very much better than it was at the time the Agricultural Bureau and Thoman summarized the results, both reports being of date August 1.

In the case of wheat, too, the Washington estimate is slightly higher than Thoman's. No new figures are reported for winter wheat. For spring wheat the average is given 96·5, Thoman making the average a trifle smaller at 95·8. At 96·5 the spring-wheat prospect is 1·5 points higher than last month, 9·8 points above the average for August 1 1897, 17·6 points above that for August 1 1896, and 13·5 points above the August average for the last ten years. While opinions may differ as to the precise extent of the crop, all reports agree in saying that the yield will be of unprecedented magnitude, since the averages are high in all the leading producing States. In Minnesota the condition is reported 101, in North Dakota 95, in South Dakota 92, in Nebraska 97 and in Iowa 94. Obviously the roads in that part of the country are to have an exceptionally large traffic in wheat. In the case of the oats crop the Bureau works out an average of 84·2. This, while 8·6 points lower than for the previous month, is but 1·8 points lower than at the same date in 1897, and compares with 77·3 on August 1 1896 and 83·7 the August average for the last ten years. The state of the cotton crop in the South is put at 91·2.

The fact that the semi-annual dividend on the common stock of the Canadian Pacific, just declared and payable October 1, is only 2 per cent, while that declared last April was 2½ per cent, has been construed in some quarters as a reduction in the dividend rate. But there is no basis for such an assumption. The dividend now announced is specifically stated to be for the half-year ended June 30 1898. That paid last April was based on the earnings for the half-year ending December 31 1897. The results for the two half-years differ considerably, the December six months being always much the better. Hence the proper comparison would be with the dividend paid in the first six months of the calendar year 1897. For those six months the payment was only 1½ per cent, as against the present 2 per cent, showing an improvement rather than the reverse. And this is what would be expected considering the character of the company's returns of earnings. For while some of the recent weekly exhibits of the company have shown a small falling off in receipts, for the half-year both gross and net earnings are very much larger than for the corresponding six months of 1897, the increase in the gross being no less than $1,883,325, and in the net $486,483.

The most important feature in the foreign exchange market this week has been the reversal of the previous ruling of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue regarding the tax upon checks drawn in, though payable out of, the United States. On July 6 it was discovered, as we announced in our issue of July 9, that the City National Bank, acting under the advice of counsel, had issued checks drawn upon its foreign balances, stamping the checks with a two-cent stamp as in the case of domestic bank checks. The attention of the Internal Revenue Department being called to the practice, a ruling was made that "orders drawn in the United States payable in foreign countries, though in the form of checks, are subject to a tax of four cents on each $100, or fraction thereof, under the fifth paragraph of Section A." Thereafter the City National Bank stamped its foreign checks in accordance with this ruling. On Saturday of last week it was reported by telegraph that the Commissioner of Internal Revenue had, upon the advice of the Attorney-General, reversed this ruling, holding that such foreign checks are subject to the same tax as domestic checks. A few drawers of exchange on Monday took advantage of this new ruling, but the majority of the drawers, after a conference, decided to await the receipt of official advices from the Department. In the afternoon of that day the text of the decision of the Commissioner was received, fully confirming the report received Saturday, and also deciding that foreign checks issued in duplicate required only a two cent stamp on each check. On Tuesday all the drawers of exchange conformed to this ruling and as a consequence rates for actual business in sight sterling were reduced one-quarter of a cent. It was claimed by some bankers that cable transfers clearly come within the new ruling of the Revenue Department and require only a two cent stamp; but there being doubt in the minds of drawers regarding this point the stamping of cable transfers as bills of exchange continued. The Commissioner of Internal Revenue is likewise reported to have ruled that checks drawn in foreign countries on banks in the United States are subject to a tax of only two cents per check as in the case of checks drawn in the United States upon banks in foreign countries. Should it be decided that cable transfers require only a two-cent stamp, the bills of exchange subject to an ad valorem tax of four cents per $100 will be sixty day bankers' sterling and commercial bills. Sight commercial bills drawn upon bankers are, according to the opinion of some dealers, subject to a two-cent stamp only; but until an official decision shall be made upon this point such drafts will probably continue to be stamped as bills of exchange.

The feature of last week's bank statement was the large gain of $15,371,500 in deposits and of $12,733,100 in loans, the former due to the placing in the depository banks of money received by the Treasury for bonds. There was also a gain of $2,482,900 in specie. The loans, at $649,499,800, are now the highest on record. On February 19 they were $646,915,200, falling by April 30 to $570,198,100, thereafter steadily recovering. The deposits, at $757,051,600, are within $1,016,400 of the total on July 9, the highest ever reported, when they stood at $758,068,000. Some of the banks, notably the City, report unprecedentedly heavy deposits, and this institution showed $100,866,300 in Saturday's statement. Eleven of the larger banks have about $417,900,000 out of the average deposits, and about $346,400,000 out of the average loans reported by all the banks in the association.

Money on call, representing bankers' balances, was early in the week without specially new feature, loaning generally at 1¼ per cent, with some moderately large transactions at 1½ per cent and a few at 2 per cent. On Thursday afternoon, just before the close, money was bid up to 5 per cent, at which rate a small sum was loaned, and later the rate fell to 2½ per cent. On Friday loans were made at 1½ and at 2½, closing at 1½ per cent. The flurry on Thursday was partly due to manipulation but there has this week been a feeling among borrowers that money ought to be fairly active because of the absorption of funds by the Treasury for bonds and also for the reason that the demand for money is increasing in consequence of the broader business in stocks and bonds at the Exchange and also of improved general trade conditions. The range for call loans during the week was from 1¼ to 5 per cent, and the aver age was fully 1¾ per cent. Banks and trust companies quote 1½ per cent as the minimum, though some have obtained 2 per cent. Time contracts are a shade firmer, in consequence of a better demand, and quotations are 2½ per cent for sixty to ninety days, 3 per cent for four to five and 3@3½ per cent for six months or longer dates. The up-town banks are practically out of the commercial paper market. The buying by the down-town banks and the trust companies is, however, good, and choice names meet with ready sale. The supply is a little more liberal. Rates are 3¼@3¾ per cent for sixty to ninety day endorsed bills receivable, 3½@4 per cent for prime and 4½@5½ per cent for good four to six months' single names. Though there may be occasional spasms of activity in the call loan branch of the market as the result of the bond settlements and of increasing speculation in stocks and staples, following the ending of the war, bank officials are of the opinion that the tone will gradually grow easier. The banks in the interior appear to be well supplied with funds, and some Chicago institutions are seeking employment for their money in this market. Those of the banks here which hold Government deposits loan them generally on call, and the pressure of this money will tend to keep this branch of the market well supplied. Though bankers would hail with satisfaction almost any degree of activity in money, they regard it as improbable that much of an advance above recent average rates can be maintained—at least until late in the fall.

Since peace has become assured as the necessary outcome of the negotiations which have been in progress the European financial situation has ceased to be greatly influenced by the varying phases the negotiations have presented. Spanish 4 per cents have consequently been less active. The political situation shows some evidence of tension because of the attitude of Russia in North China, but this tension is only partially reflected in the London market. The Bank of England minimum rate of discount remains unchanged at 2½ per cent. The cable reports discounts of sixty to ninety-day bank bills in London 1⅞@1½ per cent. The open market rate at Paris is 1¾@1¾ per cent, and at Berlin and Frankfort it is 3¼@3⅜ per cent. According to our special cable from London, the Bank of England gained £33,995 bullion during the week, and held £34,513,093 at the close of the week. Our correspondent further advises us that the gain was due to receipts of £19,000 net from the interior of Great Britain and to the import of £15,000, of which £8,000 was from South America and £7,000 bought in the open market.

As already stated, the reversal of the ruling of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue regarding the tax on checks drawn in the United States on foreign countries, and vice versa, has had a tendency to broaden the foreign exchange market this week. It has enabled bankers to trade in each other's bills, as was the case before the revenue law took effect, and it has given employment to brokers in exchange, who can now, as formerly, act as intermediaries in the negotiation of bills between bankers. One feature of the market has been a comparative scarcity of spot grain bills, due to the light movement of wheat from the distributing centres. Some grain and cotton futures are offered, but they are held at full prices. The demand for remittance has been good. It is claimed that fairly large amounts of stocks, sold in London for American account, will shortly arrive, and these will have to be remitted for. The tone of the market has been firm, especially for long sterling, caused by easier discounts in London. Gold arrivals from Europe this week have been $1,322,638 to Lazard Freres. This makes $1,371,303 thus far in this movement, including $48,665 to the Bank of British North America last week.

The range for nominal rates for exchange has been from 4 84½ to 4 85 for sixty day and from 4 86 to 4 86½ for sight. Rates for actual business opened on Monday unchanged compared with those at the close on Friday of last week, at 4 83¾@4 84 for long, 4 85¼ @4 85¾ for short and 4 85¾@4 86 for cable transfers. Though the decision of the Internal Revenue Department in the matter of stamp duties on foreign checks was then made public, the majority of the foreign bankers decided to await the official announcement, and therefore the market was unaffected and it was dull and steady. On the following day all the bankers drew foreign checks, in accordance with the decision, and the rate for sight sterling was reduced one-quarter of a cent, to 4 85¼@4 85½, but no change was made either in long sterling or in cable transfers and the tone was firm for the former, in consequence of easier discounts in London, and steady for short sterling and cables. On Wednesday the rate for long sterling was advanced one-quarter of a cent, to 4 84@ 4 84¼, but no change was made in short or in cables. The tone was dull and steady on the following day without alteration in rates. On Friday short sterling was advanced one-quarter of a cent. The following shows daily posted rates for exchange by some of the leading drawers.

THE PEACE NEGOTIATIONS.

The negotiations between the United States and the French Minister, acting in behalf of Spain, have at length been closed by the execution of the preliminary papers and the cessation of hostilities. There has been delay in reaching this result, as there always is under such conditions. A defeated State necessarily will make every effort for modification of its enemy's ultimatum; and after having exhausted all direct means will also, as in this case, seek indirectly to change the terms, and to avert in part the logical working out of the conditions accepted by raising suggestions inconsistent with the proposals. It may or may not, in a given case, obtain such easier terms, but it must make the effort; the disposition of both governments, however, in the present instance, was so distinctly favorable to a termination of the war that a positive breach of the negotiations has at no moment seemed possible.

Two facts have served to bring about Spain's application for peace on the terms of the United States. In a military sense she was completely disabled. It is true that the American forces had actually reduced and occupied neither Havana nor Manila, nor San Juan in Porto Rico. But nobody of any intelligence doubted that such occupation was easily possible within a short space of time. Manila and Porto Rico were on the point of falling, and Havana, even if able to offer stubborn resistance to our army, was at the mercy of the fleet. With her navy destroyed, Spain could not look for any opportunity of forwarding either reinforcements or supplies to the beleaguered cities.

All this was sufficiently obvious to any reader of the current news despatches. What has not been so openly visible was the situation of Spain in relation to the European Powers. Undoubtedly the Sagasta Cabinet has rested some forlorn hopes on the chance of a further European complication whereby, even if Spain itself did not secure a formidable ally, the activity of the United States might at all events be diverted. On one or two occasions the despatches seemed to indicate a remote possibility of such an issue; but it very soon appeared that neither France nor Germany entertained any idea of a move of this character. None of the Continental Ministers has endorsed or approved Lord Salisbury's reference to Spain as a dying nation, but all have been perfectly conscious of the truth of the description. Active alliances are not made by first-rate Powers with decaying States unless the mere announcement of such alliance could be depended on to produce the full results desired. In the present case Spain was not only dying in a political sense but in a military sense she was virtually dead. Nations may put themselves in a position to quarrel over the property left behind by the death or incapacity of their political proprietor, but they are rarely disposed to pick a quarrel for the sake of preserving to him and his heirs what he has already. Therefore it is quite obvious that the Spanish Government in each of its applications for the moral support of other Powers has been met by the calm advice to lose no time in making peace. Exactly the same thing happened in the later days of the Franco-Prussian war, when in fact the French Emperor had not only hopes of neutral aid but positive promise of such aid in certain contingencies. The conditions of such agreement did not contemplate the absolute destruction of Napoleon III.'s offensive and defensive armament. With the Prussians unobstructed on the road to Paris, there was only one note in the advice of France's disinterested diplomatic friends, and that note was submission.

In the present situation, moreover, we cannot help suspecting, from the manner in which the peace negotiations have come about, that France has been the most urgent of all advisers in this direction. Acute as the irritation of the French people may have been, at the outbreak of the war, against the United States, nothing could be more certainly predicted than the cooling-off in their desire for intervention when the manœuvres of Germany in the Philippines became visible. The shortest way of heading off any agreement by Spain with Germany, as to the future distribution of the Spanish colonies, was to convince the Madrid Government that immediate peace on the best terms obtainable was the only rational object of the defeated State.

In the perplexities of the Spanish Cabinet, however, neither the influence of friendly Powers nor the possibility of further effective resistance has been the deciding factor. The Powers did their best to settle the quarrel before it came to war, and the Madrid Ministers were perfectly conscious last March that their defeat in a contest with the United States was inevitable. The gravest embarrassment was, how to deal with the Spanish home constituency; how to make peace and yet avoid a fatal reckoning with the revolutionists, the Carlists, or the army. We have no doubt that the way to an opening of negotiations was paved by the consciousness of the Ministry that these dangerous forces were at last under reasonably safe control. The Carlist demonstration has collapsed; to be sure it is rumored now that it is to be made after peace is announced. But if any such design were contemplated the movement would not be publicly proclaimed. The earlier attempt failed entirely, even the discontented citizens rejecting the alternative of a royal claimant basing his title on a mediæval theory. The situation was too serious for such fooleries, and was, unconsciously perhaps, recognized as such by the Spanish people.

The revolutionists, on the other hand, seem to have failed to consolidate their forces. As simple rioters they can be kept down with the Government's present preparations; as aspirants for control of government they cannot agree among themselves, nor is it likely that any one of them wishes to have the strain of financial and military reconstruction imposed on him individually. The reported attitude of Senor Robledo, for instance, in demanding continuance of war, appears to mean nothing more than the habitual action of an opposition whose own future political prospects rest on its power to criticize all the acts of an administration. In reality the army was from the first the really formidable element of doubt, and it is now becoming evident that our own Government's policy with the surrendered troops at Santiago was a stroke of exceptional sagacity and wisdom. Sentiment has much to do with political results at such important junctures; and the refusal of our officers to allow a Cuban triumph over the captured city, their humane treatment of the soldiers who had laid down their arms, and the quite unexampled generosity with which, instead of a Southern prison, free transportation home was allowed to the Spanish prisoners, are actions such as go far to reverse both prejudice and resentment. It would be strange if the Spanish army, after the Santiago episode, were to go home prepared to upset a government which made terms with the United States.

Nor does it seem to us, in the light of history, that the terms submitted by President McKinley to Minister Cambon are excessive. Withdrawal of Spain from Cuba was of course an inevitable requirement. Withdrawal from Porto Rico followed logically, because with Spanish sovereignty extinguished by force of arms in a neighboring island, it was quite inconceivable that the Porto Rican population would submit to continuance of misrule from Madrid, and to remove that island from the discussion would merely leave the same annoying situation as had existed for half a century in Cuba—a situation which could hardly fail, in time, to involve the United States again in controversy with the foreign masters of the island. Having taken the irretraceable step of annexation in Hawaii, no new step is involved by annexing Porto Rico; that island being, indeed, an infinitely more appropriate and natural dependency of this country than the remote Pacific Ocean group. There has in fact been from the beginning an element of the inevitable in the conclusions regarding Porto Rico. Our Government has never from the first hesitated in preparing for its annexation; the most persistent opponents of Hawaii and Manila have scarcely argued against it; Spain itself seems to have taken the loss for granted. By far most striking of all, the reception of our troops by the inhabitants has turned an invasion into something much like a holiday procession.

The question of Manila has been the real crux of the peace negotiations, as everyone saw it must be, from the day of Admiral Dewey's victory. We think, however, that our Government has taken the most moderate action possible under the circumstances. The Ministry at Washington has to deal with popular opinion quite as carefully as the Ministry at Madrid, and the drift of popular opinion has been strongly in favor of retaining at least a foothold in the Philippines. It must be remembered that our Government has waived the usual claim to a money indemnity; and, as we understand it, there is no present purpose to acquire more than the possession of Manila City. That such an arrangement will still leave behind it some awkward problems is unfortunately a matter of certainty. We do not at the moment know whether the Philippine insurgents may not become our active enemies; they certainly do not figure as allies. So curious a situation puts the seal of wisdom on the President's plan for a joint commission to discuss and settle the details of arrangements in the Philippines. We think this plan doubly a matter of sagacious statesmanship, because by its terms it would exclude a repetition, as between the United and Spain, of the Berlin Conference of 1878. At least one step will have been taken to avoid the pitfall of European diplomatic entanglements in the East, if we begin by a frank and straightforward understanding between the two parties chiefly interested, and respectfully but firmly refuse to allow the neutral Powers to interfere.

CHESAPEAKE & OHIO'S NOTEWORTHY ACHIEVEMENTS.

The record of the Chesapeake & Ohio in operating results is becoming each year more remarkable. Security holders are apt to look only at the income exhibit, paying little heed to anything else if that is satisfactory. In the Chesapeake & Ohio case the income returns, considered by themselves, give no idea of what has been accomplished—against what tremendous odds a favorable outcome has been reached, and how brilliant has been the work of the management in the operating and transportation departments, on which success always so largely depends and in this case pre-eminently depended. The results cannot be characterized otherwise than as marvelous. Nor, in noting the company's achievements, must we omit mention of the promptitude with which its annual report is issued. The fiscal year ends June 30. Advance proofs of the report were placed in our hands on Tuesday of this week, August 9, so that the report with all its statistics regarding traffic and operations was compiled in the space of about five weeks. This is not only quick work, but it shows how completely things are systematized in all departments, since otherwise such dispatch would be out of the question.

In the matter of rates, and in fact in all the particulars in which the road has been especially distinguished since the present management succeeded to control, the company again surpasses all its previous records. We have many times directed attention in the past to the exceedingly low average rate realized by the company on its freight traffic. It has seemed almost incredible that a still lower figure could be reached and bankruptcy be avoided. Yet now that we have the report for 1897-8 we find that there was a further decline of over 11 per cent in this one year, bringing the average down from 4·19 mills to only 3·70 mills. In other words, in the twelve months ending June 30 1898 the company received an average of only 37 hundredths of a cent per ton per mile on its entire freight tonnage, high class and low class. It follows, therefore, that it was necessary to move almost three tons of freight one mile in order to earn a single cent in gross revenues. No comment is necessary further than this bare statement to show to what diminutive proportions the compensation accorded the road for its transportation services has been reduced.

We believe there is no other important system of any considerable size which is obliged to move traffic at such extremely small figures. The Philadelphia & Erie (main line) and the Beech Creek in their latest years had averages almost as low (the one 3·71 mills, the other 3·79 mills), but these are both small pieces of road. The Norfolk & Western may possibly approach very close to the Chesapeake & Ohio, though for the nine months to June 30 1897 (the latest period available), the average was 4·41 mills. The Pennsylvania, which, like the Chesakeake & Ohio, has a very heavy tonnage in coal and other low-class freights, reported for the calendar year 1897, an average of 5·36 mills on the lines east of Pittsburg & Erie, this including the Philadelphia & Erie division, for which the average was but 4·20 mills. In an article on the New York Central in our issue of June 25 we showed that that company had also suffered a severe reduction in the late year; yet the average there, even after that reduction, looks high alongside that of the Chesapeake & Ohio. In brief, the Central got 6·1 mills, against the C. & O.'s 3·7 mills. On the Lake Shore the average in the late calendar year was 5·45 mills, on the Erie in the year ending June 30 1897 it was 5·96 mills—the figures for 1898 not yet being available.

The Chesapeake & Ohio, as stated, has a very large tonnage in coal. But it must not be supposed that its small average is to be explained wholly by that circumstance. Even on the merchandise freight, by which we mean the freight other than coal, the road realizes a very low rate—lower than that for most other companies with coal included, the figures for the late year having been but 4·37 mills. Put in another form, the compensation on this, the best class of freight, is such that the company must move nearly two and a half tons of freight one mile to produce a gross income of one cent. As far as coal is concerned, the price received for the transportation service has reached a point bordering on what certainly would have been thought the impossible a few years ago. We noted in 1896-7 some slight improvement in the coal rates; in 1897 8 they are down again, and to unprecedented figures. Briefly stated, on the coal carried to the seaboard the company got an average of only 2·59 mills; on that carried elsewhere than to the seaboard it obtained an average of 3·33 mills. Such a performance dwarfs, of course, everything else. It means that on the best paying branch of its coal business it found itself obliged to move three tons of freight one mile to produce in gross revenue one cent, and on the poorest class it had to move nearly four tons one mile to earn the gross amount of a cent.

The further decline in the late year was, of course, not unexpected. In the case of the coal traffic there was excessive competition, while as to the other classes of freight, rates in trunk line territory, as is known, were utterly demoralized. President Melville E. Ingalls, who from his long experience certainly speaks with authority, calls it "a year of probably the greatest demoralization of rates that has ever been known." He notes that since the first of June various meetings have been held to devise measures to secure the maintenance of rates, and he expresses the opinion that the outlook for the coming year appears to be that while there will be no great advance there will be a more steady adherence to tariffs than for the year just closed. It is to be hoped that this prospect will be fulfilled.

It is obvious that when a company of the importance and size of the Chesapeake & Ohio can earn its fixed charges on rates which necessitate the moving of three and four tons of freight a mile for the gross compensation of one cent, the science of railroading has been brought to a high state of perfection. Obviously, too, such an achievement was possible only through the practice of systematic economy in operation. It has been the aim of the management from the beginning (realizing that the problem of low rates would have to be solved by bringing the cost of performing the service down to a minimum) to effect a very great reduction in the cost per unit of work. The success attending this effort is shown by the report of the train loads for the late year. All past records are excelled, and the average of the train load has reached a really remarkable figure. In short, this train load for the twelve months ending June 30 1898 attained the unprecedentedly high average of 379 tons, being 27 tons better even than for the year preceding. To appreciate the true significance of this performance it is necessary to compare with the records of other roads that hold a prominent position in this respect. Hence we may note that against the C. & O.'s 379 tons, the train load on the Lake Shore, which has always been distinguished for its work in this line, was for the late calendar year only 321 tons. The New York Central freight trains in the year ending June 30 1897 (the data for 1898 are not yet at hand) averaged 270 and those of the Erie 276 tons. On the Great Northern, where the same problem has been worked out (though of course not under equally favorable conditions), the average for 1896-7 was 281 tons. In tabular form these comparisons stand.

AVERAGE TRAIN LOADS.

Chesapeake & Ohio (year ending June 30 1898)	379 tons
Lake Shore (year ending December 31 1897)	321 tons
New York Central (year ending June 30 1897)	270 tons
Great Northern (year ending June 30 1897)	281 tons
Erie (year ending June 30 1897)	276 tons

Thus the C. & O. managers have sought to make up for the decline in rates by hauling an increased number of tons in the trains, and to show the progress in that direction we may say that as recently as 1890 the C. & O.'s train load was only 225 tons. To haul these increased loads the road had to be brought to a high state of efficiency through improvements in road bed, track, equipment and motive power.

One factor in the general advance of the property should not be overlooked. We refer to the policy of the management in making many additions and improvements and paying for them out of earnings, instead of charging them to capital account. The wisdom of this policy cannot be gain id. In fact, any other policy at a time of such a rapid decline in transportation rates as has occurred must have proved disastrous. For had the money not been provided out of earnings, it must have been raised by the issue of new loans, and this latter would have added very materially to interest charges, correspondingly weakening the position of the company.

In the late year the outlays in this way reached unusual proportions. Very large amounts were spent in various directions—for bridges, piers, trestles, side tracks, double tracks, &c., &c.,—and yet the whole outlay was provided for out of earnings. The company had no construction account, and spent, we are informed, in addition to the improvements of the property, over $700,000, which was charged directly to expenses. It is a remarkable fact, demonstrating with what economy and efficiency the property is being operated, that notwithstanding these very heavy outlays the operating cost was not increased, standing at 68 per cent for 1898, as it stood in 1897 and 1896.

The growth of the company's traffic and revenues has been no less wonderful than the other features enumerated, but this growth has followed directly from the company's ability to move traffic at a steadily diminishing cost. In the late year the increase in the freight tonnage was 1,315,617 tons. While the bulk of this was in coal, there was really improvement in every direction, only nine items of traffic out of thirty-two showing a loss. The record of gross earnings, as follows, will furnish an idea of the steady expansion which has been going on.

Gross	$11,788,557	$10,708,183	$10,221,131	$9,596,030	$9,014,108

In the net there has also been growth, though until the last two years this growth was slow:

	1898.	1897.	1896.	1895.	1894.
Net	$3,806,250	$3,421,413	$3,257,978	$3,131,502	$3,016,980

In the surplus remaining above expenses and charges, the record is likewise one of much encouragement, especially if the conditions under which it was reached are considered.

SURPLUS OVER ALL CHARGES.

Thus against practically nothing in the earlier years the surplus in 1898 was $618,509, equal to about one per cent on the stock. It deserves to be pointed out that this surplus remains not only after allowing for the heavy expenditures out of earnings for additions and improvements, but also after deducting $48,669 for advances to the Chesapeake & Ohio Steamship Company, $20,353 loss on account of C. & O. S. grain elevator, and $44,421 of bad debts charged off, besides some other items.

The financial condition of the company is excellent. During the year $2,287,000 of maturing 6s were exchanged for new 5s, while the sale of the $1,590,000 4½ per cents held in the treasury enabled the company to pay off the special loans of $500,000 existing a year ago. The company now has no floating debt except the ordinary current liabilities, amounting to $2,009,081, and against these it holds $2,338,096 of cash and cash assets. We notice, also, that the notes of the Norfolk Terminal & Transportation Company have been paid off and replaced with a bond issue.

*THE BLACKBURN COMMERCIAL MISSION TO CHINA.

MANCHESTER, August 3d, 1898.

The full report of the Commercial Mission sent to China in August 1896 by the Blackburn Chamber of Commerce has now appeared in a handsome volume of 550 pages. The three members of the Mission, Mr. F. S. A. Bourne of the British China Consular service, Mr. Henry Neville and Mr. Henry Bell, reached Shanghai in October of that year, returning from Hong Kong in July 1897. In the interval of nine months they traversed the Yangtzi from its mouth to Chun-Khing, where they left the river, making a detour northward through the province of Se-Chuen, or Sze-Chuen, to the Thibetan border, re-crossing the Yangtzi, 150 miles above Chun-Khing into Yun-Nan. Thence they passed through Kwei-Chu to the West River and down it to Canton and Hong Kong.

The official report of Mr. Bourne was published by the Foreign Office several weeks ago, and it is now reproduced along with the larger one prepared by his colleagues of the Mission. Both documents contain ample itineraries full of interesting information concerning the physical features of the country and the resources, trade, habits and characteristics of the people. But the most important topics connected with the objects of the mission are dealt with in separate chapters, and these are, as might have been expected, more freely handled by the non-official members than by Mr. Bourne, whose report, however, is from other points of view extremely valuable.

One of the most striking conclusions stated in the non-official report is that in Central and Southern China there is no town of commercial importance which is not already accessible by means of cheap water carriage. All the great importing, exporting and distributing centres are served by river, lake or canal, and such parts of the country as are not so served are really of little moment to the foreign trade of Middle and Southern China. The native craft are admirably adapted to the varied nature of the waterways, so that "wherever a log can be floated" there is water traffic. These may be greatly improved and rescued from neglect by modern engineers, but the non-official report does not encourage the hope that railways can, except perhaps in certain districts, do much to develop trade in competition with the existing water routes if only these are fully utilized. This view is not supported, however, by Mr. Bourne, who expresses the opinion that in no part of the empire would railways be of greater advantage than in the province of Kwei-Chu, where "there is no water traffic at all except on the eastern side and there it is very difficult."

With strange perversity, however, the Chinese have contrived largely to neutralize the enormous advantage of their water communications by the heavy exactions of the mandarins upon both local and transit trade. The story is, of course, an old one, but few people, it may well be believed, even amongst those who in other respects are fully informed upon Chinese internal government, are aware of the enormity and the variety of the "squeezes" boldly enforced by the local authorities as set forth in these reports. The "transit pass" system which, in accordance with a treaty concluded forty-five years ago, was to get rid of these arbitrary imposts by regulated payments in one sum, is still either openly disregarded or is evaded by the most ingenious devices. For example, goods passing into the interior under a pass are often allowed to reach their destination without payment on the way, but they are watched, and the buyer there is at once required to pay an extra duty upon them from which other goods on which the likin has been paid at successive stations are free.

You may thus get your merchandise to the point desired, but any advantage resulting from the transit pass is completely wiped out by the final squeeze. The two southernmost provinces of Kwang-Tung and Kwang-Si have long had a bad pre-eminence for these oppressive exactions, the Pekin Government having never been able, even if it were desirous, of carrying out the treaty there. Of Kwang-Tung particularly the report says: "To attain to one of the higher posts in the provincial or local administration is tantamount to making one's fortune, so favorable are the chances of plunder, and so severe is the competition to gain such posts." It is added that the Yamens, from that of the viceroy of the province downward, have become hot-beds of corruption, bribery and peculation. "What do these men care about the expansion of trade, the fostering of industries and the material prosperity of the people under them, so long as they are able to retire at the end of their term of office with well-lined pockets? A trade can be crushed out of existence by excessive taxation—as the tea trade has been [in Kwang-Tung]—and yet these official harpies would not, in order to resuscitate it, relax their demands by one iota."

The French Government has recently been very active in insisting upon liberal compensation for arbitrary exactions from its citizens in Southern China. An illustrative incident of this kind occurred while the Mission was there. A small French steamer trading between Hong Kong and Pakhoi, a port on the south coast of Kwang-Si, was seized at the latter place for some alleged breach of Customs regulations, the real reason being that the running of the steamer interfered with some business in which the local officials were interested. The French Consul took up the matter vigorously and was successful in obtaining from the Chinese government the sum of $750,000 as a solatium for detention and loss of trade. Still more recently the Viceroy of Canton has awarded $100,000 to a Frenchman "upon a claim so flimsy that had it been brought before an English Consul he would certainly have refused to entertain it." Indeed Mr. Hanotaux, the late French Foreign Minister, stated in the Chamber last February that French diplomacy was incessantly active in China. At every port its agents were working for the growth of French influence and within two years they had succeeded in securing indemnities to the amount of 4,600,000 francs for damage done to missions alone.

The opening to foreign trade in June 1897 of the new treaty port of Wuchow on the West River, 218 miles above Canton, has served to arouse afresh the hostility of the mandarins. They are resorting to numerous expedients to evade the rights thus conferred upon trades, and especially those attaching to transit passes, particularly the device of placing a terminal tax upon goods conveyed under passes. How seriously the successive local squeezes crush out trade may be inferred from a few figures. A table is given in one of the reports showing the prices of certain cotton goods at Shanghai and at Chun-Khing on the Upper Yangtzi. I have worked out the differences and find that the increase at the latter port varies from 28 to 40 per cent upon the cost at Shanghai, and as there is steamer carriage the whole of the distance between the two points it is tolerably clear that these differences are not accounted for by cost of transport; yet there ought to be no other charge except the merchants' remuneration, since the goods are sent under transit passes on the Yangtzi. But elsewhere the imposts are much heavier. Between Chun-Khing and Cheng-tu in Sze-Chuen, a distance of only 490 miles, a piece of cotton shirting is taxed illegally to the extent of 6·86d., or more than 10 per cent of its price at Shanghai. Still worse is this fraud on the West River, where on a 10-lb. shirting the successive local exactions amount in the course of 600 miles to 2s., which is equivalent to 25 per cent of its value at Shanghai or Canton.

Some years ago appearances seemed to indicate that even in the Southern Provinces the transit-pass system was in fair way of becoming permanently established. In 1891, by the united pressure of the foreign consuls at Canton, the system was inaugurated successfully in respect of imported cotton goods and yarns. For a time the mandarins seemed to accept the change, mainly because they were compensated for their losses by the taxes received from a rapidly-increasing trade in kerosene oil. This was carried exclusively in native junks, and for that reason the opposition to the exactions was easily overcome. In the course of the same year, however, steamers began to bring the oil in large quantities, and those interested refused to pay the taxes. In order to meet the competition of the steamer-borne oil, the mandarins reduced their claims from 40 cents to 20 cents per case. Still, more and more oil came by steamer under transit passes. The device of a heavy terminal duty was then adopted, and thus the attempt to carry out the treaty provisions was defeated. The terminal likin upon oil is now 30 cents per case—three times the amount of the original Imperial Customs import duty.

Passing by many weighty topics discussed in the report, space must be found to mention the interesting question of the rapid growth of the imports of American cotton goods into China. The distribution of these in Southern and Central China is not very great, but in the North, particularly in Chihli and Manchuria, it has reached most important dimensions, and is still growing. The following table gives the quantities of each description of American piece goods imported into China in the years 1892-96 inclusive.

Sheetings	1,302,695	903,335	1,237,307	888,773	2,248,032
Jeans	18,000	24,000	26,000	22,000	52,500
Totals	1,942,577	1,349,525	2,033,481	1,497,756	3,515,109

It is quite likely that a considerable proportion of the recent increase in this trade is due to the slackness of the United States home demand for cotton goods and the consequent willingness of manufacturers to accept lower prices than they would have done if their domestic trade had been more prosperous. There can be no doubt, however, that very much of the American trade with China is profitable, or at least is as profitable as the home trade, and that it is permanent and growing, so far at least as sheetings and drills are concerned. It is stated, on credible authority, that the mills in the Southern States can profitably manufacture these China goods. If so, and especially when they bear established trade-marks, there is every prospect of an enlarging market for these Southern fabrics in Northern China, at least so long as the "open door" is preserved.

RAILROAD GROSS EARNINGS FOR JULY.

As foreshadowed in our weekly returns, our compilation of railroad gross earnings for July makes a much less favorable comparison than heretofore, and shows the smallest gain recorded in any monthly exhibit in considerably over a year. In the final result the improvement over July last year reaches only $723,467, or 1·78 per cent, while no less than 60 out of the 132 roads contributing returns actually record losses.

The reasons for the changed character of the returns are not hard to find. The month in the first place contained one less business day than the corresponding month of last year, July having had five Sundays against only four in 1897. Then there was a great contraction in the grain movement. Whether it was on account of the exhaustion of old supplies, or because the prevailing low prices for cereals induced farmers to hold back their grain, or whether the two causes together operated to restrict the deliveries, the movement in any event fell off, and the railroads (speaking of them as a whole) suffered a material reduction of their grain traffic. The falling off in the movement extended to practically all the primary markets (barring one or two minor points), and to all the different cereals. To this must be added also a loss in the live-stock movement.

Furthermore there were some special disturbing circumstances affecting the comparisons. For instance, last year several of the trans-Continental lines, and more particularly the Denver & Rio Grande, the Rio Grande Western and the Northern Pacific, derived important benefits from the holding of the Christian Endeavor Convention at San Francisco, which was well attended. This and the "Mormon Fifty-Year Jubilee" travel were both lost to the roads the present year. Then also a few companies like the Norfolk & Western, the Chesapeake & Ohio and the Chicago Indianapolis & Louisville gained important advantages last year in July from the bituminous coal strike at that time prevailing. It is not surprising to find that these same roads the present year, with that stimulating cause absent, have all suffered decreases.

Then it must not be forgotten that we are beginning to compare with improved results last year. July was by no means a poor month in 1897. Indeed, our tables then showed $2,205,410 gain, or 5·16 per cent, and this followed increases in both 1896 and 1895. The subjoined statement gives the comparisons back to 1894.

Dealing now more specifically with the grain movement, we find that for the four weeks ending July 30 the present year the receipts of wheat were about three million bushels less than in the corresponding four weeks of last year, the receipts of corn also about three million bushels less, and the receipts of oats nearly six million bushels less, while there was a contraction likewise in the receipts of the minor cereals. Combining wheat, corn, oats, barley and rye, the receipts for the four weeks in 1898 aggregate 26,555,232 bushels, against 39,108,023 bushels in 1897. The flour receipts also fell off, and altogether the loss amounted to over 13,000,000 bushels, equal roughly to 325,000 tons of freight. We show the grain movement below in our usual form.

As is usually the case, the greater part of the loss occurred at Chicago and thus fell with especial severity on the roads roads running to that point. For the even month the receipts at Chicago were only 13,570,785 bushels in 1898, against 21,2-0,167 bushels in 1897 and 17,196,613 bushels in 1896. This last comparison is very important, as it shows that the grain movement was smaller not only than last year, but smaller than the year before. Here is the Chicago statement in detail, including also the provisions movement.

We have stated above that the live-stock movement had recorded a contraction. Of live hogs it will be observed from the foregoing the deliveries were much heavier, being 645,768 head, against 601,658 in 1897, and 499,964 head in 1896. Taking, however, the live-stock movement as a whole the comparrison is different; there we find deliveries of 20,338 car loads in 1898, against 21,321 car loads in 1897 and 21,339 in 1896.

The cotton movement in the South at this season of the year is small, and plays an unimportant part in the revenues of the roads. The gross shipments overland the last three years have been as follows: 1898, 37,192 bales; 1897, 28,553 bales; 1896, 13,403 bales. The receipts at the Southern outports in the same three years were 34,858 bales, 8,603 bales and 20,712 bales respectively, as will be seen by the following.

Though there are 60 roads altogether that have sustained decreases in earnings, the decreases are not large in amount except in a very few instances. The New York Central has the largest loss, at $334,033, which we should ascribe to both a smaller grain movement and the unsatisfactory rate situation. The company has changed its method of reporting the earnings; income from investments and miscellaneous sources are now excluded, but we do not understand that this affects the comparisons, the figures for both years being presumably on the same basis. The Milwaukee & St. Paul reports a decrease of $178,201 and here obviously the falling off in the grain movement has been an important factor. We show below all losses and also all gains above $30,000 in amount.

The Southern Railway leads for amount of improvement, having $331,740 increase; we note also an increase of $109,603 by the Florida Central & Peninsular and of $87,332 by the Cincinnati New Orleans & Texas Pacific. These are all Southern roads, and no doubt the movement of U. S. troops has had much to do with swelling their revenues. The following is a six-year comparison for some of the Southern roads.

‡ Figures are approximate, same as for 1898; actual earnings were larger.

In the Northwest, earnings have on the whole been remarkably well maintained, bearing in mind the shrinkage in the grain movement.

With the Pacific roads on the north, the absence of the Christian Endeavor travel the present year is a factor in the comparisons, as already stated.

† Includes Rome Watertown & Ogdensburg for all the years.

In the Middle and Middle West (apart from the trunk lines) the exhibits are better as a rule because in that case the coal strike was more or less of an adverse influence a year ago.

THE PEACE PROTOCOL.

The following are the provisions of the peace protocol agreed upon between the United States and Spain. The protocol was signed yesterday afternoon by M. Cambon, the French Ambassador, on behalf of Spain, and by Secretary of the State Day on behalf of the United States:

(1.) That Spain will relinquish all claim of sovereignty and title to Cuba.

(2.) That Porto Rico and other Spanish islands in the West Indies and an island in the Ladrones, to be selected by the United States, shall be ceded to the latter.

(3.) That the United States will occupy and hold the city, bay and harbor of Manila, pending the conclusion of a treaty of peace, which shall determine the control, disposition and government of the Philippines.

(4.) That Cuba, Porto Rico, and other Spanish islands in the West Indies shall be immediately evacuated, and that commissioners, to be appointed within ten days, shall within thirty days from the beginning of the protocol meet at Havana and San Juan, respectively, to arrange and execute the details of the evacuation.

(5.) That the United States and Spain will each appoint not more than five commissioners to negotiate and conclude a treaty of peace. The commissioners are to meet at Paris not later than the first of October.

(6.) On the signing of the protocol, hostilities will be suspended, and notice to that effect will be given as soon as possible by each Government to the commanders of its military and naval forces.

Monetary and Commercial English News

LONDON, Saturday, July 30, 1898.

The official announcement that the Spanish Government has at last decided through the French Ambassador to make overtures of peace to the Government of the United States has been received, not only in England, but all over Europe, with the most marked satisfaction. From the beginning of the war it was, of course, seen by every one capable of forming an opinion that a country so rich and populous, and having the immense resources at its command that the United States has, must inevitably beat a poor and backward country like Spain. But very few even amongst those who had some pretension to be considered as well informed had any idea of the utterly hopeless condition of the naval and military forces of Spain. From the moment the American and Spanish fleets met, even the most ardent well wishers of Spain saw at once that any attempt to prolong hostilities was hopeless, and that the longer they were continued the more disastrous would the results be to Spain herself. A fortnight ago when the fall of Santiago was telegraphed to Europe, every one assumed that Spain would realize the hopelessness of the struggle, and that the sooner she made peace the more likely she was to obtain favorable conditions. Upon the Stock Exchange there was a rapid rise in American railroad securities and some of the more sanguine imagined that we were about to witness an American railway boom. But there is not likely to be any great movement on this side in American railroad securities until it becomes clear that the Spanish Government earnestly desires peace and will accept the American conditions.

The withdrawal of over £500,000 in gold, chiefly upon Continental account, from the Bank of England, and the sudden fall in the American Exchange, caused for a day or so quite a little scare in Lombard Street, and fears began to be entertained that large gold exports to the States were imminent; but a slight recovery in the Exchange has allayed the anxiety for the moment. Still bankers are not eager competitors for bills. The Bank return issued Thursday shows a decline in the reserve of more than a million sterling, bringing that down to very nearly 24 millions. But of the decrease in the reserve only about one half has really left the country, the balance having gone into the provinces in satisfaction of harvest and holiday requirements, common at the end of July.

Opinion is very much divided as to whether there will be large gold shipments from London to your side, it being argued on the one hand that our large purchases of food stuffs and raw materials for manufactures at the very high prices at which they recently ruled will necessitate very large gold shipments to New York in order to meet the balance. On the other hand it is contended that the purchases of the better classes of bonds and shares of American railways upon United States account added to the interest and dividend payable from your side on European capital invested in the United States will very nearly offset one another, and that if the war is ended and there are, as it is expected there will be, considerable purchases from your side of ships and warlike material here in Europe, that the gold shipments would in that case be quite trifling.

The Prince of Wales, who recently met with an accident when visiting Baron Rothschild in Buckingham, has now so far recovered that he will be able to go to Cowes for the regatta week. His Royal Highness is, however, unable to stand, but the official bulletins say that the pain in the knee has now ceased and he will be able to lie in an invalid chair, and take part, to a certain extent, in the festivities on board his yacht.

The stock markets this week, with the exception of the temporary spurt in American railroad securities, to which I have already referred, were dull. The greater part of the week has been occupied by the fortnightly settlement, and in addition we are now in the middle of the holiday season.

The silver market is slightly easier, the price of bars closing at 27¼d. There has been some demand from Bombay, but taking the week as a whole the market has been a very quiet one.

The Bank of Bengal and the Bank of Bombay on Thursday reduced their official rate of dividend to 4 per cent, which compares with 5 and 6 per cent respectively for the corresponding date last year.

The continuous fall in the price of wheat, which has been one of the features throughout July, is at last telling upon the sales of India Council drafts. For the 25 lacs of rupees offered for tender on Wednesday the total applications amounted to 69 lacs, as against 230 last week and 120 at this date last year. The prices obtained, however, were distinctly more satisfactory. The lowest tender accepted was 1s. 3 7/8d. per rupee, as against an average price of very little over 1s. 3d. twelve months ago. The total sales for the year now exceed £6,400,000.

The following return shows the position of the Bank of England, the Bank rate of discount, the price of consols, &c., compared with the last three years:

WALL STREET, FRIDAY, AUG. 12, 1898.—5 P. M.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—The course of business in Wall Street this week has been governed largely by prospects of an early cessation of hostilities between this country and Spain. As this prospect has brightened day by day security values have become more firmly established, and in many cases a substantial advance in quotations has resulted. A feature of the week at the Stock Exchange was the large transactions in Government 3 per cents, when issued, which aggregated nearly $7,000,000, at a premium of from 4⅝ to 5¼ per cent.

The market for railway securities has broadened during the week, the volume of business in both the bond and share departments being better distributed and covering a wider range than usual. Activity in this class of securities is also stimulated by the favorable outlook for railway earnings during the coming season. In this connection the attention of our readers is called to the large number of railway issues, especially those of the better class, which have advanced from twenty to thirty points since the low prices recorded in March, as shown in tables of quotations on the following pages. The Government crop report just issued is interesting, confirming as it does previous reports of the excellent condition of spring wheat, and showing the corn crop as more hopeful than it has recently been.

The money market is a little firmer on a somewhat better demand and the prospect that this demand will increase.

The open market rates for call loans on the Stock Exchange during the week on stock and bond collaterals have ranged from 1¼ to 5 per cent. To-day's rates on call were 1½ to 2½ per cent. Prime commercial paper is quoted at 3¼ to 4 per cent.

The Bank of England weekly statement on Thursday showed an increase in bullion of £33,095, and the percentage of reserve to liabilities was 45·42, against 44·50 last week; the discount rate remains unchanged at 2½ per cent. The Bank of France shows an increase of 1,125,000 francs in gold and 550,000 francs in silver.

The New York City Clearing-House banks in their statement of Aug. 6 showed an increase in the reserve held of $1,831,400 and a surplus over the required reserve of $39,893,000, against $41,904,475 the previous week.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The stock market has continued active and buoyant with a broadening tendency through the week. With few exceptions prices have steadily advanced, and in the railway list several new high quotations have been made. The trans-Continental, trunk line and granger shares have been most conspicuous, but some of the low-priced and hitherto neglected stocks are becoming more prominent features of the market. On the advance there were liberal sales for accrued profits, which caused some recessions, but such offerings were readily absorbed. Of the active list Manhattan Elevated is exceptional on a decline of 3¾ points. As is usually the case in such a market the miscellaneous list shows some wide fluctuations.

American Malting preferred covered a range of 7 points, Illinois Steel 6½ points, New York Air Brake nearly 8 points, American Tobacco about 4 points and People's Gas nearly as much. American Sugar, General Electric, Tennessee Coal, Iron & Railway, United States Leather preferred and Western Union were active but relatively steady.

Investment AND Railroad Intelligence.

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

The following table shows the gross earnings of every STEAM railroad from which regular weekly or monthly returns can be obtained. The first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the period from January 1 to and including such latest week or month.

The returns of the street railways are brought together separately on a subsequent page.

Net Earnings Monthly to Latest Dates.—The table following shows the gross and net earnings of STEAM railroads reported this week. A full detailed statement, including all roads from which monthly returns can be obtained, is given once a month in these columns, and the latest statement of this kind will be found in the CHRONICLE of July 23, 1898. The next will appear in the issue of August 20, 1898.

The following table shows the gross earnings for the latest period of all STREET railways from which we are able to obtain weekly or monthly returns. The arrangement of the table is the same as that for the steam roads—that is, the first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the calendar year from January 1 to and including such latest week or month.

Street Railway Net Earnings.—The following table gives the returns of STREET railway gross and net earnings received this week. In reporting these net earnings for the street railways, we adopt the same plan as that for the steam roads—that is, we print each week all the returns received that week, but once a month (on the third or the fourth Saturday) we bring together all the roads furnishing returns, and the latest statement of this kind will be found in the CHRONICLE of July 23, 1898. The next will appear in the issue of August 20, 1898.

Western New York & Pennsylvania Railway.

(Preliminary statement for year ending June 30, 1898.)

President De Coursey is quoted as saying: "If the average rates that prevailed during 1897 had obtained in 1898 there would have been a good increase in the net receipts, as there was a larger tonnage, and it would have given the company about $200,000 to add to its net earnings. Considering the condition of affairs the business for 1897-1898 has been good."

During the year there was, it is said, an increase in all kinds of freight moved of 631,461 tons, of which amount about one-half was bituminous coal. In the year 1896-97 the tons hauled aggregated 3,618,853, of which 1,421,410 was bituminous coal.

Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company.

(Earnings for year ending June 30, 1898.)

The earnings of the Brooklyn Heights RR. and Brooklyn, Queens County & Suburban RR., which companies operate the lines of the Rapid Transit System, are shown below.

The Brooklyn Rapid Transit Co. owns the capital stock of the Brooklyn Heights and the Suburban companies, and has outstanding bonds of $6,398,000, leaving $302,009 still in the treasury, as against $1,489,000 in the treasury in July, 1897. The Brooklyn Heights Co. contributes a certain amount a year towards meeting the interest on these bonds, this amount being the interest on the construction advances to the Heights Company from the Rapid Transit Company, and being included in the Heights Company's fixed charges In addition the Rapid Transit Company receives over $100,000 a year in interest upon securities held and funds invested, and is entitled to all the surplus profits of the two operating companies.

BROOKLYN HEIGHTS RAILROAD.

American Caramel Co.—New Company—Stock Offered.—C. I. Hudson & Co. in their advertisement on another page offer for sale a block of this company's preferred stock. The Caramel Company is a new Pennsylvania corporation, which on March 28, 1898, purchased the property, good will, etc., of the P. C. Weist Co. of York, Pa., and the Breisch-Hine Co. of Philadelphia, which companies, it is stated, practically controlled the American export business in caramels. The new company has no bonded debt and its capital stock consists of $1,000,000 common and $500,000 8 per cent cumulative preferred stock, dividends payable J-J. The net earnings for the year ending February 1898 are reported as $91,000 and for the four months ending June 30 1898 as $37,000.

The trial balance July 1, 1898, is as follows:

RESOURCES.		LIABILITIES.
Merchandise	$18,068	Capital stock, common	$1,000,000
Cash account	26,404	Capital stock, pfd	500,000

The directors are Messrs. D. F. Lafean, Geo. W. Williams, Geo. F. Breisch, Walter S. Hine and Harry R. Jones.

American Electric Heating—Reorganization Probably to be Deferred.—A Boston paper says:

The proposed reorganization whereby the $10,000,000 capital was to be scaled to $1,000,000 will probably not be attempted this year. The bondholders are also the largest stockholders and they will probably be content to go without their interest and effect no radical reorganization at present, in the hope of better things to come. The large owners of this company believe that there are great possibilities in the electric-heating field, but they realize that electric heating is in its infancy, and it is not anticipated that the use of electric-heating apparatus will come into general use until lower rates are obtainable for electricity. The interests most prominently identified with the American Electric Heating Corporation were among the pioneers in the American Bell Telephone Co. They say that for the first five years after the organization of the Bell Co. it was one of the greatest of disappointments and did not begin to offer the opportunities of the American Heating Electric Co.—V. 65, p. 1113.

American Fisheries Co.—American Sardine Co.—Fish Oil & Guano Co.—Status.—Annual Meeting.—The Fish Oil & Guano Co. was registered in Great Britain two years ago as successor of a syndicate in the same business. The company is largely interested in the American Fisheries Co., which was floated last spring, and in its subsidiary organization, the American Sardine Co., which was incorporated in April last. At the annual meeting of the Fish Oil & Guano Co. in Dublin on July 23 a letter was read from John E. Searles which, under date of July 5, makes the following interesting statements regarding both these companies:

The fishing season has opened very satisfactorily. The catch on the coast of Maine, where the season commenced during June, has been very large. We sent up some of our boats from this section of the coast, so that we had fifteen steamers constantly employed there. The fish are now running both off Rhode Island and Delaware coast, and this week we shall commence to catch them in the neighborhood of Promised Land. All indications at the time of writing are most favorable for a good season's business.

If we are successful also in getting control of the sardine business, we shall make the common stock a desirable investment. I have had my confidential agent with three attorneys in Maine for the past three weeks, and Mr. Gifford has spent the last ten days there trying to perfect the title to the properties and the contracts of the various vendors. There has been an unfortunate hitch through the refusal of some of the larger packers to carry out their signed agreements, but we are hoping to get them all into line during the present week. Meanwhile the American Sardine Co. has been incorporated, and we are all ready to organize the business within twenty-four hours when these difficulties are overcome.

Lord Lurgan, Chairman of the meeting, added:

It appears that options upon 51—virtually all the factories in the sardine industry—have been secured, and the company's representatives have been engaged in examining into the titles of the properties in question, accounts, valuations, etc. The net earnings of the combined factories, even during the period when they were fighting and competing with each other, it is represented to us, were over £60,000 a year, whereas, by the consolidation of their interests and as the result of pending contracts, Mr. Searles advises us that when the different factories are in proper working order the income from them will be about £200,000 per annum. Under all the circumstances I can only say that the affairs of the American Fisheries Co. are promising very satisfactorily considering the short time it has been organized.

It was expected the shares of the American Fisheries Co. would have been listed before this on the New York Stock Exchange, but there has been delay, owing in part to the fact that the shares are £1 each instead of £20, as the Exchange desires they should be.—V. 66, p. 286, 809.

American Thread Co.—English Sewing Cotton Co.—Pending Issue in London and New York.—As to the floating of the new securities of the American Thread Co., the "Money Market Review" of London says:

"The prospectus of this important "combine" may be expected soon after the holidays. The total capital of the company is $18,000,000, thus divided: $6,000,000 four per cent gold debenture bonds, $6,000,000 six per cent preference stock and $6,000,000 ordinary shares. It is stated that $3,000,000 of the capital has been subscribed by the United States thread-makers, and that the English Sewing Cotton Company will, when the remainder of the capital has been secured, subscribe $3,000,000. There will thus remain to be taken up only $6,000,000 of the gross capital, half in 4 per cent gold debenture bonds and half in 6 per cent preference stock. All the ordinary shares will be held by the English Sewing Cotton Co. and the makers in the United States, leaving for the public the debenture and preference stocks. It is stated that the promoters are working in harmony with J. & P. Coats, Limited."—V. 66, p. 899.

Augusta Southern RR.—South Carolina & Georgia RR.—Effort to Break Lease.—James U. Jackson, the President of the Augusta Southern, has been made temporary receiver of the road pending an application to annul the lease to the South Carolina & Georgia. It is claimed that the latter company has violated the terms of the lease and allowed the property to deteriorate.—V. 64, p. 408; V. 66, p. 901.

Baltimore & Ohio RR.—Year's Earnings.—The following comes from an official source: "The gross earnings from the operations of the roads for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1898, reached the large sum of $37,642,432, an increase of $2,060,310 over the similar period of 1897. The receivers, after they were appointed and had examined the situation carefully, were confident that if their policy was carried out the earnings of the railroad would be very greatly augmented, and, as is well known, they began a series of improvements that, while not yet completed, have progressed sufficiently to demonstrate beyond question that the B. & O. has an earning capacity that will place it in the ranks of the profitable railroads in the country within a few years. The two million dollars increase in gross was made only with an increase of $281,391 in expenses, giving a net increase of $1,778,919, the approximate net earnings from the roads alone for the year being $7,348,947, or largely in excess of what the fixed charges will be under the plan of reorganization. In addition to these earnings there is a miscellaneous net income from various sources of about $900,000." [The reorganization plan, in V. 66, p. 1236, in estimating the position of the reorganized company deducts from the other income for the year 1897 98 the sum of $251,603, as representing the income from securities, Western Union Stock, etc., since sold. Making this same deduction from the total net income ($8,248,947) as above, would appear to leave as the net available income for the reorganized company $7,997,947, contrasting with $7,724,785 as shown in the estimate furnished by the plan. The fixed charges of the new company will be about $6,252,000.—Ed.]

"It must be remembered that during last July and August there were coal strikes in Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia, which in two months cost the B. & O. more than half a million dollars and that never in the history of the country have rates been so low.

"The following is a statement of the gross earnings since 1862, two months of 1898 being approximate:

1894.....	22,502,062	1896.....	23,044,781	1898.....	27,642,432

Baltimore Belt Bonds Deposited.—It is announced that 90 per cent of the Baltimore Belt RR. 5 per cent first mortgage gold bonds has been deposited under the plan of reorganization. Brown Brothers & Co. here, in Philadelphia and Boston, and Alexander Brown & Sons, in Baltimore, will continue to accept deposits until and including Aug. 15.—V. 67, p. 273.

Bloomington (Ill.) & Normal Street Ry.—New Securities.—Payments on Old Bonds.—The Bloomington & Normal Street Ry., as successor of the Bloomington City Ry., foreclosed, has made a mortgage to the Illinois Trust & Savings Bank of Chicago, as trustee, to secure an issue of $250,000 first mortgage 5 per cent gold bonds dated July 1, 1898, and due July 1, 1923, but subject to call at par on thirty days' notice ten, fifteen or twenty years from date. The interest on this loan is payable either in Chicago at office of trustee or in New York at Chase National Bank. The loan is a first lien on the entire property, estimated "as well worth $400,000." None of the bonds has yet been issued.

The old bonds fared as follows:

"The first mortgage bonds $100,000 and interest were paid in full The second mortgage bonds, $73,000 and interest, received about 90 per cent. The third mortgage bonds, $227,000, received about $15,000. The stock is worthless. The Court costs, amounting to about $25,000, including solicitor's fees, were all paid from the proceeds of the sale."

None of the officers, directors or stockholders of the Bloomington City Railway have any connection with or interest in the new corporation, the Bloomington & Normal Railway, whose officers are: President, A. E. De Mange; Secretary, Willis E. Gray; Treasurer, J. F. Evans.—V. 66, p. 1187.

Boston & Albany.—Rumors.—The price of the company's shares has advanced in Boston this week about 25 points, to 250, giving rise to rumors that either the New York New Haven & Hartford or the New York Central is seeking control of the property. Official confirmation of a deal is lacking, indeed the report has been denied.

Quarterly.—Earnings for the quarter ending June 30 have been reported as follows:

3 months ending June 30—	Gross earnings.	Net earnings.	Interest, taxes, etc.	Dividends paid.	Balance surplus.
1898.....	$2,208,379	$790,834	$108,131	$500,000	$92,703

The figures for the fiscal year ending June 30 are given on a preceding page under annual reports.—V. 66, p. 952.

Boston Elevated Ry.—Plans Approved.—The Massachusetts Railroad Commissioners have approved the company's plans as to the stations and approaches thereto, the track system with walls and hand rails, also the contact rail and guard. The cars are to be run with electricity by the "third rail" system, but the contact rail instead of being in the center of the track is placed outside, elevated slightly above the track rail.—V. 67, p. 221.

Boston & Maine RR.—Quarterly.—Earnings for the quarter and the twelve months ending June 30 were as follows:

—V. 66, p. 899.

Brooklyn Heights RR.—Brooklyn Queens County & Suburban RR.—Quarterly.—These companies operate the lines of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit system. Earnings for the quarter ending June 30 have been reported.

BROOKLYN HEIGHTS RAILROAD.

Brooklyn Heights loans and bills payable June 30, 1898, were $100,000, against $250,000 on June 30, 1897, and for Queens County $265,000 against $395,000. The figures for the twelve months ending June 30, 1898, will be found under annual reports on a preceding page.—V. 66, p. 856, 953.

Brooklyn Rapid Transit—Nassau Electric RR.—Negotiations.—Plans looking to a union more or less complete of the street railway companies of Brooklyn it is known have long been mooted, but the claim is now made that "negotiations for the consolidation of Brooklyn Rapid Transit and the Nassau Electric systems are progressing rapidly."

Increased Facilities Wanted.—The Brooklyn trolley companies have met Bridge Commissioner Shea's request for higher tolls with a request for additional terminal facilities. The plans presented include four additional trolley loops in the Manhattan terminal to the east of the present loops, as well as permission to build an inclined plane leading to the bridge structure from Washington Street. This latter would enable a portion of the cars to reach the bridge without crossing the tracks at Sands Street. The companies intimate that they are willing to enter into a new agreement and pay higher tolls if they are granted the additional terminal accommodation.—V. 66, p. 1139; V. 67, p. 274.

Buffalo Traction Co.—Buffalo Street Ry.—Free Transfers in Place of Four-Cent Fares.—Mayor Diehl, of Buffalo, has approved the resolution of the Common Council amending the grant of the Buffalo Traction Co. so as to revoke the rebate check and four-cent fare provision and to permit a five-cent fare. This change was made on condition that a system of transfers should be established among all lines in the city. The Buffalo Traction Co. was recently reported to have passed into the control of the Street Railway interests and the establishment of a universal transfer system naturally follows from the change in ownership.—V. 66, p. 1139.

Canadian Pacific Ry.—Dividend Increased.—The dividend payable on the common stock Oct. 1 has been declared, and is 2 per cent, contrasting with 1½ per cent last October. This payment will make 4½ per cent distributed on the $65,000,000 ordinary stock in the calendar year 1898 as against 2½ per cent in 1897.—V. 67, p. 125.

Central Pacific RR.—Government Foreclosure Suit.—Attorney-General Griggs is quoted as saying: "I am preparing a bill to foreclose the debt, and it is completed save for the insertion of a few facts about which nobody seems to be certain. Unless there shall be soon an indication of some substantial movement to meet the expectation of Congress in the way of a proposition to extend the debt the bill will be filed somewhere along the line of the property involved."

A telegram from London, it is said, has been received in Washington saying that Sir William Harriott, Chairman of an organization of British stockholders, will sail for the United States this month for the purpose of submitting a bid for the property.—V. 67, p. 124.

Chicago Rock Island & Pacific Ry.—$923,000 General Mortgage 4s Listed.—The New York Stock Exchange has listed $923,000 additional general mortgage 4s, making total amount listed $45,923,000, all issued in accordance with the provisions of the mortgage, and to retire bonds as follows:

To retire $10,712,000 of first mortgage extension and collateral 5s at 105	$42,747,000
To retire $2,544,000 30 year debenture 5s, out of an issue of $1,500,000, called for payment Sept. 1, 1898	2,676,000
Issued under Section IV., Article I. of the general gold bond mortgage	500,000
Total amount of 4 p. c. gen. M. gold bonds outstanding.	$45,923,000

—V. 67, p. 125.

Cleveland Cincinnati Chicago & St. Louis Ry.—Chicago Indianapolis & Louisville.—Cincinnati Hamilton & Dayton Ry.—Talk as to Acquisitions.—With reference to the repeated reports that control of one or more companies has been or is about to be acquired by or in the interest of the Cleveland Cincinnati Chicago & St. Louis, General Samuel Thomas on Thursday said that he did not know of the completion of any such deal, though he admitted that there had been consultations in the boards of several Western railroads in regard to possible combinations or absorptions. He believes that the formation of a system including the Cleveland Cincinnati Chicago & St. Louis, the Chicago Indianapolis & Louisville, the Cincinnati Hamilton & Dayton and the Chesapeake & Ohio railroads would be entirely feasible and that it would be a good step for the railroads themselves and would prove a large factor in preserving through rates.—V. 67, p. 27, 273; V. 66, p. 1043.

Cleveland Medina & Southern Electric Ry.—New Mortgage.—The company has made a mortgage to the Cleveland Trust Co., as trustee, to secure $500,000 of 5 per cent $500 twenty-year bonds, dated July 1, 1898. The company's authorized capital stock is $750,000, and its line of road will extend from Cleveland southerly to Wooster, on the B. & O. RR., a distance of 52 miles. The company informs us that about 30 miles have been graded and bridged and that the contract for overhead construction has been let. Joseph W. Roof of Cleveland is connected with the enterprise.

Commonwealth Electric Co. of Chicago—Chicago Edison Co.—Stock Increased.—The Commonwealth Electric Co. has certified to the Secretary of State at Springfield, Ill., an increase in its capital stock from $500,000 to $5,000,000. The company was formed in accordance with the plan in the CHRONICLE of May 28, page 1043, and has taken over, or will take over, says the "Chicago Economist" all the important electric-lighting and power business in the territory west of Ashland Avenue, south of Thirty-ninth Street and North of North Avenue. The consolidation was effected by Samuel Insull, President of the Chicago Edison Company, and the management of the Commonwealth and Edison companies will be harmonious; but the bonds to be issued by the Commonwealth Co. will not be guaranteed by the Edison Co.

New Mortgage.—The new mortgage, it is understood, is dated June 1, 1898, and is made to the Northern Trust Co., as trustee, to secure an issue of 5 per cent bonds. These bonds will mature in 1943 without option of earlier redemption. Of the loan $2,000,000 will be issued at once to the syndicate, $150,000 will be reserved to retire underlying bonds of companies absorbed and $350,000 will be issuable hereafter for extensions. In excess of $2,500,000 the bonds can be issued only to the extent of 75 per cent of the actual cost of extensions and improvements. For the first five years the surplus earnings are to be expended for betterments and thereafter a sum equal to $17,000 for each $1,000,000 bonds issued is to be applied yearly to a depreciation reserve account.—V. 66, p. 1043; V. 67, p. 273.

Consolidated Street Ry. of Grand Rapids.—Status.—Coupons.—Messrs. Blodget, Merritt & Co. of Boston, to whom we wrote concerning the Grand Rapids Street Ry. first mortgage 6s, say: "There is nothing new for publication regarding this property or the status of the bonds, except that the interest has been paid within six months of the time of default in each case, together with interest on the deferred payment at 6 per cent, six months being the period of default fixed by the mortgage before foreclosure can be enforced."—V. 65, p. 367.

Covington (Ky.) Gas Light—Suburban Electric.—Pending Purchase.—The arbitrators to whom has been submitted the question of the proposed purchase of the Covington Gas Light Co.'s plant by the Suburban Electric Co., under an option bought from the city of Covington, consists of Judge Humphreys, of Louisville, and John D. Hearne representing the gas company, and Judge O'Rear, of Mt. Sterling, and James K. Stone, of Newport, representing the electric company, and Samuel H. Stone, State Auditor of Kentucky, as the fifth arbitrator. These five will fix the value of the plant. They will hold their next meeting about October 10, when their report will be made known.

Denver Leadville & Gunnison RR.—Union Pacific RR.—Foreclosure.—At Denver on August 6 Judge Rines in the United States Court entered a final decree of foreclosure in the suit of the American Loan & Trust Company against the Denver Leadville & Gunnison RR., whose bonds were pledged as collateral to secure the Union Pacific 4½ per cents for $2,308,000 due Nov. 1, 1918.—V. 62, p. 139; V. 67, p. 179.

Denver & Rio Grande RR.—Bond Conversion Rate Advanced.—Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and Speyer & Co. announce that on and after September 1 the terms upon which the first mortgage 7 per cent bonds due Nov. 1, 1900, can be converted into 4½ per cent first consols will be changed so that the price to be paid for the 4½ per cent bonds issued will be at the rate of 104 per cent instead of 103 per cent.—V. 67, p. 272.

Electro-Pneumatic Transit.—Restoration of Charter.—The company's charter which was declared forfeited on May 4, 1897, by the Attorney-General of New Jersey, for failure to pay taxes, was restored last week through the efforts of the Reorganization Committee, which secured the payment of the amount due, viz., $11,50 . It is proposed next to bring suits to recover various patents belonging to the company which are said to be valuable, but the revenue from which is now enjoyed by others.—V. 66, p. 384.

Erie & Central New York Ry.—New President, Etc.—Charles O. Scull of Baltimore has been elected President and director, succeeding Stewart Browne of New York, resigned. The United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co. of Baltimore, it is stated, controls about $250,000 out of the $300,000 bonds, and will take care of the small amount of outstanding contractors' obligations. The road runs from Cortlandt, N. Y., south to Cincinnatus, 20 miles. The interest on the bonds was not to begin until the completion of the road, which has just been accomplished. Of the company's first mortgage gold 6s, $75,000 were offered for sale this week at auction, with Feb. 1, 1898, coupon attached.—V. 66, p. 857.

Fitchburg RR.—Quarterly.—Earnings for the quarter and the 12 months ending June 30 have been reported:

3 mos. end. June 30—	Gross earnings.	Net earnings.	Charges.	Balance, sur. or def.
1898	$1,736,959	$121,702	$102,064	sur. $19,638
1897	1,773,462	396,189	396,845	def. 656
12 months—
1897-8	$7,359,470	$2,275,899	$1,567,640	sur. $708,259
1896-7	7,042,454	2,185,786	1,552,437	sur. 633,299

Dividends on preferred (4 p. c. per annum) are paid semi-annually, calling for about $151,000 quarterly.—V. 66, p. 900.

Gas Companies and War Tax.—Not Taxable as Pipe Lines.—Internal Revenue Commissioner Scott has ruled that gas companies are not subject to the war tax on pipe lines.

General Electric.—Meeting Adjourned One Week.—Over 95 per cent of the stock was represented at the special meeting on Wednesday to vote on the proposition to reduce the capital stock 60 per cent, but there were so many proxies that it was 6 o'clock before the credential committee was ready to report, and it was decided not to vote on the question till Aug. 17.

Suit Filed.—The preferred stockholders' committee (see V. 67, p. 222) has filed suit in the United States Court to restrain the company from decreasing the amount of the preferred stock.—V. 67, p. 222.

Glucose Sugar Refining.—Company's Policy.—The daily papers quote one of the directors (one of the Messrs. Mathiessen) as saying:

We are operating on the policy that the absolute bed-rock basis for the successful conduct of an industrial company such as ours is to be able to sell its product at a price which, while rendering a profit, is still unprofitable to competitors. We are doing just that thing. The fact is, there is not at this time a bushel of corn being ground by any concern except those in our company. We organized, taking in five plants, only one of which was profitable. We are now operating them at a profit.

We are in business for a long pull. On a ten-year run we might have raised prices, made $3,000,000 the first year, $2,500,000 the next, $1,000,000 the next and down to nothing at the end of ten years. It is better business to be moderate and earn $2,000,000 a year for ten years, which would be $20,000,000 in profits, against a loss of $10,000,000 the other way. We did for a very short time make the mistake in the beginning of putting the price too high, but it did not last long. We have abolished the rebate system and are doing a straight, clean business on the merits of our product and price, and, best of all, we have on this basis cleaned up all competitors.

As to the dividend on the common stock, we will begin the payment of 1¼ per cent quarterly the first of next September. There will be no occasion for charging off next year $600,000 for betterments.

Rubber from Corn Oil.—Regarding the company's attempt to utilize waste corn oil in the manufacture of a rubber substitute, the "Chicago Tribune" says:

From the waste of ordinary yellow corn combined with Para rubber in the proportion of half and half the company's chemists have produced a rubber that will bend and stretch, and that has all the resiliency of the best Para caoutchouc. Experts say this new rubber will cheapen the cost of rubber goods at least 25 per cent. Corn rubber has almost exactly the appearance of the ordinary reddish brown india-rubber. The process of manufacture is not perfect enough to make it resist heat as well as india-rubber, and the chemists are now working to remedy this defect. Rubber made from oil of corn, however, does not oxidize readily as does ordinary india-rubber. Articles manufactured from it will always remain pliable and not crack.

Contrary to reports, this corn rubber has not been put on the market and will not be for some time, officials of the company say. The company intends to go on with its experiments till the success of the new substance is sure, and then to patent the process and to go into the manufacture on an immense scale. The corn rubber, it is said, will be adapted to nearly all the uses that ordinary rubber is capable of—from bicycle tires to linoleum. The more refined uses to which the rubber is put, however, will still be a closed field, for the composition of corn rubber will prevent its substitution for India rubber for scientific uses as in medicine and surgery.—V. 67, p. 272.

Henderson Bridge Co.—Called.—Bonds numbered:

227	234	265	572	692	816	1001	1017	1141	1131	1617	1988

have been drawn by lot and will be paid by the Central Trust Co. on Sept. 1, 1898, at 105 per cent.—V. 61, p. 324.

Hudson Electric Light Co.—Control Purchased.—Control of this company, which supplies Hoboken, West Hoboken, Weehawken and other towns north of the Delaware Lackawanna & Western RR. with light and power, has been purchased by Newark and Jersey City men, including, it is stated, B. M. Shanley, E. F. C. Young, Miles Tierney and others. The company's capital stock is $400,000 and it has outstanding $500,000 of 6 per cent gold bonds due July 1, 1922, but subject to call at 105. The company on Jan. 1, 1898, had in use 8,317 incandescent lamps, 666 arc lights and 169 horse power motors. Its earnings in 1897 were, gross, $196,296; net, $89,724; interest charge, $31,288; balance, surplus for year, $58,646.

Illinois Central RR.—Canton Aberdeen & Nashville RR.—Proposed Extension.—President Stuyvesant Fish and General Manager J. T. Harahan, of the Illinois Central RR., and others, have applied to the Secretary of State at Birmingham, Ala., for a charter for the Canton Aberdeen & Nashville Railroad, capital stock $1,000,000. The road will be 65 miles long, running from West Point, Miss., through Fayette, Lamar and Marion counties, Ala., to an 11,000-acre tract of coal land bought and operated by the Mississippi Valley Coal Co., near Winfield, Marion County, last fall. Winfield is a station on the Kansas City Memphis & Birmingham RR. The new line is that mentioned in our issue of March 5, page 471. It may eventually be extended further north.—V. 67, p. 274.

Little Rock Hot Springs & Texas RR.—Private Bids to be Received Until Oct. 1.—No bid was received on July 9 (the date set by the Court for the sale of the property) as high as $50,000, the upset price, and the sale was adjourned till Aug. 9. On July 22, however, Judge Williams, at Little Rock, issued an order authorizing the receiver to receive private bids until Oct. 1, the property to be advertised for sale in case any bid of at least $50,000 is received accompanied by a deposit of $2,000.—V. 65, p. 69.

Long Island RR.—Quarterly.—Earnings for the quarter ending June 30 have been reported.

3 months ending June 30.	Gross earnings.	Net earnings.	Other income.	Interest, taxes, etc.	Balance, surplus
1898	$1,120,829	$380,561	$32,608	$310,078	$103,091
1897	1 055,468	351,925	40,950	316,954	75,921

Loans and bills payable June 30, 1898, $1,579,000, against $1,600,000 on June 30, 1897. The figures for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1898, were given last week under annual reports on page 272.—Vol. 67, p. 272.

Louisville & Nashville Terminal Co.—New Bonds.—We understand this company will issue $2,000,000 of 50-year 4 per cent bonds to meet the cost of the property and for improvements.—V. 67, p. 222.

Manhattan Steamship Co.—New Steamship Line to Maine Begins Operations.—This company, incorporated last January, on Thursday began a regular steamer service from this port to Maine. It is intended to have two steamers a week, one on Mondays and one on Thursdays, sail for Rockland, Camden, Belfast, Bucksport and Bangor, and on Saturdays one for Eastport direct. The company also expects later to operate a line to Portland and another to Yarmouth, N. S. The present steamers, the Pentagoet and the Philadelphia, are small freight boats, but three new passenger and freight steamers are to be built. The vessels will use pier No. 6, North River. The local office is in the Bowling Green Building.—V. 66, p. 237.

Metropolitan Street Ry.—Increase of Stock Authorized.—The stockholders this week duly authorized the proposed increase in the capital stock from $30,000,000 to $45,000,000. Of the new stock $5,000,000 will be held in reserve in the treasury. The other $10,000,000 will be distributed among the present stockholders at par in proportion to their present holdings.

Last November there were issued to the stockholders of the Metropolitan Traction Co. as a 20 per cent dividend $6,000,000 debenture certificates. These obligations were created subject to the following agreement:

"Whenever the capital stock of said Metropolitan Street Railway Co. shall be increased to the extent of $6,000,000, such additional stock shall be offered at par, for cash, to the stockholders of said Metropolitan Street Railway Co. of record at the time of such increase, in the proportion of their holdings; and the said obligations shall be receivable, in lieu of cash, by the Metropolitan Street Railway Co. from its stockholders in the proportion of their holdings at par and accrued interest in payment for such additional stock. And in case of such issue and offer of stock and after a reasonable time for action thereon, all of said obligations which shall remain outstanding may be retired at the option of the Metropolitan Street Railway Co. by the payment of par and accrued interest, or by the exchange of stock of the said Street Railway Co. therefor at par."

Of the $10,000,000 stock, therefore, first to be issued, $6,000,000 will be required for the redemption of the debenture certificates, and the remaining $4,000,000 will be used to meet the cost of the extensive construction work now under way.

Cost of Construction.—President Vreeland was asked whether the new stock as authorized would supply all the money needed to complete the rebuilding and equipment of the system for operation with electricity. He replied:

I think so. Of course a large amount of money has already been spent in establishing plants and in the work of preparation. By the time we get the system in good working order the company will have expended fully $15,000,000. Work is now being pushed along as rapidly as possible, and I expect to be able to run the electric cars down to the lower end of Sixth Avenue by Oct. 1 at the latest. We are anxious to relieve the pressure on Broadway just as soon as possible. The capacity of that line is now strained to the utmost limit.

Trolley to Replace Cable.—When the Sixth and Eighth Avenue lines are in operation as electric roads, it is understood the work of changing the motive power of the Broadway and Columbus Avenue lines from cable to underground trolley will begin. Plans for this change are already, it is said, under consideration by the board of directors. As showing the advantage to the company of being able to use the electric cars on Broadway as well as on the parallel avenue, President Vreeland said:

In the morning, when business men are eager to get down town, we will run a large number of cars quickly and directly into the business section from every point up town. Cars from Second Avenue, Lexington, Madison, Sixth, Eighth, Columbus and Amsterdam avenues will all turn into Broadway at convenient points. Early in the evening, when the business man wants to get home, he can take a car down town that will carry him without change wherever he wants to go on any of the up-town avenues. We shall also be able to provide systematically for the convenience of the shoppers in the afternoon. At certain hours a large proportion of the cars on the up-town lines will be run direct to the shopping district. Cars from Amsterdam, Columbus, Eighth, Madison and Lexington Avenues will be run through Fifty-ninth Street and down Sixth Avenue and back again. During the evening, when people want to get to the theatres, all of our up-town lines will converge into Broadway.—V. 67, p. 178.

Newark Gas.—Name of Purchaser.—United States Senator James Smith, it is stated, admits that he is the real purchaser of the Newark Gas Company. He denies that any other person except Thomas Nevins is interested with him.—V. 67, p. 223.

New England Telephone & Telegraph—$570,700 New Stock.—The directors have ordered that 5,707 shares of the capital stock now in the treasury be offered to stockholders for cash, at par, in proportion to their respective holdings.

Each stockholder on record at the close of business Saturday, Aug. 20, 1898, will be entitled to take, at $100 per share, shares of the stock to be sold in the proportion of one share for every twenty shares then held. This right to subscribe will expire at 1 o'clock Sept. 24, 1898. Payment for the shares subscribed must be made to the Treasurer Nov. 16, 1898. No interest will be allowed upon sums paid in advance. Certificates will be ready for delivery on the date named for payment.—V. 67, p. 74.

New Haven Street Ry.—Consolidation.—A special despatch to the "New York Commercial" says: "A meeting of the stockholders has been called for Aug. 15 to take action on the proposed purchase of the East Haven River Electric RR. The latter road is capitalized for $150,000, and the transfer will be made by an issue of New Haven Street Ry. bonds to the extent of $150,000 or $200,000. It is rumored that after the New Haven Street Railway has secured the East Haven road, the whole will be turned over to the Fairhaven & Westville road."

New Orleans & Western RR.—Receivers' Certificates.—An issue of $400,000 receivers' certificates has been authorized and $50,000 of the loan is offered for sale at par and interest by a Philadelphia house. These certificates are due July 1, 1900; interest January and July 1, payable at the State Trust Co., New York. They are described as an absolute first lien ahead of $2,000,000 first mortgage 5s and $1,000,000 second mortgage 4s on property costing over two million dollars in cash. They are partially issued for the purpose of building additional cotton warehouses, for which there is a demand, and in which cotton can be stored and handled without much additional expense. This increased business is expected to improve the net earnings of the company considerably. The present financial troubles and receivership of the company are due to the fact that the plant cost more than was expected, and that no provision for interest payment was made while its business was in a state of development."—V. 66, p. 1046.

New York Brewerles Cos.—Plan Not Adopted.—At the adjourned extraordinary general meeting held July 27 in London, to receive the result of the poll on the resolutions submitted on July 13th with reference to the proposed reduction of capital, the Chairman announced that the scheme was carried at the extraordinary general meeting and at the separate meeting of ordinary shareholders, but that the majority of the preference shareholders (9,166) in favor of the resolutions not being large enough, the scheme fell through. The proposition was to reduce the ordinary stock from £300,000 to £100,000, and then to convert this £100,000 and the £300,000 of 8 per cent cumulative preferred stock into like amounts, respectively, of new stock, all of one denomination. Had the plan gone through the preferred shareholders would have received a dividend of 5 per cent in cash in settlement of all dividends, and one-half of the surplus profit in excess of 6 per cent yearly on the new shares would have been applicable to the sinking fund for the company's £18,092 of 5 per cent debentures. There is also £330,000 of 6 per cent debentures outstanding.

The company was organized Aug. 15, 1888, to unite the H. Clausen & Son Brewing Co. and Flanagan, Nay & Co., both of New York City. The proposal to reduce the capital had for its object the placing of the company on a sound financial basis and the meeting of losses which the company has sustained. A circular issued by preference shareholders opposed to the scheme gives the following regarding the company:

For the past four years the net earnings of the company have been barely sufficient to pay the preference dividend, and for a portion of that period the preference shareholders, with a view to providing additional working capital, consented to receive their dividends in debenture stock instead of cash, and under this arrangement those shareholders have left no less a sum than £48,092 of their cash profits in the business. For the year ending 31st August, 1897, the net profits were a little over £41,000, leaving, after payment of debenture interest, £17,000 only available for dividend, out of the £24,000 which the preference shareholders were entitled to receive. According to information received from the directors it is not likely that the profits for the current year will exceed £17,000.

New York & Harlem RR.—New York Central & Hudson River RR.—Bond Refunding Dispute Settled.—The question as to which of these companies should get the benefit from the saving of $420,000 annually in fixed charges to be secured by the refunding at 3½ per cent interest of the $12,000,000 Harlem 7 per cent bonds due May 1, 1900, was settled this week by a joint committee of directors representing the two companies. It was resolved to allow the New York Central the benefit of $220,000 of the saving and the Harlem Road $200,000. These terms will be submitted to the stockholders of each company, and, if ratified, application will be made to the Court to have the injunction suit dismissed. The joint committee included from the New York Central board J. Pierpont Morgan, H. McK. Twombly and President S. R. Callaway, and from the Harlem board Alfred Van Santvoord, John B. Dutcher and Francis P. Freeman.—V. 67, p. 223.

New York Ontario & Western Ry.—Quarterly.—Earnings for the quarter and the 12 months ending June 30 were:

3 months end. June 30.	Gross earnings.	Net earnings.	Other income	Interest, taxes, etc.	Balance surplus.
1898:.....	$876,833	$ 18,983	$17,515	$221,489	$15,009
1897.....	948,869	266,910	20,722	232,203	55,424
12 months.
1897-8.....$3,914,635		$1,225,058	$82,950	$905,558	$402,450

—V. 66, p. 955.

People's Gas Light & Coke.—Quarterly Return.—The company's report to the city of gross receipts from the sale of gas (to private consumers) for the quarter ending July 1, 1898, shows a small increase over the same quarter in 1897. The following is the comparative statement of gross receipts from sales of gas for the quarter and the half-year:

Second Quarter.		First Half-year
$1,181,462	$1,094,035	$2,617,689	$2,523,207

The increase for the half-year was $94,482, or 3·7 per cent. Of course the above does not show the gross receipts of the company as now constituted. The sales of gas to the city are provided for in another way—that is, the city gets a certain price per lamp instead of a percentage of receipts. Then the People's Company now includes the Mutual Fuel Gas Co. of Hyde Park, which was not subject to the 3½ per cent arrangement. The statement indicates, however, a small increase in the output of gas so far this year.—"Chicago Economist."—V. 67, p. 223.

Rockford (Ill.) Ry. Light & Power.—Rockford Traction.—Status.—In reply to a letter of inquiry Messrs. Farson, Leach & Co. of Chicago write: "We understand that the name of the Rockford City Railway Co. has been changed recently to the Rockford Railway Light & Power Co. There has been no change in the Rockford Traction Co. other than that the President is Mr. C. H. Moore, Jr. There is a movement on foot to consolidate the two plants, but it has not as yet taken place. The deal may be consummated within the next three months."—V. 67, p. 127.

Saco (Me.) Electric RR.—Status.—Treasurer F. A. Hobart writes us as follows touching this new enterprise:

Line to run from Saco to Bonney Eagle, in Standish Co., Me. Population on the line estimated to be about 30,000. Chartered for both passengers and freight. Bonds at $200,000, 30-year, 5 p. c., gold. Massachusetts Loan & Trust Co., 70 State St., Boston, Trustee. Officers: E. B. Loring, President, Boston; F. A. Hobart, Treasurer, Boston. Office of Company, 4,320 Tremont Building. F. A. Hobart, trustee, has the contract to build and equip the road, and desires to receive proposals from contractors so as to have the road in operation ready for the season of 1899.—V. 66, p. 710.

Schenectady (N. Y.) Ry.—Schenectady Illuminating—General Electric.—Purchased.—The General Electric Co. has purchased the plants of the Schenectady Street Car Co. and the Schenectady Illuminating Co., and will hereafter operate both plants with its own power, soon to be obtained from the Hudson River at Mechanicville.—V. 65, p. 283; V. 67, p. 222.

Seattle Traction Co.—Consolidation Not Yet Effected.—Treasurer Allen B. Forbes (with N. W. Harris & Co., Chicago,) writes: "Replying to your letter of the 2d instant, I would say that the negotiations which you refer to as pending in June, 1898, for the consolidation of the Seattle street railways have not as yet resulted in anything, and so far as we can see there is no definite prospect of an early culmination."—V. 66, p. 1141.

Spring Valley Water Works of San Francisco.—New Mortgage for $4,000,000.—The stockholders, on August 4, duly authorized the proposed third mortgage to secure $4,000,000 4 per cent gold bonds due Sept. 1, 1906. The purpose of the new loan is to meet the expense of erecting pumping works and for extensions and improvements as required. The company's outstanding capital stock is $14,000,000, while $2,000,000 additional remains in the treasury. The present bonded debt is $9,975,000.—V. 67, p. 30.

Swift & Co.—Issue of Treasury Stock.—The directors, it is understood, have decided to offer the stock held in the treasury to stockholders at par, each stockholder to be entitled to subscribe for an amount prorating with his present holding. The authorized issue is $15,000,000, of which $13,767,300 is outstanding, and the remainder, $1,232,700, in the treasury.—V. 66, p. 809.

ANNUAL REPORT FOR THE FISCAL YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 1898.

TO THE STOCKHOLDERS:

Pursuant to the By-Laws, the Annual Report is submitted as follows:

EARNINGS AND EXPENSES.

The gross earnings and expenses of the Company and the mileage operated during the year ending June 30, 1898, compare with the four previous years as follows:

* Also 81·5 miles between Orange and Washington, operated under trackage agreement.

The above does not cover Louisville Division, for which see below.

The Company earned from its line between Lexington and Louisville, operated under trackage contract, $304,244 51, at an expense, including rents, interest, etc., of $292,433 73, leaving a net profit from this line of $11,810 78. The operations of the last year on this line have demonstrated the judgment of your directors that it would be a profitable contract for the Company. Hereafter these earnings and expenses will be included in the general statements of the Company.

The gross earnings of the Company for the year just ended are the greatest in its history, exceeding by more than a million dollars the largest previous earnings. All classes of traffic show an increase, but that of freight is the most.

The passenger earnings show a slight increase received from each passenger per mile, but there is an increase in the number of passengers, and the passenger trains show a gratifying gain in the earnings per mile, being for the year just ended 92·5 cents, as against 87·7 cents the previous year.

The tons of freight carried one mile show the very large increase of 25 per cent; the rate per ton per mile, however, decreased from 4·19 mills to 3·70 mills, a remarkably low average, due to the increase in the lower class of freights and to the excessive competition in the coal traffic; the seaboard rate per ton per mile on the latter traffic dropping to 2·59 mills, from 2·97 mills last year.

It is also gratifying to state that all expenditures made during the past year, including those for additions and betterments, have been charged to operating expenses, and no additions have been made to construction account during this period.

Allusion was made in the last annual report to the destruction by fire of our piers at Newport News. The piers have been completed this year, as stated therein, at an extra cost of $101,922 80 over and above the insurance received; also an additional pier for the handling of lumber and coarse freights was built at a cost of $35,395 32, all of which has been charged to operating expenses. In addition to this, $58,394 40 was expended by this Company for improvements to the elevator and the rebuilding of its conveyors, which were also injured by the fire that destroyed the piers. The Company's plant at Newport News is now in first-class condition and will only require additions from time to time as the business increases.

Three and three tenths miles of double track through the city of Maysville and six tenths of a mile at Danlop have been opened during the year at a cost of $33,278 87, and charged to operating expenses. With the increased number of loaded cars hauled per train, it was found that the sidings on many of the divisions were of insufficient length, and additions have been made and new sidings built for the passing of trains; in all, twenty-six and nine-tenths miles of track have been added to the Company's system for such purposes, at a cost of $99,423·17, all of which was charged to operating expenses. At the same time certain sidings on the old line, which were not needed, have been taken up and a credit for the rails passed to this account, making the net cost of such increase of sidings that has entered into operating expenses $39,255·57.

9,169 tons of 70-pound, 75-pound and 100-pound steel rails have been laid during the year; the cost of this, after deducting the old rail sold, being but $92,801 92, owing to the very low rate at which the new rails were contracted for in the previous year. The old line between Gordonsville and Charlottesville, over which our fast passenger trains run, has been liable in previous years to overflow and washouts, and it was thought wise to raise the grade and replace some of the wooden trestles with permanent work; $35,391 77 has been spent on this work, which is practically completed and 760 feet of wooden openings having been replaced by stone and iron and solid embankment. A bridge, at a cost of $21,014 66, has been built over Smith's creek, Clifton Forge, in order to carry the highway under the track and connect our yards. This has made a great improvement in the handling of our business, and is also a great accommodation to the public. The usual renewal of ties and ballast and bridges has been carried on, and the condition of the property fully maintained.

Some three years since the directors decided to aid in the construction of a hospital for the use of the employes of the Company. An organization among the employes was effected this year and the management was called upon to provide suitable quarters. After carefully going over the situation, it was thought best to turn over to the Hospital Association the Gladys Inn, at Clifton Forge, which was admirably suited for the purpose, and build for the Company's use a new hotel and station nearer the centre of the town. $53,688 78 was spent for this purpose and a substantial improvement completed, all of which was charged to repairs of stations.

The expenses during the year for equipment have been large. Twelve heavy consolidated engines were purchased, at a cost of $130,200, and charged to operating expenses, to take the place of twelve light engines, which were too small for the economical handling of the Company's traffic. A large sum of money has been spent at the Company's shops in placing automatic couplers and air-brakes upon the freight equipment and in rebuilding cars to replace those worn out. It was thought wise to make contracts for new heavy cars to replace some of the lighter equipment upon the road, upon which, under the law of Congress, large sums would have to be expended for automatic couplers, and it seemed wiser to destroy these lighter cars and purchase heavier ones. A contract was made for 1,000 box cars last August at a very low price, payable 10 per cent in cash and the balance in thirty-six monthly payments with 5 per cent interest. This 10 per cent and all the monthly payments, as paid, have been charged to the repairs of freight cars; the total sum so charged up during the year for new freight cars being $184,321 28 equivalent to 434 new cars. The other equipment and shops have been fully maintained.

A list of the new work and additions and cost, in detail, will be found in the report of the General Manager annexed.

The output and distribution of coal for the past year, as compared with the previous year, have been as follows:

This shows a very gratifying increase in this class of traffic.

The Chesapeake & Ohio Steamship Company has been successfully operated during the year, and this company has been called upon to make no advances except for the purchase and cancellation of $48,669 56 of bonds, which under the contract have been purchased and canceled. This adds to the value of the company's stock in the steamship company, but it was thought best to deduct this amount from the earnings of this Company during the year and not carry any portion to investment account.

$2,287,000 of the 6% bonds of the Company fell due during the year, for which the Company had a right to issue 5% bonds, and a contract was made for the exchange at 10% premium, this premium being credited to discount on bonds. The Company also sold in January $1,590,000 of 4½% (Treasury) bonds which it had received at various periods, under the terms of the General Mortgage, to reimburse it for payments made for bonds and equipment notes paid, at such a price as enabled it to pay off all of its loans and accounts and provide a cash surplus for working capital.

A few years ago the Company undertook, through a subcompany called the Norfolk Terminal & Transportation Company, to secure terminal facilities in the city of Norfolk, and notes amounting to $577,364 53 and interest for the purchase of land were given and guaranteed by this Company. During the year just closed the Terminal Company has sold $500,000 of 5% 50-year bonds at par less 2½% commission, this Company guaranteeing the principal and interest on said bonds, and with the proceeds have retired all of the notes that are outstanding. This secures to your Company very valuable terminals in the growing city of Norfolk at a moderate price. In addition to this the Company reserved a large amount of land not needed for railroad purposes on one of the principal streets in Norfolk, which it can plat and sell for a very large sum, its estimated value being $150,000. This will reduce the advances to that Company and add to the cash resources of this Company.

The interest charges for the coming fiscal year, 1898-'99 (including interest on the 4½% bonds now in the treasury), will be as follows:

We are pleased to note that, after the various changes alluded to above, the interest charges of the Company for the coming year will be decreased instead of increased.

As will be seen by the balance sheet of the Company hereto annexed, the financial condition of the Company is very satisfactory.

Under the plan heretofore established $9,613 94 of bond discount has been written off to profit and loss.

It is very gratifying to be able to show that, after entering up every charge against the Company, charging off loss on the grain elevator of $20,352 91 and $44,420 60 of bad debts, there is still a net profit to carry to profit and loss of $618,509 29; this, too, in a year of probably the greatest demoralization of rates that has ever been known.

Since the first of June various meetings have been held to devise measures to secure the maintenance of tariffs and the outlook for the coming year appears to be that while there will be no great advance there will be a more steady adherence to tariffs than for the year just closed. A very slight increase upon the immense tonnage carried by your Company will produce marvelous net results.

Your directors have continued the system inaugurated last year of having the accounts of the Company examined and verified by Messrs. Patterson & Corwin, certified public accountants of New York City, who are especially familia with such work.

During the year your Company has lost the invaluable services of Mr. William P. Anderson, who had been a director of the Company from its inception. It was also called upon to mourn the loss of Mr. William P. Walker, Jr., Freight Traffic Manager, who had been with the Company for many years, and for the last six years in charge of the freight traffic and also as the representative of this Company upon the Board of Managers of the Joint Traffic Association in New York City. Mr. F. M. Whitaker, who has been the assistant was appointed to fill his place and the line of promotion was followed in the service.

The traffic departments of the Company are to be commended for the earnest and successful work that they have done in increasing the business of the Company and maintaining its revenues as against the violent competition of the past year.

It is with pleasure that the management once more comments upon the continued remarkable success of the transportation department during the year as evidenced by further increase of train loads as well as by the regularity of trains and freedom from accidents, and the thanks of the Company are again given to all officers and employes for their faithful and efficient work.

By order of the Board of Directors.

M. E. INGALLS,
President.

L. F. SULLIVAN, Comptroller.

RICHMOND, VA., July 27th, 1898.

Standard Distilling & Distributing Co.—American Spirits Manufacturing—United States Spirits Association.—Distributing Agency.—The United States Spirits Association was organized at Cincinnati last week to distribute the country's entire output of alcohol and spirits, all of the distributers of the United States, it is stated, being members. The new association is not an incorporated concern, but is simply a voluntary body. It will take the product and sell it to the wholesaler, who will in turn distribute it to the retailer. The directors (and officers) are:

W. N. Hobart (Chairman), Cincinnati; J. Walter Freiberg (Secretary), Cincinnati; F. T. Corning (Treasurer), Peoria, Ill.; P. J. Hennessey, Chicago; Samuel Woolner, New York; Frank Curtiss, New York; Chas. A. Webb, New York.

Practically all of the distilleries of the United States, it is claimed, are now owned by the American Spirits Manufacturing Co. and the Standard Distilling & Distributing Co. The new Association is expected to effect "great economies in the cost of distribution and a consequent saving in price and uniformity in business methods which cannot but prove advantageous to the consumer, the middle man and to the producer."—V. 67, p. 30; V. 64, p. 81.

Stockton & Tuolumne County RR.—Mortgage for $1,000,000 Proposed.—The stockholders were to vote in San Francisco on Aug. 8 on a proposition to create a bonded indebtedness for $1,000,0 0. The line is projected to run from Stockton, Cal., to Summerville, via Sonora, 65 miles, traversing "a rich mining district and extending to the entrance of the timber country." President, Mrs. Annie Kline Rikert; Secretary, Robert S. Clarke; Chief Engineer, Henry A. Brainerd, with offices at Grand Hotel, San Francisco, Cal.

Tax on Stock Certificates.—Ruling by the Commissioner.—The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has made the following ruling in regard to the tax on certificates of stock:

The intention of the law was to tax original issues of certificates of stock and to impose a tax upon every change of ownership. When stock is transferred for which no certificate has been issued, and the evidence of transfer is shown only by the books of the company, the stamps shall be placed on such books. Where the change of ownership is by the transfer of a certificate and the certificate contains a blank form of assignment on the back, which is filled in by the insertion of the name of the person to whom the stock is transferred, the stamp shall be placed upon the certificate.

In case of an agreement to sell, or where the transfer is by the delivery of the certificate, signed in blank, the name of the transferee or vendee to be filled in afterwards, there shall be made and delivered by the seller to the buyer a bill or memorandum of sale, to which the stamp should be affixed.

Where certificates of stock are sold and the tax has been paid and stamps affixed in the manner stated when the transfer is made on the books of the company from the name of the party selling to the name of the purchaser, no stamps are required on the new certificates issued in lieu of those cancelled.

Terre Haute Electric Railway.—Bondholders' Committee.—Deposit of Bonds of 1892 Asked.—At a meeting on August 5 of the bondholders of the Terre Haute Street Ry. Co. (first mortgage loan of 1892), there being represented $372,000 bonds out of the issue of $400,000, the following protective committee was appointed: Mr. Wm. H. Hankle, Secy. Illinois Trust & Savings Bank, Chairman; Moses L. Scudder, 32 Liberty St., New York and Dennis Deming, President 1st National Bank, Terre Haute, Indiana. The bondholders are requested to deposit their holdings with the mortgage trustee, the Illinois Trust & Savings Bank of Chicago under an agreement copies of which can be obtained from Mr. M. L. Scudder, 32 Liberty Street, New York.—V. 66, p. 9 6.

United Breweries Co.—Chicago Brewery Consolidation. New Company Incorporated.—The United Breweries Co. has been incorporated in New Jersey to acquire thirteen lager beer brewing companies of Chicago. This is the consolidation which the Chicago papers have been discussing for several months past. Harry Rubens of Chicago, counsel to the company, says:

"The company is organized for the purpose of taking over the property and business of thirteen of the leading breweries of Chicago. The stock of the corporation will be almost entirely owned by the owners of the companies taken over. The directors of the new company will be taken from the directors of the old companies. The corporation has been authorized to issue capital to the extent of $5,600,000, subject to a first mortgage 6 per cent bond issue of not exceeding $3,500,000, but it is certain that neither that amount of stock nor the authorized amount of bonds will be issued.

"The properties acquired are the following: Blue Island Brew'ng Co., Chicago Brewing Co., Citizens' Brewing Co., Corper Brewing & Malting Co., Fecker Brewing Co., Honn & Gabler Brewing Co., Monarch Brewing Co., Phœnix Brewing Co., Northwestern Brewing Co., South Chicago Brewing Co., Star Brewing Co., Ruehl Brewing Co. and Michael Sieben.

"The management of the new corporation will remain with the proprietors of the old companies. The output of this corporation will be one of the largest of any brewing company in the United States, and the organization has been principally effected for the purpose of giving to the stockholders the advantage of the economies and benefits of a large output without any increase in the price. The output of the company will be between 500,000 and 600,000 barrels per annum."

Kessler & Co. of this city are the bankers at the head of the underwriting syndicate. The main office of the company will be in the Stock Exchange Building, Chicago. The mortgage trustee is the Continental Trust Co. of New York.

West End Street Car Co. of San Antonio, Tex.—Receiver Applied For.—On August 8 John H. Clark was appointed receiver. The interest on the bonds fell due on July 1 and remains unpaid.

Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing.—$3,000,000 Debenture Certificates Sold.—The following official announcement was made on Thursday:

"The directors have authorized the issue of $3,500,000 fifteen-year 5 per cent gold debenture certificates, and yesterday sold $3,000,000 of such issue. Coupons mature January and July. The Mercantile Trust Co. is trustee. The company has placed these certificates without creating any mortgage upon its assets, the company simply covenanting that it will not hereafter create any lien upon its property.

"The proceeds of the sale will retire outstanding floating and bonded indebtedness of the company, returning to its treasury as available assets stocks and bonds in various lighting and power companies yielding an annual income exceeding one-half of the interest charge of the debenture certificates. The saving in interest to the company will be important, but inconsequential as compared with the strong position the company will hereafter occupy in the rapidly increasing electrical trade, to care for which the company will have ample resources."

We are informed that the $590,000 collateral trust 5s. of 1890 and the United States Electric Light Co. bonds, of which recently $590,000 were outstanding, either have all been paid off or are about to be with the proceeds of the new loan, leaving outstanding besides the company's capital stock only the $194,560 old scrip issued for dividends and the new debentures.—V. 65, p. 1127.

Wheeling & Lake Erie Railway.—Second Instalment Called.—The reorganization committee gives notice that it has called the second instalment of $1 00 per share common stock and $2 00 per share of preferred stock, payable at the Central Trust Co. on or before Aug. 29. This is the second instalment called by the committee and, including the $1 00 per share paid to the stockholders' committee, is the third payment.

Foreclosure Under First Mortgage.—At Cleveland on Monday a foreclosure suit was commenced by the Mercantile Trust Co., as mortgage trustee under the first mortgage for $3,000,000 on the Lake Erie Division.—V. 67, p. 276.

Williamsport (Pa.) Gas Co.—Property Purchased.—This property has been bought by Wilson & Stephens, 41 Wall Street, New York, after negotiations extending over a considerable period. Plans for the development of the business contemplate the laying of more than 10 miles of new mains, the erection of a 500,000-foot holder, and the installation of a coal-gas apparatus, all of which will be undertaken at once. The control of the company for many years has been in the estate of John G. Reading, and the charter under which it operates was granted by the Legislature in 1854.

Winchester & Potomac—Committee.—Judge Wm. A. Fisher, Wm. Frick and Charles Nitze, of Baltimore, Md.; John T. Gibson, of Charlestown, W. Va., and Judge Wm. A. Atkinson, S. H. Hansbaugh and W. H. Baker, of Winchester, Va., compose the committee which is negotiating with the Reorganization Committee of the Baltimore & Ohio concerning the future disposition of the W. & P. The road runs from Harper's Ferry, Va., to Winchester, 32 miles, and was leased in 1867 to the B. & O. for $27,000 yearly. The interest on the $260,000 bonds has been paid in full, but dividends, formerly 7½ per cent on the $150,000 stock, it is stated, have not been paid for a year past.

Zanesville Street RR.—Zanesville Railway & Electric Co.—Reorganization Committee—Deposits Called For.—A committee consisting of John M. Graham, William M. Crapo and Thomas T. Robinson has been requested to reorganize the property, and holders of bonds who have not already done so are requested to sign the bondholders' agreement and deposit their bonds with the International Trust Co., Trustee, 45 Milk st., Boston, Mass., within thirty days from August 1.—V. 65, p. 1127.

The Commercial Times.

Friday Night, Aug. 12, 1898.

Healthy business conditions have been apparent in most lines of trade. As the fall season approaches increased animation on the part of buyers is perceptible. The progress towards a settlement of the existing war has continued to be a topic of general interest, and the fact that Spain has agreed to the protocol is the important event of the week. The prospects for the growing crops have been generally favorable, and the monthly report by the Government's Agricultural Bureau showed even more favorable conditions than had been generally expected. The fact that business in pig iron has been steadily improving latterly is also looked upon as reflecting generally improved trade conditions.

Lard on the spot has had a moderate sale, as both the home trade and exporters have done some buying: prices have advanced, although at the close nearly all of the improvement was lost under increased pressure to sell, closing at 5·60c. for prime Western and 5·05c. for prime City. Refined lard has been in fair demand and steady, closing at 5·80c. for refined for the Continent. Speculation in lard for future delivery has been moderately active, and early in the week prices advanced on general buying. The close was easier under realizing sales.

Pork has had only a limited sale, but prices have been unchanged and steady at $9 50@10 00 for mess, $11 50@12 00 for family, and $11 50@13 00 for short clear. Cut meats have had a fair sale, particularly pickled bellies, and at steady prices, closing at 6¼@6¾c. for pickled bellies, 14@10 lbs. average, 4@4½c. for pickled hams and 7¼@7¾c. for pickled shoulders. Beef has been quiet and easy at $9@10 for packet, $10@11 for family and $14@15 for extra India mess. Beef hams have been steady at $22. Tallow has advanced slightly, closing firm at 3 5-16@3⅜c. Oleo stearine has been steady at 4⅞@5c. Lard stearine has been quiet at 6¼c. Cotton seed oil has been dull but steady at 23¾@24c. for prime yellow. Butter has been in fair demand and steady at 14½@19c. for creamery. Cheese has had a fair sale at steady prices, closing at 6¼@7¾c. for State factory, full cream. Fresh eggs have been in fair demand and firm at 14½c. for choice Western.

Brazil grades of coffee have been firmer. There has been a fairly active distributing business, and trading in invoices has been fairly large. Higher prices have been paid, including 6¼c. for Rio No. 7 on the spot and Santos Nos. 3 and 4 at 7·30c., cost and freight, closing at 6¼c. for Rio No. 7. Mild grades have been in active demand and firmer, closing at 9¼c. for good Cucuta. East India growths have been quiet but steady at 24¾@25c. for standard Java. Speculation in the market for contracts has been moderately active, and prices have advanced on the very moderate crop movement and reports of damage to the growing crop by drouth. Following are final asking prices:

Aug.....	5·65c.	Nov.....	5·70c.	Mar.....	6·05c.
Sept.....	5·65c.	Dec.....	5·85c.	April.....	6·10c.

Raw sugars have been in active demand and higher, closing at 4¼c. bid for centrifugal, 96-deg. test, and 3¾c. bid for muscovado, 89 deg. test. Refined sugar has had a fairly large sale and prices were advanced 1-10c. for Nos. 1, 2 and 3; granulated was unchanged at 5⅜c. The guaranty of prices has been withdrawn. Teas have been dull. Rice in demand for export. Spices firm but quiet.

Kentucky tobacco has been quiet but steady. Seed leaf tobacco has had only a limited sale, but values have held about steady. Sales for the week were 1,225 cases, as follows: 300 cases 1897 crop, New England Havana, 6½ to 8c.; 200 cases 1897 crop, Wisconsin Havana, 9c; 250 cases 1896 crop, Wisconsin Havana, 11 to 13c.; 200 cases 1895 0 crops, Pennsylvania seed leaf, 12½ to 13½c.; 75 cases 1896 crop, New England seed leaf, 28 to 37c.; 50 cases 1896 crop, New England Havana, 16 to 40c., and 150 cases sundries, 6 to 16c., also 220 bales Havana, at 70c. to $1 05, in bond, and 150 bales Sumatra, at 75c. to $1 80, in bond.

Straits tin has continued to meet with a fair sale and prices have again advanced, closing steady at 16·30@16·35c. Ingot copper has had a fairly large sale for export and prices have advanced, closing firm at 11¾c. for Lake. Lead has been in moderate demand and firmer at 4@4·10c. for domestic. Spelter has been quiet, closing at 4·40@4·45c. for domestic. Pig iron has had a fair sale at steady prices, closing at 9·75@11·50c. for domestic.

There has been slightly increased activity to the speculation in the market for contracts, but the tone has been unsettled. Advices received from sections of the cotton belt east of the Mississippi have reported excessive rainfall, affecting unfavorably the condition of the growing crop, and has stimulated a demand from shorts to cover contracts. The report published on Wednesday by the Government Agricultural Bureau showing that there had been no deterioration in the condition of the crop during the month of July was a much better statement than had been generally expected and prompted liquidation by longs, under which prices weakened. The demand for actual cotton has shown latterly some improvement, as the Continent has been a limited buyer, and home spinners have made some purchases. Saturday and Monday there were dull markets and prices eased off a few points in the absence of buyers and under limited offerings by the South and Liverpool. Tuesday the market was firmer, as shorts were buying to cover contracts, stimulated by the reports that the continued wet weather in the Atlantic and Gulf States was damaging the growing crop and also on the general expectation that the Government report would be less favorable than the one published in July, closing at a net advance for the day of 3 to 4 points. Wednesday the market opened slightly higher on foreign advices and limited foreign buying. Immediately, however, following the receipt of the Government report, the market turned weaker and prices declined sharply under liquidation by longs. At the lower prices shorts and the Continent were the principal buyers, closing at 8 to 10 points lower for the day. Thursday there was a steadier market, as the foreign markets failed to fully reflect the decline in the local market Wednesday and the fact that the demand for actual cotton had improved slightly also had a favorable influence upon values. To-day the market was lower under liquidation by tired longs and clearing weather in the cotton belt east of the Mississippi River; prices showed a decline of 4 to 7 points for the day. The spot market has been moderately active; prices advanced 1-16c. Tuesday and declined 1-16c. Wednesday, closing unchanged at 6 1-16c. for middling uplands.

On the basis of the rates on and off middling as established by the Revision Committee, the prices for a few of the grades would be as follows:

The above statement shows: 1.—That the total receipts from the plantations since Sept. 1, 1897, are 8,689,791 bales; in 1896 97 were 6,602,874 bales; in 1895-96 were 5,276,085 bales.

2.—That although the receipts at the outports the past week were 3,887 bales, the actual movement from plantations was —— bales, the balance being taken from stocks at interior towns. Last year receipts from the plantations for the week were 9,820 bales and for 1896 they were 16,027 bales.

WEATHER REPORTS BY TELEGRAPH.—Reports to us by telegraph this evening from the South are of a less favorable tenor. Rain has been general during the week, and at some points along the Gulf the precipitation has been excessive Damage from rust and shedding is complained of in Alabama and Florida. Advices from Texas are in the main favorable but in a few districts it is stated that boll worms, weevil and sharpshooters are doing injury to the plant. Along the Atlantic the rainfall has as a rule been light.

Galveston, Texas.—Rain has fallen on three days of the week, to the extent of one inch and forty-six hundredths. The thermometer has ranged from 76 to 90, averaging 83.

Palestine, Texas.—We have had rain on one day of the week, the precipitation reaching twenty eight hundredths of an inch. Average thermometer 81, highest 94 and lowest 68.

Huntsville, Texas.—There has been a heavy rainfall on one day of the week—one inch and seventy hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 85, the highest being 94 and the lowest 69.

Dallas, Texas.—The plant is doing well and prospects are very promising. We have had rain on one day during the week, to the extent of one hundredth of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 76, ranging from 64 to 98.

San Antonio, Texas.—Plant is said to have been badly injured in this vicinity by boll weevils and sharpshooters. We have had rain on one day during the week, to the extent of eighty-eight hundredths of an inch. Minimum temperature, 70.

Luling, Texas.—There has been one shower the past week, the rainfall being seven hundredths of an inch. Average thermometer 85, highest 99, lowest 70.

Columbia, Texas.—It has rained on three days of the week, the precipitation being ninety-two hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 80, the highest being ninety and the lowest 70.

Cuero, Texas.—The marketing of cotton has commenced. It is claimed that boll-worms are doing much damage. Rain has fallen on two days of the week, to the extent of twenty-four hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 83, ranging from 73 to 96.

Brenham, Texas.—There has been heavy rain on two days during the week, the rainfall being two inches and twenty-one hundredths. The thermometer has ranged from 71 to 95, veraging 83.

Corpus Christi, Texas.—We have had no rain during the week. Moisture is badly needed. Average thermometer 81, highest 89, lowest 73.

Weatherford, Texas.—We have had showers on three days the past week, the precepitation being twenty-seven hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 78, ranging from 61 to 94.

New Orleans, Louisiana.—The week's rainfall has been three inches and sixty-seven hundredths on six days. Average thermometer 79.

Shreveport, Louisiana.—There has been rain on three days during the week, the rainfall reaching eighty-six hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has ranged from 69 to 94, averaging 81.

Columbus, Mississippi.—There is considerable complaint of too much moisture. It has rained on four days of the week, the precipitation being forty hundredths of an inch. Thermometer has averaged 82, the highest being 93 and the lowest 70.

Little Rock, Arkansas.—We have had rain on four days of the week, the rainfall being two inches and fifty hundredths. Average thermometer 75, highest 90 and lowest 60.

Helena, Arkansas.—Crops are in good condition. Few complaints are heard. Rain has fallen on two days of the week, on one of which heavily, the rainfall being one inch and forty-nine hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 74·5, the highest being 85 and the lowest 62.

Memphis, Tennessee.—Too much moisture is causing rank growth and lack of fruit, placing the crop in a critical condition if early frost comes. There has been rain on two days of the past week, to the extent of one inch and twenty-nine hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 77·6, ranging from 66·2 to 90.

Nashville, Tennessee.—We have had rain during the week, to the extent of five inches and ninety four hundredths. The thermometer has ranged from 63 to 90, averaging 76.

Mobile, Alabama.—Crop reports are unfavorable. There are complaints of excessive moisture, rust, shedding and worms. Serious damage is apprehended. The first new bale arrived here August 6, from Wilcox County, Alabama. It classed strict middling and sold for seven and a-half cents per pound. Rain has fallen on seven days of the week to the extent of seven inches and ten hundredths. Average thermometer 78, highest 87 and lowest 72.

Montgomery, Alabama.—We have had continuous damaging rains since the first of August. Rust, shedding and rotten bolls are reported. The falling off in condition is variously estimated as fully one-fourth. The rainfall here reached one inch and seventy-eight hundredths, but in the interior it has been heavier. The thermometer has averaged 78, the highest being 88 and the lowest 71.

Selma, Alabama.—Cotton is being damaged by continuous rains. It is making too rapid growth and rust and shedding have appeared on blacklands. We have had rain on six days of the past week, the rainfall being two inches and seventy hundredths. The thermometer has averaged 83, ranging from 70 to 94.

Madison, Florida.—Excessive moisture is causing some shedding. There has been rain on six days the past week, the rainfall being two inches and fifty hundredths. The thermometer has ranged from 74 to 91, averaging 82.

Savannah, Georgia.—There has been rain on three days during the week, the rainfall being sixty-five hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 81, the highest being 92 and the lowest 72.

Augusta, Georgia.—There has been rain on three days of the past week, to the extent of twenty-eight hundredths of an inch. First bale of new cotton reached here on Monday. The thermometer has averaged 80, ranging from 70 to 91.

Charleston, South Carolina.—There has been rain on six days of the week, the rainfall reaching two inches and sixty-three hundredths. The thermometer has ranged from 74 to 90, averaging 82.

Stateburg, South Carolina.—We have had rain on four days of the week, and more is now threatened. The rainfall reached one inch and one hundredth. Average thermometer 80, highest 90 and lowest 69.

Greenwood, South Carolina.—It has rained on two days of the week, the precipitation being twenty-five hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 80, the highest being 91 and the lowest 70.

Wilson, North Carolina.—Rain has fallen on three days of the week, to the extent of thirty five hundredths of an inch. The thermometer has averaged 84, ranging from 76 to 92.

The following statement we have also received by telegraph, showing the height of the rivers at the points named at 3 o'clock August 11, 1898, and August 12, 1897.

NEW YORK COTTON EXCHANGE—COTTON TRADE ADVERTISING.—The Board of Managers of the New York Cotton Exchange have incorporated in the rules covering causes for suspension the following:

"For the publishing or permitting to be published in his own name, or that of his firm, in newspapers, circulars or otherwise, any advertisement which contains any misstatement of facts or is otherwise calculated, whether by direct or implied misrepresentation or unfair concealment of facts, to mislead the public, or which contains a request for money to be sent as margin for operating on discretionary orders, or any other matter which shall tend to bring discredit upon the business of dealers or brokers in cotton or upon the Exchange, or which shall have been disapproved of by a majority of the Board of Managers, after an opportunity to the member to be heard."

A further amendment adopted by the Managers reads as follows:

"When there are no sales or when there are very few for any month, the committee in fixing the average price of said month for settlements shall take into consideration the fluctuations during the day in other months and make the average price in accordance with and relatively the same."

LOUISIANA'S FIRST BALE.—The first bale of new cotton raised in Louisiana was received at Shreveport on Saturday, August 6, from Bossier Parish. It classed strict middling, weighed 686 pounds, and sold at 7c. per pound. Last year the earliest arrival was on July 31, in 1896 on July 23 and in 1895 on August 12, all at New Orleans.

SEA ISLAND COTTON MOVEMENT.—We have received this (Friday) evening by telegraph from the various ports the details of the Sea Island cotton movement for the week. The receipts for the week ending to-night (Aug. 12) and since Sept. 1, 1897, the stocks to-night, and the same items for the corresponding periods of 1896-97, are as follows.

A considerable portion of the Sea Island cotton shipped to foreign ports goes via New York, and some small amounts via Boston and Baltimore. Instead of including this cotton for the week in which it leaves the Southern outports, we follow the same plan as in our regular table of including it when actually exported from New York, &c. The details of the shipments of Sea Island cotton for the week will be found under the head "Shipping News," on a subsequent page.

Quotations Aug. 12 at Savannah, for Floridas, common, 8½c.; medium fine, 9½c.; choice, 13c, all nominal.

Charleston, Carolinas, medium fine, 11@15c.; fine, 17@18c.; fully fine, 19 to 20c.; extra fine, 23@30c.

NEW ENGLAND COTTON MILL SITUATION.—The Everett cotton mills at Lawrence, Mass., will shut down August 13, to remain closed three weeks. The Fall River Cotton Manufacturers' Association at a meeting held August 6 voted to abandon the attempt to agree upon a general curtailment policy. It is expected, however, that some of the mills may stop independently for a time.

GOVERNMENT WEEKLY COTTON REPORT.—Mr. W. L. Moore, Chief of the Weather Bureau of the Agricultural Department, made public on Tuesday the following telegraphic reports on the crop in the Southern States for the week ending Aug. 8:

VIRGINIA.—Week warm, with fairly well distributed showers; all work abreast of season.

NORTH CAROLINA.—Flourishing condition of all crops maintained by warm, showery weather; too much rain and some damage by wind in few western counties; cotton improving, less shedding, some bolls ripe.

SOUTH CAROLINA.—Excessive rains damaged lowland crops in localities; cotton large of stalk, well fruited but rust and shedding increasing, fields grassy, boll opening slowly, needing dry weather and sunshine.

GEORGIA.—Continuous wet, cloudy weather has been injurious to cotton, which is making stalk rapidly, fruiting poorly, and rusting and shedding; some cotton opening and picking begun in several counties.

FLORIDA.—Excepting limited sections, rainfall adequate, in some counties amount excessive; unfavorable reports of cotton continue.

ALABAMA.—Too much rain for cotton, which is opening slowly, making too much "weed," and rust and shedding becoming general; crops injured considerably by wind storms in southeast counties on 3d.

MISSISSIPPI.—Continued showers; boll and army worms, shedding, rust, grass and overgrowth seriously injured cotton; some very favorable reports of cotton received, however, mostly from the northern counties, where rains were moderate; first bale received at Meridian on 5th.

LOUISIANA.—Showery weather during week with heavy local rains over northern and southeastern portions; cotton has made rank growth, but is not fruiting well in localities, while in many places it is shedding fruit; crop grassy, boll worm has appeared in north portion.

TEXAS.—Week of showery weather, but rain too light to benefit crops except in scattered districts; cotton in good state of cultivation, fruiting nicely, plant looks well generally but some shedding where rain is needed, much damage reported from Mexican boll weevil in localities; early cotton opening in interior and some picking has been done; late cotton improved by rain in north portion; early crop good and some picked.

ARKANSAS.—General rains have benefited all growing crops; cotton prospects still fine, but needs dry weather now to prevent rank growth and shedding.

TENNESSEE.—Warm, rainy weather induced abnormal growth, detrimental to maturing crops; cotton generally has too much stalk growth and is shedding forms.

OKLAHOMA.—Heavy rains over both territories; cotton making rank growth.

MISSOURI.—A little too much rain for cotton, and some too rank but it is fruiting well.

These reports on cotton are summarized by the Department as follows:

Frequent and heavy rains over the greater part of the cotton belt have not been favorable to cotton, causing too rapid growth of stalk, rust and shedding to continue. Boll worms are also reported as numerous in the central and western portions. In Texas the crop is in a good state of cultivation, and the plant, as a rule, looks well. Cotton is opening slowly generally throughout the central and eastern portions of the cotton region.

NEW ALABAMA COTTON.—The first bale of new Alabama cotton was received at Mobile from Wilcox County, Alabama, on Saturday, August 6. It classed strict middling and sold at 7½c. per lb. Last year the first bale reached Mobile July 31, or eight days earlier, in 1896 the earliest arrival was on July 28, and in 1895 on August 14. In 1894 the first arrival was at Selma on August 10. In 1893 Ozark received the first bale on August 2 and in 1892 the first arrival was at Dothan on August 3.

NEW MISSISSIPPI COTTON.—The first bale of new cotton raised in Mississippi was received at Meridian on Friday, Aug. 5, from Shubuta, Clarke County. Last year the first bale reached Meridian Aug. 4; in 1896 the earliest arrival was at Vicksburg on July 22, and in 1895 the first bale reached New Orleans on Aug. 24.

EUROPEAN COTTON CONSUMPTION TO AUGUST 1.—We have received to-day (Friday) by cable Mr. Ellison's figures brought down to Aug. 1. We have also received the revised totals for last year and give them for comparison. The spinners' takings in actual bales and pounds have been as follows:

Takings in pounds	1,412,059,000	1,916,299,000	3,328,358,000

According to the above, the average weight of the deliveries in Great Britain is 508 pounds per bale this season, against 498 pounds during the same time last season. The Continental deliveries average 489 pounds, against 477 pounds last year, and for the whole of Europe the deliveries average 496·7 pounds per bale against 485·8 pounds last season. Our dispatch also gives the full movement for this year and last year in bales of 500 pounds.

The foregoing shows that the weekly consumption is now 153,000 bales of 500 pounds each, against 149,000 bales of like weights at the corresponding time last year. The total spinners' stocks in Great Britain and on the Continent have decreased 120,000 bales during the month, and are now 399,000 bales more than at the same date last season.

THE AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT'S AUGUST REPORT.—The following statement, showing the condition of cotton, was issued by the Department of Agriculture on Aug. 10:

Taking the entire cotton-producing region as a unit, the condition of the crop on August 1 was exactly the same as on July 1, namely, 91·2. This is 4·3 points higher than on August 1, 1897, 11·1 points higher than on August 1, 1896, and 5·8 points higher than the August average for the last ten years.

During July there was an improvement of one point in Georgia, three points in North Carolina, four points in Alabama, five points in Tennessee and Indian Territory and six points in Oklahoma. On the other hand, there was a decline of one point in Texas and South Carolina and of six points in Mississippi, the decline in the last-named State being the result of excessive rains. In the condition figures for Louisiana and Arkansas there has been no change.

The averages for the States are as follows: Virginia, 94; North Carolina, 90; South Carolina, 89; Georgia, 91; Florida, 87; Alabama, 95; Mississippi, 88; Louisiana, 90; Texas, 91; Arkansas, 93; Tennessee, 97; Missouri, 90; Oklahoma, 98; Indian Territory, 94.

The June, July and August averages, compared with the June, July and August figures of previous years, are as follows:

The August first averages in earlier years for all the States were, according to the Agricultural Department, as follows: 91·8 in 1894; 80·4 in 1893; 82 3 in 1892; 88·9 in 1891; 89·5 in 1890; 89·3 in 1889; 87·3 in 1888; 93·3 in 1887; 81·3 in 1886 and 96·5 in 1885.

CHARLESTON'S FIRST BALE.—The first bale of new cotton raised in South Carolina reached Charleston on Wednesday, August 10, or seven days later than in 1897. It graded fully good middling and came from Bamberg. In 1897 the earliest arrival at Charleston was on August 3, in 1896 on July 30, in 1895 on August 21 and in 1894 on August 15.

JUTE CROP OF BENGAL FOR 1898.—Under date of Calcutta, June 30, the Director of Land Records and Agriculture of Bengal issued the first forecast of the jute crop as follows:

The present report embraces returns from 26 districts in which jute forms an important crop. Jute is also grown elsewhere, but to such a small extent that the area cultivated outside these 26 districts may be left out of consideration. In January the rainfall in most of the jute-growing districts was in excess of the normal. In February rain was scanty in all jute districts, except in parts of North Bengal and in Malda. In March and April the rainfall was generally deficient, and in May it was a little below the normal in most parts of the province. During the first half of June rain was more or less general over the province. According to the revised estimates the total normal area under jute amounts to 2,224,300 acres. The total area sown with jute during the current season appears to amount to 1,670,100 acres, against 2,147,400 acres sown in 1897. The decrease in area, amounting to 477,300 acres (22 per cent), is due partially to the deficiency of rain during the sowing season, and partially to the low prices of jute last year and to the high prices of paddy which have induced many cultivators to grow the latter crop in preference to jute. This reduction in area is common to all the more important jute-growing districts, the same causes being assigned by the collectors of all these districts. It is doubtful, perhaps, whether the natural expansion of jute cultivation has not to some extent counterbalanced the discouragement caused by the low prices of last year; but as far as can be seen at present there has been a considerable contraction in area, which should cause a marked reduction in outturn in the present year. The prospects of the crop do not appear so far to be as favorable as those of last year. It may be roughly estimated that the outturn will prove 90 per cent of a normal crop. The outturn last year was estimated by this department at 106 per cent, over a larger area. It should be noted, however, that the present rains are doing much good to the standing jute, and if the weather continues favorable for the next two months and floods do not damage the crop, there may be some improvement in the outturn. Taking into consideration the estimates of area and outturn as now furnished, and assuming 1,200 lbs. per acre to be the estimate of normal outturn, that is, of a 100 per cent crop, the gross outturn of the present season's crop may be estimated at 43 lakhs of bales. It will be understood that this is a rough estimate based on the information available to this department, and, if, as stated above, the season continues favorable, the outturn may exceed this amount. It may be also stated that from reports received from district officers it would appear that a fairly large quantity of jute is left in the districts from the crop of 1897.

BREADSTUFFS.

Business in the market for wheat flour has been quiet and values have shown some irregularity. Desirable grades of old wheat flour have been in limited supply and have been well held. New flour has been freely offered to arrive, and prices have ruled in favor of the buyer. Sales made have been almost exclusively of peddling lots as the home trade has confined its purchases close to actual requirements and the export demand has been flat. Rye flour has been in moderate demand at steady prices. Corn meal has had only a limited sale but supplies have been offered sparingly and values have held to a steady basis.

Speculation in the market for wheat futures has been on a very moderate scale, and prices have gradually weakened. The sentiment of traders generally has appeared to be bearish, due to the now practical assurances of a large yield from the present crop. The movement of winter wheat from farmers' hands, however, has continued very moderate, as they generally have been slow in marketing their crops at ruling values. The monthly report by the Government's Agricultural Bureau was slightly better than had been generally expected. Saturday there was a moderately active market and prices advanced 1@1¼c. on the continued light movement of the crop, a good cash demand and strong foreign advices. Monday the market was easier under free offerings, prompted by talk of indications of a freer movement of the crop and the favorable crop prospects, closing 1@1⅜c. lower for the day. Tuesday prices were again lower in response to weaker foreign advices and aggressive selling by bear operators. Toward the close there was a partial recovery, due to an active export business, closing at a net loss for the day of ⅜c. Wednesday prices further declined ½@⅞c. Early in the day there was a firmer tone in response to stronger foreign advices and the continued small crop movement. Subsequently, however, there developed increased pressure to sell and prices declined. After 'Change the Government report was made public; it was better than expected and on the "curb" prices weakened slightly. Thursday there was moderate buying by shorts to cover contracts and the tone of the market held steady, prices for the day being ⅛c. lower to ¼c. higher. To-day the market was firmer on limited buying prompted by stronger foreign advices and the continued limited movement of the crop, closing at an advance of ¼@1⅛c. The spot market was moderately active and firmer. The sales for export here and at outports were about 300,000 bushels, principally No. 2 red winter.

There has been only a limited amount of speculative interest shown in the market for Indian corn futures and prices have gradually weakened. Crop prospects as a rule have been of a fairly favorable nature and the Government report published Wednesday afternoon was more favorable than expected, indicating a larger yield than had been generally estimated. At the lower prices, however, exporters have been fairly large buyers, and this has served to hold the decline in check to some extent. To-day the market was steadier, in sympathy with the advance in wheat. The spot market was less active. Sales for export here and at outports were 150,000 bushels.

Oats for future delivery have been dull, and following the course of values for other grains prices have gradually weakened. An increased movement of the crop has also had its effect against values, as did the fact that the cash trade has been only moderate. The Government report was about as expected To-day the market was dull but steady. The spot market was fairly active and sales for export were 125,000 bushels.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT'S REPORT ON CEREAL CROPS, &c., August 1.—The Agricultural Department issued on the 10th inst. its report on the cereal crops for the month of July, as follows:

The August report of the Statistician of the Department of Agriculture shows the following average conditions on August 1:

Corn	87·0	Spring wheat	96·5
Spring rye	93·7	Oats	84·2
Barley	79·3	Buckwheat	87·2
Irish potatoes	83·9

	1898.	1897.	1896.	1895.	1894.	1893.	1892.
Corn	87·0	84·2	96·0	102·5	69·1	87·0	84·5

Buckwheat	87·2	94·9	96·0	85·2	82·3	88·8	92·9

The condition of corn, 87·0, is 3·5 points lower than last month, 2·8 points higher than on August 1, 1897, but 9 points lower than on August 1, 1896, and six-tenths of one point below the August average for the last ten years. The principal State averages are as follows: Ohio, 89, Indiana, 86; Illinois, 72; Iowa, 92; Missouri, 86; Kansas, 69, and Nebraska, 85.

The condition of corn on July 1 and August 1 in each of the last five years is shown in the following:

CONDITION OF CORN.

Av'ge U.S	87·0	90·5	84·2	82·9	96·0	92·4	102·5	99·3	69·1	95·0

The condition of spring wheat, 90·5, is 1·5 points higher than last month, 9·8 points above the average on August 1, 1897, 17·6 points above that for August 1, 1896, and 13·5 points above the August average for the last ten years. The conditions in the principal States are as follows: Minnesota, 101; North Dakota, 95; South Dakota, 92; Nebraska, 97, and Iowa, 94.

The average condition of spring rye is 93·7, which is 3·2 points lower than last month but 3·9 points higher than on August 1, 1897, 5·7 points higher than on August 1, 1896, and 6·4 points above the August average for the last ten years.

The average condition of oats is 84·2, as compared with 92·8 on July 1, 86·0 on August 1, 1897, 77·3 on August 1, 1896, and 83·7, the August average for the last ten years. The proportion of the oats crop of last year still in the hands of farmers is estimated at 6·4 per cent, as compared with 10·1 per cent of the crop of 1896 in farmers' hands one year ago.

The average condition of barley is 79·3, as compared with 85·7 on July 1, with 87·5 on August 1, 1897, with 82·9 on August 1, 1896, and 86·0 the August average for the last ten years.

Preliminary returns indicate a reduction of 5·5 per cent in the acreage in buckwheat as compared with last year. The condition of buckwheat is 87·2, against 94·9 on August 1, 1897, 96·0 on August 1, 1896, and 90·2 the August average for the last ten years.

The average condition of Irish potatoes is 83·9, against 95·5 last month, 77·9 on August 1, 1897, 94·8 on August 1, 1896, and 87·1 the August average for the last ten years.

There has been a general and somewhat serious decline in the condition of pastures.

The reports as to the apple crop are increasingly unfavorable. Some of the leading apple-growing States report a practical failure, while others report from one-third to two-thirds of an average crop.

The condition of Timothy hay, 99·3, is almost unprecedentedly high.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, P. M., Aug. 12, 1898.

Further progress in development of general demands has been noted this week, both in the way of spot business and mail orders at first hands, and the jobbing trade here report a very marked increase in their sales. The attendance of buyers has been excellent, although the large houses in the trade have not been nearly so well represented as the smaller ones. Reports made by the visitors are all highly encouraging. Crop prospects are good. There is an active distribution of merchandise from second hands and the outlook is fully as cheerful as before. Sellers in the primary market are not yet fully satisfied with the extent of business doing by them in the cotton goods division, but there is no more pressure to sell than before nor any giving way in prices, as they look forward to a further and considerable expansion of business in the near future. Sellers of woolens, both in men's-wear fabrics and in dress goods, are disappointed with current results, buyers still operating in very conservative fashion. Collections reported fairly satisfactory. The Fall River manufacturers have abandoned the effort to bring about curtailment of production, but it is probable that some of the mills may resort to short-time before long.

WOOLEN GOODS.—With the new lines opened this week in the better grades of men's-wear woolen and worsted fabrics, the buyers have now the market fully at their disposal so far as making selections are concerned. They have not made much use of their opportunities, and the outcome of the week's business has been by no means satisfactory in either plain or fancy lines. The demand has been irregular and cautious, and it has been exceptional to find a seller reporting sales of fair extent. The market will average from 7½ to 10 per cent higher than a year ago, but does not present a very firm appearance thereat. There has been a moderate call for overcoatings, chiefly in kerseys. Cloaking have ruled quiet throughout. Flannels are steady, with the market practically bare of blue goods. Blankets are scarce in most makes and very firm. Dress goods are still quiet and disappointing.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton goods from this port for the week ending August 8 were 3,163 packages, valued at $128,498, their destination being to the points specified in the tables below:

* From New England mill points direct.

The value of the New York exports for the year to date has been $7,436,688 in 1898 against $6,057,090 in 1897.

The market is stiff on leading makes of heavy brown cottons, most of the mills being covered by existing contracts well into October. The demand is moderate at the moment. Light-weight coarse yarn goods quiet and easy to buy. Ducks and osnaburgs unchanged. More doing in bleached cottons at previous prices. Wide sheetings firm and occasionally tending upwards. Cotton flannels and blankets firm. Seamless grain bags scarce and strong. Denims quietly steady; ticks slow and easy. Plaids in fair request; checks and stripes and cheviots dull and unchanged. Kid-finished cambrics slow and barely steady. Dark fancy prints have sold well at full prices; in other prints business has been above recent average in volume, but the demand is still readily met. All ginghams of any character are in good shape in both staples and dress styles. A fair business has been done in print cloths, the market continuing steady on the basis of 2c. for regulars.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—The market is dull for both fall and new spring lines. The demand for the former is for small quantities only and is slow in opening up for the latter. Prices without material change.

Baltimore, Md.—Debt Statement.—We have received from J. Frank Supplee, City Register, a statement showing that the indebtedness of Baltimore is within the 7% limit of assessable property beyond which, in certain States, investment of trust estates is forbidden. Following is the statement:

Assessed valuation for purposes of taxation	$362,500,000
Total bonded indebtedness	37,212,176
Water bonds (included in above)	7,707,500
Sinking fund (applicable to payment of debt)	12,456,647
Floating debt	None.

Thus the net debt is only $24,755,529, while 7% on the $362,500,000 of assessed valuation would be $25,375,000. The city retired in 1894 $4,000,000 of 5% water bonds. There is on deposit in sundry banks to the credit of the city cash amounting to $1,400,971.

Bay St. Louis, Miss.—Bond Litigation.—Suit has been brought in the Chancery Court to prevent the proposed issuance of $40,000 improvement bonds.

Birmingham, Ala.—Increase in Tax Rate Voted.—On August 1, 1898, the city voted to increase the maximum tax rate to 1% of the assessed valuation instead of ½%, as previously prevailed. The election was held under an amendment to the Constitution of Alabama, which permitted the increase. The former tax rate, ½%, was not sufficient to pay the interest on outstanding bonds in full, and the city has been paying interest each alternate year, issuing 5-year certificates for that which remained unpaid.

It is said that although the proposition received a large majority of the votes cast, opposition to the plan has manifested itself, and the matter will probably be carried to the courts.

Buckner (Mo.) School District.—Bond Litigation.—Argument has been heard before Judge Gates in the Circuit Court in the suit filed against the School Directors asking that they be enjoined from issuing $6,000 school bonds. Judge Gates has the case under advisement.

Hamilton County, Kan.—Bond Litigation.—Blair & Co., New York, several months ago brought suit against the county officials to compel payment of interest on a series of bonds issued in 1887. Interest was paid until January 1, 1897, when payment was discontinued. On July 21, 1898, the defendants filed their answer, in which they allege that the bonds were issued to refund about $45,000 county warrants, that the question was never voted upon at an election, and that the bonds were therefore illegal. It is further claimed that Hamilton County was not legally organized at the time the bonds were issued.

Louisville, Ky.—New Manufacturing Enterprises Exempt from Taxation—Mr. James F. Buckner, Jr., Secretary Louisville Board of Trade, directs our attention to the fact that at the recent session of the Kentucky Legislature authority was given the city of Louisville to pass an ordinance exempting new manufacturing plants and concerns from municipal taxation for a period of five years, as an inducement to their location there, and that accordingly the General Council of the city of Louisville on Friday, July 29, passed an ordinance granting such exemption. Under this law all new factories and manufacturing establishments of every kind are exempt for five years from the date on which they commence active manufacturing business.

This tax exemption, Mr. Buckner well says, taken in connection with Louisville's many other advantages as a place for successful manufacturing, must certainly attract the attention of manufacturers looking for suitable locations.

New York City.—Outlying Bonds Declared Legal.—On Thursday, the 10th inst., the Corporation Counsel sent to the Comptroller the following list of bonds of outlying districts which have been approved by the special counsel and whose recognition is recommended:

Village of Far Rockaway, $35,000 5% sewer bonds, Series G, dated March 11, 1897
Long Island City, $75,000 park award bonds, dated December, 1897.
School District No. 11, Town of Jamaica, $7,000, dated June 15, 1895.
Union Free School District No. 1, Town of Flushing, $3,500, dated Dec. 15, 1897.
Union Free School District No. 3, Town of Southfield, $2,000, dated Dec. 8, 1897.

Lists of the bonds previously approved will be found in the CHRONICLE of August 6, 1898, page 284, and June 11, 1898, page 1151.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Tax Taluation.—The Board of Revision of Taxes sent to the Mayor and Comptroller this week a statement of the amount of taxable property of the City of Philadelphia, from which the Comptroller's estimates of the revenues for 1899 will be made up. The valuations are as follows:

Real estate (city rate)	$794,653,445
Real estate (suburban rate)	46,167,000
Real estate (farm rate)	21,980,225
Horses, cattle, etc.	1,714,365

The total valuation amounts to $864,516,045, an increase on last year's figures of over $22,000,000.

St. Clair County, Mo.—Litigation.—On July 19, 1898, the Kansas City "Star" said: "A new mixture has appeared in the much-fought St. Clair County Railroad bond case. Just before they were brought to Kansas City as United States prisoners for contempt of a United States Court in refusing to act toward paying what they claim is a 'grab,' in that the bonds in the case were issued for a railroad that was never built, the members of the St. Clair County Court held a meeting between midnight and morning while waiting for the train to Kansas City, and made the annual levy of taxes for State and county purposes. Now, John A. Gilbrath, an attorney at Appleton City, has filed a suit to enjoin the St. Clair County collectors from collecting the taxes.

"'Gilbrath is in the pay of the bondholders,' said Judge Gill, one of the judicial prisoners, to-day in speaking of the suit. 'It is their plan to tie the county hand and foot in any way they can so that it can't do any business at all as a county till their claim of 1½ million dollars is satisfied. They'll find it won't work.' Suits were also filed against the County Clerk to prevent him from turning over the tax books to the collector, but they had already been turned over."

Salina, Kan.—Bonds Valid.—We learn from the "Republican" of Salina that Judge Foster of the United States Circuit Court has decided that the $44,000 of Rock Island bonds are valid obligations in the hands of the present holders, and the city must pay them.

Spartanburg, S. C.—Bond Litigation.—The following dispatch from Spartanburg, dated July 26, 1898, appeared in the Charleston "News and Courier":

"Judge Townsend yesterday granted a preliminary injunction against the City Council of Spartanburg to prevent them from issuing bonds for the Ohio River & Charleston Railway. About sixteen years ago, or perhaps longer, the city voted $25,000 to build a railway to some point in Rutherford County. There was some special Act afterwards, giving the Council enlarged powers as to that subscription. The Council investigated the matter, and concluded that they had a right to use this subscription in extending the Ohio River & Charleston from Gaffney to this place. Major Hart of Yorkville, and C. P. Sanders of this city asked for the injunction in behalf of the tax-payers, or plaintiffs. The injunction when argued and decided will settle the validity of the bonds. As the matter now stands there is considerable doubt as to the right claimed by the City Council to issue said bonds. The date has not been fixed for argument on the motion."

Superior, Wis.—Injunction Continued.—We take the following dispatch from West Superior, dated July 30, 1898, from the "Evening Wisconsin" of Milwaukee: "Judge James O'Neill of the Seventeenth Judicial Circuit handed down a decision in the case of the Endion Improvement Company vs. The City of Superior, J. H. Culver et al., to-day. The injunction formerly granted by Judge Vinje, restraining the city from carrying out the contract entered into between the city and J. H. Culver, is continued, and the city is enjoined from paying any of the bonds issued after the statutory limit of 5% was reached." The bonds, it is stated, are held in New York and other cities throughout the United States.

Tacoma, Wash. — Warrant Litigation. — The Tacoma "News" on July 16, 1898, said that the city had filed an answer to the warrant suits of the New York Security & Trust Company and Shelbourne Falls National Bank, stoutly denying the claims that the warrants are a valid obligation of the city. The answers were filed July 16, 1898.

It is claimed by the city that the warrants were all once paid by ex-Treasurer Boggs out of moneys belonging to the city and afterwards reissued to certain warrant brokers who paid the Treasurer a commission for his services. The answer recites that it is sometimes claimed that the warrant brokers paid the city cash for its warrants and that the city received the benefit of its use. This is denied, and a statement is made to the effect that the city lost nearly $2,000,000 by the various warrant transactions of the former Treasurer.

See CHRONICLE May 14, 1898, March 12, 1898, and February 26, 1898.

Virginia.—Movement to Effect a Settlement of Deferred Certificates.—At the request of holders of a large amount of the Virginia deferred certificates (representing the debt allotted to West Virginia on the creation of that State), John Crosby Brown, George Coppell, J. Kennedy Tod and Clarence Cary have agreed to act as a committee, and in conjunction with R. P. Chew, of West Virginia, Virginius Newton, of Virginia, and other citizens of the two States, to make an effort to obtain a compromise and settlement of this inter-State debt. Mr. Brown is Chairman and Robert L. Harrison Secretary, and Cary & Whitridge are counsel for the committee. Several attempts have been made in the past to secure a settlement with West Virginia but although in the hands of persons of high standing the work has been futile. One reason for the failure is said to relate to some personal questions raised in West Virginia. The new movement is in the hands of persons who have been connected with the former attempts. They have taken up the project at the request of some influential citizens of Virginia and West Virginia who have not been associated with the other movements, and they have received reasonable assurances that it will go through. Holders of certificates who desire to take part in the movement should deposit their certificates or trust receipts representing them with Brown Brothers & Co., so that arrangements may be made in time to submit a proposition to the next Legislature of West Virginia. The agreement under which deposits are invited provides that when a majority of them has been secured, the committee shall formulate a practicable plan of settlement and submit it to an Advisory Board, consisting of Thomas F. Bayard, William Pinkney White, Edward J. Phelps and George G. Williams. If this board recommends the plan, it will be published for thirty days, and if accepted by a majority in value of the deposited certificates, it will be presented to the Legislature. The cost of the settlement, if effected, is to be assessed on the bonds that are received, and is not to exceed 5% on the par value of the certificates originally deposited.

An advertisement concerning this movement will be found elsewhere in this Department.

Bond Proposals and Negotiations this week have been as follows:

Albany, N. Y.—Bonds Authorized.—In compliance with a resolution passed by the Common Council on June 20, 1898, and pursuant to Chapter 17 of the Laws of 1898, the Board of Finance have authorized the issuance of $50,000 Broadway widening bonds (depot site). Securities will bear 3½% interest, payable semi-annually in the city of Albany. The city Sinking Fund Commissioners will be allowed to take as many of these bonds as they may desire, at par, as provided by Chapter 242, Laws of 1887. Bonds are to be paid in ten annual instalments. The Board of Finance also authorized the issuance of $15 000 3½% Beaver Park bonds (4th series), which had been previously passed upon by the Common Council, pursuant to Chapter 528, Laws of 1898. Principal is to be repaid in twenty annual instalments.

Amsterdam, N. Y.—Bond Sale.—The Board of Education has recently sold $10,000 of bonds to Benwell & Everitt of New York at 104·559.

Auglaize County, Ohio.—Bond Offering.—Proposals were asked until 12 M. yesterday (August 12, 1898), by G. A. Orphal, County Auditor, at the Court House in Wapakoneta, for $18,000 5% county bridge bonds. Securities are in denomination of $1,000, dated July 1, 1898; interest will be payable January 1 and July 1 at the office of the County Treasurer, Wapakoneta. Principal will mature $1,000 yearly from July 1, 1899, to July 1, 1916. Each bid must be accompanied by a deposit of $250. Securities are issued in accordance with Sections 871 and 872 of the Revised Statutes of Ohio as amended, and by authority of a resolution adopted by the Commissioners of said county on the 9th day of July, 1898. These are the same bonds that were awarded to Farson, Leach & Co., Chicago, on June 29, 1898, but owing to a slight irregularity in the advertisement a new sale was made necessary. At the time of going to press result of sale was not known.

Beloit, Wis.—Proposed Election.—The question as to whether the city shall buy the plant of the water-works company for $210,000 is being actively discussed, and will soon be submitted to a vote of the people.

Billings County, N. Dak.—Bond Sale.—On August 1, 1898, the $13,000 of 5½% 10 20-year funding bonds of this county were sold to F. R. Fulton & Co. of Grand Forks at par. The only other bid received was from Denison, Prior & Co., Cleveland, Ohio. A full description of this issue will be found in the CHRONICLE of July 23, 1898, p. 189.

Blakely (Borough), Pa.—Bond Sale.—On August 1, 1898, $16,000 of 5% 8-year bonds were sold to N. W. Harris & Co., of New York, at 105·33. A full description of these bonds and details of debt and valuation will be found in the CHRONICLE of July 30, 1898, page 239.

Bloomsburg, Pa.—Bond Sale.—We are advised that the $3,000 bonds which were recently authorized have all been sold.

Brattleboro, Vt.—Bond Sale.—On August 6, 1898, the $15,000 4% 20-year bridge bonds were awarded to the People's National Bank, Brattleboro, at 109·333. Following are the bids:

E. H. Rollins & Sons, Boston	108·376	Blake Bros. & Co., Boston	106·57
N. W. Harris & Co., Boston	108·375	W. H. Carey, Boston	106·33
Cushman, Fisher & Phelps, Bos.	108·197	S. A. Kean, Chicago	108·60
Adams & Co., Boston	107·65

Principal will mature July 1, 1918. For further description of bonds see CHRONICLE July 23, 1898, p. 190.

Bottineau, N. Dak.—Bonds Voted.—This place has authorized the issuance of $10,000 bonds for a new school-house.

Bristol County (P. O. Taunton), Mass.—Bond Offering.—Proposals will be received by Edward Mott, Chairman County Commissioners, until 12 M. August 18, 1898, for the following notes:

$10,000 4%, dated August 19, 1898; interest payable February 19 and August 19; principal matures August 19, 1899.
20,000 4%, dated August 19, 1898; interest payable February 19 and August 19; principal matures August 19, 1900.
20,000 4%, dated August 19, 1898; interest payable February 19 and August 19; principal matures August 19, 1901.
20,000 4%, dated August 19, 1898; interest payable February 19 and August 19; principal matures August 19, 1902.

Notes are issued pursuant to authority contained in Chapter 297, Acts of 1897, and Chapter 470, Acts of 1898.

Brookfield, Mo.—Bond Election.—This city will hold an election on September 6, 1898, to vote on the proposition to issue $14,000 sewer bonds. Securities will bear 6% interest, payable semi-annually at Brookfield, and will mature in 20 years, subject to call after 10 years. Date of sale has not yet been determined upon.

Buffalo, N. Y.—Bonds Authorized and Awarded.—On August 8, 1898, at a meeting of the Board of Aldermen, a resolution was passed authorizing a bond issue of $50,000, for the purpose of redeeming water bonds to that amount which mature September 2, 1898. The new bonds will bear 3½% interest, principal payable one-twentieth annually, and were awarded to the Comptroller of the City of Buffalo in trust for the Park Bond Redemption Sinking Fund.

Burlington, Vt.—Loan Authorized.—The Treasurer of this city has recently been authorized to borrow $10,000.

Caldwell County, Mo.—Bond Offering.—Proposals will be received until 2 P. M. September 5, 1898, by Joab Houghton, County Treasurer, Kingston, for $18,000 6% court house bonds. Securities will be in denomination of $500, dated May 2, 1898; interest will be payable May 2 and November 2. Principal will mature $4,500 on May 2 in the years 1900, 1901 and 1902. Bonds will be delivered Nov. 2, 1898, with first interest coupons detached from each bond. All bids must be accompanied by a certified check for 5% of amount of bid.

Caney, Kan.—Bond News.—We are informed by O. B. Hinkle, City Clerk, that the $10,000 bonds for the construction of the Kansas Oklahoma & South Western Railway Co., which were recently authorized, will not be issued until the road is in operation. Securities will bear 6% interest and mature in 20 years from date of issue. Principal and interest will be payable at the Kansas fiscal agency in New York. Bonds when issued will be delivered direct to the railroad company.

Cattaraugus, N. Y.—Bonds Not Sold.—We are advised that, owing to a change in the State law, the Board of Water Commissioners found that a village cannot sell 20-year straight bonds, so the $7,000 4% water bonds for which proposals were asked until 1 P. M. August 4, 1898, will have to be re-advertised, and securities will be payable in instalments. The date of the new sale has not yet been determined upon.

Crafton (Borough), Pa.—Bond Offering.—Proposals will be received until 6 P. M. August 23, 1898, by this borough for $16,000 4% coupon funding bonds and $3,500 4% coupon sewer bonds. Securities will be in denomination of $500, dated September 1, 1898, and are free of tax: interest will be payable March 1 and September 1 at the Freehold Bank of Pittsburg, Pa. Principal will mature $2,000 on September 1 in the years 1901, 1904, 1907, 1910, 1913, 1916, 1919, 1922, 1925 and $1,500 on September 1, 1928. A certified check made payable to the order of H. O. Cameron, Borough Treasurer, for 5% of the par value of the amount bid must accompany each proposal.

Danville (Pa.) School District.—Bonds Refunded.—$7,000 of school bonds of this district which matured August 1, 1898, have been refunded by an issue of 5-year bonds.

Dublin (Texas) School District.—Bonds Not Approved.—Owing to the fact that the $20,000 5% school bonds which were voted at the election held March 1, 1898, were not approved by the State Department, this District will not build a new school-house at present.

Easthampton, Mass.—Loan Paid.—The temporary 4% loan of $20,000 which this town negotiated in April last with E. C. Stanwood & Co., Boston, was paid on August 6 by the Town Treasurer.

Eastport (Me.) School District.—Bonds Not Yet Issued.—We are advised that no action has yet been taken in regard to the issuance of the $20,000 4% 20-year gold school-house building bonds. The city will borrow the money from local banks to pay the contractors, and issue the bonds after the work is completed.

Essex County, N. J.—Bond Sale.—On August 10, 1898, the $500,000 of 4% gold park bonds were awarded to Mason, Lewis & Co. and the Illinois Trust & Saving Bank at 112·199, about a 3·42% basis. Following are the bids received:

Johnston (Town), R. I.—Default in Interest.- This town was unable to pay the interest on its bonds which fell due on August 1, 1898, owing to the fact that about five-sevenths of the valuation of the town of Johnston was annexed to the city of Providence June 1 of the present year. A commission has been appointed to adjust the debt between the two places, and as soon as this work is completed the interest will be paid. We are advised by Herbert C. Calef, Town Treasurer, that the Commissioners are meeting about every other day at present, and it now looks as if they would get the work completed about September 1.

Kendrick (Idaho), School District No. 24.—Bond Sale.—The $4,000 of school bonds of this district were awarded July 20, 1898, to W. E. Bell of Spokane, Wash., who offered a premium of $83 for 6% bonds. A description of the issue will be found in the CHRONICLE of July 9, 1898, page 87.

Kingwood, W. Va.—Bond Offering Postponed.—We are advised by J. Slidell Brown, Town Recorder, that, owing to some misunderstanding among persons desiring to bid on the municipal bonds of the town on the 5th inst., and to some confusion arising from bids submitted, proposals will be received until August 18, 1898, for the same securities, viz., $10,000 5% side-walk and electric-light-plant bonds. For description of bonds see CHRONICLE July 30, 1898, p. 241.

La Harpe School District No. 4, Hancock County, Ill.—Bond Sale.—On August 5, 1898, the $3,500 6% coupon bonds of this district, were awarded to Hungate, Ward & Co., La Harpe, at par for 4½s, they to furnish all bond blanks and their own attorney fees. Following are the bids:

Laurium, Mich.—Bonds Voted.—At a recent election held in this village the issuance of $35,000 sewer bonds and $15,000 water-works bonds was authorized.

Leipsic (Village), Putnam Co., Ohio.—Bond Offering.—Proposals will be received until 12 M., September 1, 1898, by A. A. Kober, Village Clerk, for 10 6% bonds not to exceed $1,000 each, dated September 1, 1898. Interest will be payable March 1 and September 1, until September 1, 1908, and from September 1, 1908, said bonds, together with the interest thereon, to be paid one bond yearly on September 1 from 1909 to 1918, inclusive. Securities are to be known as Eastom, Pearl and Belmore Street improvement bonds, and are issued pursuant to Sections 2270, 2272, 2704, 2705, and the amendments thereto of the Revised Statutes of Ohio, and Ordinance No. 197 of said Village passed on July 18, 1898, authorizing their issue.

At the same time and place proposals will be received for 10 6% bonds not to exceed $30 each, dated September 1, 1898. Interest will be payable March 1 and September 1, until September 1, 1908, and from September 1, 1908, said bonds, together with interest thereon, to be paid one bond yearly on September 1, from 1909 to 1918, inclusive. Securities are to be known as "East Defiance Street Extension Improvement Bonds," and are issued pursuant to Sections 2270, 2272, 2704, 2705, and amendments thereto of the Revised Statutes of Ohio, and Ordinance No. 198 of the Village of Leipsic, passed on the 18th of July, 1898, authorizing their issue.

Lexington, Miss.—Bond News.—We are advised by W. K. Durden, City Treasurer, that the newspaper report of a sale last week of $20,000 refunding bonds was incorrect. The city will not refund its debt before next spring.

Lima, Ohio.—Bond Sale.—On August 8, 1898, the following bids were received for the bonds offered on that date, which were awarded to R. Kleybolte & Co.:

Lowell, Mass.—Temporary Loan Awarded.—On August 8, 1898, a $75,000 three-months' loan in anticipation of taxes was awarded to the Lowell Institution for Savings at 2½ per cent interest. Ten other bids were received, in some cases with the request that the amount of bid should not be published. After the award the amount of the loan was increased to $100,000 at the same rate of interest.

Bond Sale.—The Sinking Fund Commissioners have been awarded a $25,000 1-10-year Lundberg St. Bridge loan as 3½ per cent bonds.

Manchester, N. H.—Temporary Loan.—On Friday evening, August 5, 1898, at a special meeting of the Common Council, an order for a temporary loan of $100,000, in anticipation of taxes, was passed by a unanimous vote.

Marquette, Mich.—Bids.—Following are the bids received July 25, 1898, for the $10,000 5% 15-year light and power improvement bonds:

W. J. Hayes & Sons, Cleve....	$11,077 00	Denison, Prior & Co., Cleve..	10,875 00
R. Kleybolte & Co., Cincin	11,041 00	Lamprecht Bros. Co., Cleve..	10,874 83
Seasongood & Mayer, Cincin.	10,985 00	S. A. Kean, Chicago....	10,800 00
N. W. Harris & Co., Chicago..	10,978 00	Parson, Leach & Co., Chicago	10,709 00
Mason, Lewis & Co., Chicago.	10,925 00

As stated in the CHRONICLE of July 30, 1898, these bonds were awarded to W. J. Hayes & Sons, Cleveland, at 110·77. These securities are the unissued remainder of $35,000 of bonds voted at the election held July 23, 1897, under Act of the Legislature, approved May 15, 1897. Interest will be payable semi-annually at the office of the City Treasurer. The bonds are issued in denomination of $500.

We are informed by Mr. Franklin E. Bay, the Comptroller, that the improvements inaugurated last fall have been successfully completed, and the Light and Power Commission now have a surplus of power which they will donate to any manufacturing enterprise that may decide to locate in the city.

Massillon, Ohio.—Bond Ordinance Passed.—On August 2, 1898, the City Council passed an ordinance providing for the issuance of $4,000 public library bonds, as authorized by an Act of the Legislature.

Maynard, Minn.—Bond Sale.—On August 8, 1898, the $2,600 6% 10-year water-works bonds were awarded to Gustav Eliason, Montevideo, at 101·153. Bids were also received from the Yellow Medicine County Bank, Granite Falls, and S. E. Kean, Chicago. Several other bids came in, but too late for consideration.

Mercer County, Ky.—Bond News.—Refunding bonds to the amount of $145,000, bearing interest at 4%, payable semi-annually, and maturing 30 years from date of issue, will shortly be issued by this county.

Millvale (Borough), Pa.—Bond Election.—At the general election to be held in November it is expected the people will vote on the proposition to issue the following bonds: $10,800 Town Hall, $5,000 for a pump to be placed in the borough water-works, and $9,200 for the floating indebtedness of the borough. The Borough Council has not yet passed the necessary ordinance to this effect, but the Borough Solicitor has been directed to prepare it, and favorable action on it will be taken at the next meeting of the Council.

Minnesota.—Loans Authorized.—The St. Paul "Pioneer-Press" states that the loans considered by the State Investment Board on Saturday, August 6, 1898, have all been passed upon and approved as follows:

Missouri.—Bonds Registered.—On August 9, 1898, the State Auditor registered $500 bonds each of School Districts Nos. 52, 73 and 35 of Platt County. These securities were issued on August 1, 1898, for building purposes, and are to bear 7% interest.

Moultrie, Ga.—Bond Offering.—Proposals will be received until 6 P. M. September 1, 1898, by the Mayor, Clerk and Treasurer, for $6,000 6% gold water-works and electric-light bonds. Securities will be in denomination of $1,000. Principal will mature in 1918. J. G. Culpepper is the Mayor.

Muskegon, Mich.—Bonds Refunded.—A 6% Apple Street improvement bond of this city was recently redeemed by issuing a new bond for $2,000 at 5% and paying the balance in cash.

Newark, N. J.—Temporary Loan Authorized.—The Comptroller has been authorized to issue temporary loan bonds to the amount of $600,000 in anticipation of the collection of taxes and special paving and sewer assessments.

Bond Sale.—The $100,000 school bond, the issuance of which was recently recommended by the Finance Committee, was authorized by the Common Council on August 5, 1898. The bonds were immediately sold, being taken by the Sinking Fund Commissioners at par on a basis of 4% interest. The Comptroller decided not to wait to have a bond engraved, and so had one engrossed with pen and ink.

New Kensington, Pa.—Bond Election.—The Borough Council has passed an ordinance providing for an election to be held August 30, 1898 (not August 13, as reported), to vote on the question of issuing $15,000 sewer bonds and $15,000 street paving and curbing bonds. The bonds will probably bear 4 or 4½% interest, and mature in 30 years from date, redeemable after 15 years.

New Rochelle, N. Y.—Bond Election.—An election will be be held on August 30, 1898, to vote on the question of issuing $150,000 of road-improvement bonds.

New York City, N. Y.—Bids.—On August 8, 1898, Comptroller Coler opened bids for $12,688,992 36 3½% gold corporate stock of New York City as follows:

On account of the conditions attached to the two highest bids, it was claimed that those bids were irregular, and that consequently the bonds should be awarded to the next highest bidder, and on Wednesday, counsel for Zimmerman & Forshay sent a protest to the Comptroller against the acceptance of any of the three highest bids, claiming that the awarding of the bonds to either one of them would be against the interests of the city. On Thursday Assistant Corporation Counsel Connoly sent to the Comptroller his opinion on the legality of the joint bid of Vermilye & Co. and Kuhn, Loeb & Co., as follows:

SIR: I am in receipt of your communication bearing date August 9, stating that at the opening of bids for $12,688,992 36 of 3½% bonds, on the 8th, the bids which you inclose were received—one from Vermilye & Co. and Kuhn, Loeb & Co. at 105·03, subject to the approval of the legality of the issues by their counsel, and the other from the Produce Exchange Trust Company and others at 104·01, without qualifications.

You also transmit two protests against awarding these bonds on the bid of Vermilye & Co. and Kuhn, Loeb & Co.—one from the President of the Produce Exchange Trust Company and the other from the Secretary of the Hamilton Trust Company.

I have also received a further communication from you bearing date August 10, inclosing two letters, one from Vermilye & Co. and Kuhn, Loeb & Co., the contents of which will be noticed later on, and a letter from T. A. Beale, Esq., Vice-President of the Produce Exchange Trust Company, which informs you that the company has conferred with its attorneys, Dillon & Hubbard; that said attorneys will be able to furnish to the company an opinion on the matters in question not later than 12 o'clock on the 11th inst., which opinion the company will transmit to you on its receipt.

It is stated in the bid of Vermilye & Co. and Kuhn, Loeb & Co.:

"Our bid is made subject to the approval of the legality of the issues by our counsel."

The bids of the Produce Exchange Trust Company and Hamilton Trust Company are unconditional.

I have given to this matter an amount of consideration appropriate to its importance, and in my opinion you can accept the bid of Vermilye & Co. and Kuhn, Loeb & Co., for the following reasons.

It is, of course, true, that if the clause in the bid in reference to obtaining the approval of counsel is to be literally construed, the bid is bad, for the reason that it places the private counsel of the bidder in the position of arbitrator between the city and the bidder.

This, I need not say, is a position not to be tolerated, and if the bid is to be construed as remitting the entire matter to the opinion of the private counsel in question, the bid filed by these gentlemen is really not a bid at all.

But, however, this is not the real situation arising upon the making of the bid by Vermilye & Co. and Kuhn, Loeb & Co.

I have no doubt that under the decisions of the Courts (see the case of Vought vs. Williams, 120 New York, 253, and cases there cited), the meaning of this bid is simply that the bidder will take the bonds if they are valid, which is in no way different from the condition annexed by the law to the sale, and I do not think any Court will construe the bid in a different way.

The Court will hold, in my opinion, upon the presentation of the question, that if the bonds are in fact valid, as they undoubtedly are, then an opinion of counsel disapproving them would not relieve the bidder from the obligation to take the bonds, because if in fact the bonds are valid counsel would have no right to disapprove.

I by no means commend this form of bidding, which is new in this city, though much used, as you doubtless know, on the sale of bonds in other localities, because it forms a bad precedent, inasmuch as it annexes apparent conditions to a bid that should be absolute, and to prevent any repetition of the difficulty which has now arisen I would recommend in all future sales of bonds in the terms of sale a clause reciting that no bid other than an unconditional and absolute one will be received.

It appears from the letter of Vermilye & Co., already referred to, bearing date August 10, that what I have before indicated as being the legal effect of their bid is exactly the effect which they intend to give to it.

Of course their understanding of the legal effect of their bid is not conclusive, nor even controlling, but I decide the matter not upon the letter of Vermilye & Co., but upon the bid itself.

As, however, under their letter they announce themselves as ready and willing to carry out their bid absolutely, I would suggest that you promptly notify them to do so and so set in running the time within which they must comply with the terms and conditions of sale.

I may state that I have had opportunity of consulting the Corporation Counsel on this matter and that he concurs with the views hereinbefore expressed.

On Friday the Produce Exchange Trust Company, whose bid of 104·94 for the entire issue was without conditions, obtained from Judge Dugro of the Supreme Court an order requiring the Comptroller to show cause why the entire issue of bonds should not be awarded to that company. As the order does not come up for hearing until Wednesday, the 17th inst., no action will be taken until that date. The order does not act as a stay, but Comptroller Coler, not wishing to be discourteous to the Court, will await its decision before proceeding further.

Oberlin (Village), Ohio.—Bond Offering.—Proposals will be received until 2 P. M. August 15, 1898, at the Mayor's office, for $4,000 6% street-improvement bonds. Securities will be in denomination of $500, dated August 15, 1898; interest will be payable February 15 and August 15 at the Citizens' National Bank, Oberlin. Principal will mature on August 15, $500 in 1899, $500 in $1900, $1,000 in 1901, $500 in 1902, $1,000 in 1903 and $500 in 1904. Said bonds are issued under sections Nos. 2704, 2705 and 2708 of Revised Statutes of Ohio, in anticipation of the collection of a special assessment.

At the same time and place proposals will be received for $1,900 6% sewer and drainage bonds. Securities will be in denomination of $100, dated August 15, 1898; interest will be payable August 15. Principal will mature on August 15, $300 yearly from 1899 to 1903, inclusive, and $400 on Aug. 15, 1904. Securities are issued in Sewer District No. 2, or Spring Street District, pursuant to sections Nos. 2704, 2705 and 2708 of Revised Statutes of Ohio, in anticipation of the collection of a special assessment and pursuant to an ordinance of said village passed July 13, 1898, authorizing the issue of said bonds.

Orleans Levee District, La.—Bond Offering.—Proposals will be received until 12 M. August 25, 1898, at the office of the Board of Commissioners of this district, Room No. 14, Masonic Temple, New Orleans, for $325,000 (or any part thereof) of 5% Levee District bonds. Securities will be in denomination of $1,000; coupons attached payable March 1 and September 1. Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check representing 5% of the amount bid. Bonds are authorized by Act 116 of the Legislature of 1898. T. J. Duggan is Secretary of the district.

Oshkosh, Wis.—Bonds Sold.—The $91,000 4% 20 year semi-annual funding bonds and the $15,000 4% 20-year (optional) annual school bonds have been sold to Seymour Bros. & Co., New York, at 103·125.

Ottawa County (P. O. Port Clinton), Ohio.—Bond Sale.—On August 8, 1898, the $15,000 6% coupon bonds were awarded to R. Kleybolte & Co., Cincinnati, at 121·673. Following are the bids:

Pacific County, Wash.—Bond News.—In the CHRONICLE July 23, 1898, we stated that an offer had been received by the city for $37,000 5½% funding bonds. We are in receipt of a letter from Mr. A. P. Leonard, County Auditor, stating that bonds have not yet been issued, but that they would most likely issue some the latter part of this year.

Pitcairn (Borough), Pa.—Bond Sale.—This borough the latter part of June sold $8,000 5% school bonds to William Bell & Co., Pittsburg. No other bids were received. Mr. Bell paid for the printing of bonds. Securities are in denomination of $1,000, and principal will mature $1,000 yearly from 1909 to 1916, inclusive.

Pocomoke City, Md.—Bond Offering.—This city will receive proposals at any time for $30,000 (or less) water-works and sewer bonds, recently authorized by the Mayor and City Council. Interest will not exceed 5%, and will be payable at Pocomoke City semi-annually. Principal will mature 30 years from date of issue. If bonds are not sold privately the city will advertise for sealed bids.

Pomona Township (Ill.) School District No. 1.—Bonds Proposed.—This district has under consideration the issuance of bonds for a new school building.

Proviso (Township), Ill.—Bond Sale.—On August 1, 1898, $15,000 6% road-improvement bonds of this township were sold to the Trowbridge, MacDonald & Niver Co., Chicago, at 102. Securities are dated June 1, 1898. Principal will mature June 1, 1899, to June 1, 1903, inclusive.

Ramsey County, Minn.—Bond Offering.—Proposals will be received until August 20, 1898, by D. M. Sullivan, County Auditor, or A. R. Kiefer, Mayor of St. Paul, Minn., for $50,000 of Ramsey County bonds. The securities will be dated September 2, 1898; interest at 3½% will be payable semi-annually at the office of the County Treasurer, or at the financial agency in New York City, and the principal will mature September 2, 1908. The denomination of the bonds will be $100, and in awarding the bonds preference will be given to small bids from citizens.

Roanoke, Va.—Bonds Retired.—According to local report, the City Council has voted to retire $15,000 6% bonds from the surplus of the sinking fund.

Rochester, N. Y.—Bond Offering.—Proposals will be received until 11 A. M., August 15, 1898, by Samuel B. Williams, City Treasurer, for $200,000 (or less) 3½% registered watershed bonds, dated August 1, 1898. Interest will be payable February 1 and August 1 at the Union Trust Company of New York. Principal will mature August 1, 1918. Securities are issued pursuant to Chapter 1018 of the Laws of 1895. Purchaser may be required to deposit with the City Treasurer 2% of the amount awarded to him within forty-eight hours after such award. Bonds are to be in denomination of $5,000 each.

Sandusky, Ohio.—Bonds Authorized.—At a recent meeting of the Finance Committee resolutions were passed providing for the issuance of $17,000 of general refunding bonds, $8,000 to mature in 14 years and $9,000 in 7 years, interest to be at 4½%, payable semi-annually. These new bonds are issued to refund an equal amount of outstanding bonds which were issued about five years ago to pay for paving Columbus Avenue and for sewers on Shelby, Meigs and Madison streets and for Tyler Street opening.

Sharon (Township), P. O. Shelby, Richland Co., Ohio.—Bond Sale.—Township bonds to the amount of $25,000 were recently awarded to Seasongood & Mayer, of Cincinnati, at 109·006. The securities bear interest at 6%.

South Hadley Falls, Mass.—Loan Authorized.—At the special town meeting held on August 4, 1898, the Town Treasurer was authorized to borrow $5,000 at not exceeding 5% interest, and the loan to mature in one year or less. We are advised by the Town Clerk that the loan may not be negotiated at all, as it is likely the State will furnish the money when needed for the construction of the State highway.

Sutherland (Iowa) School District.—Bond Sale.—On August 10, 1898, the $2,000 5% school bonds were awarded to the First National Bank, Barnesville, Ohio, at 101·15. Principal will mature $500 yearly on December 1 from 1901 to 1904 inclusive. For description of bonds see CHRONICLE, July 30, 1898, p. 243.

Sycamore (Ill.) School District.—Bond Offering.—Proposals will be received until 12 M August 31, 1898, by the Board of Education, for $15,000 4½% school-building bonds. Securities will be in denomination of $1,000; interest will be payable April 1 at the office of the School Treasurer in Sycamore. Principal will mature $1,000 yearly from April 1, 1899, to April 1, 1913, inclusive.

Syracuse, N. Y.—Temporary Loans.—The city on July 26, 1898, placed a loan of $125,000 with the Metropolitan Trust Co. of New York at 3%, payable November 25, 1898. The city also negotiated a loan of $107,000 with Blake Bros. on August 8, 1898, at 3·20%, payable December 2, 1898.

Tiffin, Ohio.—Bonds Defeated.—At the special election held on August 8, 1898, the proposition to issue $10,000 6% Fire Department bonds was defeated.

Topeka, Kan.—Proposed Election.—A special election will be held in the near future for the purpose of submitting to the people the question of issuing water-works bonds with which either to purchase the plant of the present company or to build a new plant.

Bonds Registered and Sold.—On August 4, 1898, the State Auditor registered $125,000 5% refunding bonds which were issued to take up a similar amount of 6s and 7s. Securities have been sold at a premium of 1½%.

Towner County, N. Dak.—Bids Rejected.—We are informed by the Auditor that on July 5, 1898, all bids for the $20,000 of 4% gold court-house bonds were rejected. The bonds will probably be again offered for sale in the near future, but no definite action has as yet been taken. A description of the bonds will be found in the CHRONICLE of June 11, 1898, page 1157.

Trenton, N. J.—Bond Sale.—On August 5, 1898, the $72,000 4% refunding bonds were awarded to Blodget, Merritt & Co., Boston, at 106·278. Following are the bids:

Edw. C. Jones Co., New York	105·199	Walter Stanton & Co., N. Y.	105·79

Principal will mature September 5, 1908. For description of bonds see CHRONICLE August 6, 1898, page 288.

Two Harbors, Minn.—Bonds Voted.—On August 2, 1898, the village authorized the issuance of $8,000 electric light bonds by a vote of 194 to 37. Principal will mature $2,000 yearly from 1900 to 1903, inclusive. Date of sale and other details of this issue have not yet been determined upon.

Walla Walla County School District No. 1, Wash.—Bond Offering.—Proposals will be received by M. H. Paxton, County Treasurer, until 10 A. M. August 15, 1898, for $30,000 school bonds. Securities will be in denomination of $500. Interest will be payable semi-annually at the office of the County Treasurer or such other place as the bidder may designate, bidders to name the price and rate of interest at which they will purchase such bonds or any part thereof. Principal will mature ten years from date of issue. These bonds were authorized at the election held July 9, 1898, in accordance with Chapter 7, sections 117, 118, 119, &c., School Code, State of Washington. Total debt of this district, including this issue, is $79,120 40; assessed valuation, $3,122,035; population, 12,000.

Warren (Borough), Pa.—Bond News.—We are advised by John Masterson, Borough President, that the $50,000 water-works bonds which were voted on July 12, 1898, will not be issued until the decision of the Court is rendered in the mat-

NEW LOANS.

TO THE HOLDERS OF

Virginia Deferred Certificates

The undersigned, at the request of holders of a large amount of the Certificates, have agreed to act as a committee, and, in conjunction with Col R. P. Chew of West Virginia, Virginius Newton of Virginia, and other eminent citizens of the two States, to make an effort to obtain a compromise and settlement of this inter State debt.

The Certificates (or Trust Receipts representing them) should be promptly deposited with BROWN BROTHERS & COMPANY, 59 WALL STREET, New York City, so that arrangements may be made in time to submit a proposition to the next Legislature.

Deposits will be made under an Agreement providing, among other things:

1st. That as soon as a majority of the Certificates are assembled the Committee shall formulate a practicable plan of settlement and submit it to an Advisory Board, consisting of HON. THOS F. BAYARD, Hon. WILLIAM PINKNEY WHYTE, Hon. EDWARD J. PHELPS and GEORGE O. WILLIAMS, Esq.

If said plan be recommended by the Board it shall be published and submitted to the depositing creditors for thirty days. If said plan be accepted by holders of a majority in value of the deposited certificates, it shall be binding on all, and shall be presented to the Legislature to be carried into effect by appropriate legislation.

2d. The bonds, when received in settlement, shall be assessed by the Committee to pay the cost of settlement, but such assessment shall not exceed five per cent in cash on par of the Certificates originally deposited with the Committee.

If the Committee find that a satisfactory settlement cannot be promptly concluded, they may assess holders so much of twenty cents per $100 of Certificates as will reimburse their expenses incurred in this behalf.

It is proposed to duplicate for the creditors of West Virginia the undertaking by which the Virginia debt was recently compromised.

Negotiable Receipts will be issued for Certificates or for the Trust Receipts representing them.

A copy of the Agreement will be mailed to any address given the Secretary.

JOHN CROSBY BROWN, Chairman.

The full details of clearings for the week covered by the above statement will be given next Saturday. We cannot, of course, furnish them to-day, bank clearings being made up by the various clearing houses at noon on Saturday, and hence in the above the last twenty-four hours of the week have to be in all cases estimated, as we go to press Friday night.

We present below our usual detailed figures for the previous week, covering the returns for the period ending with Saturday noon, Aug. 13, and the results for the corresponding week in 1897, 1896 and 1895 are also given. In comparison with the preceding week, there is an increase in the aggregate exchanges of nearly twenty million dollars, but at New York alone the gain is over thirty-seven millions. Contrasted with the week of 1897 the total for the whole country shows an addition of 5·2 per cent. Compared with the week of 1896 the current returns record a gain of 47·3 per cent, and the excess over 1895 is 32·9 per cent. Outside of New York the gain over 1897 is 5·0 per cent. The excess over 1896 reaches 23·2 per cent, and making comparison with 1895 the gain is seen to be 13·0 per cent.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

Affairs are slowly adjusting themselves to the new conditions which peace has established. It could not be expected that industrial development, if healthy, would be in any way but gradual. So far as it is sudden it is usually sentimental and disappointing. An illustration of the disappointing sentimental kind we had last year when tariff legislation was finished. Cotton and some other kinds of manufactures were rushed when the demand had only very partially revived. The result was a piling-up of cumbersome stocks of goods, under the burden of which trade has labored ever since. There has been one occasion in our history when sentiment was a true forerunner. That was in January 1879, at the time gold payments were established; for about three years we enjoyed a term of great prosperity, then the deleterious influence of silver-coinage began to be felt, and it has never from that date ceased to be the skeleton at the feast, producing anxiety and depression at every promising start of industrial activity.

Peace means that the incubus of war is removed, and so far as that is concerned the door to enterprise is opened. Through that open door what do we see to encourage and to hinder? Many, very many conditions to encourage. The purchase of silver bullion has been discontinued, so that though the coinage evil exists it is not an increasing one. The gold reserve, through the weakness of which so many happenings of incipient prosperity have been arrested, has at length been fortified as never before—fortified by large gold accumulations in the country and Treasury and by most favorable trade conditions, explained more fully below. We have the prospect likewise of immense crops. So far as breadstuffs are concerned they will secure lower prices than the previous season, but the promise is of a fair market. We have an iron industry of unequaled proportions, which is showing wonderful vitality, for it is built upon a very low cost of manufacture, that permits of exports of iron, of machinery and all others of its products. Foreign markets are open to us as never before, and so far as we can turn out not only iron and its allied manufactures, but any raw material or product, in competition with other countries who are our rivals in trade, great expansion is possible. In the meantime, however, we have a home demand to supply which has been materially restricted during recent years, and which as enterprise develops will also develop, and ought of itself for a year or more to keep our machinery busy.

Besides all this we possess an abundance of floating capital, idle and eager for investment, of which substantial evidence is to be found in the activity and buoyancy in Wall Street the current week, and especially in the large absorption of bonds for almost a month. Indeed, there is only one agency in the make-up of the situation which has power to obstruct or check the cycle of prosperity that is certain to have a run now; that agency is the presence in the United States Senate of a majority of its members in favor of "doing something for silver" and willing to use any means to attain their object. We spoke of this matter last week and we speak of it again because the people have it in their hands to alter the complexion of that body at the coming all elections, and because, if it is not done, industrial classes will see the day when they will have new cause to regret their neglect. Of course the change, if made, cannot take effect at the next session. The result, though, whichever way it be, will influence action at that session, making the Silver party arrogant or tractable according as its lease of power is lengthened or cut short. A thorough reform of our currency is dependent upon the change; industrial peace, and such confidence as permits the full, free action of capital is impossible without it; moreover, if the sound money party wills to have it done, the revolution is within reach. Consider the alternative—in the one case a blessed relief for all time from these disturbers of the peace and their subversive theories and ideas, in the other the breaking out again after a short cycle of prosperity of the old agitation, and as soon as the balance of trade becomes adverse causing financial weakness, solicitude among capitalists and despondency in business circles.

Admiral Dewey was fortunate in securing the first victory in the war and in having a large part in the last. So far as his branch of the service is concerned, both victories have been attained without the loss of the life of a single man and without harm to any vessel. So far, likewise, as appearances go—that is so far as the facts are public—no officer has come out of the war with so great gain as he. We are aware that is claiming much, very much, for our naval commanders have all of them proved themselves a "peculiar people zealous of good works." It is true, though, not only of his fighting record, which is simply superb, but likewise of the dignity, composure, modesty and administrative ability shown during the months he has awaited reinforcements to consummate his earlier conquest. We are glad to know that the war did not close, where he was stationed, until Manila had been taken. It seemed a necessary event to round out Admiral Dewey's war services. It makes, too, the war itself more complete. No doubt the trend of opinion is strongly towards retaining those islands. Having already claimed and secured Honolulu, The Ladrones and Porto Rico, it was easy for public sentiment to include Manila. After our old traditions had been thrown to the winds, what was there to restrain our people? Senator Hoar did not do justice to his usually good judgment when he said in the Senate in substance just before casting his vote for Honolulu that he would not so vote if he supposed other islands were to be annexed. Having violated our principles in scaling the garden wall to pick off the poorest apple on the tree and found it good, why should we not hold up our hands to catch the more luscious fruit ready to fall into them.

The strength of the foreign trade situation and the consequent safety of our gold reserves, referred to above, find new illustration in the issue this week of the July trade statement by Mr. O. P. Austin, Chief of the Bureau of Statistics. We give our usual summary in a subsequent column, with previous months added for comparison. It seems that the favorable merchandise balance was the largest for any July in our monthly trade record, which runs back to 1875. This result was due both to exports being unusually full for that month ($72,486,853) and to imports ($50,674,366) being the smallest of the year. Taking into account the whole trade for the seven months from January 1 1898, to August 1 ($317,132,861 net merchandise exports + $13,558,549 net silver exports—$87,487,321 net gold imports), the favorable balance on the first day of the current month is found to be $243,204,089. That total represents the condition of the foreign trade record for the seven months immediately preceding the season of the current year, when our largest export movement (cotton, breadstuffs, &c.,) opens. But even those figures do not disclose the full strength of the situation. Almost always there is a period in each twelve months when the trade balance is adverse; in such cases the adverse balance in some measure offsets the favorable balance. There has been nothing of that kind on this occasion. For the six months from July 1 1897 to Jan. 1 1898 the favorable trade balance, made up in form like the above, was $314,015,700. That is to say, this condition has continued ever since July 1 1897, thirteen months, without interruption, and reaches an aggregate on August 1 1898 of $557,219,789. These results are full of interest. They stand as the country's gold reserve, a fund to be drawn upon so far as needful; they safeguard our bank and Treasury holdings, and they ensure for a considerable time our gold standard and gold values. How long this will be so no one can tell; presumably until our foreign trade becomes persistently adverse again. The length of the period is not important. While we are strong and have a season of rest and prosperity is the time to rehabilitate our finances. We shall have provided the coming fall the opportunity for making a decided advance towards the full attainment of that object, as already explained. We cannot afford to let the occasion pass unimproved.

The increase this week in the dividend of the Chicago Burlington & Quincy furnishes perhaps the best evidence we have yet had of the great improvement which has occurred during the last twelve months in the position and prospects of the Western railroads as the result of the large crops raised, the excellent prices obtained for the same, and the consequent prosperity of the farming interests. Returns of railway earnings are being rather closely scrutinized at present for indications of further gains. As a matter of fact the increases during the last year have been so heavy that even should they not be followed by additional expansion the result should be exceedingly gratifying to the security holders. The raising of the Quincy dividend assumes especial importance because of the prominence of the road—its large mileage, and the fact that the stock being over $82,000,000 every one per cent increase in the dividend calls for an additional $820,000 of net revenue. This means of course that a very decided enlargement of the revenues of the system must occur before an increased dividend distribution can be undertaken. We need hardly say that in the Quincy case the expansion in revenues has been exceedingly heavy and far in excess of the extra amount required to pay the higher rate. In the gross earnings the increase for the twelve months ending June 30 (the Quincy's fiscal year now ends with June) reached over 7¼ million dollars—$7,273,976. Expenses increased in amount of over five million dollars ($5,068,302), still leaving, however, an improvement of nearly 2¼ million dollars—$2,205,674—in the net. This shows how well prepared the company is to make the higher distribution. We may add that the management has been increasing the dividends gradually. In 1897 the road was still on a 4 per cent basis, paying 1 per cent quarterly. In March 1898 the quarterly payment was made 1¼ per cent, raising the stock to a 5 per cent basis, and in June the payment was the same. Now the stockholders are to get 1½ per cent, or 6 per cent per annum.

The Oregon Short Line also affords evidence of the great change which has taken place in the condition of the railroads. The property was reorganized only about a year and a-half ago and the old stockholders then were obliged to pay an assessment of twelve dollars a share. The reorganized company has two series of income bonds, the payment of interest on which is dependent entirely upon earnings. The Series "A" bonds, amounting to $7,185,000, last year in September received a payment of 4 per cent. Now the announcement comes that the present year in September the "A" bonds will get the full 5 per cent to which they are entitled and that in addition 3 per cent will be paid on the $14,841,000 of "B" bonds. The Oregon Short Line lies in the extreme western part of the country, in the Pacific coast section, where many circumstances combined to produce a period of prosperity. The company furnishes monthly returns of earnings, and from these it appears that for the twelve months ending June 30 1898 gross receipts increased $590,810 over the twelve months preceding and net earnings increased $481,729. In connection with the dividend announcements on the "B" bonds a statement is published showing that after paying the dividends declared there will be a surplus of $158,994 on the operations of the twelve months.

The renewed activity in the iron trade, to which allusion is made above, has the present week resulted in higher prices for iron and steel. This is a distinctly new development, for hitherto to say that there was activity was simply to say that sales were large without bringing any advance in prices. Indeed, for some years the tendency has been almost constantly in the other direction, and producers have been forced to turn out their products at a steadily lowering cost. But this week there has been a moderate enhancement in price, embracing not merely the raw materials but nearly all the finished forms of iron and steel. In the case of steel billets the appreciation in one instance amounts to as much as a dollar a ton. Aside from the greatly increased demand which has suddenly arisen, particularly in the Central West, production has in some instances been temporarily on a reduced basis. This is particularly true of the production of pig iron. According to the records compiled by the "Iron Age" of this city, there was during the late month a further falling off in the output of iron, bringing the capacity per week on August 1 of the active furnaces down to only 206,777 tons, against 216,311 tons July 1, 225,398 tons June 1, and 234,430 tons March 1, which latter was the maximum figure reached in the history of the country. Notwithstanding the lower output, there were two more furnaces in operation August 1 than July 1, and the "Age" points out that in a good many cases the product of the furnaces latterly has not been up to their usual average—an experience which, it says, is not uncommon in midsummer.

The feeling which was noticeable last week, that money ought to rule at higher rates, has been even more observable this week. The business on the Stock Exchange has been quite large, and consequently commission house borrowing has increased; this has been reflected both in the call-loan branch of the market and in the better inquiry for time loans. Some of the banks in the interior have made requisitions upon their correspondents for currency this week, and this indicates the beginning of the demand for the crop movement. The yield of wheat will be unprecedentedly large, while that of cotton most likely will be heavy, and therefore the requirements for these crops are expected to be at least in excess of those of last year. How much of this demand for money can be supplied by institutions in the immediate locality or by the Western and Southwestern reserve centres, it is difficult to say. Reports from some sections of the country show that the banks are well supplied with funds and that money is ruling at comparatively low rates. Doubtless, in the principal Western cities the specially designated depository banks have funds which are available for loans for short periods and these banks may be able largely to meet the early inquiry in their locality for crop purposes. The fact that neither the Treasury nor the New York banks are sufficiently well supplied with currency to respond to the demand for notes may have an important influence upon the movement this season. The Treasury will not make transfers of currency in exchange for gold deposited, for the stock of notes, though slowly increasing, is only large enough for current needs. The New York banks have an average of only about $57,000,000 of notes and these must be carefully husbanded. Though arrangements were made some time ago by New York and other banks to take out new circulation, the distribution of the new 3 per cent bonds has been so slow, only $40,269,740 having been delivered up to August 17, that banks have not been able to obtain many of the bonds for deposit against new notes, and the supply of bonds that has been distributed has, to some extent, been drawn upon for the purpose of enabling depository banks to qualify for the reception of Government funds. It seems probable, therefore, that many of the New York banks, when called upon for money by their correspondents, will be obliged to respond with gold coin, which will have to be shipped at bankers' rates by express, and this will make the movement so expensive as greatly to restrict it. Though Treasury disbursements are large they are unequally distributed; they are much greater here than elsewhere in the country, and while these payments tend partially to relieve the situation in New York they do not have much influence in that direction elsewhere.

Money on call, representing bankers' balances, loaned at 1½ and at 2 per cent early in the week, with the bulk of the business at 1¾ per cent, and there was a good demand, stimulated by the active trading on the Stock Exchange; the tone was likewise influenced by the reduced reserves shown by last week's bank statement. On Thursday offerings were more liberal and the inquiry was somewhat lighter in consequence of liquidation of speculative accounts on the Exchange, and loans were made at 1½ and at 1¾ per cent. Friday the market was a little stronger, the range being 1½ to 2 per cent. The range for the week has been from 1½ to 2 per cent and the average about 1⅞ per cent. Banks have generally marked up their loans to 2 per cent, while some of the larger trust companies have loaned at 1½ per cent as the minimum, and a few have offered money liberally at this rate, though the majority have loaned at 2 per cent. Time money appears to be in a little better demand and more business is doing in it. Rates are firmer at 2¼ per cent for sixty days, 3 per cent for ninety days to four months and 3½ per cent for six months or longer dates. The offerings of commercial paper, though good, are not large, but at the same time the demand is only fair and it is confined chiefly to the down-town banks and trust companies; the other banks remaining out of the market as buyers, the commercial banks employing their funds for the accommodation of their customers. Rates are a shade firmer at 3½ per cent for sixty to ninety day endorsed bills receivable, 3¾@4¼ for prime and 4½@5½ for good four to six months single names.

The political tension in Europe resulting from the aggressive attitude of Russia toward English interests in China has been somewhat relaxed this week, there having been an interchange of views between the two governments which has resulted in negotiations being conducted in a conciliatory spirit. Russia is said to have declared that she has no interest, financial or otherwise, in the Pekin-Hankow Railway, or any desire to acquire any such interest. Political affairs in Spain are without change and the surrender of Manila seems to have been accepted as a foregone conclusion The incident of the harboring of Captain General Augustin by the commander of the German war ship Kaiserin Augusta seems to have been satisfactorily explained.

The Bank of England minimum rate of discount remains unchanged at 2½ per cent. The cable reports discounts of sixty to ninety-day bank bills in London 1⅞@1½ per cent. The open market rate at Paris is 1½ per cent and at Berlin and Frankfort it is 3½@3⅝ per cent. According to our special cable from London the Bank of England gained £471,774 bullion during the week and held £34,984,867 at the close of the week. Our correspondent further advises us that the gain was due to imports of £184,000 (of which £115,000 were from Australia, £48,000 from the Cape and £21,000 from South America), to receipts of £304,000 net from the interior of Great Britain and to £16,000 sold in the open market.

The foreign exchange market was quiet and firm until Wednesday, and about the only feature was some selling of long sterling, in anticipation of lower rates later on, the sellers at the same time purchasing commercial futures against grain. The tone grew easier after Wednesday, influenced by a lighter demand for remittance and also by offerings of bills against stocks bought for European account, these purchases having been quite large daily since the beginning of the week. The market was also somewhat sentimentally affected by prospects of dearer money here. Spot grain bills were not numerous, though there was a fairly large movement of the staple for export. At the same time flour and provision bills seemed to be in good supply. There were more liberal offerings of cotton futures on and after Thursday in anticipation of the early movement of the crop. Gold imports from Europe for the week, $1,484,270. Previously reported $1,371,303, making $2,855,573 since the beginning of this movement. Heidelbach, Ickelheimer & Co. received £830,000 gold on Friday in transit.

The range for nominal rates for exchange was until Friday from 4 84½ to 4 85 for sixty day and from 4 86 to 4 86½ for sight. Then a reduction by Brown Bros. made the range for sixty day from 4 84 to 4 85. The market was firm on Monday, but the only change in rates for actual business was an advance of one-quarter of a cent for cable transfers, compared with those at the close on Friday of last week, to 4 86@4 86¼, long and short sterling remaining unaltered at 4 84@4 84¼ for the former and 4 85½@4 85¾ for the latter. There was no change on the following day, the market remaining firm, but on Wednesday the tone grew easier in consequence of a lighter demand and more liberal offerings of security and of commercial bills, and rates for actual business fell off one-quarter of a cent, to 4 83¾@4 84 for long, 4 85¼@4 85½ for short and 4 85¾@4 86 for cable transfers. The market was easy though not quotably lower on Thursday, and it was unchanged on Friday. The following shows daily posted rates for exchange by some of the leading drawers.

* The division (between gold and silver) given in our table of coin and bullion in the Bank of Germany and the Bank of Belgium is made from the best estimate we are able to obtain; in neither case is it claimed to be accurate, as those banks make no distinction in their weekly returns, merely reporting the total gold and silver, but we believe the division we make is a close approximation.

NOTE.—We receive the foregoing results weekly by cable, and while not all of the date given at the head of the column, they are the returns issued nearest to that date—that is the latest reported figures.

LEITER'S INFLUENCE ON THE PRICE OF WHEAT.

There is something strangely incongruous—we might also say ludicrous—in the proposition started in the West urging contributions from farmers to reimburse Leiter for his losses in his great wheat speculation, which resulted so disastrously all around. The proposition has taken various forms. At first it was suggested that to express appreciation of Leiter's efforts each farmer should set aside one or two cents a bushel out of the receipts for his present year's crop and donate the resulting sum to the redoubtable Leiter. Now it is suggested that the proper way to show "gratitude" to the fallen wheat king would be to set in motion an endless chain arrangement. Indeed, according to the newspaper accounts, this has actually been done, a farmer in Sedgwick Co., Kan., having started the ball rolling by a contribution of fifty cents, accompanying the act by four letters to other farmers urging them to make a similar small contribution and likewise write four letters, and thus keep the operation up.

We have no idea how widely the notions embodied in the suggestions here outlined are entertained among our wheat raisers in the West. But just a little study and reflection should convince the zealous spirits back of the movement that they are engaged in a very foolish undertaking. In the first place, such proceedings, besides endorsing the doctrine that speculation per se is wise and praiseworthy—to be commended and encouraged—involve a surprising misconception as to Leiter's own conduct and motives in his speculative manipulations. They proceed on the assumption that Leiter went into his ventures because of a desire to benefit the farming interest. As a matter of fact he went into them for the sole purpose of making money and making it on a very large scale. He had millions at his command and he thought he could make other millions by the simple process of market manipulation, instead of applying the money in a legitimate way in reproductive industry, which latter method seemed altogether too slow.

Of course the idea underlying the propositions noted is that the operator in question has proven himself a public benefactor, at least so far as the farmers are concerned, in establishing a permanently higher range of values for wheat. The proposition that such a thing is possible—that the price of an article or commodity can be permanently enhanced in value through artificial means—is such an utterly vicious one, so thoroughly opposed to all experience, and so completely refuted by the facts in the present case, that it seems desirable to stop long enough to show how seriously the farmers are deceiving themselves if they think that Leiter's manipulations of the market have operated to their advantage. So far from having been beneficial there is the clearest evidence that these operations have been just the reverse.

The figure at which wheat is now selling in our markets furnishes convincing proof of the loss which our agricultural classes are sustaining by reason of Leiter's folly. Suppose the farmer wants to sell his wheat now for delivery next month, what can he get for it? Current quotations for the September option furnish the answer. In New York September contracts closed last night at 69⅝ cents, in Chicago at 65 cents. At the corresponding date last year the price was 99¾ cents in New York and 93 cents in Chicago.

Here is a difference against the present year of 28@30 cents, and careful consideration of all the facts will convince any one that this difference must be ascribed mainly if not wholly to the operations of Leiter.

It will no doubt be urged that last year in August prices were up to high figures, that now we have the promise of greatly enlarged crops both here and in Europe, and that accordingly a lower range of values this year is natural and should be looked for. Furthermore, that in all the years immediately preceding the last, prices were no higher than at present, ranging here in New York between 60 and 70 cents. But while there is a basis of truth in all this, it does not take into account one very important fact, namely the situation as to visible and reserve stocks. It seems to be beyond question that the crop in the United States the present season will be materially larger than that of last season. It may also be admitted that according to present indications the crops in Europe and the rest of the world will likewise be much better than they were in 1897, though no one can tell at this date what the amount of the addition will be, whether it will be large or small.

Two main factors always enter into the question of price. The size of the new crops, the extent of the old supplies. Granting that the present year (so far as our knowledge goes at this date) the outlook is for an increase under the first head, the fact that old supplies have been drawn down to an extraordinarily low figure must be considered as counting as a full offset so far as the effect on price for the immediate present is concerned. We use the expression "extraordinarily low" advisedly, for these supplies have been reduced almost to the point of exhaustion, and it is this circumstance that makes the existing low range of values so remarkable and so wholly out of accord apparently with the situation. Take the visible supply in the United States. The total of the same has been steadily declining for a long time past, and last Saturday was reported (according to the figures of the Produce Exchange) at only 6,897,000 bushels. This, be it remembered, is the aggregate for all the principal points of accumulation east of the Rocky Mountains. Let the reader ponder well the significance of the statement that there was less than seven million bushels in sight east of the Rockies. At the corresponding date in 1897, when stocks had already got down to low figures, the total was 17,226,000 bushels, in 1896 it was 45,876,000 bushels, in 1894 63,901,000 bushels.

Nor is it merely the stocks in the United States that are so greatly exhausted. In a measure the situation here is typical of that in the whole world. "Bradstreet's" undertakes to give figures once a month combining the European holdings (including afloat) with the American, and its statement for August 1 reported the world's stock of wheat "the smallest held on that date that there is any record of." It found that the aggregate of the European and American holdings was less than sixty million bushels—59,533,000 bushels, against 64,040,000 bushels in 1897, 108,331,000 bushels in 1896, 140,417,000 bushels in 1895, while in 1894 we figure the aggregate was fully 165,000,000 bushels. We annex the following interesting table comparing prices, visible supply and stocks for the last five years.

New York price Aug. 20.	69⅝	99¾	68	68¾	59¾
previous week's U. S. visible supply.	6,897,000	17,226,000	45,876,000	36,303,000	63,901,000
stocks whole world Aug. 1.	59,533,000	64,040,000	108,331,000	140,417,000	165,000,000

The important point which this table brings out is that with the world's stock 49 million bushels less than in 1896, 81 million bushels less than in 1895 and 105 million bushels less than in 1894, wheat here in New York commands only 69⅝ cents a bushel, in Chicago but 65 cents and on the farm of course very much less. The price now is but little better than it was in 1895, when United States visible stocks were nearly thirty million bushels larger than at present and the world's supply was 81 million bushels larger. Such comparisons bring out in a striking way the utter anomaly of the existing situation as far as prices are concerned.

How is the lack of response to the controlling facts of the situation to be accounted for? Is there any plausible or rational explanation other than that the Leiter operations have had the effect of completely disorganizing the wheat trade for the time being? We all know how these attempted corners have worked in the past, and the experience in this case has been no different from that in the other cases. The first, the immediate, effect of establishing an abnormally high basis of values, such as was reached here in May, was to draw the last remnant of wheat from all parts of the world, while at the same time consumption was materially reduced. The reader will remember the bread riots that occurred in Italy, in Spain, and in other parts of Europe last spring on the great advance in wheat. That seemed at the time an indication of the success of the daring speculator's scheme. In reality, as events proved, it was just the reverse. It was the forerunner of the defeat of his schemes. For the fact that prices were so high that riots resulted evidenced that the people could not buy the "staff of life," but would have to satisfy their demands with other foodstuffs.

As to the effect in drawing out supplies from every nook and corner of the globe, we gave some illustrations in our issue of June 18, in discussing the causes of the collapse of the Leiter speculation. Taking only the first two weeks of June, we found that the shipments in these two weeks from the principal exporting countries had been no less than 25,723,000 bushels in 1898 against only 12,000,000 bushels in the corresponding two weeks of 1897. While the United States contributed almost ten million bushels of this total of 25¾ million bushels, Russia, which was supposed to have had a short crop last season, sent forward over 8¾ million bushels, and India 5⅓ million bushels in those two weeks. The latter country had just harvested a new crop, but it is also known that a good deal of wheat had been speculatively held for some time in India, and doubtless the speculators of that country, shrewder than our own, took advantage of the opportunity to get rid of their loads. That the movement from both India and Russia at that time was largely forced is evident from the small amounts that are now being sent from those countries under the prevailing low prices. The United States is still shipping wheat at nearly the old rate, the exports for the week ending last Saturday having been 4,386,535 bushels. On the other hand, the exports from Russia for the same week were only 1,006,000 bushels and from India but 176,000 bushels, while nothing at all was sent out from either Argentina or the Danubian Provinces.

In their after effects the Leiter operations were no less harmful. The fact that he was carrying large amounts of wheat at the time of his failure of course acted as a damper on the market. These holdings had to be disposed of, and so long as any portion of them still hung over the market no recovery was possible. The farmers might withhold supplies from the new crop from market, as they actually did, but values could not move upward when everybody knew that some of the Leiter wheat still remained for sale. The same circumstances no doubt also explain the continued large exports, notwithstanding our farmers have not been selling at all freely. These export shipments we must suppose are made up very largely of Leiter wheat. In addition to all this, the failure of a "deal" of the dimensions of that of the Chicago speculator necessarily remains a depressing influence for a long time afterward. The market naturally continues unsettled, confidence in values is destroyed, and as sentiment plays such an important part in operations on the Exchanges, the pendulum is very apt to swing from the extreme of abnormally high prices to the other extreme of abnormally low prices. It is easy to see, too, the influence of favorable crop reports at such a juncture.

Suppose now that Leiter's operations had not come in to disturb the whole course of things, what then would be the situation. What has been said above shows that except for these operations the demand upon this country would have been heavily increased —and in a double way. In the first place the wheat from other countries, which only the abnormal prices of last May could coax from its hiding places, would not have come out, and it would have remained for us to fill the position which these shipments occupied. In the second place consumption in both Europe and America would have continued normal, instead of being, for the time being, heavily reduced, making an added call on us on that account.

The effect of such extra demands on stocks is not difficult to discern. We have seen that even as it is supplies are down to the lowest figures on record. In the contingency mentioned they must have been completely exhausted, and drafts upon the new crop, to a large extent, become an absolute necessity. The probable result upon prices is perfectly obvious. In view of all the circumstances of the case, therefore, does it seem any exaggeration to say that, except for the Chicago operator's folly, prices would now certainly be ranging 15 to 25 cents a bushel above the current level of values, and might not unlikely be ruling at a higher point than any touched except when Leiter was engineering his "corner." Obviously, too, a 650-million crop, already largely drawn upon, would in that event have no terrors for the future.

But perhaps some will be inclined to claim that Leiter is to be credited with having created the relatively high prices which ruled prior to the final manipulation and collapse in May and June. The farmer certainly did get during the twelve months to June 30 a better return for his wheat than he had been receiving for many a long year. But to give credit to Leiter for this is to assume that he had a hand in bringing about the crop shortages in Europe, in Asia and in Australasia. It was the conditions that brought about the rise in prices, and the operator in question merely took advantage of these conditions. We showed in our issue of May 14, 1898 (page 927), that the wheat crop of the world in 1897 aggregated only 2,214 million bushels, against 2,430 million bushels in 1896 and 2,546 million bushels in 1895. This is what furnished the foundation for the great advance in prices. A similar combination of favoring circumstances in 1891 and 1892 brought an even higher level of values without the aid of Leiter. Indeed, the dealings of this speculator must be said to have had a distinctly adverse effect upon values, even before his final effort and collapse.

All through the winter months it was an open secret that he was carrying a heavy load, and though circumstances seemed to favor him, his position in the market at this time was certainly not a stimulating influence. Nor could prices have been put up to the absurdly high figures touched in May except for the outbreak of the war. This last occurrence produced a veritable panic among consumers. As it was known that the world's crops had been short for two successive years, and as it was also known that supplies were down to a very low figure, there was a simultaneous scare throughout the world, and everybody wanted to buy at the same time, with the result of sending prices up by leaps and bounds. If the daring Chicago speculator had been a far-seeing man, he would have unloaded the wheat which had proved a burden to him so long, and closed his deal there and then. Instead of that, he added fuel to the flame, and invited his certain doom. The extreme prices then reached of course were of no advantage to the farmer, as the latter had already disposed of the bulk or the whole of his holdings, and the wheat then remaining in the country was mostly in second hands.

It is thus evident that the farmers, so far from owing the Chicago speculator a debt of gratitude, have been distinctly losers through his operations. They are today forced to accept a much lower price for their wheat than if Leiter had never appeared on the scene. And this is an extremely important lesson to learn, for it repeats the experience which has attended every one of the attempts in recent years to corner the market and establish abnormally high prices. They have one and all proved flat failures, and have done incalculable injury to the producer. The Western farmer, instead of encouraging such schemes, should visit them all with his disapproval and condemnation.

PROGRESS OF SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

The annual reports of the leading railways of the country for the year ending June 30 are now following each other in quick succession. Last week we commented upon the promptitude with which the Chesapeake & Ohio issued its report; the present week we have the annual statement of the Southern Railway for the same twelve months. In this case the celerity displayed in getting out the document attracts no less attention. The Southern Railway of course is a much larger system than the Chesapeake & Ohio—it comprises nearly four times as much mileage and covers a much wider expanse of territory. The previous year the report did not come until October, and it is quite unexpected to get it so early this time—say only a month and a half after the close of the period to which it relates. The achievement appears all the more noteworthy when it is remembered that the report is a very elaborate one, of folio size, and in the financial and operating details as minute as could be wished.

As to the character of the showing for the twelve months, there is every reason to feel satisfied. It wa evident from the weekly and monthly returns, issued during the progress of the year, that the outcome would be better than for the preceding twelve months. The final result now to hand is distinctly a surprise in showing a much larger balance over and above charges than security holders and the public had generally looked for. In brief, for 1896-7 the surplus on the operations of the twelve months was $445,920; for 1897-8 the surplus is in excess of a million dollars—stated in exact figures, $1,007,013. Put in another way, while the company in 1896-7 earned not quite one per cent on its 57 millions of preferred stock, in 1897-8 it earned almost two per cent on these preferred shares.

Several circumstances go to emphasize the favorable nature of this exhibit. In the first place the year was not one of more than ordinarily satisfactory conditions. The report speaks of the general improvement in business throughout the country being reflected in the revenues of the road, and so it is; but the expression is to be taken in a relative sense, and the reader is not to infer that the term of twelve months included in the report covers a period of full or marked prosperity. The most that can be said is that the situation was better than it had been in the years immediately preceding. Being in the South, the Southern Railway was not in any event in a position to profit to a great extent from the conditions which proved so potential in advancing the welfare of the Western roads. The principal agency in this advance was the heavy grain movement, and the great prosperity of the farming classes resulting from the coincident high price which they received for their product. In the South these favoring factors cut only a small figure in the results, for the very obvious reason that the South, unlike the West, does not raise a large surplus of grain for the outside market.

On the other hand, there were some distinctly unfavorable influences and conditions. The cotton crop, the chief staple of the South, was large beyond precedent; but unfortunately the price received was very low, offsetting the advantage arising from a heavy yield. In this the position of the Southern planter was just the reverse of that of the Western farmer. Then also the existence of yellow fever in certain portions of the South, with the quarantine restrictions imposed by the various State, county and municipal health officers, proved a serious interruption to business. The first quarantine notice, the report informs us, was served by the city of Meridian, Miss., September 15, and the quarantine was not raised until November 17. President Samuel Spencer, referring to this disturbing influence, says that the traffic upon the company's lines was somewhat affected at all points, and was practically stopped in certain portions of Alabama and Mississippi by the fever. Towards the close of the year the movement of United States troops in connection with the war with Spain added considerably to the passenger traffic for the time being, though the troops were transported at low rates.

That the year was only ordinarily favorable, and not extraordinarily so, is also attested by the relatively small improvement reflected by the passenger and freight statistics. Comparison with 1896-7 is somewhat disturbed by the fact that during the last four months the operations of the Memphis & Charleston were included in 1897-8, while in 1896-7 they were not included at all. But the report presents tables to show the comparison on an even basis of mileage for the two years—that is with the figures of the Memphis & Charleston eliminated—and from these we see that the freight earnings record an increase of only 8·21 per cent, the tons moved also 8·21 per cent, and the tons moved one mile, 8·51 per cent. This, be it remembered, is in comparison with a year of indifferent results in 1896-7. In the recent report of the Chicago & North Western for the twelve months ending May 31, the increase in the freight traffic (tons and tons one mile) was found to be respectively 29·35 per cent and 34·45 per cent. Even in the passenger traffic, notwithstanding the advantage derived from the movement of United States troops, the Southern's ratio of gain has been relatively small. In the number of passengers carried the increase was only 3·52 per cent, in the number one mile 11·21 per cent, in the passenger earnings 8·86 per cent.

We are thus particular in emphasizing the fact that the year was not one of full or unalloyed prosperity, because it makes the income showing for the 12 months all the more insignificant on that account. In other words, if in a year of only moderately auspicious conditions the company can earn two per cent on its preferred shares, obviously the conclusion would seem warranted that if hereafter the country as a whole, and the South in particular, should be blessed with a period of complete prosperity, the prospect for a higher return will be correspondingly brighter.

Another fact should not escape notice. The surplus of $1,007,013 for the late year remains on the basis of the maximum of fixed charges provided under the reorganization plan. This reorganization, it will be remembered, was undertaken on a conservative basis—that is to say, some of the bonds issued in exchange for the old securities bore a graded rate of interest, beginning at a low figure and then gradually rising till the maximum was reached. In the late year the full interest charges on these issues of bonds had to be provided, and thus the year's results are not subject to the qualification which had to be made in previous years, that interest was still to an extent on a partial basis.

Lastly, the fact that the Southern should be able to do so well is full of encouragement as regards the future of all reorganized properties. It shows what tremendous possibilities lie ahead for all American properties where they are on a secure and solvent basis and their opportunities for development are earnestly and persistentiy availed of in accordance with sound principles. If ever there was a system of railroad lines that seemed hopelessly beyond redemption, it was the old Richmond Terminal combination. Both physically and financially these lines were a complete wreck. They had been allowed to run down so far and so long, and their finances were so inextricably involved, that even the most sanguine could scarcely see a ray of hope ahead. Yet by degrees order was restored out of chaos, and the properties put on a new and improved basis. The result is that now with the system extended again to pretty nearly its old dimensions, the Southern Railway in the fourth year of its existence (the annual report is only the fourth one) is able to show a fair dividend earned on its preferred shares, with apparently still better prospects, as already indicated, in store for the future.

The acquisition of the Memphis & Charleston during the year involved changes in several of the items in the balance sheet, and these are all carefully explained in the report. There is no floating debt, in the strict sense of the word, and there has been none since the organization of the company. The ordinary current liabilities for supplies, pay rolls, etc., amounted to $4,345,638 June 30 1898, and against these there were offsets in the shape of cash and cash assets on the same date to the amount of $4,597,777. The company is privileged under the provisions of the consolidated mortgage to withdraw from the trustee $2,000,000 of bonds in each calendar year for new and additional property. This privilege was not availed of at all in 1897. The present year only $1,000,000 has been withdrawn thus far, and the report states that it is not intended to make any further withdrawals in 1898.

The expenditures on capital account during the year are enumerated at length, and examination of the items shows that they were for the acquisition or construction of distinctly new property. As indicating the efficiency with which the road is being administered, a table in the report shows that while the tonnage movement one mile increased 9·37 per cent and the passenger movement one mile 11·21 per cent, the cost of conducting transportation increased but 4·95 per cent. On the other hand, the expenses for repair of equipment per engine mile and per car mile were much in excess of previous years, indicating the extent to which this work has been carried. The expense per locomotive per mile was 5·58 cents in 1897-8, against 4·39 cents in 1896-7 and 4·19 cents in 1894-5; per freight car per mile 0·53, 0·47 and 0·47 cents, and per passenger car per mile 1·07 cents, 0·85 and 0·83 cents respectively. President Spencer points out that during the year over 200 new manufacturing establishments of various kinds were wholly or partly constructed at points upon the company's lines, and that the outlay on this account must have been at least $4,000,000. These new plants, he says, include thirteen cotton mills which, together with additions during the twelve months to previously existing mills, will contain 258,000 spindles and about 2,200 looms.

*RAILWAYS IN JAPAN.

Tokio, July 26, 1898.

The early history of railways in Japan is closely connected with the life of that interesting personage, Vice-Count Mowuye, who once made his escape from his country in order to receive an education in England. The presence of formidable foreign ships in Yokohama harbor, and the imposing air of Englishmen, with their far-reaching experiences, with whom the Vice-Count came in contact as early as 1860, incidentally made a deep impression upon him and inspired him with his desires. He grew enthusiastic about going to England to learn of foreign countries and especially to try to discover the secret of their greatness and wealth. But then Japan was ruled by the tyrannical Shogunnate who prohibited his subjects from going abroad under the penalty of capital punishment. The law was rigorously enforced, and many who attempted to violate it were beheaded. The severity of the law did not, however, in the least discourage the Vice-Count. He was privately assisted by a benevolent Englishman and was put quietly on board of an English vessel. In England he studied mechanics and civil engineering, the knowledge of which became soon afterward very useful in Japan.

Meantime the Shogunnate surrendered his political autonomy to the Mikado, who, at the time of his accession to the throne, declared his adherence to the new policy of democratic principle. He repealed many wanton and malignant laws which were in force under the Government of Shogunnate. Especially did he remove the rule prohibiting Japanese from going abroad. It was after removal of this rule that the Vice-Count returned home and was received warmly by his fellow-countrymen. His knowledge of Western countries, and especially of modern technological arts was a most precious thing for his country. He was at once appointed Director of Mint. While occupying that position he wrote his famous memorial urging his Government to adopt a railway system. It was in the year 1868, only a year after the accession of the present Mikado, a year before the removal of the Capital from Kioto to Tokio, and it was the time when the country was undergoing violent changes, both in her political and social status. For then the feudal system which had ruled Japan for several centuries was falling to the ground, and the prefecture system was coming to be adopted.

In those days the Japanese people knew little of Western countries, and had not the faintest idea of railway transportation. Fortunately, however, the memorial of the Vice-Count was received both with curiosity and enthusiasm by the Government. The Mikado's Government immediately proceeded to carry out the plan suggested by the Vice-Count, and appointed him Director of Railway Department, while he, in turn, chartered a staff of English engineers. Mr. R. Vicars Boyle was made Engineer in Chief, Mr. J. England Deputy Engineer in Chief and Mr. W. W. Cargill Secretary. Mr. Boyle, accompanied by his foreign assistants and Japanese students, made a complete survey between Tokio and Kobe, and in 1876 he submitted the result of his work to the Government, urging the latter to select the Nakaseudo route and discard the Tokaido line. The reason for preferring the former to the latter was that the Nakaseudo route would open up the interior of the country, while the Tokaido route, being along the Pacific Coast, would not bring as effective a result as the other in the production of wealth in the country.

The Nakaseudo route covers nearly four hundred miles, and the expense required for construction was estimated at six million pounds sterling. The Government not being prepared to furnish this sum, postponed the scheme indefinitely. When the Government finally became ready to make the necessary appropriation for the through line between Tokio and Kobe, they chose the Tokaido line and rejected the Nakaseudo route, for the simple reason of a cheaper expense. After the Chino Japanese war the Military Department announced their view regarding the Tokaido route and argued that the route being along the Pacific coast is exposed to the danger of naval attack; and in that case the military communication in the main island might be cut up at any moment. The matter was warmly discussed in the House of Representatives, which voted for the Nakaseudo line. Thus the route which was selected and warmly recommended by Mr. R. Vicar Boyle, some twenty years ago, is now in progress of construction.

Going back to the earlier date, we find that in 1872 a short line between Tokio and Yokohama was finished and in 1874 its sister line between Kobe and Kioto was opened. For the first several years the railroad business on these routes was operated almost exclusively by Englishmen, admitting little by little some competent Japanese students to take their places. The pedagogical attitude of Englishmen was applied to every line of railroad management. Thus even the early railway regulations, which were as a rule drafted by the English Secretary, bear their pedagogical tenor. For instance, the first article in one of the railroad regulations runs as follows:

"A passenger shall purchase a ticket at the ticket window, shall show it to a ticket examiner before entering his carriage, and when he arrives at his destination he shall deliver his ticket to a ticket examiner in that station."

In spite of the inconvenience of the foreign language, those native officials of the Department (whom I have called Japanese students above) managed to learn their new business quickly. The two short lines above mentioned served them as splendid schools of railway technics. There they learned not only how to operate the railway but how to construct it. In a few years the Englishmen left the country at the end of their term of employment, while on the other hand there were many Japanese young men who were educated in various engineering courses by English professors in the Imperial University of Tokio. Some of these turned out to form a splendid staff of civil engineers.

The Tokaido Railroad was completed in 1887. It covers four hundred and forty miles, and forms the through line from Kobe to Tokio. It is the best paying line that exists in Japan at present. It yields a net profit of four or five million yen per annum, or more or less than ten thousand yen per mile. The route has become very popular. It widened the market for local products and encouraged business in general. On these accounts the Japanese Government decided to extend the line as far as possible, and at the same time they encouraged private railways. Thus in 1888 the Government route was increased to six hundred miles and in 1896 to eight hundred and seventy miles.

According to the report of 1897 the Government owned one hundred and eighty-three locomotives, seven hundred and ninety-six carriages and two thousand three hundred and twenty-eight wagons, yielding an annual net gain of four million and four hundred thousand yen, the mileage receipts being nine thousand and five hundred yen, while the mileage expenses for operation were four thousand four hundred yen, and the same for construction, seventy thousand yen.

The success of the Government railways had made a number of peers enthusiastic about starting a new line running northward from the Capital, and in 1880 they obtained a franchise from the Government. In the following year they formed a strong corporation, with a capital of twenty million yen, under the name of Japan Railroad Company. In 1883 a section covering sixty-three miles was opened, and in that year the company declared its dividend of ten per cent. Gradually the company rose in prosperity. Now it has a capital of 66,000,000 yen and a surplus of 76,000 yen. Its mileage includes several branch lines and aggregates 784 miles; its semi-annual receipts, according to the semi-annual account of 1897, amount to 3,862,000 yen; its stock commands fifty per cent above the face value, and the company owns 160 locomotives, 796 carriages and 2,328 wagons.

In order to encourage people to start railway enterprises, the Government in 1887 issued the law regulating private railway corporations. According to the law a franchise may be granted by the Minister of Interior to those applicants consisting of more than five persons who are capable of contributing more than twenty per cent of the capital required. An application is subject to careful examination by the Railway Council, the body consisting of officials of Military Department, of Bureau of Public Works in Department of Interior, of Department of Agriculture and Commerce, and of officials of Treasury Department, of professors of the Imperial University of Tokio, of bankers, and of eminent business men. Besides, the law reserves a considerable right of supervision to the Government. It demands that the route granted should be constructed in a limited time, and that bridge, tunnel and embankment shall be constructed so as to meet the approval of the Railway Commissioner or his agents.

In time of war a private railway company is bound to serve for military transport at half the rate of the ordinary fee. Even in the time of peace the company is not allowed to charge the full rate, either for military or postal services. The maximum rate of fee for third-class passengers is fixed at one and one-half sens per mile, but this rate could not be charged without permission from the Government. In practice, as the Government route charges only one sen per mile, private companies are restrained from charging any rate higher than that of the Government line.

A similar rule is adopted for the freight service. Although in freight there is no maximum rate fixed, every railway company is requested not to charge any more than the Government route does. Beside these there are two more important rights reserved for the Government. (1.) The Government may withdraw a franchise at any moment when such a step shall be imperative for the sake of peace and the existence of the country. (2.) After twenty years of operation of any particular route, the property of private railway corporation relating to that particular route may be purchased by the Government at the average price of stock quoted in markets for ten years previous to the official declaration of the intention to purchase. This last provision would pave the way for State ownership of railways—a proposition which even now many people are urging and seeking the public to endorse. According to the advocates of State ownership, the purchase of private railways by the Government at this juncture is imperative, because those railways, so they say, might fall into the complete control of foreign capitalists as soon as freedom of trade in the interior of Japan is granted to foreigners under the revised treaty, which will be put in force on July 1 1899. But such a view as this is purely imaginary and it scarcely deserves our further attention.

Referring again to the law regulating private railway corporations, we may say that in three years after its promulgation there were 23 companies, with a total capital of 77 million yen, and in 1896 there were 53 companies with a total capital of 160 million yen, and with routes in operation covering 2,163 miles; by adding to this the Government railways, we find 3,034 miles in operation at the end of 1896. The following table will give a cursory view of the progress of railways in Japan and also of their present condition.

A few words are required to explain the mileage receipts and expenses. During the last few years general prices in Japan have been constantly rising, and therefore one need not be surprised at the fact that the mileage expense has increased in average from two thousand and four hundred yen in 1890 to three thousand four hundred yen in 1896, and that for the same reason the mileage expense for construction was increased from fifty-one thousand yen in 1891 to fifty-seven thousand yen in 1896. Meantime economic activity grew year by year and railway traffic was increased considerably. On the Government route the mileage receipt was increased from sixty-seven hundred yen in 1890 to ninety-five hnndred yen in 1896.

In order to meet the increasing traffic both the Government and private routes have enlarged the number of carriages and wagons. The following table shows the increase of these cars per mile.

	No of Carriages per Mile. 1893.	1895.	1897.	No. of Wagons per Mile. 1893.	1895.	1897.

Thus the number of various cars per mile was uniformly increased, but the railway traffic was increased much faster. Consequently, passengers were always packed in the narrow and uncomfortable carriage, and freights were piled up in warehouses, frequently causing much annoyance to the owner of goods by making considerable delay of delivery. In order to prove my statement, I think it is best to give the following table, indicating the increasing earnings of passenger and freight traffics per mile of each car.

	—Passenger traffic— Earnings of each carriage per mile. 1893. Yen	1895. Yen.	1897. Yen.	—Freight traffic— Earnings of each wagon per mile. 1893. Yen.	1895. Yen.	1897. Yen.

Thus accordingly the earnings of the railway companies have kept increasing year after year, but on the other hand the running expense was (as I have already shown) increased nearly in the same proportion. Consequently the net profit of every company for the last term was almost the same as it was three years ago. Meanwhile the rate of interest has been steadily rising. For instance, the market rate in Tokio was quoted at six per cent five years ago but now is eleven per cent. On this account the prices of stocks in general have fallen year after year, as one may notice in the following table:

Having given an outline of the history of Japanese railways, some remarks on their present condition may be interesting. There are several particulars in which improvement is possible. As we have already seen, the Japanese railways have been built by Englishmen and their Japanese pupils. Hence it is not surprising to find the clumsy English carriages and four-wheeled wagons universally in use here. Not only are the carriages and wagons made after English models, but the locomotives are also English, with much inferior speed and capacity to the American locomotives. Moreover, as the English engineers began with the narrow gauge, all our railways are still of this gauge, which system is a decided bar against improvements. It has been often proposed to open the sleeping-car service. But as our system of narrow gauge prevents us from using large passenger cars like the Americans, and our present carriage can hold only eight berths, the sleeping car system could not be advantageously operated here in Japan. At present passengers are obliged to lie down upon their seats or else leave the train and spend the night at a hotel.

Carriages and wagons, too, are of very small capacity. The wagon can carry an average of but five tons, while passenger cars can carry between twenty and fifty persons, according to the grade of carriages. In the third-class carriages seats are made very small and passengers sit by pushing to each other, but in the second and first-class, seats are made much larger and more comfortable, with the result, however, that these carriages hold much smaller numbers of passengers. The worst of all is the small locomotive, with limited capacity and speed. It runs only twenty miles an hour. Under these circumstances it is absolutely impossible to transport heavy materials and large bodies of troops in limited time.

Our Military Department has proposed frequently to replace the existing system of narrow gauge by the broad one, but the Railway Department objected to the proposition on the ground that since our routes consist mostly of single track the process of broadening would, of necessity, interfere with the daily operation of the roads. Thus we are apparently unable to reconstruct our railways but obliged to be contented with the present unsatisfactory system.

At present our Railroad Department is laying down an additional track on the Takaido line. This is certainly a splendid opportunity for paving the way to the adoption of the broad gauge; for the new track could be made to be fitted for broad gauge, or at least it could be so constructed that it might be turned into the broad gauge at any time. But the Department lacks courage and has no determination to carry out this plan, thus putting off indefinitely the much needed railway reformation.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS FOR JULY.

The Bureau of Statistics at Washington has this week issued the statement of the country's foreign trade for July, and from it and from previous statements we have prepared the following interesting summaries. Monetary and Commercial English News

[From our own correspondent.]

London, Saturday, August 6, 1898.

During the past day or two there has been a decided recovery in prices, more particularly in the American, the Spanish, the South African and the West Australian markets. There is exceedingly little doing in any department in this country. The general public indeed is holding aloof almost altogether from the Stock Exchange. The holiday season has fully set in. Every one who can is getting away from the city, and yet prices move up.

With regard to the American department the recovery is clearly due to the belief that peace will now be soon concluded; that the American harvests, like the European, will be good; and that we are about to see a long period of prosperity in the United States.

With regard to Spanish finances, there is a rumor that the great banks in Paris, which have been so wonderfully successful in preventing bankruptcy in Spain, are actually arranging for a loan to that country as soon as the war is over. It seems difficult to believe that they will with their eyes open throw good money after bad. For if Spain has to assume the Cuban debt, it seems safe to say that she will be unable to bear the burden. Even before the Cuban insurrection broke out there was always a large deficit, ranging from a million to three millions sterling per annum in the Spanish budget. What the deficit will be this year nobody can say, and how the finances are to be put in order is a problem that will tax the highest skill there may be in Spain. In any case the Paris Bourse is undoubtedly running up Spanish bonds, and is declaring with a light heart that those bonds will again be raised to 60 before very long.

The recovery in the Western Australian market is due to colonial buying, and to good reports of the prospects of the mining industry; while the recovery in the South African market is due partly to Paris buying and partly to the support of the great houses. The negotiations which have been going on for a considerable time in London, Paris and Berlin, for a loan to the Transvaal Government appear to have broken down. Some still assert that the negotiations are going on and that the money will be raised. But the best authorities say that President Kruger is at last convinced that he cannot have the money without making very considerable concessions to the mining industry. The belief is spreading that he will have to make those concessions.

Meanwhile, as already said, there is exceedingly little doing in London. In the first place people are waiting for the actual end of the war. In the second place there is a fear even yet that Spain may collapse. A few weeks ago the fear was very intense. It was almost everywhere apprehended that the Carlists would rise in the North and the Republicans in the South, that the dynasty would be overthrown, and that there would be universal anarchy. The fear is very much less now. But still there is a good deal of uneasiness, and especially there is the grave doubt how Spain can bear the enormous financial burden that is now placed upon her.

Another reason why the public is unwilling to incur risks is found in the action of France and Russia, but particularly Russia, in China and Persia. Natives of almost every European country are endeavoring to obtain concessions from the Chinese Government and a loan has actually been arranged by Hong Kong and Shangai Bank for the construction of a railway in China. The Russian Government is earnestly endeavoring to prevent concessions being granted to British subjects, and among other devices the Russian Minister at Pekin has threatened the Chinese Government if it sanctions the Hong Kong and Shanghai Bank loan. This has induced Lord Salisbury to instruct the British Ambassador in China to assure the Chinese Government that this country will support China if she is attacked by any other power because she has granted concessions to British subjects. The assurance is undoubtedly a very grave matter, for it puts it in the power of the Chinese Government to involve us in a war with Russia and France, if the Chinese Government has the courage to do so, and if Russia and France are rash enough to provoke a conflict on so small a matter.

At other times the assurance would probably have caused considerable alarm in the city, but now it has passed almost without remark, partly because there is no speculation, but largely because everybody believes that China will not dare to fight either Russia or France, and that Russia and France on their side will not provoke a world-wide war. One other incident illustrates the antagonism of Russia and this country just now. The Persian Government endeavored to borrow 1¼ millions sterling in London. Certain capitalists here agreed to make the advance, the terms were practically settled, and indeed the loan was virtually underwritten, when the Russian Government, having found out how far matters had gone, put pressure upon the Shah and frightened him into dropping the negotiations. It should be added that the loan was to be secured on the Customs of the southern ports of Persia, and the Russian Government argued that practically that meant a British administration of the Persian Customs revenue.

Money here continues very abundant and cheap. From time to time an attempt is made to raise rates, for in fact every one believes that rates are altogether too low. But the attempt has uniformly failed up to the present, the truth of course being that the low rates have been brought about by the Japanese Government, and so long as the Japanese Government pursues its present policy it is very difficult to counteract its action. In the meantime it looks as if the European money markets would before long be considerably tightened. In the first place there has been a great deal of speculation in Germany, and the Berlin market for some time past has, in consequence, been in rather an agitated state. Moreover, both Russia and Austria have withdrawn considerable amounts of gold from Berlin. The result is that the official bank rate in Berlin at present is 4% while it is only 2½% in London. A considerable amount of gold has of late been going to Berlin, and the fear is the demand will grow stronger.

The moving of the crops begins earlier in Germany than in this country. Usually the tightest time is October in Germany and November in this country. Consequently the strain is felt in Berlin about a month sooner than in London. It seems reasonable to assume that if the Imperial Bank has to keep its rate at the beginning of August as high as 4%, it will have to put it up between now and October at least to 5% and possibly to 6%. Furthermore, it seems reasonable to assume that some gold will be shipped—and possibly a good amount—from London to New York. The demand for moving the crops will now begin to be felt, and as there is undoubtedly a balance due to New York, the reasonable probability seems to be that gold will go. There may be a demand for other countries too, like Russia, Argentina, Chili and Japan. For all these reasons there is a very general expectation here that rates will have to be put up before long.

In spite of that, however, as already said, the market is exceedingly easy. It is easy generally all over Europe except in Germany. And it has now become easy in India. In the slack season business in India is usually very quiet and probably rates will remain as they are now until November, when we may expect to see a return of stringency. But while business is very quiet and the money market is easy, there is great scarcity of actual coin and consequently the India Council continues to sell its drafts very well. It offered for tender on Wednesday 25 lacs and sold the whole amount at a trifle over 1s. 3 7/16d. per rupee. As illustrating the scarcity of rupees, brought about by the closing of the mints, a story is current to the effect that in some parts of the Punjaub the bankers are refusing to take native deposits because the natives pay in their deposits in Government notes and then almost immediately begin to withdraw, demanding rupees. It should be explained that the notes—though held by bankers and by great merchants—are very little current amongst the general public, and consequently the bankers are afraid of increasing their holdings of notes lest they should run completely short of rupees and thus be involved in serious embarrassments.

WALL STREET, FRIDAY, AUG. 19, 1898.—5 P. M.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—The general prosperous conditions which are expected to follow the declaration of peace were foreshadowed on the floor of the Stock Exchange this week. This expectation is more than local, or even national; it is evidently shared by investors in the principal financial centers of Europe, where sentiment in regard to the future of American interests has undergone a great change. This is shown by the operations for foreign account, which form a considerable part of the activity in the security markets during the week.

The share market responded vigorously to the favorable traffic reports made by the St. Paul company and to the increase in Burlington & Quincy's dividend rate. A feature of the week was the execution of commission-house orders in large volume, which covered a wide range of securities, including many low-priced issues that have recently been neglected, some of which are likely to advance under the better conditions now prevailing. Doubtless a considerable part of the activity is speculative in character, but the movement of high-grade securities seems to be limited chiefly by the paucity of offerings. We referred last week to the large transactions in Government new 3 per cent bonds. This movement has continued in more moderate volume, and the premium advanced to 5⅛ per cent.

The open market rates for call loans on the Stock Exchange during the week on stock and bond collaterals have ranged from 1¼ to 2 per cent. To-day's rates on call were 1½ to 2 per cent. Prime commercial paper quoted 3½ to 4¼ per cent.

The Bank of England weekly statement on Thursday showed an increase in bullion of £471,774, and the percentage of reserve to liabilities was 47·21, against 45·42 last week; the discount rate remains unchanged at 2½ per cent. The Bank of France shows an increase of 5,150,000 francs in gold and 2,575,000 francs in silver.

The New York City Clearing-House banks in their statement of Aug. 13 showed a decrease in the reserve held of $5,855,400 and a surplus over the required reserve of $33,111,850, against $39,893,000 the previous week.

State & Railroad Bonds.—Sales of State bonds at the Board include $41,000 Tennessee settlement 3s at 92¼ to 93⅛; $311,000 Virginia 6s deferred trust receipts at 8 to 9, and $2,000 Alabama Class B at 105⅛.

The railway bond market has been freer from sensational features than the market for stocks. The volume of business was not exceptionally large, fluctuating between $3,300,000 and $3,900,000, and averaging about $3,500,000 par value per day. Prices are generally higher than last week, but in most cases the advance is fractional. In the active list there are a few exceptions, including Fort Worth & Denver City, Burlington & Quincy convertible 5s, Kansas City Pittsburg & Gulf, Oregon Short Line income B., Texas & Pacific 2ds and Union Pacific Denver & Gulf issues, which advanced from 1 to 4 points. In addition to the above there was notable activity in Atchison Chesapeake & Ohio, Central Georgia Railway, Missouri Kansas & Texas, Northern Pacific, Reading, St. Louis Southwestern, Texas & Pacific, Union Pacific, Wabash and Wisconsin Central bonds.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—Rarely during recent years has the stock market experienced such a pronounced boom as the record of this week shows. Transactions increased from about 553,000 shares on Monday to 887,000 on Wednesday, when the climax of the movement was reached, both in volume of business and prices. On that day Burlington & Quincy dividend rate was advanced from 5 to 6 per cent and the shares advanced nearly 5 points in the market. In sympathy with this advance St. Paul was bid up over 3 points during the day, Illinois Central 3, Rock Island 2½ points, and new high quotations were recorded in many cases. These induced liberal sales to realize profits and a moderate reaction followed. Manhattan Elevated was the weak feature, having steadily declined to below par, and recovered to 100½.

The miscellaneous list was decidedly erratic, led by a sensational advance of 26 points in New York Air Brake, 14½ points in American Tobacco, 9½ points in United States Rubber preferred and over 7 points in American Malting shares; all these stocks have since declined. The iron stocks, including Illinois Steel, Minnesota Iron and Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railway have held strong on the favorable condition of the iron industry. People's Gas was unusually active and fluctuated over a range of about 6 points, with a net gain of nearly 2 points.
